Young Family To Move

Mr and Mrs Ken Beaton and family will leave Vermilion early in September to go to Kerrobert, Sask. where Ken has been appointed manager of the men's wear department of Sample's department store. Mr and Mrs Beaton have been in Vermilion for eight years, have taken an active part in community life and their departure is generally regretted. Best wishes accompany them to their new home.

Old Country Teachers For Vermilion Staff

Two teachers from the Old Country have been appointed to the local teaching staff and have recently arrived in Vermilion preparatory for school opening.

Miss Nan Marshall M.A. is a graduate of Glasgow University, and comes from Sterlingshire in Scotland. She is a specialist in languages speaking French and particularly German. Miss Marshall brought her golf clubs along, also is an artist by hobby. She no sooner caught a glimpse of the Vermilion lake nestled in its setting in the valley than she wanted to start painting the picture it makes. Miss Marshall will commence her Canadian teaching in the primary school where she will have a grade two.

The second teacher to arrive from overseas is Mr R. J. Cosh who comes from the county of Kent in England. Incidentally Mr. Cosh was born in Canada, subsequently returning to the Old Country. He served with the Imperial forces during the World war. He will be a member of the Junior high school staff.

Mr and Mrs Cosh and their 3 children, a son aged 11 and girls 9 and 7 arrived in Vermilion on Tuesday evening and are now settled in the Jas. Adam house in the east end of town.

In order to meet the teacher shortage the Alberta Department of Education sent one of their school superintendents Mr. Syd Liustedt of Wainwright over to England early this year. He interviewed teachers who were interested in coming to Alberta and strongly recommended Miss Marshall and Mr Cosh to the Vermilion School Division Board.

Teaching Staffs Complete — 31 Members

SCHOOLS OPEN WED., SEPT. 1st

Schools will open on Wednesday Sept. 1 at 9 o'clock a.m. Teaching staffs have been completed, not without considerable trouble, the great est scarcity being noted in high school teaching ranks. It will be recalled that school openings in 1952 and 1953 were delayed by the widespread outbreaks of polio, so that 1954 will see the first normal school opening in three years.

Teaching staffs in the town have been increased by two members, one in the high school which will now have six teachers, and one in the elementary school where there will be ten teachers.

This will bring the number of teachers employed in town schools to 27 with two home economics and two shop teachers at the college.

Teachers in Vermilion schools:

PRIMARY SCHOOL

Miss Olga Tylosky of Westlock Principal, who will teach one grade one room; Miss Rita Wright of Peace River, grade 1; Miss Rhena Ronaghan of Islay, grade 1. Grade 2 teachers — Miss Betty Gray of Kitscoty, Miss Nan Marshall who comes from Scotland.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Mrs. Shalka, grade 2; Miss Margaret MacKenzie grade 3; Miss Margaret Seward of Kitscoty, grade 3, Miss Margaret Taylor grade 3 and grade 4, Miss Sheia Hamilton of Mannville, grade 4; Mrs. L. Eldem, grade 4.

Grade 5, Miss Enid Hollen of Vermilion, Mrs. Broadbin of Clandonald.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Principal, Mr. William Novak, Ponoka, John Kindrachuk grade 9; grade 8, Miss Margaret Behnke of Lloydminster. Mr. Frank Welsh; Grade 7, Mr Cosh, who comes from England, Miss E. Werezuk.

HIGH SCHOOL

Dowling also of last year's staff, supplemented by three new members, Mr. John David who comes to Vermilion from Streamstown, Mr Lorne Metcalf for the past five years principal at Marwayne and Mrs. W. A. Kibblewhite who in past years has rendered such very fine service as a substitute has agreed to teach for a year.

The high school staff is completed by the home economic and shop teachers at the college, Mrs. Perriem and Mrs Acheson, Mr D. C. Folk and Mr A. Palin.

SCHOOLS REFURBISHED

Schools have undergone complete refurbishing at the hands of the caretakers. At the high school a new heating plant had to be installed to replace the now defunct town steam heat. A compact steam boiler was put in by W. C. Martin and connected to the existing heat distribution system.

At the elementary school a major change has been effected in that the old time cloakrooms have been removed making a wide hallway similar to those in the new Junior high school. The hall has also been treated to a new hardwood floor. Some redecorating will be done at a later date.

Elk Point, Vermilion In League Play-Off

Elk Point eliminated St. Paul in one semi-final of the Eastern Alberta Baseball league play-off and will meet Vermilion Tigers, winners in the other half, for the league title. Elk Point won in two straight games 7 to 0 and 8 to 3.

Vermilion and Two Hills each won their home start and the deciding fixture was set for last Sunday. Two Hills could not field a team as many of their players were away and so forfeited the game and the series to Vermilion.

First game of the final was scheduled for Vermilion on Wednesday of this week but was rained out. Watch for the dates of the games and be on hand to give the boys your vocal support.

Air Cadet Parade Notice

GREENLAWN MEETING FAVORS PRODUCER MARKETING BOARDS

DEWBERRY. — Addressing a meeting of the F.U.A. at Greenlawn, Carl Stimpfle, provincial F.U.A. Vice-President outlined the proposed Producer Marketing Boards for livestock for which the provincial government is considering the necessary legislation.

In outlining the great need for such legislation Mr Stimpfle stated that the farmer was the only individual who in a highly organized society thought he could live without organization. He was the only professional person who did not put his product upon a definite cash basis. Doctors, lawyers, merchants did not ask how much but stated just how much his services would cost. Producer Marketing Boards enabled the farmer to do business on an equal bargaining basis with all other groups.

Agriculture was the last group who should take this attitude said Mr Stimpfle, for as producers of the most essential goods they held the world in the palm of their hands and could demand almost any return. As long as private enterprise controlled their markets however their livelihood would be threatened by speculators who by importing from areas flooded with surplus made a profit for themselves and forced down prices to consumers in that area. Co-op packing plants had been suggested as a remedy but such plants would find themselves opposing the international meat cartels who could fight them with all the weapons of high finance and who controlled the market from the producer to the consumer.

The most satisfactory marketing board would hold this control from producer to packing plant through wholesaler and retailer. By eliminating the huge profits to the middleman it should be possible to lower prices to the consumer while raising the price to the producer. By lowered prices meat consumption should be raised drastically. It would also be possible to establish a national price continuity by interprovincial co-operation and surpluses could be marketed under an export import board, who could import such products as tea, coffee, sugar and fruit in exchange for meat exports. A system of meat chilling such as used by the Argentine could be set up for long distance delivery.

As to the actual mechanics of such a board, Mr Stimpfle said that directors might be elected from each district of the province. An initial price would be paid for a set period with additional payments of any excess profits. This period would be decided by the producers according to the varying factors of their produce. It would not be compulsory for such boards to be set up after the necessary legislation was enacted. Hog producers might wish such a board for instance while cattle producers might not. Marketing Boards would not interfere with sale of purebred stock for breeding purposes nor for sale to other specialized markets. It would be compulsory however, to sell through them when products were to be sold on the open market.

To date, only Alberta and Quebec were without the legislation for such marketing services. The first marketing boards were set up 17 years ago in B.C. to market fruit. Since that time very few, if any, of the many boards in operation had been voted out of existence. Such votes usually take place after three years of board administration, to determine whether producers wished it to continue.

In short said Mr Stimpfle, such marketing boards fulfilled the best democratic principles as through them the individual co-operated not only individually but collectively to better conditions.

The meeting voted solidly in favor of the necessary legislation.

OUR CROPS—

Crops continue to make little progress due to continuous rains and cool, cloudy weather. August 1954 will probably set a new record for the fewest hours of sunshine for many years. The crop appears excellent to the casual observer if this was July 26 in place of August 26. Average height of wheat is 38 inches and cutting will probably be general about Sept. 10 with the usual provisos of weather clearing up. Yields are practically unpredictable but supposing the present crop comes to no further harm the wheat could average 22 bushels, barley 25 and oats 32. Between now and harvest stands the menace of frost and rust, lack of sunshine and warmth.

Searle Grain Issues Last Precipitation Report of Season

Greater than average rains fell over the prairies during this past week which brought about a slight increase in the total over-all moisture condition for the three prairie provinces. This total condition now stands at 111 per cent of normal, compared with 110 per cent at this time last week and 115% at this time a year ago.

The over-all condition for Alberta is now 99% of normal, Saskatchewan 116% and Manitoba 116%.

The rains which have fallen during this present growing season from April 1 to Aug. 17 in Alberta have been 100% of normal in Saskatchewan 129% and in Manitoba 130% of normal.

In Alberta all Crop Districts have enjoyed better than normal seasonal rains with the exception of Nos. 1, 2, 4, 14 and 17 which have had somewhat less than average rainfall.

The longtime average yield of wheat is 16⅓ bushels per acre, with other grains in proportion. This yield has been warranted throughout the years by average rains of 100% of normal. Total over-all rainfall for 1954 alone 111% would therefore warrant a somewhat higher yield for wheat than 16⅓ bushels. This is indicated by the recent Dominion estimate of 20.0 bushels to the acre, based on conditions prevailing Aug. 1. There has been some deterioration however, and since harvesting has barely started the final out-turn in bushels will depend on any further damage which may occur from rust or frost or immature grain.

Canadian public libraries carry 6,000,000 books.

Grain Storage

Storage of grain will be a problem on many farms again this year. Restricted delivery quotas at elevators and the carry over of grain from previous years are major factors in this problem.

But along with these factors is the problem of preventing and avoiding loss during storage. Heat damage which results from damp or immature grain and Rusty Grain beetles and mites can each take a heavy toll of farm profits even after the grain is in the bin.

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture, advises farmers to see that their granaries are in good repair, and to take precautions to see that any of the previous year's grain is free of insects or moulded grain. Dry grain stored in tight granaries can be kept for long periods of time without injury, Mr. Wilson says. This should be the objective of every farmer who must store his grain at home. He will be more than repaid for any precautions taken when his grain is first put in the bin.

Drunkeness

Has B. C. the most alcoholics? B. K. Sandwell in The Financial Post quotes these statistics from the Ontario Alcoholism Research Foundation:

Figures for British Columbia show an alcoholism rate of 2,532 per 100,000 persons over 20, against 1,813 for Quebec and figures for the other provinces tailing down to 501 for Newfoundland. The all-Canada rate is 1,629, compared with 3,952 for the United States.

Pleasant Valley

Oh where, oh where is the Alberta sunshine? With the rains and mud lasting long, and the days getting short, sunshine is something we really need right now.

Sharon Clark celebrated her birthday on Sunday. About twenty guests sat down to supper. The children enjoyed themselves riding the cow. Why didn't you come in to the yard Edith?

Wayne Gould celebrated his birthday on Sunday at the Vermilion park with a weiner roast and a swim in the lake. Everyone really enjoyed it.

Supper guests at the home of the writer on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Tortories and Shirley and Mr. and Mrs. Alward.

Linda Gould will be among the school beginners next week.

LIVESTOCK SALES UP, WHILE GRAINS DECREASE IN ALBERTA

EDMONTON. — Despite an increase of more than $8,000,000 in the value of livestock marketed in Alberta in the first six months of this year it was not nearly enough to make up for what the farmer lost in income from the sale of field products as compared with last year, reports the provincial statistician in his review of the second quarter of economic activity in Alberta.

The restricted purchasing power of the farmer as a result of the grain quotas, he believes, is one of the chief reasons for a slight decline in the province's economy as compared with that of the first quarter. Linked with the farmer's plight is the poor spring which adversely affected the building trades.

Detailed figures place the farmers' returns on wheat between Aug. 1, 1953 and June 30, 1954, at $115,000,000, compared with $152,432,000 during the corresponding period a year ago. To the end of June this year, 100,877,000 bushels of wheat had been marketed by Alberta farmers, compared with 117,255,000 to the end of June, 1953.

Decreased marketings also are noted this year for oats, barley and rye, with a slight increase in flax seed.

An estimated $34,770,445 was paid for cattle in the first six months of this year, compared with $23,444,654 in the corresponding period of 1953. The total net livestock marketings to the end of June, 1954, are placed at 246,045 head, compared with 200,771 head last year.

Other livestock totals with last year's figures for the 6-month period in brackets are: calves 42,720 head (35,230), $2,305,451 ($2,133,817); sheep and lambs 60,528 (48,982), $1,198,456 ($1,013,850); and hogs 736,972 head (783,305), $80,091,730 ($83,417,938).

The statistician's figures show that the Alberta cattle seller was in a little better position in June than in some of the previous months of this year, when prices were considerably lower than for the corresponding period of last year.

During June the price paid for good steers was $18.79 cwt., at Calgary, same as in June, 1953; $18.32 at Edmonton, compared with $18.01 last year, and $18.63 at Lethbridge, compared with $18.11. But the 6-month average was $17.54 at Calgary, compared with $19.2; $16.95 at Edmonton, compared with $19.12 and $17.60 at Lethbridge, compared with $18.85 in 1953.

Hog prices averaged better for the six months this year than last. At Edmonton the price averaged $33.70 this year, compared with $26.64 last year; at Calgary, $32.90 compared with $26.74 and at Lethbridge $32.79 compared with $26.46.

The cash income of the Alberta dairyman increased during the first five months of this year by virtue of his having sold more of his products, notably butterfat for creamery butter, milk for cheese making and milk for fluid sales. The total cash income from January to the end of May was estimated at $10,314,000 compared with $9,961,000 in the corresponding period of 1953.

Dairy producers sold 8,081,000 pounds of butterfat for creamery butter compared with 7,809,000 lbs. in 1953 and their income rose from $4,534,000 to $4,738,000 in this field. Sales of milk for cheese totalled 11,979,000 pounds, compared with 9,989,000 pounds in 1953 and the income was $279,000 compared with $231,000.

Milk for fluid sales rose from 80,341,000 pounds and $3,640,000 for the first five months of 1953, to 85,061,000 pounds and $3,862,000 this year.

Decreases in sales of milk for concentration, ice cream and fluid cream were noted, 50,618,000 lbs. as against 54,787,000 last year — while dairy butter continued its decrease, 28,000 pounds as against 39,000 in 1953.

Cash income from eggs dropped from $2,380,410 to $1,817,229 for the first six months, while poultry marketing dropped from $433,213 to $377,491. In both cases it reflected lower prices as the quantities of produce were up.

We are glad to hear that his parents are both well also Allan, Maryelizabeth (Mrs. J. Clarke) Rhoda and Margaret.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Matheson were in Saskatoon on Friday to attend the marriage of their daughter Muriel.

Mr. Luke Sing of Okotoks was a visitor in town with Mr. and Mrs. Look Lum at the Royal Cafe during the past week.

The weather? The less said the better. Rain, rain and more rain! Result? Roads are in a muddy condition. Summerfallow is nice and green and the farmers — well, we better pass that up. Weather has been very cool and crops are still growing instead of ripening. However no hail or frost has been recorded for which we should be thankful.

The F.U.A. picnic held at Kitscoty Wednesday was quite well attended and a good time was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Foxwell of Edmonton spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gordon.

RETURNS FROM DEFENCE COURSE IN ONTARIO

George Martin who is deputy-director of Civil Defence for the M.D. of Vermilion River, returned recently from a week's Welfare course at Arnprior, Ont. George reports a very interesting and worthwhile course. It was during this course that the biggest civil defence exercises ever to be tried in Canada were very successfully carried out with civilian population co-operating exceptionally well.

Weather continues as before, wet and cool. This week has seen four more days of rain so far, accounting for .98 of an inch and bringing the August total up to 3.38 inches. Forecasts are not too cheerful and no indication of clearing weather is seen for the immediate future.

Sporting Dogs Show How It's Done

The Vermilion Fish and Game branch sponsored a very interesting display on Sunday afternoon at the Vermilion park when four Edmonton sportsmen put their hunting dogs through their paces.

The four men from the city were [illegible] Howson, Jack Green, Alfred [illegible] and Monroe Coleman. Their dogs were Chesapeakes and Labradors, a pair of young dogs just being trained, and a pair of veteran performers.

The men demonstrated preliminary steps in training dogs, using the puppies, then showed how the older dogs worked. This was quite a revelation to many. It was watched by a crowd of at least 200 people. The men put the dogs through their paces making everything realistic with ducks and pistols. The dogs made single retrieves, double retrieves and various other traits valuable in hunting dogs. The animals then moved down to the park lake where water retrieving was also carried out. It was quite an interesting display, novel and very much worthwhile and the visit of the Edmonton sportsmen was very much appreciated. They were helped in the various demonstrations by Bob Anderson and Jim Chalmers, officials of the local Fish and Game league.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mrs. C. Cruthers and her brother Billie Smith enjoyed an evening at Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Green's of Willoughby district where they took part in some modern square dancing. Cliff was sick that evening so was unable to attend.

Twenty-seven children enjoyed a week at the Church Vacation school held at Basswood school last week. On Sunday evening they took charge of the service and did a fine job. A lot of credit goes to the teacher and children. Misses Barbara and Clara [illegible] of Auburndale, Sue [illegible] and Margaret [illegible] of Wildmere and Mr. Plante were the teachers. A nice attendance was at church on Sundya 77 to be exact, to hear and see the children do their parts and to look over the work they had done during the week. It truly is grand training and teaching of the Bible and the history of religion.

A large number attended the wedding of [illegible] Watson of Hindville and Wm. Bissonette of Edmonton at the United church Vermilion on Saturday [illegible]. The bride looked [illegible] in her white wedding gown. The bridesmaid was her niece Margaret Whitlock of Wildmere who was dressed in mauve. The groom's brother was best man. Mr. Bissonette's father and mother and brother had come from Ontario for the wedding. We wish this fine young couple many [illegible] of happiness together. They will reside in [illegible].

The writer was pleased to see Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and Valarie of Battleview at church Sunday evening. Come again folks.

Church will be at 7:30 from now on but services are fast coming to a close, only four more Sundays left and Mr. Plante will be leaving. All have enjoyed his stay in our midst very much and are sorry time has gone by so quickly.

Bill, Adam and Albert Smith were at the park Sunday and competed in the fishing contest. Adam caught four fish and Bill and Albert one each, but they got away before being landed.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gibson and family of Basswood and Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin and Doreen of Wildmere had a picnic supper at the Vermilion park on Sunday, the occasion being Isabelle Gibson's birthday. The Sunday before she was unable to go as she had the chicken pox. May you have many more happy birthdays Isabelle.

The writer enjoyed a phone call from one of her girlhood friends, who was then Bertha Arthur, but now is Mrs. Ray Harrison of Tacoma, Wash. They were [illegible] with a nephew Boyd May of Buffalo Coulee when she called. It was nice to be remembered Bertha, we had some god times together in days gone by.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred [illegible] and family of Wildmere after church on Sunday went to Mrs. Haines' home in Saltoux district for a visit.

Chats were also enjoyed Saturday with Mrs. Gould (whose foot is improving nicely now), Mrs. S. Brass, and Mrs. Moore.

Miss Lillie Maggs of Vermilion spent the week end at the Cruthers' home in Wildmere, also Diana Smith of Basswood was a visitor at the [illegible] home.

Mrs. David Hughes and baby daughter came home on Sunday from the hospital.

Roy Ronaghan Married At Rossland, B.C.

Rossland St. Andrew's United church in Rossland, B.C., decorated with baskets of vari-colored gladioli, was the setting for the wedding of Wanda Gwendolyn Berry, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Berry of Rossland, and Roy Berton Ronaghan, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ronaghan of Creston, B.C.

Rev. A. J. Lawton officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and Mrs. A.R. Dahlstrom was organist. Mrs. H. Benson sang during the signing of the register.

Miss [illegible] Berry and Miss Beverly [illegible], sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids and wore identical full-length dresses of powder blue silk organdie over taffeta, with square necklines, puffed sleeves and a wide sash tied in a bow at the side. Coronets of little blue and white petals, and elbow-length gloves, completed their costumes. They carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

Little Marilyn Benson, as flower girl, wore a full-length frock, similar to those of the bridesmaids, with a Peter Pan collar and a narrow navy blue ribbon tied at the waist. She carried a basket of sweet peas and roses.

Cecil Morris of Copeland, Idaho, U.S.A., was best man, and Murray Berry and Clare Stenson of Rossland were ushers.

About thirty relatives and close friends were invited to the wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's mother wore a frock of navy faconne crepe over pink, with pink and navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Ronaghan, mother of the groom, was frocked in a navy crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature arch over a pair of white doves holding a wedding ring, was embedded in blue tulle scattered with pink [illegible]. The table was covered with a hand-crocheted white cloth and the cake was flanked by yellow tapers in crystal sconces. Mrs. Val Berry cut the cake and Charles [illegible] proposed the toast to the bride. Little Kenny Berry presented the bridal couple with their portion of wedding cake.

Servers were Shirley and [illegible] Ronaghan and Barbara Morris.

For going away, the bride donned a shrimp-pink linen dress, with a smokey blue topcoat, white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations and daisies. On their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Ronaghan are motoring to Banff, Jasper, Edmonton, Peace River and Dawson Creek. They will take up residence in Kimberley, where both are on the teaching staff of Kimberley schools.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ronaghan and Shirley and Maxine of Creston, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Berry, Kenneth and Lee of Port Coquitlam, B.C.; Mrs. Morris and Barbara of Copeland, Idaho, U.S.A., Mr. and Mrs. Percy Robinson of Creston, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. T. Smithson and Conrad of Salmo, B.C.

1,134 ENTER THE BARLEY CONTEST

Weather conditions at some stages of the growing season has had varied effects on the number of entries in the annual National Barley contest and this year its chief impact has been on the growers in Alberta.

At the deadline for entries, July 15 in Manitoba and Aug. 1 in Alberta, the Barley Improvement Institute which directs the competition had a total of 1134 entries, 877 from Manitoba, 257 from Alberta.

The Alberta entries are only slightly more than half the 441 from that province in the 1953 contest. A late seeding season in some of the main barley areas and unfavorable conditions in early stages of the growing season precluded many growers from making entries.

In a degree similar conditions prevailed in Manitoba but with the earlier maturing season farmers who couldn't get on their land early enough to seed wheat turned it over to either barley or oats. The number of Manitoba entries increased, 144 more than last year's 733.

Total entries in the 1954 competition are 40 fewer than the 1174 made in 1953.

NEWS from ISLAY

Isn't this a good bit of action for a 70-year young? Mr. Herb Simmons left home by car at 6 a.m., drove to Edmonton, gathered up daughter Irene after work and drove back home, arriving at 9 p.m. Irene has come home for her holidays. Mr. Simmons steps lively, more so than some very young folk. He still can climb around on ladders too for he is a carpenter as well as a farmer. At present he is building a fine large barn for son Garfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Buchanan have returned from their trip to Red Deer. Their daughter Hazel (Mrs. Dahl) and two children Maxine and Shirley are here too, also Joe's two boys Douglas and Gerry.

We met Mrs. Eli Sweet from Winnipeg in Islay Tuesday. She had quite a cold and was having a shot of penicillin. The first needle in 80 years she said. Mrs. Eby Walker was her chauffeur. We in Islay had such a downpour of rain early in the morning, they from Dewberry had dry roads until reaching the Vermilion River hill.

The Olds family had a surprise visit from two daughters, Marion and Emma along with their husbands over the week end.

Mr. Anderson, Bessie and Ralph, and Mrs. R. Martin visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Norman Lambert and girls are visiting Mrs. Lambert's parents Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNeely.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glover (nee Dot McNeely) were visitors on Sunday at the McNeely home.

There is a very nice garden, both vegetables and flowers, all very pretty, in the yard at the back of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCaughan's store. Walter plants the seeds, Helen claims the garden. It is really a lovely spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson had a few very nice days visiting some of their family in Calgary and Edmonton.

The W.A. will make a shipment of old woollens to Fairfields in the near future so gather up your woollens and cottons, as cotton can be added. A shipping date will be announced later.

The W.M.S. rally is set for Sept. 8th.

Noticed Mrs. Neil McLennan driving a big car of a recent model.

Mrs. Spicer from Riverton is a patient in hospital, also Ed McFadyen. We saw Ed. still soaking his hand in the water.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

The usual procedure of sending post cards to friends back home holds little appeal to a well travelled friend of mine. She mails post cards all right - but she sends them to herself.

She's been doing it for years and now has a collection she wouldn't give up for a trip around the world. Her advice to beginning collectors is simple:

Specialize in one or two kinds of cards and become an expert on those types. She, for instance, collects only cards showing homes built before 1850, early model autos and cards featuring authentic covered bridges.

Pick categories in which you already have a certain knowledge or interest, perhaps along the lines of your hobby, studies or work.

A final hint: You'll soon discover that cards from drug store and hotel outlets are fairly standard, and so you'll be wise to dig into dusty shelves of old established photo shops, general stores and small town swap shops.

And when you find a rare gem don't send it to Aunt Agatha — mail it to yourself!

Health League of Canada reports only 30% of Canadian children drink the minimum amount of milk needed for good health.

Wedding Bells

McCAFFERTY UNDERDOWN

The Holy Name Catholic church was the scene of a very [illegible] wedding last month when Jennie Diane Underdown, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Claude Underdown became the bride of Mr. Peter James McCaffety, son of Mr. and Mrs William McCafferty of Clandonald. Rev Father Landrigan performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of nylon net and lace over satin. The fitted lace bodice was designed with a nylon net yoke, ornamented wiht satin scallops and seed pearls and a double pointed collar of lace. The full-length lace sleeves were molded to form lily-points at the wrist. The bouffant skirt of nylon net was poised over a crinoline accented by a lace peplum draping to a longer length at the front. A tiara of lace and pearls was held in place by her finger-tip veil of nylon net with lace trim. The bride's only jewelry was an heirloom brouch given to her by her great grandmother. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Attending the groom were Mr. Leo Cambridge and Mr. William McCafferty, brother of the groom. The wedding music was played by Miss Helen Noonan.

For her daughter's weddng Mrs. Underdown wore a navy blue taffeta dress with white accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a grey dress with red accessories and a corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony a family dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents. A dance was held at St. Andrews hall in the evening.

The young couple will make their home in Kitscoty.

Pockett Family Enjoy Circle Tour Over The Hart Highway

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Pockett and the family recently returned from a very enjoyable circle tour over the Hart highway to Vancouver, with the return route being through the States to Banff and Calgary. They journeyed from Edmonton to Westlock, Smith, Lesser Slave Lake, High Prairie, McLennan to Spirit River. At Spirit River they stayed over night with an uncle of Mr Pockett. It happened to be square dance night there, so being members of the Circle 8 club at home Mr. and Mrs Pockett went along and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The stopover wasn't so good in other respects as the road isn't gravelled and it rained that night, making some 30 miles of poor travelling. Instead of going to Grande Prairie from Spirit River and then to Dawson Creek the Pocketts took a short cut over a new highway, and Mona's advice is "don't go on a new highway in the rain." They were much impressed with Dawson Creek which is beautifully set in a valley. The streets are wide and paved. Leaving Dawson saw them start on the Hart highway with destination Prince George to visit Lorne's sister and family. The road was quite good until approaching Prince George and then was rough, worn out by the heavy lumber trucks, as lumbering is a big industry in that area. The scenery on Hart highway though, is very beautiful.

Ten days were spent in Prince visiting Lorne's sister and family, Mr and Mrs Ranby. They own the Prince George Motors. Much of the time there was spent at their summer cottage a Kukuas Lake some 60 miles northwest of Prince George. There is lots of good fishing and hunting in that country although the visitors were not very lucky as far as the fishing was concerned. Wild animals seen were a bear deer and fawn. Wild strawberries were plentiful. A trip was made to the airport to visit Mr and Mrs Vern Marsh (nee Ellen Snelgrove) who had only been there for one week. From there the trip was started to Vancouver via the Cariboo highway. En route a stop was made at an auto court owned by a chap by the name of Roy Hutchins. He was at one time at Battleford, connected with the John Deere machinery company and often visited Vermilion in his travels, remembering Bert Duncan quite well, and he wondered if anyone here would remember him.

The Fraser canyon is a beautiful but quite scary drive. Driving on the outside of the narrow road with the river 125 feet straight below didn't appeal too greatly and Mona and Wynne did considerable back-seat driving on that stretch of road.

The Pockett family arrived in Vancouver in time to see some of the British Empire games over television. Although Vancouver is quite a fine city the Pocketts feel that they must be bushed, because they are glad to be back in Vermilion.

Frances and Marg Pockett were already in Vancouver, having accompanied Mrs. Muriel Anderson and Maybelle Knutson on the trip west. Ten days were spent in Vancouver, two days at Bellingham Wash. and one day at Cashmere then the journey home was begun in earnest. Only three days rain was encountered in the 30 days they spent away.

FEEDING THE SCHOOL CHILD

Next week many young children will be going to school for the first time. Mothers will be faced with the problem of altering the plan of meals to see them through the day. Each meal must be complete in itself and contain all the things necessary to provide fuel for energy, heat and growth. That is to say a balance of carbohydrates (sugar and starches), fats, proteins (body building foods), minerals and vitamins.

The following suggestions may help in planning meals:

BREAKFAST

This meal must be more sustaining than the child probably had before, to give him a good start on his way and should always include milk and some form of protein, (egg, bacon, meat, fish or cheese), as well as cereal and bread.

LUNCH

It will be hardest to plan if your child has to take a packed lunch to school, but the essentials can still be provided even in a cold meal. Whole wheat bread, bran muffins and oatmeal products are better than white bread and cookies as they contain minerals and vitamins as well as fuel for energy. Fillings for sandwiches should be varied as much as possible — lettuce, grated inion, celery or carrot can be added to meats; flaked cucumber or tomato juice to fish; parsley or onion to egg; jam, jelly, nuts or lettuce to cheese; peanut butter with honey or fruit.

Raw vegetables such as lettuce, tomatoes, carrots, and radish add variety to the meal, and chopped dates or raisins and nuts are a nice surprise as alternatives to apple, orange or banana.

Milk, jelly, junket or pudding can be safely carried in a screw-topped jar and if the school provides a hot water bath for heating food, a jar of thick soup or stew will be an excellent thing. Hot milk, cocoa, or chocolate can be put in the thermos.

Try to pack the meal attractively and with care so that one food does not spoil another. Ask your child to bring home what he does not eat so that you will be able to judge his appetite and avoid waste.

TEA

If your child has been away all day see that there is a hot meal ready for him when he gets back in the evening.

COD LIVER OIL

The vitamins in this are essential to the growing child for hard bones, sound teeth, and protection from colds and respiratory infections. In the summer months the body manufactures its own supply but in the winter months, cod liver oil is a must in the child's daily diet.

PROGRESS IN SCHOOL

If your child seems unusually tired after school, lacks energy for play and fails to make the progress of which you think he is capable, look first to his diet as this together with insufficient sleep can so often be the root of the trouble.

Proof against RAIN and REVELLERS

Anyone who ever visited London knows Piccadilly Circus, and the famous statue of Eros, God of Love, poised above its central fountain. This statue has taken a lot of punishment during the past sixty years, from both practical jokers and London smog. But because the sculptor cast it in aluminum — it was the first large statue to be cast in the "new metal" — it has come safely through the years. When it was cleaned up for the Coronation, it gleamed as freshly as ever. The enduring beauty of aluminum has meanwhile made it a favorite of modern architects, furniture designers, decorators too. ## Wildmere W. I. Notes

The Wildmere W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Wallington on Aug. 4th. Despite a rainy afternoon, 12 members and two visitors Mrs Donlly and Mrs. W. Clark Sr. were present. Some of the men stayed and visited for the afternoon. The meeting opened with the singing of 'O Canada' and repeating the Creed. Roll call was answered by "What I would like to do on my holidays". Many and amusing were the answers given. For our project this month it was decided to give Miss Wilson $5. She gave a very fine talk on Africa at the July meeting, and it is hoped that at some future date she will again visit this group. As the treasurer was absent no report was given. Our sick convener was also away on holiday to Manitoba.

Mrs. Jas. Wallington, delegate to Conference, gave her report.

Mrs. R. Martin gave her report on the W.I.G.C. to Olds which was very interesting and displayed the Girls' Club crests.

The social was by Mrs. Wilson, a quiz on kitchen courtship. Mrs. R. Dibben and Mrs. C Cruthers tied for the prize which they divided. Mrs. Albert Holte won Johnny Jump Up. Mrs. L. Howard thanked the group for the nice fruit basket received while she was in hospital.

Mrs. Batke the president, welcomed the visitors and hoped that they would come again.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Whitlock's on Sept. 1. Roll call, bring an article for donation to a needy country. Topic by Mrs. R. Martin, social Mrs. R. Osterburg. Also bring a diaper or baby clothes as the W. I. project for September.

The meeting closed with the singing of 'God Save the Queen' after which the hostess and helpers served a tasty and welcome lunch.

LOOKING UP

Business is looking up, reports The Financial Post. For the first time in two years, it points out, the official index shows an increase in manufacturing orders. There was a substantial gain in orders for transportation equipment and for pulp, paper, rayon and textile operations. However, in textiles, chemicals, clothing and iron and steel industries orders are below a year ago.

Until Canada has a much larger population the country will always produce less per worker than the United States; and similarly will have less with which to pay for production.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

MAKE YOUR OWN DRAPERIES

Have you spent fruitless hours searching for a piece of drapery material in the pattern and color that will suit your room? Miss Caroline Judson, Extension Home Designer of Alberta Department of Agriculture, reports that a good solution to that problem is to make your own — make a hand printed fabric in the exact color you wish. It's easy and the tools are inexpensive

The tools you need are linoleum blocks, cutting tools in two sizes, a hand roller, textile dye and a rubber-headed mallet. With the exception of the mallet, which is available at auto supply stores, you will find your tools at a craft shop.

When you have assembled all the necessary tools and the fabric you want to print, follow directions closely for best results.

1. Draw your design on onion skin tracing paper with a soft, black pencil, free hand if you like, or make a tracing from a fruit, a flower, figre or abstract design. The simple designs without too much detail are best.

2. When you have a clear drawing of the design, trace it carefully on a mounted linoleum block (linoleum pasted on ¼in. plywood block). Place a sheet of fresh carbon paper face down on the linoleum. Go over the entire design with firm strokes of a sharp, hard pencil. The linoleum is the type used for flooring (not insulating linoleum) and is available at floor covering stores.

3. The next step is to cut out the design with a fine point cutting tool. Cut the deepest grooves with a medium blade and remove the background with the coarsest tool. This leaves a raised pattern to be printed on your fabric. Remove rough edges or blurry lines for they will destroy your clear distinct imprint

4. Mix textile dye with turpentine on a sheet of glass. Use the small hand roller to blend. Now ink the block. With firm pressure press roller over design until it is thoroughly coated. Make a test on a scrap of fabric to determine the sharpness of the image and consistency of the ink. If unwanted lines appear further inking is needed.

5. Now start to print. For a working surface use a large, sturdy table, well padded with newspapers. Spread fabric smooth. Ink block. Place face down on fabric, pound the block with a mallet to insure the pattern being evenly imprinted. Remove the block, repeat the process until printing is completed

Allow the fabric to dry two or three days before handling

News from ALLANDALE

The monthly meeting of the Allandale W. A. was held at the Throndson home on Aug 12 with a good attendance. We were pleased with our visitors. Mrs. Mayers, Mrs. Armold, Mr. and Mrs. Thes. Throndson and family and the men folk, Mr. Mayers and Mr. Armstrong. The September meeting will be at the Mayers' home. Mrs. Throndson and Mrs. McCrae are on the lunch committee.

Noticed our mail man with a lovely new panel delivery. Hope it makes his work easier as it is much more convenient.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Throndson and family Beverly, Steven and Jean left by car on Aug. 18 for a holiday to their old home at Widewater, then to Valleyview to visit sister Lucy and family and on to the coast to visit relatives.

We were pleased to be able to attend the Dewberry Ladies' Aid church supper on Aug. 13. What a grand meal and the price was so moderate! It was good to meet and visit old friends.

It was wonderful to have our rain restocked the first of last week by Bill Axley of Islay.

Blueberry time again Mrs. Melore Nelson and family have been holidaying with her parents at Paignton Flats and picking berries. Mr and Mrs Wm Armstrong and son Albert went to Elk Point and Spring Park to visit relatives and pick berries last Sunday

It was a pleasure to attend the closing program of the Clandonald Vacation school on the afternoon of Aug. 20 What a grand audience turned out Mr Calder and his helpers are to be congratulated for accomplishing so much in such a short time. Lunch closed a very interesting and enjoyable afternoon

Last Sunday Aunt Mamie and Uncle Wilmer Hogaboom from Dewberry were visitors at the Baldocks. Mrs. Baldock, son Glen and Aunt Mamie motored to Vegreville the same day to met their granddaughter Brenda Greaves, brought there by her daddy

August 29 the Rev MacKay will hold service, Communion and Baptism in the Allandale United church at 11 a.m.

Mr Calder will hold his final service here on Sept 5 at 11:30 a.m.

HARVEST WITH SAFETY

This year Harvest Operations will be a race against time. With men and machines setting a fast pace the risk of accidents increases.

Most accidents are caused by attempting to make adjustments with moving machinery and loose clothing. It is only common sense to stop machines complete ly before tinkering with parts. It's better to lose a few minutes than lose an arm, leg or your life.

Of Many Things . . .

By AMBROSE HILES

PRETTY GOOD WORLD

I have always enjoyed reading those little boxed in items in the newspapers and magazines. I came across an exceedingly amusing one when Capt. John F. Greenslade of the oiler day. In celebrating Wm. Smith, alleman James F. Frank Colgan, brother Capt. Al Smith, "Hospital seven his extensive muskets running in Northern Ontario. According to the news of Hern he was granted the extra work Maybe Capt. Greenslade was a fisherman himself . . . if maybe he just appreciated a little fraternity honesty.

Not long ago I sat in on a business meeting where the president of a large manufacturing concern was host to a group of his fellow executives. Now that was a married man with children and they were trying to find some way to help this man into a position where he could not do much harm but could still make a living.

Last week I was one of a group where a meeting of this kind took place. Four or five colleagues are to be handed so many of the duties we have performed in the past. We have been around offering suggestions as to where they could be placed so that they could be used to the fullest advantage. We have limited ourselves to several positions. Good good . . . I don't see how people could be so lucky.

I am inclined to think that it is a shame that we are not retiring as much of our thinking on trying to base our economics on failure

Crown Lumber Co. Manager Transferred

Clyde Sobey, manager of Crown Lumber Co. yard here since 1953 has been transferred to Stettler. Clyde and family commenced duties as manager of the Stettler yard on Monday of this week.

As that town has a housing condition similar to Vermilion Mrs. Sobey and the children will likely remain in town for some two months when the house which has been secured for them will be vacated.

Clyde was a top notch golfer and curler and the family will be missed very much in Vermilion.

UNDERTOW, MANAGER

Succeeding Mr. Sobey as manager of the local company is Clyde Underdown who has been with the company here for the past four years. His rapid promotion speaks for itself. Another local man was secured in the person of assistant to Mr. Underdown in the person of Mr. Ralph (Darky) Sebarnan.

WINS FIELD DAY TROPHY, EDMONTON

Cpl Bob Hemmingway of the Vermilion Air Cadet Squadron, No. 201 was presented with the trophy in Edmonton last Thursday when he was the lucky recipient at a field day which was one of the culminating features of an eight weeks course at R.C.A.F. Namao field in the city. This course is attended by seven Western Air Cadets and in all by 137 boys.

At the track meet each Air Cadet was eligible to compete in 5 events and Bob won first in hop, step and jump, second in 100 yards, second in standing broad jump, third in shot put and third in the 220. He thus amassed the highest score in winning the trophy for highest number of individual points.

Another Vermilion boy prominent at the track meet was Eddie Frizzell who won both the 100 yards and 220 yard dashes.

It will be remembered that Bob Hemmingway won the trophy for junior athletes at the track meet held at the annual Air Cadet summer camp at Abbotsford one year ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hemmingway.

Just prior to closing, the boys were given the course presentee a memento in the form of a minstrel show to the public. It was well attended and presented, and here again Vermilion boys were prominent. Bob Hemmingway was the emcee of the show, with Gerry Marshall, Billy Tough and Lanny Searle all taking part.

A pleasing feature also was the attendance from Vermilion of Mr. and Mrs. Tough, Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell and Mr. and Mrs. Hemmingway.

Three Day "Dry Spell" Ended By 2.35 Inches of Rain, High Winds

The three day "dry spell" which commenced last Saturday and continued over Sunday and Monday was ended Tuesday when rain started early in the morning and continued all day with a total of 1.17 inches by 5 p.m., became progressively worse during the night when another 1.18 inches fell, driven by a high wind.

Besides adding moisture to an already soggy country, the rain and wind combined to beat down crops in every area with oats suffering the greatest damage. Lodging in oat crops was noticeable even before Tuesday's efforts and is now very extensive. Wheat and barley also suffered lodging damage. All the standing crops have a decided lean towards the east, driven that way by the continuous and strong wind.

Power lines were also damaged in the storm cutting off service for a couple of hours.

Returning To Missionary Field In Spanish Guinea, West Africa

This young family left Vermilion on Wednesday for the first step of their long journey back to the mission fields in Spanish Guinea, West Africa. They have spent a month furlough in Vermilion. Shown from left to right are Mrs. Frank Chapman, Esther Joy, five weeks old, son Jonathan, daughter Elizabeth, and Mr. Frank Chapman. While in Vermilion they were guests at the home of Mrs. Chapman's mother, Mrs. David E. Rees. Mr. Chapman is a missionary with the Worldwide Evangelism Crusade and he and Mrs. Chapman have already spent five years ministering to the natives in remote Spanish Guinea in West Africa, the place to which they are now returning.

Mr. Chapman has 25 small churches under his charge, located in widely scattered native villages throughout the jungle, and his only means of visiting them is by walking, or cycling as it is called. In addition work he is helped by local native evangelists and by four other lady missionaries who visit the field at intervals. The natives are illiterate but are becoming more educated as some schools have become established. It is a Spanish colony other white people in the area are Spaniards, traders interested in the coffee grown and valuable timber of the region.

Life is by no means easy for white people in Spanish Guinea the climate is hot and dampness prevails, and hardships for the white men. Despite all these the Chapmans were happy to return to the mission field. Mr. Chapman stating that it was a great joy to see the gospel of Jesus Christ bearing the power of God in the salvation of those hearken needs."

Although he was here for a rest Mr. Chapman addressed many meetings, both in town and in numerous other Alberta centres. His talks told of the living habits, food, clothing, language superstitions of the natives and proved intensely interesting, when linked with the work which he is carrying out so successfully.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman and family left for the Pierce freighter at Rivers Inlet where they will board the Boise which leaves from New York early in November. They will be on board about one month disembark at Douala in the French Cameroon and travel by pickup to Spanish Guinea in West Africa. The little square of black soil calls the spot in Africa to which the Chapmans are journeying

Vermilion One Up In Baseball Play-off

Defeat Elk Point 12-3

Vermilion Tigers went one game in front in the series for the Eastern Alberta league championship by defeating Elk Point 12 runs to 3 here on Sunday. The game was played under ideal weather conditions and despite the short notice a goodly crowd was on hand.

Elk Point unfortunately had trouble in fielding a team and just had nine men in uniform. The series which is best of three affair will be completed at Elk Point next Sunday, a doubleheader being played if needed.

Batting first Elk Point went 3 out with one man left. The first man up hit Ray Jones' first pitch a mighty wallop and it looked bound for over the fence but Phil Huber out in centre made a sensational catch. The Tigers who have been a heavy hitting club all season were right to work and scored 2 in the first. 1 in the second and 2 in the third while holding the 'Pointers scoreless. The visitors then scored one in their half of the 5th and held the locals scoreless for two innings but all stores and bonfires began again however and scored in the 6th, 7th and 8th. Elk Point started a pounding rally in the 7th which brought them 2 runs and had 3 men on when relieved.

WET WEATHER DELAYS SCHOOL OPENING UNTIL SEPT. 8th

Heavy rains of all day Tuesday provided the finishing touch to the country roads which have to be traveled by school busses and caused the opening of the schools of the Vermilion Division to be postponed from Wednesday, Sept. 1st to Thursday, Sept. 9th at 9 00 p.m.

With operation of school busses playing a major role in attendance of children at school, it was deemed advisable to delay the school opening at all centres.

Many roads were in poor condition after a month of rain during August and were rendered practically impassable following Tuesday's storm when 2.35 inches of rain fell.

Anglican Deanery Laymen Meet In Wainwright

On Monday evening last, a contingent of the men of St. Barnabas parish, headed by Mr. J. R. Robson, Deanery Laymen's Association president, journeyed to Wainwright to attend a Laymen's meeting there. Present at the meeting were also Bishop Clark, clergy of the Deanery, together with 80 men from Clandonald, Kitscoty and Wainwright.

Mr. Robson was in the chair and after welcoming those attending, called upon Bishop Clark for the main address of the evening. The Bishop spoke of the recent Anglican Congress in Minneapolis emphasizing the greatness as well as the unity of the Anglican Communion. He spoke with compelling interest of the variety of the delegates who numbered over 600 from all parts of the world. Varied and yet one in their vehicle of worship, the Book of Common Prayer. The men then shared in worship and discussion on "things that matter."

Following the Bishop's address reports were heard from the parishes and general discussion followed the meeting to a close. Refreshments and a time of fellowship then rounded out a pleasant and worthwhile evening

Start of School Means 700 Children On Town Streets

The re-opening of Alberta schools means that approximately 150,000 youngsters will be back on the streets and highways going to and from school. Their presence calls for drivers of vehicles to be especially on the alert to prevent accidents. In Vermilion there will be 700 children attending schools with 100 of these only six years old.

The Alberta Safety council points out that as is customary there will be thousands of youngsters who are school beginners. It urges the adoption of curb drill as the solution for the safety of those just starting school. "Curb drill is a good habit for anyone, but a 'must' for children" says the A.S.C.

Here is a basic example of curb drill. Before stepping off any curb to cross a street, do this: Look left, look right, look left again. Then, if all is clear walk quickly across.

Here is another suggestion. Parents should take the beginners to school for the first few times. Select the shortest and safest route and make sure the child uses this route all the time.

Insist on curb drill even on quiet residential streets in order to fix the habit securely in the child's mind. This is a vital step in promoting safety at what is probably a child's most impressionable age.

Motorists should realize that with schools reopening many six year-olds will be making tracks for the school room. They will be thrilled at the prospect of their first day in school and are apt to be a little careless or absent-minded when crossing streets and highways.

Official statistics reveal that more than 40% of all fatal accidents to children between 5 and 14 years of age involve motor vehicles. That proves one should always look out for children and use extra caution when driving near schools and in residential areas.

If parents adopt curb drills for their children and motorists strive to avert accidents by exercising extra care, Alberta can have a record of fewer child fatalities this school term, says the Alberta Safety Council.

'Build Your Home' Plan For Vets

The Veterans' Land Act are now in the process of dealing with applications from veterans interested in "Build Your Own Home Plan" through joint assistance of the Veterans' Land Act and Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. The legislation enacted by the Canadian Parliament during the recent session as an amendment to the Veterans' Land Act was proclaimed August 2, 1954.

Provision is made for those veterans who wish to participate in this plan to take a course in construction, these courses to run during the fall and winter months, in order that construction can commence early in 1955.

It is therefore necessary that all veterans interested and wishing to undertake construction during the 1955 season get in touch with the nearest V.L.A. office for detailed particulars and to signify their intentions not later than Oct. 15th next.

The number of centres where the facilities for holding construction courses and the number of applicants who can be accommodated in one attendance to a system of courses is limited and, therefore, early attention is important.

The Canadian Legion has agreed to lend its full co-operation to this housing plan, and the first thing to do is to let the Department of Veterans Affairs (Veterans' Land Act) know how many veterans they will have to make provision to assist at an early date. If you are interested, immediate action is suggested.

Order Shelterbelt Trees Now

Trees available from the Oliver nursery include:

White Spruce, Lodge Pole Pine (fair supply only), Siberian Larch (fair supply only), Green Ash, Manitoba Maple, Caragana, Poplar, Laurel Leaf Willow and Golden Willow hard wood cuttings.

Dear Sir:

The Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal is now at the point where we can say with reasonable certainty that, when the delayed campaigns are completed, the national objective will be assured.

Our press clipping service returns have [illegible] this year, perhaps more than ever before, Canadian newspapers have been behind The Salvation Army in its appeal for funds. The generous news coverage and the very sympathetic and wide support given is a source of genuine satisfaction to Salvation Army leaders.

Yours sincerely,

"GREEN ACRES"

WHEAT RUST

Stem rust, leaf rust and glume blotch are all different diseases and they are all affecting the wheat crop in this area. Nothing can be done to stop the losses after the diseases infest the crop. The crop should be allowed to ripen standing and cut in the usual way. Nothing is gained by cutting the crop sooner than usual on account of rust.

FROSTED GRAIN

Our district is fortunate that frost has not damaged the crop so far. There is reason to expect that late crops will get frosted before they are ripe enough to cut. After a frost of 7 degrees there is no advantage in leaving crops standing. The crops do not gain a single pound to the acre after 7 degrees over several hours time. Also the feed value of the straw gets less and less for every day frosted grain is left standing.

LIGHTNING ARRESTERS

Everybody knows that lightning rods are good protectors against loss from fire. It is not so well known however, that lightning arresters should be installed where power lines enter farm buildings.

FATTENING TURKEYS

It would appear that Canadian turkey raisers will have 20% more turkeys to market than last year. Early marketing may give us the best prices. Growers should force turkeys along with growing mash so that they will be finished and ready for market at six months. Good finish, good grades and early marketing looks like good business this year.

YORKSHIRE BOARS

Orders are being taken for purebred Yorkshire boars to be delivered by free freight about Nov. 1. These boars will be six or 7 months old. They will be purchased from the best breeders in Alberta and are priced at $85 delivered. Orders should be placed now.

FORAGE SEED AVAILABLE

Seeding of grass seed in the fall seems to be the best time to get a good catch. In order to get the practice of fall seeding of grasses demonstrated the Department of Agriculture is putting out a limited amount of seed at half price. See me soon if you would like to co-operate in seeding some land down to grass this fall.

CUTTING BARLEY

It has been my observation for some years that most farmers cut their barley crop too soon. The barley kernels look big and plump but they are full of moisture. Then some days after cutting the kernels have dried out and the sample is thin and light in weight.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Sept. 1, 1938

New wheat is coming into town in a steady stream indicating that threshing is well underway in all districts. Some slight damage from rust is reported and some sawfly damage.

Vermilion schools were scheduled to re-open Tuesday Sept. 6.

A ratepayers' meeting to discuss the proposed gas franchise was held. It was hoped to have gas in the town some time this fall.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade discussed shopping week.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

J. Alberts house on 1st street south was totally destroyed by fire at midnight Saturday. The house has been empty for the past week.

The storm of protest against the $250 indemnity which the Alberta legislature voted themselves for the five day session held in July when wheat board proposals were discussed continues to grow and the demand from the locals that the members return $150 of the indemnity or resign has been made.

Enrolment at the three normal schools in the province was 581. Attending from Vermilion at Camrose were Ada Taylor, Sibyl Moore, Maud Trimble, Ruby Townsend, Irene McGee, Willie Trimble, Bill Anderson, Paul Lehenky, Bill Roebuck; at Edmonton Normal, Gladys Kennedy, Cleo Kennedy and Margaret Cavil.

New Film Highlights Food Rules For The Children

A recently released educational film, "Food For Freddy", pays proper attention to the busy question-box that is a child's mind, according to an illustrated review in the current issue of Health magazine. The film, which dramatically presents the 'whys' of Canada's Food Rules, was put out by the Nutrition Division of the National Department of Health and Welfare.

"Children like to know why", says the review. "If you say to a child, 'Milk is better for you than pop,' it is perfectly natural for him or her to say 'why?'. Or if not that, at least to wonder why without saying anything at all.

"The easy answer and unfortunately a rather common answer is: 'Uh — well, because it just is,' or 'Because I say so.'

"The child, having a normal amount of rebel in his or her make-up, will think 'That's not much of an answer. I'll bet the real reason is that pop is more fun than milk and grown-ups don't want kids to have any fun.'"

The film answers the child's 'Why?' with a simplified demonstration of the effect of different diets on white rats. Six rats are separated into two cages, three to a cage, and carefully weighed. Then children with nutritionally sound lunch boxes are assigned the feeding of rats in one cage, while children who bring soda pop and sweets to class are assigned the other cage. After four weeks the rats fed on cheese sandwiches, milk and other wholesome foods are seen to be sleek and healthy, while the rats fed on sweets and soda pop are scrawny and small. One of the sweet-fed rats is dead.

Following this demonstration, the camera is focussed on various items that belong in a proper diet, while the commentator discusses Canada's Food Rules:

MILK — at least a pint a day, in some form. FRUIT — one serving a day of citrus fruit or tomatoes or their juices, one serving of other fruit. VEGETABLES — one serving of potatoes (at least), and two of leafy, green or yellow vegetables, frequently raw. CEREALS and BREAD — one serving of whole grain cereal. At least four slices of bread (whole wheat or enriched white, rye or pumpernickel) with butter or fortified margarine. MEAT and FISH — one serving of meat, fish, poultry or meat alternates. In addition to these, eggs and cheese at least three times a week. Frequent servings of liver.

General Motors Opens $1,000,000 Warehouse

Completion of General Motors' new $1,000,000 parts and accessories building at 6320-99th street in Edmonton will mean the fastest possible servicing of replacement needs for owners of GM vehicles in northern Alberta.

F. J. Gibson, national parts and Motors Products of Canada, said at the official opening of the new warehouse recently that the multi-million dollar expansion of distribution facilities now under way across Canada was tangible evidence of GM's determination to fulfill its highest obligations to dealers and customers alike. He said General Motors was looking far into the future in giving its dealer organization the fullest measure of support — a degree of support which would provide more efficient servicing of parts and accessories for owners of GM cras and trucks in all parts of the country.

Many improvements in industrial design have been incorporated in the new building to accelerate the flow of factory-approved replacement parts and accessories to GM dealers. Specialized storage and material handling equipment, the product of 20 years of research and experience, has been installed. This equipment will provide maximum ease and efficiency in the handling of parts and accessory products.

The Edmonton warehouse has been incorporated in GM's nation-wide teletype system, so that orders from dealerships and warehouses in distant areas may be given instant attention. By providing enough space — more than 70,000 square feet for distribution requirements, both present and future, the designers have guaranteed what amounts to a perpetual supply of replacement items essential to the proper maintenance of all GM vehicles.

General Motors traditional concern for the welfare of its employees shows up in the radical steps which have been taken to ensure the safety of personnel engaged in loading and unloading trucks. Self-levelling truck docks, standard equipment throughout the GM warehouse chain, reduce local hazards materially. The heating and air conditioning system, aided by gigantic fans and air ducts, effects three changes of air per hour in the building, and provides conditions that are ideal for maximum working efficiency.

The Edmonton parts and accessories building has been completed in a spacious setting that leaves plenty of room for expansion. Company executives are confident that the constantly growing market for GM vehicles has made their proportionate investment in distribution facilities a wise one.

United Church At Elk Point Is Scene Of Hansen-Castel Nuptials

The United church at Elk Point was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 20th when Joyce Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Castel of Heinsberg, and George William Hansen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hansen of Lea Park were joined in matrimony by the Rev. Wellwood Adam.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white nylon lace over satin and net, with tiered redingote and lily-point sleeves. She wore a double string of pearls, the groom's gift, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

The two bridesmaids, Annie Bristow, in blue nylon crepe, and Delia Vingle in pink, carried bouquets of pink carnations, while the little flower girls, Carol Kjenner in blue taffeta, and Connie Buck in yellow, looked sweet with posies and sweet-peas.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Legion hall at Heinsberg. The hall was tastefully decorated with garlands and masses of lovely flowers. The bride's table was centred with a beautiful cake.

Mrs. Castel, mother of the bride, was dressed in mauve velvet applique with matching hat, and corsage of yellow roses, while the bridegroom's mother wore a green suit with white accessories.

About sixty guests, many of them relatives, sat down to a delicious supper. Mr. Hunt of Frog Lake was toastmaster. Congratulatory telegrams were read.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. Kjeuner, Kenneth Kjeuner, and Karen Jones of Ponoka; Mr. and Mrs. J. Vroison of Bawlf; Mr. and Mrs. H. Castel and Mr. and Mrs. F. Pruten, Lloydminster, and Mrs. Thora Kjeuner of [illegible].

HOW WOULD THIS SELL WHEAT?—

"What we need most at the present time is to get wheat and the wheat crop off the front pages of the newspapers." That comes from an official of the Canadian Wheat Board.

Just how a news blackout would help, comments The Financial Post, a lot of people will wonder. It might save Wheat Board officials some embarrassment but it certainly wouldn't market wheat. And with all due respect to the Wheat Board official quoted above, what we really need most right now is markets for wheat.

The Candaian Wheat Board has sole responsibility for marketing wheat and other grains. If officials of that Board really want to get wheat out of the news, then first they must get it out of the elevators.

Then along the west entrance to Glacier National park, over the scenic Logan Pass route, to Cardston and en route to Lethbridge a stop was made to see the new P.F.R.A. St. Mary dam.

Summer Wedding At Auburndale Church

SAMUELSON—EYBEN

Summer blossoms and fern formed an attractive setting in the Auburndale United church for a recent double-ring ceremony uniting Miss Ruby Louise Eyben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Eyben and Mr. Elmer Samuelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Samuelson. Rev. MacKay performed the ceremony. Mr. Henry Eyben played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. Her finger-tip veil was gathered softly to a small lace cloche hat trimmed with a band of pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the groom. American Beauty roses formed the bridal bouquet.

Attending the bride were her sister Miss Grace Eyben, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Audrey Symes and Miss Doreen Stone. They wore similarly styled waltz-length gowns of net over taffeta with matching halos and gloves in shades of yellow, glacier blue and shrimp pink. They carried bouquets of carnations, gladioli and sweet peas.

Mr Ingwald Samuelson was best man and ushers were Mr. Stewart Eyben and Mr. Gerald Cleland.

To receive her guests Mrs. Eyben mother of the bride, wore a nylon crepe dress of navy blue accented with accessories of navy and white. She had a corsage of red carnations.

At the reception for 200 guests in the bride's home the table was laid with a white lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with white tulle and pink flowers. Pouring tea were Mrs. Henry Eyben, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. J. Eyben, Mrs. Wm. Cleland and Mrs. H. Wear.

Rev. MacKay proposed the toast.

For a wedding trip to Banff and Jasper the bride donned a powder blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. On return from their trip the young couple will make their home in Vermilion.

Miss Mabel Watson Is Bride In Double Ring Ceremony

Bouquets of gladioli decorated the altar of First United church, Vermilion recently for the double-ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Mabel Watson and Mr William Arthur Bissonnette.

Rev C W MacKay read the marriage vows for the daughter of Mrs M Watson and the late Mr D Watson of Hindville Alberta, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E Bissonnette of Montreal, Quebec.

Given in marriage by her brother Mr Frank Watson, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of nylon net with lace inserts, over white satin. The fitted bodice fastened in the back with self-covered buttons. Lily-point sleeves were of white lace. A veil of nylon net misted from a satin coronet trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by her niece Miss Margaret Whitlock who chose a floor-length gown of mauve nylon net over rayon taffeta with fitted bodice and matching lace bolero. Her halo headdress and mittens were of mauve nylon net. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Wedding music was beautifully played by Mrs. A. Wear.

The groom's mother chose a navy blue dress, complemented with navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for forty guests in the Brunswick hotel where the bridal table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bridal couple beneath an arch of orange blossoms, ribbon bow and bell. Bouquets of gladioli completed the decoration.

The toast to the bride and groom proposed by Mr E Corbell was responded to by the groom.

Mr Henry Bissonnette read the telegrams of congratulations received from the groom's relatives in Montreal.

Upon leaving guests signed the guest book which was presided over by the bride's niece, Miss Hazel Whitlock.

For a wedding trip to Banff Jasper and surrounding points the bride donned a rust suit complemented by beige accessories and a corsage of yellow-bronze roses.

Mr and Mrs Bissonnette will make their home in Edmonton.

F. U. A. TO LAUNCH FALL MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Farmers' Union of Alberta will soon launch its fall membership drive in Alberta. Named 'FUA Roundup Day", a novel slant to the effort is its simulated likeness to the annual round up typical of a large scale Alberta ranch.

900 locals of the Alberta grassroots farm body have been called upon to elect at each point a 'livewire' local man or woman to be 'foreman' of a 'crew' or 'riders' to stage, on a day yet to be announced a round-up, that is a 'sign up' of a majority of the resident operators in each of the organizational districts into which the province has been divided. The B.C. Block is also included as a separate area.

Chosen to spark the campaign is Walda D. Summer, Vancouver, who headed the province wide 'Target Day' membership drive for the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union last fall, a one-day drive which netted $160,000 to the Union treasury. Mr. Summers, who at one time homesteaded near Saskatoon and later became active in both the Saskatchewan Grain Growers Association and the United Farmers movement, is confident of achieving the goal—a 51% or more sign up of all farm operators in the Foothills province.

The recently appointed F.U.A. Roundup director claims no province wide, non-commercial group of farmers has ever succeeded to date in obtaining a clear majority signup. Manitoba achieved a mark of over 40%, Saskatchewan 48% of their rural populations. He asserted the chances of Alberta being first to reach the goal was the most promising yet.

"Rural Alberta has a rendezvous with destiny; and when the chips are down, it is going to be Alberta that will lead all Canada in determining farm policies in the critical years to come", he prophesied.

The date of the 'all-out' one-day effort is a top secret known only to Henry Young, Millet, President of the 26,000 member agrarian association.

Mr. Young, when satisfied of the preparedness of the Union's 'crews' to be composed of 900 'foremen' and 4500 'riders' will announce the actual day of the start of the drive through the press and on the radio.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

ROSE HIPS

Rose hips are an excellent source of Vitamin C and they have some properties which prevents loss of the vitamin during cooking, canning or even drying. The rose hips that are vivid red and slightly soft are best, although green hips are also rich in Vitamin C.

Canned Rose Hip Puree

Wash hips, remove stems and hull. Put through food chopper using medium knife. Cover completely with water and simmer until tender (about 5 minutes). Press through sieve. Can without sugar by processing in pint sealer for 30 minutes or add ½ cup sugar or honey to each cup of puree. Boil 5 minutes and bottle in sterilized jars.

Rose Hips and Apple Juice

1 tbs. rose hip puree
1 tsp. honey
2 cups apple juice

Mix rose hip puree and honey. Stir mixture into the apple juice (which has been chilled).

For more rose hip recipes such as sandwich filling, candy, ice cream, catsup, jellies and jams, write for the pamphlet "Wild Rose Hips for Vitamin C".

FACTS ABOUT RHEUMATIC FEVER

Many parents worry about rheumatic fever and want to know how they can protect their children from it. Fortunately, the chances of your child getting it are slight; only a few out of every 100 children do, it is a much milder disease than it used to be and less likely to be fatal. It is not contagious. You don't catch it by being around someone who has it.

Rheumatic fever attacks the heart and joints particularly and in the manner of rheumatism. However, it is also believed that some people are more susceptible to it than others and that it runs in families. It seems to be more common among families who eat less of the right food than is needed, or who are exposed to cold, wet and chilling.

It often develops when colds, sore throats and other nose and throat illnesses caused by streptococcal germs are prevalent in the family or the community. Some authorities believe that children who develop it have a special sensitivity to streptococcal germs.

As a rule, rheumatic fever begins at about ages 5 or 6. Some children have only one attack, while others keep on having them. Usually, it affects the heart, sometimes as measles or chickenpox. It tends to recur. With some children, the attacks come farther and farther apart and finally stop during the teens. Adults, too, have rheumatic fever Most authorities believe that rheumatic fever in adults is a recurrence of the first childhood attack.

THE START

Rheumatic fever usually starts from a few days to about four weeks after a streptococcal cold or sore throat. The early signs may be very mild. Some of them which appear alone or in combination are: pallor poor appetite, repeated nosebleeds, failure to gain weight, low fever which hangs on, and complaints of pain in the arms, legs or abdomen

RECOVERY

Some inflammation of the heart always occurs during an attack. Occasionally, a child recovers without any heart injury, sometimes the injury is so slight that he can soon get back to normal living, but as a rule the damage is lasting.

The big thing while injury is going on is to give the heart the best possible chance to make a good recovery. So doctors usually advise better bed rest gives this chance. During rest, the heart is spared unnecessary work. Weeks or months of rest may be required Even though the attack is mild and the child seems well, he should be kept in bed while the disease is active and during convalescence, always until the physician says it is safe to get up.

MAKING CONVALESCENCE INTERESTING

It helps much for a child to stay in bed when he begins to feel better, as he is likely to after the first few weeks of illness. It isn't easy for his parents either, but a cheerful attitude encourages the child to develop patience and co-operation.

Pleasant surroundings help — a sunny room if possible, some greenery, flowers, a few pictures. Keep comfortable also matters — a good prop when sitting up in bed and a bedside on which to work and play.

Occupation for the waking hours should be planned. Reading, radio programs, games, modeling, sketching and making scrapbooks are some pastimes. If a visiting nurse is coming, she may have other ideas for keeping the child happy.

BUILDING UP

Once a child has had rheumatic fever, he needs constant protection from streptococcal infections of the nose and throat — the forerunners of another attack. He should be kept away from anyone with a cold or sore throat.

A well-balanced diet, plenty of rest play and sunshine all help to build up resistance. Warm clothes for protection against cold and wet weather are needed. The child should have regular check-ups by his physician so that prompt treatment can be started if he is run down.

Every child wants to be like other children and do the things that they do. So when he recovers he should be encouraged to have a good time at home, at school, and at play. Of course he will have to go easy on some activities if his heart is seriously impaired, but he may still enjoy many of the same pleasures if his rest and play is carefully planned.

The World of Wheat

By W. O. MALAHER,
Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Co. Ltd.

CUTTING RUSTED GRAIN

There is evidently an impression amongst some farmers that it is advisable to cut rusted wheat before the straw grows stiff to lessen further rust damage. A good deal of work has been done by plant pathologists on this subject, and the results of their experiments show that there is no advantage in cutting rusted grain before maturity or at any time until it reaches the ripening stage. There is, in fact, likely to be some loss done cutting the grain green, especially where rust is present as it does stop the further filling of the kernels properly.

In the experiments referred to the highest tested weight of rusted grain was obtained from wheat which had reached maturity, whilst earlier cuttings gave a lower bushel weight. In other words it appears better to harvest a rusted crop at the time it would normally be cut had no rust been present. Authorities, however, point out that badly rusted grain should not be allowed to stand until it is dead ripe since rusted grains are brittle and break readily

There may, of course, be other considerations such as the scarcity or danger of frost These considerations may have to be met by earlier cutting quite apart from any consideration of rust

Season For Ducks Opens Sept. 18

Alberta duck hunters have been given an extended season this year under new regulations passed by the federal government and announced recently.

Throughout Alberta the season will begin Sept 18 and end on Dec. 4. Last year three districts of Alberta were declared with opening dates of Sept. 9 in Northern Alberta, Sept 12 in Edmonton district and Sept 16 in the southern areas.

TO CHASE OUT STRAGGLERS

According to reports from Ottawa the extension, which covers most parts of central and western Canada is designed to chase lingering birds out of northern areas before the winter freeze-up.

The bag limit is Dec. 4 season includes ducks, geese, rails and coots.

The season for Wilson's Snipe will be Sept. 18 to Oct. 16.

BAG LIMIT 8 PER DAY

Except for the change in the season regulations in Alberta remain the same as last year. The bag limit on ducks is 8 per day, with a possession limit of 24.

In B.C. the daily bag of ducks has been increased from 8 to 10 per day, while a hunter may have in his possession 40 birds, compared with last year's 32. Because of an abundance of snow geese in Quebec the possession maximum in that province is up from 10 to 20.

At the time of the 1951 census there were 6,387 Eskimos living in the N.W.T., 1789 in Quebec and 847 in Labrador.

Stock Assoc. Not Favorable To Board

Livestock producers might find themselves saddled with stifling control and regulations reports the Western Stock Growers' Assoc. The Marketing plan being advocated by the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, of which Alberta is a member, has all the earmarks of totalitarianism. It is loaded with compulsion, pledging and force which may make livestock marketing difficult and embarrassing.

The plan presently being presented offers "the following ministerial regulations. The Board would have the power to tell a producer to whom he could sell his livestock, when he could sell his livestock and at what price he could sell his livestock.

The Board would have the power to demand that producers open their books for inspection by the Board.

The Board would have the right to seize and sell any livestock not marketed in accordance with its regulations and to pocket the proceeds of the sale.

The Board would have the power to collect a levy on the proceeds of all livestock sales from the producer.

The Board would have the power to order the producer to withhold livestock from the market, even though he needed cash.

The Board would have power to extend itself by regulation.

The right of the primary producer to co-operate voluntarily in the marketing of their products, at least up to the point of primary sale, and if necessary to include the functions of assembly, grading and storage and even processing is not disputed by the Western Stock Growers' Association is opposed to the compulsory co-operation being advocated in this plan.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Woman's Travel Authority

Although car sickness is fortunately a comparatively rare thing among the adults it sometimes troubles children and it is a wise parent who knows the best methods of minimizing its effects.

These general rules apply to both adults and children:

1. Eat lightly and avoid rich foods. Have your main meal after the day's trip is over.

2. Let the sickness prone person ride in the front seat where there is less rolling motion.

3. Make short stops frequently and suggest a few days of cool[illegible]

4. Avoid fast driving, especially on curving highways where the motion may approach the sensation of riding in a boat.

5. Avoid smoking if a person is subject to sickness. Cigar smoke may be enough to make a partly sick rider really ill

6. A very young child is not so apt to be ill if his attention is distracted from the rapidly moving scenery.

7. An empty ice cream container is wash cloth, a thermos of water and a supply of peppermint gum will lessen the unpleasantness if sickness actually occurs.

Many a child's tendencies toward motion can be prevented by these rules.

By AMBROSE HILLS

ARE YOU SUGGESTIBLE?

I doesn't often get a chance to meet a real flesh-and-blood psychiatrist, but I did last night He happened to me a little bit, too. Toward the end of the evening he said to me. "You know, you're a very suggestible person. I'd like to hypnotize you."

"No, no," I said "What makes you think I'm suggestible"

"Well, you haven't taken a drink all evening but you've enjoyed yourself as much as anyone here And a few minutes ago when I yawned you yawned too. When I smile at you while speaking, you smile back I also noticed that when the piano player went into a lively tune you began to tap your feet All these things tell me you're very susceptible to suggestions"

I didn't know whether to be flattered or annoyed. Instead of being either, I tried to begin a little bit "Well," I said. "if I'm so darn suggestible what do you suggest I do about it"?

He gave me some good advice He said that we are all suggestible to some extent And in his opinion all those of us who are inclined that way would be wise to associate with cheerful people listen only to the more constructive type of speaker, and generally accentuate the positive

"You know" he said "if you hang around with the gloomers Chances you will soon pick up some of their gloom For example If you spent all your time with certain dentists you would be sure to develop a toothache. If you spent all your time with certain undertakers you would get the feeling that Canada is a land of slums The fact of the matter is that most of our undertakers are quite satisfied with their present accommodation."

"Just a minute" I said I don't go for that If ninety percent of Canadians are satisfied with their present accommodation why has the government got involved in public housing."

The psychologist smiled He picked up a newspaper from the arm of the chesterfield and pointed out a statement by Mr David H Blanair president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a government agency Mr Blanair was quoted as saying "I don't believe the majority of Canadians want public housing" he went on to N.B for instance six months ago a 226-house project was considered [illegible] remained vacant even though there were more than 300 families in the city listed as substandard"

I admitted that I had been a victim of suggestion. "Maybe you think I'll turn a deaf ear to such low talk about slums, poverty, and all the rest of it" We're not going to all be wise to remember most of the good things about our country. We have our troubles we will have to tackle, mistakes to correct by intelligent effort to regiment us into one group and thought-speak our problems away, leading inevitably to something like the Utopia which was supposed to have fallen apart long ago.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

198,000 YOUNG PEOPLE IN ALBERTA'S SCHOOLS

EDMONTON Alberta's soggy summer which has put the kibosh on farming and road building, had its effect on school opening.

With many rural roads in almost impassable condition, several school districts decided against trying to push school buses over them and delayed school opening by periods up to a week. Where road conditions permitted, the schoolhouse doors opened Wednesday.

Provincial education department officials estimate that about 198,000 students will sit in elementary, junior and senior high school classes his year. Although statistics are not completed for last year, an estimated 193,500 boys and girls made up the province's school population in 1953-54.

Despite the student increase and the many new classrooms which will be open for the first time this year, education officials say the situation in regard to teachers is better than last year, although there may be a slightly greater shortage of high school teachers. Actual details of the situation throughout the province will not be known until school superintendents report to the department.

121 QUALIFY AS STUDENT TEACHERS

In addition to teachers who have graduated under the normal procedure, school boards have 121 'student-teachers' to choose from this year. They are the first graduates of the provincial government's controversial scheme to relieve the teacher shortage, which has plagued the province for so many years.

A total of 131 grade 12 students attended a special six-week course at the University of Alberta this summer and the 121 qualified as student teachers.

The provincial department has no plans for placing these student-teachers. Officials say the graduates will carry out their own negotiations with the school boards. They will teach for one year and if they make satisfactory progress will be asked to take six weeks more training.

UNIVERSITY QUALIFICATIONS

The quality of Alberta's high school graduates popped into the news last week when a Calgary newspaper claimed they were experiencing difficulty in obtaining entrance to universities outside the province. The paper laid the blame mainly on the province's decrease in the number of mathematics courses taught in the high schools.

Education department officials said there were very few such cases brought to their attention and added that the department is planning extra mathematics for students planning further academic work. They said that in at least some cases the trouble stemmed from the other universities not understanding the province's system of grading high school graduates.

OIL INCOME STILL HIGH

The Alberta government's take from oil activities in the first three month's of the current fiscal year, started April 1, was only $12,000,000 short of equalling the cash payments on the government's income account, the interim financial report issued last week shows.

The sale of oil and natural gas leases during three-month period totalled $14,737,855, while fees and competition for a cover design for rentals added $5,040,255; oil and gas royalties $3,226,704; petroleum production and sale of oil and gas leases on school lands $1,034,376.

Although government treasury ended the period with a cash income surplus of $17,425,773, this was gobbled up by the Municipal Capital Loans revolving fund, into which $20,000,000 was placed, and the rural electrification revolving fund, another $1,200,000, as well as highway, bridge, public building and public works construction.

To make it up the government was required to dip into its fund of previous surpluses to the extent of $10,256,467.

COULD WIPE OUT DEBT

It still left the government with $116,463,897 in cash and readily marketable bonds and debentures, which, if it was good economics, could more than wipe out the provincial debt, now standing at $[illegible],933,212, a decrease of $3,0[illegible],443 in [illegible].

Shoe Laces Out?

The day may come, reports The Financial Post, when you may have forgotten how to tie shoe laces. A new invention is a fastener for shoes, a neither-fish-nor-fowl affair that combines a slide fastener with laces.

It gives the individual fit to your foot that laces do, and the speed and ease of operation of a slide fastener.

It may also give a large part if not almost all of the shoe market to the slide fastener industry, if it 'takes' the way zippers have done in many everyday uses.

AN OLD, OLD URGE

Agitation for a Canadian governor-general goes a long piece back. Here's a bit of history Napier Moore in The Financial Post dug up from the Col. E. L. Caldwell story of the Richelieu River:

"In 1755 Pierre du Rigaud, Marquis de Vaudreuil Cavagnol, arrived in New France with 3000 troops under Baron Dieskau to reinforce those in this country. He was the 18th and last Governor-General of the French regime. He was born in this country (Canada) and his appointment was due in part to a clamor in Quebec for a Canadian Governor-General."

School Enrollment Climbs To 737 — Two Extra Classrooms In Use

Two extra classrooms were utilized to handle a record enrolment of 737 pupils and students in the four Vermilion schools when the classes were resumed on Tuesday Sept. 7 after the summer vacation. The staff now numbers 27 teachers with four home economics and shop teachers operating on a semestre basis at the Vermilion school of agriculture.

An extra room was opened in the high school where 112 students registered compared to 94 attending in June. This was achieved by utilizing the games room, the only extra space in the school and used by bus pupils for games during the noon hour and for a lunch room.

The second additional room is at the elementary school and is a classroom on the top floor fitted with a stage and previously used by all classes for dramatics and as a miniature auditorium. The increase here was 43 boys and girls, 267 to 310 this term.

This large increase presented another problem. At dinner time 119 tried to crowd into the lunch room where there was accommodation for 100 at the most. The elementary school set up includes the use of two cottage schools on the grounds.

At the primary school most of the former basement playroom has been converted for use as a temporary classroom. This will now be put on a permanent basis and refinished and equipped accordingly.

Enrolment by schools and giving the number attending now and the previous June:

| School | Sept. | June |
|---|---|---|
| Primary | 139 | 143 |
| Elementary | 310 | 267 |
| Junior High | 176 | 178 |
| High School | 112 | 94 |
| TOTAL | 737 | 682 |

12 Honor Students In Grade Nine Pass List

The June grade nine pass list reveals that twelve students in the Vermilion school division achieved thec oveted honors standing. This means that an average of 80 per cent or over was made by the student on the six subjects written.

In the town of Vermilion schools 35 young people wrote the grade 9 examinations with two honor students, Eileen Theresa Bauer and Patrick Mackenzie Bentley.

At Dewberry 15 wrote with one honors student and no failures. The honors were achieved by James Perry Jones.

Marwayne had a class of 15 writing with one honors, Marlene Bobroske, and 14 passes.

Shirley Wiley at Paradise Valley attained honors and there were no failures in the class of ten.

In the two room school at Blackfoot, six wrote the exams, and two were honor students, Olga Dorothy Ulan and Walter Julian Ulan. All writing were successful.

At Clandonald public school Marlene Jean Grauman passed with honors, with a class of seven. At Clandonald Separate, Budsey Joan Roesky obtained honors. Her class numbered ten.

A number of other honor students attended the one room schools throughout the division and were as follows:

Michael Plandowski, Fenham;
Janet May Keat, Irwinville;
Leona Fay Mathison, N. Home.

To sum up grade 9 results for this division, 181 wrote the examinations, 171 passed the exams, 12 with honors, and there were ten failures.

The figure of 171 students moving into their first year of high school is quite an increase over one year ago, indicating a climbing high school enrollment in the years to come. One year ago 142 students wrote the grade 9 exams, 134 passed, ten with honors and 8 failed.

The number passing grade 9 is 37 greater this year than one year ago and represents quite a percentage gain. In Vermilion, grade nine registration for the past year jumped from 39 in 1953 to 55 in 1954.

Hockey Club Annual Meeting Sept. 17th

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Tigers Hockey club will be held on Friday Sept. 17th starting at 8 p.m. Election of officers for the coming year will be held, and reports will be received covering the past year's operations. The place will be announced in next week's Standard.

Plans must now be made to organize the club for the coming season and all those interested in hockey are urged to attend.

Decoration Day Service Attended By Large Crowd

Over 200 citizens turned out on Sunday to pay tribute to returned men who are buried in the Soldier's plot at the Vermilion cemetery. Relatives and friends of the local servicemen who have passed on met for a most impressive service on a bright and sunny afternoon.

Rev. C. W. MacKay, minister of the First United church and Rev. J. T. McNair of the Alliance chapel conducted the service in the absence of the Legion padre, Rev. D. A. Ford.

The pipers band from St Andrews provided music for the march and the Salvation Army band played for the hymns. Donald McPhee played the Lament in the place of the Last Post and Reveille.

President Martin of Vermilion Branch placed the Legion wreath at the cenotaph. Mrs. T. Thompson president of the Ladies Auxiliary placed one on behalf of that organization.

Before breaking off President Martin thanked the men and women on parade for turning out. He was gratified that the gathering was much larger than for several years. He also thanked the pipers, the Salvation Army band and Julius Mueller for suplying the school bus for transportation.

V.H.S. and Derwent Graduates Awarded Hotel Assoc. Scholarships

Two Vermilion high school graduates and one from Derwent are among the 54 Alberta students who have been awarded scholarships by the Alberta Hotel Association. The scholarships are worth $500 to the Vermilion district students for first year studies at the University of Alberta.

The winners are Anne M. Martin, 19, of Vermilion; Gerald D. Harle, 19 of Vermilion, and Sophie Lychak, 19, of Derwent.

The scholarship program, started in 1952, cost Alberta hotelmen more than $25,000 this year. Plans for expanding the program next year are being made according to A. G. Swinarton of Fort Macleod, association president.

Five scholarships were awarded in Edmonton, the same in Calgary, three in the Peace River area, 21 in the northern zone, 10 in the central and 10 in the southern.

Awards were made by a board of selection appointed by the association and were made on the basis of academic qualification and financial need. More than 200 applications were received and studied by the selection board during a four day session.

Rural students received $500 scholarships, while those from Edmonton receive $250 as their homes are in the university city. Calgary students also receive $250 if they can attend classes at the Calgary branch, while those wishing to follow courses given only at Edmonton receive $500.

Members of the selection board are: Chief Justice C. C. McLaurin, Calgary; Rt. Rev. George Calvert, Bishop of Calgary; Rev. P. O'Byrne, Claresholm; Prof. R. M. Hardy, university dean of engineering; Mrs. D. A. Hansen, vice-president of the Council of Home and School Associations; D. R. Cameron, registrar, Department of Education; B. J. ## Look Fast!

Yes, they look fast, and you had to look fast too, to get a glimpse of the four jet planes that flew over at 1:20 Wednesday p.m. Just in case you are interested the Beam station reports that they were flying at 36,000 feet above sea level which would make them 34,000 feet above us. Their speed was 445 miles per hour and 18 minutes after passing over Vermilion they were at the airport in Edmonton. The four planes were flying in formation and their vapor trail made a pretty sight.

Mrs. Ken Urquhart and son Elliott and Mrs. Doug Cooper and son Dene were Labor Day week end visitors to Edmonton and Redwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Ure were the recipients of many lovely gifts and cards.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Jean Ure of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilscam, Los Gates, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Russel Rutherford and girls of Edmonton. There are two sons and two daughters, those of which with families were present.

Vermilion Wins Baseball Championship

Vermilion Tigers won the Eastern Alberta Baseball league championship at Elk Point on Sunday when they won the second game of a best of three final series 13 runs to 6. The Tigers took the lead in the series on their home grounds the previous Sunday when they won the opener 12 to 3.

On the mound for Vermilion was Ernie Larcombe who pitched the first 7 innings and had the game well in hand. Ray Jones took over and finished when the Elk Pointers began to threaten in the later innings. Gerry Moffat and Brent Macnab divided the catching duties. Phil Shiplawy was on the mound for Elk Point with Dan Stetsko [illegible].

TEAMS FINISHED 1 AND 2

Vermilion finished in first place and Elk Point the runners-up in the regular league schedule. The Tigers then eliminated the third [illegible] Two Hills team while Elk [illegible] St. Paul from the play [illegible] brought the winners to [illegible] the finalists after a very [illegible] of baseball.

[illegible] SEASON FOR MANY YEARS

The past summer has been the best season of baseball seen here for a long time. Play started in [illegible] and was continued regularly [illegible] of any kind right up [illegible] Sept. 5th. [illegible] interest in baseball was sustained for a longer period than ever before. Coach Gerry Moffat kept the boys on their toes and for home games usually there were upwards of 12 men in uniform all hoping for a chance to get into the game. And get in they did; it was seldom that any player didn't see action. While the support received at their home games wasn't overwhelming, it was steady and good enough to be encouraging, kept the boys playing fine ball, and the treasurer's coffers well supplied. This steady attendance plus winning a couple of very healthy tourney purses, and the ready sale of season tickets early in the year, paved the way for a summer free of any financial difficulties. It is to be hoped that the high interest by players and supporters continues next year.

Bob Beckett Dies At Chilliwack, B.C.

A well remembered old timer of the homesteading days of the Vermilion district, Robert S. Beckett, passed away at Chilliwack, B.C. on August 28. He was 75 years of age. Funeral services were held on Monday, August 30 with interment at Chilliwack.

Mr. Beckett is survived by his wife and one son Larry. Larry is married and lives at Kamloops. There is one grandchild Maureen.

Mr. Beckett came to Vermilion away back in the homesteading days and lived here until 1932 at which time he and Mrs. Beckett and Larry moved to Chilliwack. His death came quite suddenly as he was ill for less than a day.

Mrs. Hubert Curtis of Vermilion was a visitor at the Beckett home when the death occurred, arriving just the day before.

Payment of federal family allowance and universal old age pensions cost between $13 million and $14 million a week.

HIGHWAY TOO GOOD!

Three traffic accidents on the wide highway east of Mannville within a period of two hours on a recent Saturday afternoon would lead one to believe that we, in this part of Alberta, can't cope with good roads. The accidents included a hit and run involving two vehicles an intersection collision, and a car careening off the highway rolling over and being completely demolished. All accidents happened in broad daylight. Miraculously no persons suffered serious injury. The facts remain that the highway is finely engineered, corners hardly exist, and visibility is excellent yet three real accidents happen within a short space of time. This indicates very clearly that campaigns such as the current "Courtesy is the Code of the Road" aimed at the motorist are definitely a necessity more and more so as our highways are improved and improved.

PENDULUM SWINGS

It now appears that the course adhered to by the Vermilion retailers in following their present hours of business was a wise one. Cities all over Canada in which business hours were cut to a minimum are now witnessing a rush just the other way - to see which can stay open the longest. Vancouver, judging from press reports, has relinquished all control over store hours letting them do as each sees fit. In Edmonton restrictions on retail hours have been eased considerably and even the largest stores are now advertising night shopping at least one evening a week.

The St. Lawrence River gained its name when Jacques Cartier sought shelter in a small bay in the river's mouth on the day of the festival of Saint Lawrence.

Famous 1,000-mile Journey of Early Fur Trading Days

A thousand miles by canoe, foot and on horseback was the astonishing 18th century feat of Anthony Henday, Hudson's Bay Co. trader. It was the first of many trade missions to the Indians and the exploits of this daring traveller of the Canadian Northwest were commemorated when a monument in his honor was unveiled near Red Deer on Aug. 27.

The monument was erected by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada and stands at the junction of Highways 2 and 11 about 4 miles from Red Deer.

On June 26, 1754, Anthony Henday with Indian companions, left Fort York on Hudson Bay on a 1000-mile journey whose objective was to invite the tribes to the Fort for trade. He travelled on foot, horseback and canoe, and he visited the French Post of Pasquia (the Pas) and is said to have been the first white man to meet Indians of the Blackfoot Confederacy and to have sighted the Rocky Mountains north of Colorado. Henday spent the winter of 1754-55 with the Blackfeet, east of the Clearwater River which flows into the North Saskatchewan near Rocky Mountain House.

Henday's journey wrote a historic chapter in the development of the Northwest fur trade. In the 20 years before the Hudson's Bay Co built its first inland trading post at Cumberland House in 1774, the Company sent out no fewer than 60 expeditions from its forts on the Bay to induce the Indians of the interior to bring down their furs for trade. Henday's journey was the first and most notable of them all.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

"A rolling ball is always followed by a running child." — That's what one trucking company I know about tells its drivers — and excellent advice it is, too.

Now that fall is at hand and the schools are in full swing, youngsters are more likely than ever to put themselves in harm's way.

They're creatures of impulse, and they dart out from curbs and cross against lights without warning. It's the driver's responsibility to protect children by staying extra alert. Here are a few suggestions:

Beware of the school bus that's stopped . . . in many places it's against the law to pass.

If you see a sign reading "Slow, School Zone", take it literally. A child can appear from behind a parked car much faster than you can stop.

And remember, not all policemen wear uniforms. School children themselves often direct traffic. A lad standing at an intersection may signal for you to stop so his schoolmates can cross. Watch for him; approach slowly, and obey his signals carefully. He's doing an important job.

When your driving takes you through a school zone, use the occasion to give your youngsters a few tips on safety. Explain how tricks on bikes can lead to accidents. Show them why it's wise to walk on the left, facing traffic, when there are no sidewalks. And, by driving carefully yourself — and explaining why — train them to protect other youngsters later on.

Pleasant Valley

Weather is a little more pleasant, a gradual improvement setting in from last Saturday.

Did you go berry picking on Sunday Mrs. Moore? The bear was a little too early for us!

Mrs. Gillies visited the writer for a few days.

Everyone was sorry to hear of the accident to Wilfred Potvin. He was kicked on the leg by a horse resulting in a bad break below his knee. He will be laid up for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gould were supper guests at the Moore home last Sunday.

"GREEN ACRES"

FEEDING RUSTY STRAW

Quite a number of farmers enquired lately at my office about the feeding of straw affected by rust. Rusty straw is not poisonous in any way. Feeders who are used to feeding this straw say it is just as palatable as straw that is free from rust.

GRAIN MITES

Grain mites and rusty grain beetles have been reported as found in this district. Anyone finding insects in stored grain should spray empty granaries thoroughly inside and out with D.D.T. before filling. Do not spray D.D.T. in grain to be used as human food or stock food as it is poisonous. A new chemical called "Pyrenone" will kill these insects in infested grain. There is nothing to be alarmed about, just keep a watch for them and do something as soon as you find them.

RURAL LEADERSHIP COURSE

The fifth annual Rural Leader course will be held in Banff during the first two weeks in November. This course is for young people of 21 to 35 years old. Three young men from this district have taken the course and they highly recommend it. The cost is very reasonable. I am informed by the U.G.G. that they will pay the expenses of one person from this district. Girls may attend this course as well as boys. See me for particulars.

CHANGING HOG GRADES

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture is proposing a new set up in hog grades. Under the new grades premiums of $3 per head for A type carcasses would be paid. Now is the time to get ready for these high premiums. Good Yorkshire boars are the quickest and cheapest means of improving hog quality. Orders can be left at my office for boars under the government swine improvement plan.

PUTTING UP SILAGE

Several farmers in this district had no trouble haying this year. They cut the crop with forage harvesters and put it into trench silos. One farmer figured that he lost $3000 worth of hay this year from the bad weather. A forage harvester and two loading racks cost less than $2000. I am quite sure that investing in silo equipment will pay better returns than buying field hay balers.

PRICES OF RAMS

Under the Assisted Sheep Improvement policy rams can be supplied to flock owners at $50 and upwards. Anyone needing rams should get them before the supply has been picked over.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vermilion, Alberta.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

A fortnight ago my wife and I with our three children arrived in Vermilion. We had heard much of the town and of the friendly regard towards newcomers on the part of Canadians in general.

May we, through the courtesy of your columns express in some way our sincerest thanks to the many people in this town who have done so much to fit us into the community, who have guided us and gone out of their way to be helpful. We would especially mention Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robson and others on the School Division staff who have done so much to make us welcome and feel really at home here in Vermilion.

It is difficult to convey thanks in words and we hope that whatever service we can offer in the future will show that we truly appreciate all the kindness that has been shown us.

Yours sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Cash.

Family Gathering Honors Mr. and Mrs. R. Bodard

MANNVILLE.—A family gathering at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Whitson on Sunday afternoon marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Bodard, formerly of Mannville and now residing in Vermilion. While in Mannville both Mr. and Mrs. Bodard were active in the various activities of the village, being members of the United church, the Eastern Star and Masonic Lodge, etc. Mr. Bodard was secretary of the Curling club and was an active worker in building the new rink.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Empey (nee Sharon Bodard) and family of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Greg Bodard and family of Lloydminster were out of town guests at the gathering. Others included Mrs. G. H. Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Majeau and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whitson and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Whitson and family.

Mr. Kevin Majeau presented Mr. and Mrs. Bodard with a gift of silver on behalf of the family present.

It was the 19th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whitson as well on Sunday.

Skilled Machinists Are In Demand

Officials at the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art, Calgary, foresee an increasing demand for skilled machinists as a result of the present rapid growth in the industrialization of the province. Machine shops are essential to all mechanized operations, maintaining equipment already in use, and providing tools to manufacture new equipment.

The two year course in machine shop training at the Institute has been serving Alberta's industrial needs for many years, and provides young men with basic training for a variety of occupations. Graduates are now employed in many plants as machinists, shop supervisors, maintenance personnel and as steam and mechanical engineers.

Vacancies still exist for the course which commences on Oct. 4. The fee is $51. Complete information may be obtained by writing to the Principal of the Institute.

Bowtell Bulletin

Sorry folks no Bowtell news for the past few weeks—too much rain and mud.

On Aug. 18, 19 members of the Busy Bees and 3 guests, Mrs. H. Perkins, Mrs. Playne and Mrs. G. Miller met at the home of Mrs. O. Repp. The members returned the sheets they had hemmed for the hospital. Mrs. Maggs was the winner of the draw.

Three baskets of fruit were sent to those ill in hospital. All enjoyed a chat with the former secretary of the Busy Bees, Mrs. Perkins who visited here from B.C. Next meeting will be held on Sept. 15 at the home of Mrs. Hardie. Lunch committee Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Fenton and Mrs. D. Harrison. At the close of the enjoyable afternoon a nice lunch was served by Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Repp.

The writer was pleased to have her niece Miss K. Fowler visit her while waiting for her school to open at Dewberry. Kathy comes from Edson.

Beverly Sherwood celebrated her fifth birthday Sept. 4.

The writer of Pleasant Valley column beat the mud by travelling on horseback. Good going Gladys.

The writer is sorry to learn that Miss Alice Keith, matron of the hospital, is ill in an Edmonton hospital. Best wishes for a quick recovery are extended to her.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Sweeney and family were Sunday visitors at the Jones home. Mrs. Knutson and Maybelle spent a few days visiting in Edmonton this week. The Gow family were also Edmonton visitors recently.

The bright feature of the weather picture this week was the lack of rainfall, only .03 being recorded at the airport. Heavy showers fell in nearby districts which missed here. Continued settled weather is forecast.

Owing to a line of type being mislaid last week the names of Gloria Madill, Edwin Marfleet and Sharon Martin were omitted from the grade 4A classroom placements.

WILDMERE WINKS

A short time ago Mr Tom Best enjoyed a visit from his brother Bob of Unity, Sask. Later Bob's daughter and husband of Edmonton called and her father accompanied them back to Unity

Mr Tom Best was a recent visitor to the Wallington home. Mr. Alex Cameron of Ponoka, uncle of the Graham children spent several days at the same home.

The wind and rain storm last Tuesday evening did untold damage to crops, etc. Many heavy stands were flattened and the ground being so wet they will just rot. Rust has also taken a heavy toll. Some fields are not worth cutting as the kernel has shrunk to nothing. The high wind blew a chop granary door open at Albert Holte's and a cow they had, belonging to Ken Kennedy, got in and ate too much; next morning she was dead. Lloyd Howard had a hay rack picked up and smashed; J Wilson had trees broken off in the wind break. All in all it did a lot of damage. Power was off for two hours.

Mrs Gaylord Gibson and grandson Ernest Pare stopped off on her way home from Woodside, Man., to visit her two daughters Mrs. York and Mrs. Madill and son Frank and family of Basswood. She left early Saturday morning from Wainwright on her homeward journey to Cloverdale B.C. Mrs Gibson despite her years really looks well and it was nice seeing and chatting with her once more. Ernest Pare was born at Vermilion but left with his parents to reside at the Coast when he was quite small.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Gibson, took Mrs. York and family to Sunnynook, Alta., last week where she will teach this year. They reported lots of rain down that way too.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of Edmonton spent the week end at the Holte home. Mr. Mitchell is a boyhood friend of Mr. Plante our student minister. Mr. Mitchell helped out at the church on Sunday evening. Only two more Sundays of church left. Rev MacKay will hold communion service and baptismal on Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 19th will be our last service for the summer. Everyone should plan to attend these two services.

On Sunday evening after church Mrs. Wilson invited her former school pupils and their parents to her home where a nice evening was enjoyed. She told the children even if they were not her pupils anymore she still was greatly interested in them and hoped they would continue on in their studies. She was proud of them and hoped her pride would be justified in the future. Mrs. Wilson then gave them each a little booklet containing a picture of the last group to attend the school with a picture of the school on the cover. Each pupil signed their name in each others books. It will be something they will treasure in years to come. Hazel Whitlock then very heartily thanked Mrs. Wilson for the nice gathering. A delicious lunch brought the fine evening to a close. Mrs. Wilson is teaching at Thorncliffe this term.

Our new centralized school was not ready to open on the 7th but is to open on the 13th now. Ray Osterberg and Albert Smith were taken by Roger Rowe to Lethbridge last week to pick up their school buses.

We chatted with Mrs. Elward and Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Whyte, Mrs. Alex Stone, Mrs. Galloway Sr and daughters, Mrs. Morrison and Miss Craig who tells us she always reads the 'Winks'. We enjoyed a little visit over a nice lunch with Mrs. Riley of town. We forgot to mention a week or so ago that we had a nice visit one Saturday with Mrs. Wyley of Hindville. We were very pleased to hear that Mrs. McGrath Sr. is getting on so well and able to be about.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bissonnette of Edmonton, Mrs. M. Watson and sons Frank and Johnny of Hindville were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Guy Whitlock's of Wildmere.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Matlock and son Lloyd of Calmar spent the long week end with Mr and Mrs. Wm. Clark of Triangle

The Girls' Club dance held last Friday evening at Basswood was well attended and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves, also the tricks by Mr Matlock. Roy Garnett was M.C. and Harpestads furnished the music.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for their expressions of sympathy, floral tributes and memorial donations. We also thank everyone who helped us in any way.

ALLANDALE NEWS

More rain and a few sunny days and more ahead, we hope. Some of the farmers have started their harvest. The rain, wind and rust have damaged the crops and gardens but we are so fortunate in this district—no hail.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Greaves on the birth of a son, Brian Thomas, on August 28th in the city.

Mrs. Charlie Mayers (Adeline) and Mrs. Jim Mayers (Laura) of Minnesota, are holidaying at the Mayers' home, coming on the morning of Aug. 27th by C.N.R. The late Mr. Charlie Mayers homesteaded here in the early days where the Throndson family now live, and returned to their old home in Minnesota in 1910.

The late Mr Jim Mayers homesteaded on the land just east of his brother's. That land is now owned by Mr Webdale. They returned to their old home in 1916.

School opening — may the teachers and school children have successful years. We welcome Mrs. Green, of town, our teacher, to the district. Two of our grade nine students Lorna Nelson and Mary Gourlay are attending high school in Clandonald, taking grade ten. New beginner at Allandale is Harvey Strome. Two of our grand children begin school this fall, Raymond Wilson [illegible] of Ft. McMurray.

Our deepest sympathy to Aunt Mamie, Mrs. Wilmer Hogoboam, on the death of her brother, George Jacklin of Victoria.

Mr and Mrs. Andy Chevelier (May Phillips) and family of the city spent the long week end at home. Mrs. Andy O'Neill (Kay Phillips) and boys have been holidaying at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Armstrong motored to the city for the long week end. Their little daughter Valerie stayed at the Woody Wilson home. Mrs. Wm. Armstrong accompanied them to Royal Park to visit with her daugher Joyce and Ronnie and little granddaughter

Mr and Mrs Morris Broadfoot of Saskatoon were visitors over the long week end at the Baldocks. The latter is Mrs. Baldock's sister, Georgina. Mr and Mrs Baldock and granddaughter Brenda Greaves accompanied them to the city on Saturday afternoon to visit their daughter Beryl and Tommy and little grandson

Mr and Mrs Charlie Hogoboam and family of Red Deer and parents Mr and Mrs Wilmer Hogoboam of Derwent were dinner guests at the Baldock's on Sept 3rd

Mr and Mrs Wm Young Donna and Jackie of Dewberry spent last Sunday evening at the Onness home, first visiting the Nelsons and to see their fine Arabian horses. Donna especially is very fond of horses. She is leaving shortly to attend University in the city

Communion and baptism service was well attended the last Sunday in August. Rev. MacKay taking the service. Mr and Mrs [illegible] Mead and Mr and Mrs Gordon Dow had their youngest sons baptized. We were pleased to have Mrs. MacKay and boys and Mrs. Addie [illegible] of town with us for the service

Sept. 5th, our final service on the field. Mr Calder had a very fine service, as were all his services through the summer. He left on Sunday and will be with his folks at Bow Island until University opens in the city. We wish him well whatever his chosen career may be Passing Thought: It is a very hard undertaking to seek to please everybody.

LEAF RUST OF WHEAT WHEAT'S GREAT ENEMY IN 1954

The most destructive wheat leaf rust epidemic on record has occurred in Western Canada this year. The cash loss to western farmers from leaf rust alone in 1954 will not be less than 30 million dollars, and may easily reach 100 million dollars.

What is Leaf Rust? In this country wheat is subject to two distinct kinds of rust, namely, Leaf Rust and Stem Rust. Leaf rust is caused by a tiny, parasitic fungus that enters the plant through its breathing pores, and steals from it the food and water necessary for its proper nourishment. Borne on the early summer winds that blew from the winter wheat fields of Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska, about the middle of June, leaf rust became established unusually early this year on thousands of acres of wheat, particularly in central Saskatchewan. Owing to favorable weather conditions it spread like prairie fire, and finally affected millions of acres of wheat throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and in eastern Alberta.

Effect on Plants. As the name implies, leaf rust attacks principally the leaves of wheat plants. When a heavy, early attack occurs, such as happened this year, all of the leaf surface of the plant is affected, and the leaves die prematurely. As the leaves are the "food factory of the plant" it is obvious that any serious injury to them reduces the amount of food made available for storage in the kernels. Leaf rust seldom shrinks the wheat kernels, but it does reduce their size and number, and seriously affects the quality of the grain. The yield of wheat may be reduced as much as 90 per cent by leaf rust.

Control Measures. The use of resistant varieties is the only satisfactory way of controlling leaf rust. Unfortunately, the varieties now most widely grown in Western Canada, particularly Thatcher, are very susceptible to leaf rust. The sad experience of this year emphasizes the need in this country for the early development of new wheat varieties which possess high resistance to both leaf and stem rust.

Monument Honors Robert Borden

The memory of a distinguished Canadian statesman, the late Sir Robert Borden, P.C. G.C.M.G., a former Prime Minister of Canada, has been honored at his birth-place, Grand Pre, N.S. A cut-stone monument, bearing a bronze plaque has been erected by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, bordering on No. 1 highway, near Wolfville, in the heart of the picturesque Evangeline country, made famous by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. It has been provided on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada.

The monument was unveiled on Saturday, Aug. 21, by Mr. Henry Borden, nephew of the late Sir Robt. Borden.

In 1901 he was chosen Leader of the Opposition and continued for the next ten years. In this capacity. He became Prime Minister in 1911 and held that office until 1920. Even before the turn of the century, polar and other explorers found that boxes of light, non-rusting aluminum gave their precious first-aid equipment more protection from rough usage and rough weather.
Manufacturers took the tip. Today, especially in factories where industrial processes create heated or corrosive conditions, aluminum boxes are used to keep first-aid kits in good shape.
In fact, aluminum is now popular for boxes to hold everything from tools to trout flies. And for countless other containers that must stay clean, bright, free from rust. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Pretty Wedding At Clandonald

BRODBIN - McGUCKIN

St. Columbus church, Clandonald, was the setting for the recent wedding when Miss Eileen Mary McGuckin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McGuckin, became the bride of Mr. Michael Brodbin, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brodbin, both of Clandonald.

The Rev. Father Scriven was celebrant at the nuptial mass. The acolytes were Joseph McGuckin, brother of the bride, and John Nowakowski, both seminarians.

The altar was beautifully decorated with pretty spring flowers. The choir sang the Mass in F and the organist was Miss Donna Schneider.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked charming in a floor-length strapless gown with Chantilly lace bodice. Her handkerchief skirt of nylon tulle was edged with matching scalloped lace. The jacket of Chantilly lace had a pleated nylon tulle net collar and lily point sleeves. For her headpiece she chose a sequin and pearl trim tiara and illusion net veil, with scalloped lace to match her gown. Her bridal bouquet was red roses and white mums. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, studded with pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Attending the bride were the Misses Isabel Fisher and Lenore Michael. Isabel chose a floor-length gown of mauve net over taffeta with a lace bolero, while Lenore chose yellow lace over taffeta featuring a lace bolero. Each wore chapel length veils and carried bouquets of yellow and mauve carnations. Both wore rhinestone necklaces and matching earrings.

The little flower girl was Donna McIntyre of Edmonton. She wore a yellow taffeta dress with wreath and veil to match. Her basket was white lace and filled with summer flowers.

The groom's mother chose a two-piece grey suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the bride's home for about sixty friends and relatives.

The Rev. Father Scriven proposed a toast to the bride and the groom responded in a few well chosen words.

A buffet supper was served to about 200 friends who gathered in the afternoon and evening.

Later a very enjoyable dance was held at the Columbus hall.

For their honeymoon trip the bride changed to a mauve suit with white and black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Places visited on their honeymoon were Spokane, Seattle and Vancouver.

Holy Name Church Is Scene Of Pretty Wedding

POWELL—BARCLAY

The Holy Name Catholic church, Vermilion, was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 26 at 10:30 a.m. when Mildred Arline, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Edward Barclay became the bride of Gerald Louis Powell, youngest son of Mrs. James Powell of Vermilion. Rev. Father Landrigan performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue grey virgin wool suit with red accessories and a lovely corsage of red roses and orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

Miss Audrey Barclay, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and was attired in a green gabardine suit with yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Her younger sister Joyce wore a white petit-point dress with pink accessories.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barclay wore a grey suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a wine suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

After the ceremony a reception for some thirty relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents at Clandonald. The bride's table was laid with a white lace tablecloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Tea was served by Miss Iva Deford and Joyce Barclay.

Duncan Carey brother-in-law of the groom, proposed the toast.

Moving Day For Rare Whooping Cranes

SEEK TO SAVE BIRDS FROM EXTINCTION

Moving day for the six rare Whooping Cranes in Wood Buffalo National park may be this week. Wildlife officials of the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources [illegible] the first of the week that bird watchers in Alberta and Saskatchewan are keeping an extra sharp eye on the sky since the cranes usually migrate about the end of August or early in September. They are expected to pass over northeastern Alberta and central Saskatchewan on their way to the coast of Texas, where they winter.

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN

Particularly keen interest in their movement has been shown since one of their nesting grounds was discovered in July in Wood Buffalo National Park. Wood Buffalo park straddles the boundary between Alberta and the Northwest Territories.

Out of a total known population of 24, six have been keeping house in an inaccessible part of the 17,300 square miles inhabited by Canada's largest buffalo herd. Seeking ways of giving the birds added protection in their fight for survival, wildlife officials have made plans with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and the Audubon Society to send in a party of three observers to the nesting site early next spring.

Car Exports A Record

In July Britain exported a record number of cars, some 39,000 averaging 1400 every working day. Production for the same month was at the rate of 15,700 cars and 5000 commercial vehicles each week.

Ex-Vermilion Teachers On City Staff

The question, where do all the teachers go besides getting married, can be answered as far as Vermilion is concerned by reading over the lists of the teaching staff for the Edmonton schools. Many of the names appearing therein are very familiar. Some have been there for a long time, and some have only commenced their teaching careers in the city with the fall term.

Among some of the more recent teachers to start in the city are F. H. Walker at the new Grovenor elementary school; Miss Mary Swanson at Hazeldean; Miss Bidulock at Inglewood; Mrs. Hilda English at Mount Pleasant. All the above having been lost to the city this year. There are many other names quite familiar who have either taught in [illegible] division or right in the town schools. Included and going back quite a number of years is Miss Clara Tyner at Garneau; Alex Stockwell at New Glenora; Louis C. Mix at Strathcona; J. C. Brown, University high; Miss L. Jean Scott; and Bill Frost at Strathcona Annex; Harold Gerry principal at Westmount where Miss Pat Jones and M. F. Smeltzer are both staff members. Other names with a familiar sound are Clarence Welsh, Bjarne Larson, Geo. Schurman, G. K. Brady of Mannville, [illegible] S. Chrapko of Derwent, [illegible] Olsonberg of Mannville, Vernon Newlove and Gilbert Brimacombe.

Miss Eden Cordett, Miss Jean Day, Miss Grace Meraereau, Miss D. M. Eidem, Mrs. Hettie Roxburgh, all well known here and who are an asset to any teaching staff, also occupy positions in the Edmonton schools.

F. U. A. Advocates Floor Prices And Advances For Stored Grain

EDMONTON. — That the two most pressing needs of the farmer are floor prices on farm products and federal advances against farm stored grain, were opinions expressed by Henry Young, President of the 26,000 member Farmers' Union of Alberta in an exclusive release to the weekly press this week.

He added that the main hope of getting action lay in effective grass-roots farm organization.

Mr. Young admitted the question of price support might be controversial. But the alternative to price supports, he maintained, "is a price collapse that will bring on a depression involving every person and every business serving agriculture."

Asked about the recently announced proposals for a province-wide membership drive by the educational farm body he leads, Mr. Young said it would be the first of its kind to be undertaken since 1920 when the former United Farmers of Alberta made an effort to build up their membership rolls. In the 1954 campaign, it was hoped to enlist a clear majority of resident grass-roots farmers in an all-out one-day drive.

"There has been warm acceptance by our Locals of the idea", Mr. Young stated. "A growing awareness of the need for the farming industry to put itself on a parity of strength with other highly organized industries is becoming more evident every day."

That the question of family farm survival is more serious than ever and that today's trends indicate rural depopulation to be on the increase, was also pointed out by the speaker. He asserted: "Between 1941 and the present, a loss of over 20% in farm occupancies in this Province — a trend more noted in Saskatchewan where the number of farms has dropped by 35% since 1941 — indicates the seriousness of the problem confronting us."

Summer School C.D. Course Completed By 118 Teachers

One hundred and eighteen Alberta teachers completed the Civil Defence course held at the University of Alberta from July 5 to Aug. 5 in conjunction with the Summer school. Dr. Andrew Stewart, president of the university, spoke at the closing ceremony. Certificates and C.D. badges were presented to the teachers by W. E. Frame, Chief Superintendent of schools and chief director, 'A' & 'Q' Staff, A.C.D.H.Q.

A total of 507 teachers have now completed C.D. courses held at the Summer school during the past 3 summers.

The Alberta Civil Defence organization is deeply indebted to President Stewart and the University staff for their generous and unfailing co-operation in carrying out this training.

Health Unit Notes

DIABETES — What it is:

This is a disease in which the body is not able to use or to store all the sugar consumed, whether in the form of actual sugar or starch as in bread and cereals. The reason for this is the lack of insulin in the blood.

SYMPTOMS

These are excessive hunger and thirst, loss of weight and strength, frequent urination, and sugar in the urine. Bed-wetting may be a sign in children and boils and carbuncles in older people. The disease is most common in people between 40 and 60 years of age who are overweight and it runs in families.

LEARNING TO LIVE WITH DIABETES

Mild cases can be controlled by careful attention to the diet, others however, who need insulin in addition, can still lead a normal life if they control their diet and see their doctor regularly.

DIET

Diet varies with each patient and includes all foods essential to health without any excesses. Insulin, which enables the body to burn sugar, and exercise, which increases the amount of sugar burned in the muscles, help to keep the urine free of sugar. Diet, exercise, and insulin must be carefully regulated in relation to each other.

COMPLICATIONS

These may be avoided by learning to live with the disease.

DIABETIC COMA

This is due to overeating or insufficient insulin and comes on gradually with a feeling of illness, deep and difficult breathing, nausea, vomiting, drowsiness.

INSULIN REACTION

Too much insulin, too little food, and excessive exercise, will cause this and signs appear a few hours afterwards. Hunger, sweating, nervousness, headache, nausea, and drowsiness are the symptoms.

INFECTIONS, GANGRENES

These are a serious threat to the diabetic and abrasions and cuts should be carefully avoided and treated promptly if they occur. The smallest abrasion of the feet may lead to grangrene and loss of a limb. A chiropodist should always be told before starting treatment on a diabetic.

FUTURE OF THE DIABETIC

Physicians today know much more about diabetes and how to treat it. The diabetic who studies his disease and uses his knowledge to co-operate with his doctor stands a good chance of living as long and as successfully with diabetes as he might have expected to live without it.

F.U.A. Executive To Meet Sept. 9th

Information that a meeting of the F.U.A. executive is being held in Edmonton today (Sept. 9) was released by Henry Young, Union President.

This meeting will consider ways and means of financing grain producers until space is available for the delivery of their crop. In view of the lack of space in elevators, the F.U.A. is advocating a system of advances from the National Treasury against grain stored on the farms.

"Western grain producers are not asking for a handout", asserted Mr. Young "but they do need the temporary backing of the Federal government in order to get money to carry on. Failure to provide this will injure general business perhaps as much as the farmer.

Referring to the proposed one-day membership drive of the F.U.A., Mr Young stated that the idea was being warmly received by many locals. "There is a growing awareness of the need for the farming industry to put itself on a par with other Unionized occupations, by enlisting a clear majority of our farm people under the banner of the Famers' Union of Alberta", he concluded

By AMBROSE HILLS

ADVERSITY

All men meet adversity at some time in their lives. Some men are ruined by it; others turn it into a victory. I'd like to tell you about a friend of mine who is now in the midst of adversity, and meeting it well

For many years my friend worked in a bobbin mill in the Memphremagog area of Quebec. Last fall, when this country was swamped by foreign imports, the mill closed down. It stayed closed all winter, and my friend was unemployed

Early this spring he took a job as a tool pusher, drilling for oil, working long hours, up to his knees in mud a large part of the day. Unaccustomed to this type of labor, his health began to fail him. He is at home now, and he and his wife are keeping the wolf from the door by doing work for summer cottagers. But there has been a tremendous change in his mental attitude which will certainly stand him in good stead in the years to come.

"I used to take my job for granted," he told me. "Our mill was well-run, the pay was good, and though we always kept putting the bite on for bigger pay as a matter of principle we were all reasonably satisfied. I guess none of us dreamed that we would soon be trying to compete with workers in other countries who were getting about half as much or less than that. I know that I certainly didn't appreciate my job the way I would do now if I had it back again."

He went on at some length. He told me that he, and his fellow workers, are now taking more interest in politics. He told me that one of his friends, while employed on another job, has thought up an efficiency suggestion he is going to offer to the mill owners the moment he gets back to work. He says that for the first time in his life he genuinely appreciates the skills that he learned in his job, and is eager to put them to work again. But there was one other most important piece of wisdom gained through this adversity.

My friend discovered how fine most people are in his neighborhood. Summer cottagers, knowing the plight of the textile workers in that area, have employed as many as they possibly can to fix up around their cottages, do painting that they had not intended to do, build piers for their boats, and so on. Any man who is genuinely eager to give full value for the dollar, my friend tells me, is able to earn enough money so that he will not be in dire need. He is quite convinced that if foreign trade experts would visit the Memphremagog area, they would soon get busy and do everything possible for those unemployment problems. That is a pretty fair amount of faith for one man to pick up due to a winter's adversity!

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

WINS PRIZE AT C N E

We wish to extend our sincere congratulations to Mr. R. R. Adams who just received word that he was successful in winning second prize at the Canadian National Exhibition in Class 350. This class is for the blind and is in weaving seats for stools and chairs of all kinds. If you are interested in Mr. Adams' work which is really wonderful just call at his home and he will be pleased to show you his completed work and also how he does this weaving

Students of the Vermilion school division got an extra weeks holiday all due to the continued rain we have been having. The roads were in such poor condition that school buses could not navigate, hence the delay. The P.V. school staff will be C. A. Richardson and Mr. Powell for the high school, Mr. E. H. Walters the Junior high, Mrs. B. Welsh, Mrs. J. Adams, Mrs. S. Murray and Miss E. Redmond for the public school

STREETS GRAVELLED

The gravel trucks were busy on Friday and Saturday giving our streets a badly needed coat of gravel. Our streets at times did get quite muddy but quickly dried. We do not appreciate this fact until we drive through other towns. We will not mention any names but some towns are certainly a terrible mess and it is quite a feat to drive through them

VARIETY OF WEATHER

The weather during the past week has given us everything. Two lovely summer days — the others, well what with all the rain and wind our gardens and the oat fields in particular are in a terrible condition. The wheat did not suffer so much. Just how the oats can be harvested we do not know as they are all twisted in every direction.

Mr and Mrs D P Odegard and family spent the long week end in Edmonton visiting with Mr Odegard's parents

W A MEETING

The September meeting of the Paradise Valley W.A. was held in the church basement on Friday evening Sept 3. There were 14 members present. It was decided to hold the chicken supper on Friday Oct 29. Lunch was served by Mrs. J. Storms and Mrs. George Venner Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Brown on the birth of a son born in the Lloydminster hospital on Monday, Aug 30.

RUMMAGE SALE

Mrs Dougan's group of the United church W A will hold a rummage sale in the church basement on Saturday, Sept 18. Tea will be served. 10-12x

Future Forecasting

Long-range weather forecasts? Business has been atwitter in some sections of Canada at a hint that five-day forecasts were on the way. And millions in business savings as a result ... things like better scheduling of department store ads, accurate fruits and vegetable stocking for groceterias, accurate production planning by the canners based on known future supply, crop insurance for the farmers

But the outlook is cloudy, says The Financial Post. The department of transport meteorological division can't find some 60 additional specialists for the job. It has immediate vacancies for 15 M.A. meteorologists and 46 honor maths and physics grads.

The forecast now: "It will be at least two years", says Andrew Thomson, controller of transport's met division.

Work is underway by the Department of Highways draughting division in preparing a new master highway map. The last master plan was drawn in 1947 and has been revised each year.

The Highways Department and Alberta Travel Bureau are co-operating in contacting counties, municipal districts and improvement districts for lists of hamlets which should be included on the map. LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

Problems Of "Alcoholism" Studied At Four-Day Conference

EDMONTON — While 150 persons seriously studied the problem of alcoholism at a four-day conference last week at the University of Alberta, the government stores and depots sold liquor and beer worth about $700,000.

While this situation is the fault of no one person or organization, it emphasizes again something is wrong somewhere and not only in Alberta.

Despite the fact that almost every citizen over 21 years of age has some criticism to make about Alberta's liquor laws they are either too strict or too loose — the fact remains there are no more alcoholics in this province than in any other part of the world.

The 150 men and women were attending the province's first conference on alcohol studies. Speakers included some of the workers of the famed Yale Centre of Alcohol Studies.

One of them told delegates that studies show alcoholics lose an average of 22 days annually in U.S. industry. They also lose more time than the non-alcoholics because of other ailments and have an accident rate twice as great. The alcoholics life span is slashed by 12 years.

Probably one of the most interesting addresses was given by Ralph Henderson, of the Yale centre who described the 18 stages through which an alcoholic progresses, from the time he first starts to drink as a solution to social problems until he ends drinking as a solution to the problems arising from his drinking.

A 'rat race', Mr. Henderson termed it.

The full route of alcoholism usually takes about 15 to 18 years if the alcoholic started when he was about 20 years old. The span is shorter the later in life the alcoholic begins drinking.

According to Dr. Selden D. Bacon director of the Yale centre, the alcoholic knows no bounds when it comes to social classes, occupation and intelligence.

Some other interesting facts were: Most alcoholics are between 30 and 55; there are 5 or 6 times as many male alcoholics as female; 70% of all alcoholics are men, 30 to 55. 'conservative' estimates place the number of problem drinkers and alcoholics in the U.S. at 4,000,000; the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta (non-governmental) conducted over 9000 interviews in a year; of the 1100 contacts there were 474 regular cases.

In Alberta the government is moving to give some assistance to alcoholics. On the northeast outskirts of Edmonton an alcoholics rehabilitation centre is being developed. It will handle repeated offenders who appear in court and instead of packing the habitual drunk off to jail, the magistrate can sentence him to take treatments at the centre.

It also will be open to persons who realize their problem and voluntarily seek assistance. These are the persons who can be helped.

The conference was told that to be cured an alcoholic must be ready to place the full blame for his trouble on alcohol and must want and accept help in defeating it.

It seems that in Alberta the comments of citizens are not so much in connection with alcoholism but the manner which the normal person, those who can take a drink or leave it alone is required to accept in order to obtain liquor.

If a person does not wish to drink in the boisterous smoke-laden atmosphere that prevails in most Alberta beer parlors and has not sufficient income or social status to belong to a private club, he drinks at [illegible]. That means he must buy his liquor from a government liquor store with a permit which actually proves nothing and adds a few hundred thousand dollars to government revenues.

He contends with congested conditions to pick up 12 or 26 ounces of liquor which is usually more than he actually wants but he cannot buy a single glass, legally. Of course, once he has the bottle he will try to consume it in the shortest possible time.

Opening Meeting Held Monday Evening

DR. A. R. ANDERSON INSTALLED AS PRESIDENT OF KINSMEN CLUB

At the opening meeting of their new year of activity the Vermilion Kinsmen installed the incoming officers and listened to a very commendatory resume of the past years work given by retiring president James B. Bell. The meeting was held at the Brunswick hotel dining room on Monday evening and was preceded by a dinner.

After welcoming the guests of the evening, Mr. Louis Roy, Mr. Jas. Ferguson and Mr. Ashley Cooper, Mr. Bell gave the annual repore which covered briefly the projects, inter-club visits, socials and general Kinsmen business starting in September 1953 and ending with the meeting of this evening in 1954.

Primary achievement of the year was the building of the paddling pool and all that it encompasses. Mr. Bell was of the opinion that the paddling pool was a visible and permanent reminder of Kinsmen work. A great many other activities had been carried on including the sponsoring and coaching of the Vermilion Midget hockey club. 25 boys having been in the capable hands of Jack Kokotailo and Bill Flechuk. It was pointed out that this was a very worthwhile enterprise as it is the only link between pee-wee and senior hockey. Last winter four of the midgets of the previous winter had played senior hockey.

To briefly enumerate other undertakings, bingos were held to raise money for the paddling pool project; a car raffle was held during the fair days and netted $1000; Santa Claus for the kids; Fiddlers' contest and bottle drives were successfully carried out.

The social side was not overlooked and inter-club visits, district, provincial and national gatherings were attended by the local Kin, several local socials also being held.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Following the report by the retiring president Mr. Bell, Mr. Keith Chalmers the first president of the Kinsmen club after its institution here, was called upon to officially instal the incoming officers. The new officials are:

President — Dr. Bob Anderson
Vice-Pres. — Dr. Ed Evans
Secretary — El Weeres
Registrar — Joe Hart
Treasurer — Bill Parker
Directors — Neil McLean, Les Chivers, Russ McKeever.

Other interesting features of the evening included the presentation of past president's pin to Jim Bell which was made by Charlie Upshall and the initiation of a new member into the Kin club, Mr. Jim Ferguson. This initation ceremony was carried out by Ben King.

Board of Trade Resumes Meetings

The Vermilion Board of Trade resumed regular weekly dinner meetings at the Rio Cafe Wednesday of last week. The business session was given over to the reports of committees who carry on the work of the board during the holiday months of July and August without any general meetings. The president K. G. Urquhart was in the chair and there were 27 present.

Reports were given by Dr. A. Ben King re park opening and completion of that event; Al Locke for Ways and Means; Ernie Clendenning for Civic; Roy Walker for the Agricultural committee; I. Miller for retail; Bill Sutherland for the Industrial section and Ashley H. Cooper on behalf of the publicity end.

Several ideas for future promotional projects were suggested of which more will be heard as plans are finalized.

Meetings are held at 12:10 noon every Wednesday at the Rio Cafe and are open sessions. Everyone is welcome.

Archbishop of Canterbury Visits Edmonton

On Sunday, Sept. 19, the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England will be in Edmonton. During his visit the Archbishop will lay the cornerstone for the new cathedral in Edmonton and at 3:30 p.m. will preach a Diocesan wide service in the Edmonton Gardens.

The Archbishop is making a tour of the Dioceses of Western Canada following his attendance at the Pan-Anglican Congress at Minneapolis and at the meeting of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Illinois. His visit to Edmonton is a unique occasion in the history of the Diocese marking the first visit of the holder of his office to this Diocese.

Plans are being made for a goodly numbers of parishioners from Vermilion and district to attend the service on Sunday. Cars are being pooled and any who desire transportation are asked to notify the Rector or Mr. E. H. Buckingham. Cars will leave the parish hall at 11:30 a.m. Sunday school will meet as usual but other services in the parish are cancelled for the balance of the day.

WORK STARTED ON HOSPITAL

Work has commenced on the $257,000 wing of the Vermilion municipal hospital. The basement was excavated last week and work is proceeding when weather permits on footings and foundations. It is hoped to have the big building closed in this fall in order to continue interior work during the winter months.

Combined W.A. Meet at Auburndale

The combined groups of the Auburndale United Church W. A. met at the church on the afternoon of Tuesday, Sept. 7. After a short business meeting the guest speaker Mrs. Enger of Irma, president of the St Pul United Church Presbytery, gave a very interesting talk on the duties and work of the W.A.

Friends here will be interested to learn that Mr and Mrs. Tom Connolly have bought a new home at 1743-49th Ave., S.W. in Calgary and are now nicely settled again. Mrs Connolly would appreciate hearing from old friends in Vermilion.

New Central School Opened at Preston

(From Wildmere Winks)

Another milestone in the history of this area was signalized on Monday when our new centralized school was opened. This officially marked the passing of the little one room schoolhouse which has supplied the educational needs from pioneer times until now. School buses are operated by Albert Smith for Basswood schools, Don Cooper for Triangle, Ray Osterberg for Battleview and Mr Bauman the school principal picks up the children on the east side of Basswood and Triangle. A car also brings some of the pupils from Battleview.

Altogether some 60 children are brought together at the new school known as Preston, for classes. There 14 beginners, nearly enough for one teacher alone. Miss Besse the junior room teacher has grades one to four and Mr Bauman grades 5 to 9.

Quite a change from the little one-roomed schools where of late 12 students has been a big group, to the centralized school. It is to be hoped that they grasp the knowledge in the big school as well as they did in the small school. It is a case of 'time marches on' bringing with it the many changes and improvements demanded by modern civilization.

C.C.F. Hold Const'y Convention, Kitscoty

C.C.F. members and supporters recently attended the annual convention of Alexandra constituency at Kitscoty. Despite bad roads there was a good attendance and reports of interest in the district encouraging to the organization. Membership had increased highly over the previous year.

Re-elected to the presidency by acclamation was J. D. Magill, Dewberry, while Gordon Inglis of Kitscoty will hold the post of vice-president. Phil Uniat of Kitscoty was elected constituency secretary for the coming year. The new board of directors include Mrs. S. Romanchok, M. Kuziuw, M. Clarke, G. Davies, E. Jones and D. Evans.

Addressing the convention Mrs. Nellie Petersen, C.C.F. Provincial Secretary, outlined the role of the C.C.F. in international, national and provincial affairs. Bill Irvine, provincial organizer, also spoke to the gathering, emphasizing the need of an active organization.

The convention nominated delegates for the provincial convention to be held in December, and laid plans for a district-to-district organization campaign.

It was also the decision of the convention that the next annual meeting to be held in approximately a year, be the nominating convention for the next provincial election.

Foot Badly Cut By Hay Mower

Sandra Klashinsky, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Klashinsky, was injured on Monday when she suffered a badly cut foot by a mower. Sandra is a patient in the Vermilion hospital and every effort is being made to save the foot. The cut was received just above the ankle.

Sandra misunderstood her father's instructions and stepped in front of the mower just as the tractor and mower was set into motion.

Local Swimmers Win At Vegreville

A number of Vermilion young people took part in the swimcade at Vegreville on Wednesday, August 26th and brought home numerous prizes which speaks well for the training received here. Among the prize winners were Herman Rohwer first in 50 yards backstroke, and Donald Stewart third in the same event. Margaret Rohwer came third in the butterfly breast stroke, 50 yards, senior ladies, and second in the same event for junior ladies. Anne Stewart won third in backstroke, senior ladies. Margaret Rohwer came first for junior ladies' diving.

Wm. 'Scotty' Swanson Dies At Trail, B.C.

William "Scotty" Swanson, well known former Vermilion resident passed away at the home of his son Jim at Trail, B.C., on Sept. 14. He was about 72 years of age. The remains are being brought to Vermilion for interment in the family plot. Private graveside services will be held at 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, Sept. 17. The deceased lived in Vermilion for many years moving to Trail to be with his son Jim and family after the death of Mrs Swanson Sr.

Mr Swanson came to Vermilion in the late 1920's and opened a shoe repair shop. He was however, an expert stonemason and was responsible for the designing and building of the natural stone cenotaph in the town park and the stone cenotaph at the Soldier's plot in the Vermilion cemetery. He also built the original part of the stone service station and garage now occupied by Lloyd's Service.

"Scotty" worked for many years at Jasper and helped build [illegible] the natural stone buildings there.

Among the surviving members of the family are two daughters Mrs R B Robinson (Babs) at Edmonton and Mrs Oxford (Jessie) at Hardisty and two sons Jim at Trail and [illegible].

Birthday Gifts For Good Children

The Manager of the Columbia theatre wishes to announce that he will give every child a free show and bag of popcorn on their birthday. This is however providing they do not cause any disturbances or disobey the theatre rules during the year.

Remember kids . . . we have a little black book . . . try and keep your name out of it. 12-13

Stagettes Elect Officers

Now that the season of the year usually called summer, but this year called . . . well we won't go into that — has gone again the Stagette club comes to the fore once more with high hopes and enthusiasm renewed. The year, starting in September is set in motion by the National convention which this year was held in Edmonton and was attended by 53 girls from clubs throughout Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and B.C., four of whom were Vermilionites. District conventions are for each province only, but National includes the works and it's there that problems are thoroughly discussed and suitable solutions most adaptable to all the clubs are accepted on the Constitution. We realize after a National convention that our club isn't the only one with problems and it helps to make them much more insignificant than before.

The Tuesday following convention is our first meeting — Election Day! The campaign speeches are out of this world and sound something like "I'm sure someone else could do a much better job." "I'd like to but I'm afraid I couldn't handle that office." "I couldn't possibly, I just haven't the time", and "I won't do it". It works every time so the following officers were elected:

President — Kay Stewart
Vice-Pres. — Ernie Werezuk
Secretary — Berna Seuffert
Treasurer — Sophie Pawliuk
Press — Fay McLennan (sorry, but that's the way it is).
Logbook — Gertie Schmidt

The logbook isn't something new. We found out at the convention that all the other clubs kept log books while we kept a scrapbook so by darn we keep a logbook from now on too. It's a — a-a-a well, a scrapbook containing weekly notes, pictures, clippings pertaining to Stagettes, etc., and this year there is to be interclub competition for the best kept book. The winner to receive a trophy donated by the originator of Stagettes, Mrs. Billy Bailes, of Saskatoon.

If last night was a true indication of the membership of the club it's gone down considerably and we'll be recruiting soon. When we do lads, lay off. This is no matrimonial bureau. The girls aren't interested in men . . . (Did I say something wrong?)

See you next Tuesday. There will be meetings every week until we get things rolling.

Your Stagette Reporter

P. V. LADY WINS NEW CAR

Mrs. Nelson Ruttan of Paradise Valley won a new Studebaker car playing bingo at Lloydminster on Wednesday evening. One of the 16 prizes at this popular bingo night, a wrist watch, came to Vermilion the winner being Mr Joe Myshak.

Craig Bros have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr Ken Tvedt as manager of the grocery department. Mr. Tvedt comes highly recommended and with years of experience with O K Economy chain stores, also Shelley Bros of Saskatoon.

Mr. Tvedt succeeds the former manager Mr John Johnstone who has opened his own grocery store at Turtleford, Sask.

Killed At Mannville, Vermilion, Clandonald

NORWAY RATS GAINING GROUND

Apparently rats are pushing back their frontier and now are gaining a very firm beachhead in this section of Alberta. A Norway rat was killed in Mannville this week, another was killed on the Wes Lamport farm 20 miles south-east of Vermilion on Tuesday, and still another was reported at Clandonald. The one killed here is at the office of the District Agriculturist.

The invasion calls for more specific and rapid action on the part of provincial government officials. This is a provincial problem, demanding the co-operation of municipal and town officials and of individuals. The province should spearhead the attack as they have the knowledge and means to formulate and carry out an active campaign. Members of the legislature for this and neighboring constituencies should see that rapid and definite action is taken to fight the rat menace today — tomorrow will be too late.

The Saskatchewan government took an apathetic attitude towards this problem and now that whole province is overrun. Alberta ratproofed the eastern boundary from Provost south, but much of the work is being rendered useless by the lack of definite activity on a provincial scale from Provost north. This problem is too big for municipalities to cope with — it is up to the province!

Hockey Club Annual Meeting This Friday

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Tigers Hockey club will be held in the Legion hall on Friday, Sept 17th starting at 8 p.m. Election of officers for the coming year will be held, and reports will be received covering last year's operations.

It is interesting to note that the club finished the last hockey season in good financial position, this being the first time in several years that such a favorable condition has existed. Plans must now be made to organize the club for the coming season and all those interested in hockey are urged to attend.

Suffers Broken Arm When Car And Truck Sideswipe

Sideswiping of car and truck on highway 16 at the top of the Claysmore hill resulted in John Toner of Vermilion suffering a compound fracture of his left arm. The arm is badly broken above and below the elbow.

The accident happened last Wednesday night. Toner, in company with a friend, J Fisher, was driving home from Mannville, and had his arm resting on the car door protruding through the open window. His arm was caught between truck and car when the two vehicles came together. John's car ran into the ditch but did not turn over as a result of the impact, while the truck was very little damaged.

Winners Announced In First Annual Fishing Contest

The Vermilion Fish and Game Association's first annual fishing contest is now over and five winners have been decided for the heaviest fish caught in the various classes.

Harold R. Schoonmaker caught the largest lake trout, weighing 5 pounds 10 ounces. Cecil Sinden for the largest jackfish or northern pike 19 pounds 2 ounces, and J Chalmers for the largest pickerel, 6 pounds 15 ounces. Fish caught anywhere by members were eligible.

The junior competition for the Vermilion lake has two winners. Jimmie Sinden takes the prize for two species, a 2 pound perch and a 2 pound 1 ounce pickerel. He nearly captured the prize for the largest jack or northern pike with a catch of 4 pounds 11 ounces, but Master Robert Green took it away from him when he landed a jack that weighed in at 4 lbs. 14 ounces.

The Fish and Game Association will present the prizes at their meeting to be held in November.

Ask Bounty On Coyotes

Lively Meeting of The Fish And Game Association

A meeting of the Vermilion Fish and Game Association was held in the Legion hall Thursday night and proved a very lively one with discussions, debate, motions and speakers. Topping the motions was a resolution put before the Fish and Game convention asking for a bounty on coyotes.

Mr Ken Watts from the migration branch of the Fish and Game Association was the guest speaker, and along with Mr Brooks and Mrs. Lefsrud of Viking, told of the progress of the association in Alberta.

On the nights of Nov. 24 and 25 Mr. Jim Bond, well known sportsman and lecturer, photographer of wild life, movie star and writer, will visit Vermilion. He will show films taken in the north-west territories and many unexplored places in northern Canada. It is hoped to have the hall filled both evenings he is here. It is possible that a sporting dog club will be started in town and any person interested in such a club please contact Fred Leversedge, Charlie Neis, Dr Anderson, L. Turrence or secretary of the Fish and Game Jim Chalmers before the November meeting.

ROGUES' GALLERY (?)

THE ABOVE PICTURE was taken at one of the more interesting sessions of the convention of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association held at the Macdonald hotel in Edmonton last Friday and Saturday. The newsmen were the guests on this occasion at a dinner tendered by the Alberta government. The picture is supplied through the courtesy of Sears Ltd., Printing Machinery Co., who had the photos taken unaware to those shown. Most of the men at the close-up table are known locally. Vernon Cooper will be noted with Wilfred Horton of the Vegreville Observer on his right and veteran white-headed editor A. L. Horton of the Observer on his left. On the extreme left is J. J. Larsen of Coaldale a town in southern Alberta near Lethbridge. Ashley Cooper is indulging in a deep conversation with Editor H. G. Thomell of Viking. 'Tim' was talking hockey hence the vehement gestures.

See Better, Learn Better Campaign

The Alberta Optometric Association is lending its support to the nation-wide "See Better — Learn Better" campaign which got under way the first of the week, Sept. 13 according to David L. Francis, Edmonton, President of the Alberta body. Mr. Francis stated that the publicity program is designed to bring to the attention of parents and educators across Canada the importance of taking preventive measures in the care of the eyes especially among children.

He stated actual surveys show that two out of five children are handicapped in school performance by visual problems and that these problems have a retarding effect upon a child's posture, his manual skills and co-ordination, his intelligence and even his personality.

In connection with this campaign the Alberta Optometric Association has prepared three pamphlets for distribution to parents, teachers, education officials and other groups and individuals whose interests and activities lie within the scope of child eye care. Pamphlets are titled "See Better — Learn Better", "Your Child's Reading Habits", "Is Television Harmful to Your Eyes".

In announcing the "See Better — Learn Better" campaign, Mr. Francis stated that the provincial body is planning to sponsor similar programs later titled "See Better — Work Better" and "See Better — Drive Better". He also stated that the "See Better — Learn Better" program will continue through the fall months.

From Little Acorns

A blacksmith who didn't arrive on time was probably as responsible as anyone for the beginnings of the carriage factory which has grown into General Motors of Canada, R. S. McLaughlin, chairman of the board, says in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine.

McLaughlin, telling the story of his long life in the carriage and automobile industry, relates that his father Robert McLaughlin, an expert woodworker, took an order to make two carriages. The late arrival of the blacksmith who was to do the ironwork led to the elder McLaughlin establishing a shop which employed permanent labor rather than rely on the casual journeyman most carriage makers employed.

The McLaughlin shop was set up in Tyrone, a southern Ontario village and moved to Oshawa in 1876. The move to Oshawa was daring, McLaughlin says, at least in the opinion of two competitive carriage firms already established there.

"They let it be known that in their opinion 'McLaughlin will last six months'. It took a little longer than that for further changes to occur in the Oshawa carriage industry, and when they did it was the competitors who disappeared."

"GREEN ACRES"

FEEDERS IN DEMAND

There will certainly be a large amount of low grade grain in Alberta this year. It should pay to feed it to cattle and hogs. It might be a smart idea to pick up young cattle now which are going on the market. The demand for feeders later on will no doubt run up the price.

PLANT PEONIES NOW

Everybody should have some of these easy to grow flowers. Your peonies can be divided now and there will be enough roots for you and your neighbors. They can be bought of course, from any nursery. Never plant the roots deeper than three inches and never put manure near the roots.

RAINMAKERS NOT WANTED

This is one year that rainmakers were out of a job. Early cut hay and putting up silage and early varieties of grain are paying off this year. Balanced farming instead of straight grain growing will come back in this district after what has happened in 1954.

PLANTING RASPBERRIES

Some people have enquired about planting raspberry roots in the fall. Yes, it can be done but it is safer to plant in the spring just as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

PROFESSIONAL KICKERS

In the old days "kicker" mules caused most of farm accidents. Now we have tractors and combines which can kick a lot harder. Watch out fellows, let's not have any accidents this fall.

BLACKLEG AGAIN

Three farmers lately have lost calves from blackleg. If you have not vaccinated your calves against blackleg it ought to be done now. Use the double treatment which protects the stock against blackleg and malignant fever.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Sept. 15, 1938

George Wilson, prominent Islay district farmer passed away after a short illness.

Harold Reid purchased the Geo. Whitnell residence.

Vermilion people voted in favor of the natural gas franchise, 137 in favor with 3 against.

J. W. 'Whitey' Wilson was introduced to Vermilion business men at the weekly board of trade meeting.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Sept. 18, 1922

A committee of the town council consisting of Matt Brimacombe, Fred Long and Bill Wiebe have been appointed to superintend the construction of the new fire hall and town office building.

Abe Wener of Vermilion bought the Vegreville Bakery owned by Chas. C. Smith for $12,000.

Efforts are being put forward toward arranging a conference between the town council and the school board to discuss matters in connection with the cost of operating town schools.

Fishing and Hunting With The 'Doc'

What can be done to improve farmer-sportsmen relations?

Will any of the suggestions listed below contribute materially to the solution, or are there better ideas not yet recognized?

Sportsmen contributing to insurance against duck damage.

Central organization of farmers and sportsmen to work together in reducing damage done by ducks or sportsmen.

More effort, and efficiently organized drives by sportsmen to reduce predators and vermin.

Showing credentials as well as asking permission to cross property.

Guarantee by sportsmen through their organization to help the farmer prosecute anyone guilty of damaging property, if necessary by their members giving evidence.

Public shooting grounds.

The offering of rewards by a combine farmer-sportsmen organization to help apprehend persons damaging property.

The training of youth in good sportsmanship, especially in the handling of arms and respecting the rights of others.

In an attempt to find the best solution to the farmer-sportsmen problem, and explore opinion on the subject, especially that of members of the two groups, suggestions, ideas and opinions are requested to be mailed to the secretary of the Vermilion Fish and Game Association.

Harness Atom Soon

For Canada, says The Financial Post, atomic power opens tremendous possibilities. As one of the world's largest producers of uranium, the raw material for atomic power, and with new deposits being uncovered almost daily, we are in most favored position both for our economic development and for export to others. But that is only part of the picture.

Until now industry in this country has been tied to power resources. Beyond power or pipe lines industry simply could not go. Because it packs so mighty a wallop in so small a parcel, the new form of energy will permit us to locate industry almost anywhere. This is a most significant and important factor for a country with a vast, a cold, and a largely undeveloped northern empire.

NEWS from CLANDONALD

The storm which swept this district late Saturday night and early Sunday morning was in many respects similar to the one which did such widespread damage less than two weeks previously. Unlike the first one however, the more recent storm was accompanied by a severe electrical disturbance, a very unusual occurrence so late in the season. It would appear that we are experiencing a modified form of the hurricanes which have been sweeping other parts of the continent during recent weeks.

CROP PROSPECTS

In spite of te fact that the land was almost completely waterlogged for weeks in the spring, the crops dried out in July, hailed and rusted in August and now almost drowned again, given reasonably favorable weather, we may still realize fairly satisfactory returns. However, a frost and more wet weather during the next few weeks can still greatly affect final returns.

In the Landonville district to the north which apparently received more rain than here during the critical growing season, several hundreds of acres are reported as being lodged following the first heavy downpour a fortnight ago. Fields in many cases are either partly flooded or so completely water logged that even with the most favorable weather it will be days before swathers, combines or binders will be able to operate. It is also reported that in the Landonville district the fish have taken over in some areas as minnows were noticed in one of the creeks that drains the district. Following Saturday night's rain it is reasonable to suppose that a boat might easily navigate from the Vermilion river to a point not far from Neville Molineaux's residence!

VISITORS STILL NUMEROUS

Visitors still continue to come and go the latest being Mr. and Mrs. Alex Berryman and Shaun from the Pacific coast. The Berryman's left the district about 12 years ago coming here originally with the first Clandonald settlers and lived for several years near Mayhews in the Rusylvia district. Alex has employment with the City of Vancouver and son Shaun is now married with a small family, has what would appear to be a good job with a welding concern in the same general locality.

Arthur Rowntree, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree recently joined the air force and is now in training at St. Johns, Quebec.

To see is to live. But to see well is to live better. Make sure your child sees well so that he can learn well.

OBITUARY

BABY MERLIN STEWART

Many relatives, neighbors and friends gathered in spite of heavy rains to unite in sympathy and to pay their respect to Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Stewart in the loss of their beloved baby son, Merlin Brent Stewart, who passed away in the Vermilion hospital Sunday morning August 29 at the age of six months and 27 days.

Merlin was born February 2 and found a loving spot in the affection of his parents, relatives and friends. A short service was held in the Legion hall, Mr. E. Ketlo officiating, assisted by Miss F. Saunders who came from Edmonton. Left to mourn his loss are his loving parents, sister Lorraine and brother Murray, maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Headrick, Prince Albert, Sask.

The short service was followed by the committal service, owing to the heavy rainfall. Relatives followed to the Vermilion cemetery for the interment where the sun shone briefly. A short prayer was offered at the graveside.

The sun really came out for a short time on Saturday and everything showed signs of drying up, but before Sunday morning everything was soaked again. So much for the weather and hopes of having which is nearly a thing of the past.

NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

Many New Homes Woodvale District

We are sorry that we have been so slow in getting any copy in — blame the weather and extra work for it! Better give an August review first.

Mr and Mrs Brooks Lysons and family moved back to the Thorncliffe district. We hope they'll be back often for a visit as they will be missed very much.

Mr and Mrs. Love and two daughters of Chicago spent one of the wettest weeks with Mrs. Love's father Mr H. Krueger at his farm near the Battle River However the visit was enjoyed very much, they liked the scenery and Marie who left here in 1919 and never returned in all those years, called at several of her former friends and neighbors.

Burns McEthern of Black Diamond, while passing through the district, stopped to see Leo Lysons, with whom he spent many months in the polio ward in Edmonton two years ago.

YOUNG COUPLES SHOWERED

There were two showers held in August, one for Mable Watson in Watson school on Aug 19 and one for Della Morgan in Ganton school on Aug 29 Mrs Douglas Young was in charge of the program at the first gathering and Mrs Ray McQuid at the second They kept everyone very pleasantly entertained Mrs Watson helped her daughter unwrap a large basket of presents and Walter Lysons assisted his bride-to-be The best wishes of all were expressed in no uncertain term for the happiness of the two young couples Mr and Mrs W Bissonnette of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs W Lysons of Vermilion. The former returned after a honeymoon spent in the Rockies for a short stay at the home of Mrs. Watson. while the latter gave a wedding dance in Ganton school on Sept 10 with a capacity crowd attending

VACATION SCHOOL

A vacation school was organized by Mr. McCorkel at Ganton and proved very successful. Despite rain and heavy roads the children came and due to Mr. McCorkel's special way with youngsters it was voted the best ever held here. As many as 16 children from Ganton, Watson, Woodvale, Koknee and Wildwood came to play and learn. Mr. Allison of Chauvin assisted Mr. McCorkel

Quite a number of people went blueberry picking around Moose Lake in August. Some enjoyed a bit of fishing as a side-line.

MANY NEW HOMES

The new house of Mr. and Mrs. Haines in the Hindville district is being built and the family hopes to have it completed before winter The McGrath family is adding a few rooms to their home and John King of Thorncliffe also is enlarging his house.

Mr and Mrs John Crooks and daughter Linda came over from Airways for the wedding of Mrs. Crooks brother, Walter Lysons, and stayed to visit family and friends over the week end

Fred Slocum returned from Edmonton where he underwent treatments for arthritis. Jim Ross is still in the city for the same reason. We hope the treatment proves to be beneficial. We were sorry to hear that Mr Cecil King is a patient at the University hospital at present Mrs King accompanied her husband to the city and is staying with the Hudson family

Camille Goutier finished his six weeks teacher course successfully and was appointed to a school in the Peace River country Marie Goutier after summer school made a trip with some friends through the States and to Vancouver and Victoria returning via the Crowsnest pass She is now teaching in Morinville Mrs Pelletier (nee Therese Goutier) after the birth of a baby daughter early in August is back teaching again near Prince Albert

DEATH OF EDMUND DUBUC

In the early morning of Sept. 3 Mr and Mrs. Paul Goutier received the very sad news of the sudden death the evening before at the Vegreville Drive-in theatre where he was working of their son-in-law Edmund Dubuc To them, and especially to their daughter Suzanne and her children, 3-year-old Diane and 6 months old Roger, goes the sincere sympathy of everyone in the district

SEVEN SCHOOL BEGINNERS

School opened with 44 pupils, among them 7 little newcomers who apparently are all enjoying this new adventure in their lives Mr. J Hohol the principal was successful in passing Psychology and History exams. part of his studies towards a B.A degree.

RED CROSS MEETS

A very well attended Red Cross meeting and quilting bee was held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Wolters on Sept. 8 with 12 members and 3 guests present. Mrs. Hohol, Mrs. Allen of Koknee and Mrs. Castell of Edmonton, who, with her husband is visiting her daughter Mrs. R McQuid. The quilt was finished in record time and no one minded to have a very delicious leisurely-enjoyed lunch afterwards. The next meeting is set tentatively for Oct 6 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Portsmith depending of course on weather and harvesting operations

WEATHER A PROBLEM

Everyone was so glad when nice sunny fall weather arrived, but it lasted only five days and here we are back again to storms and downpours' It will certainly be a race against time to get the harvest done this year With the fields sodden, the grain lodging and the wheat badly damaged by rust, it has not been a very pleasant summer However, listening to the news of the big hurricanes and the damage caused, we figure we are not so bad off after all

Mr McCorkel left Sunday after conducting his last church service of the season at Ganton school Dr. White of First Presbyterian church Edmonton, will hold a communion service at Ganton school Sunday Sept 19 at 7.30 p.m.

Bride-Elect Showered

MANNVILLE. A miscellaneous shower was held on Thursday last at the home of Mrs. Rose Leitch in honor of Miss Dorothy Wood, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Wood, whose marriage to Mr Wilfred Gunnar Johnson was an event of Saturday Sept. 11.

Paradise Valley

Miss Bernice Fulgham daughter of Mr and Mrs O Fulgham also left on Monday to enter the Lamont hospital as a trainee It would seem as if nursing is very popular among the young girls as a great number of Paradise Valley girls have taken up that vocation during the past few years

We have had a welcome change in the weather picture during the past week and as a result the farmers are busy swathing How the crop will yield no one can guess. The rust has taken a heavy toll and as a result yields will be down One thing sure there will be no No 1 hard wheat in the district.

Mr and Mrs Bradford Gunn have as their guests Mr and Mrs. Arnold Kennedy and Mr Murray Arnott of Woodstock Ont Mrs. Kennedy and Mr Arnott are sister and brother of Mrs Gunn's.

Since first starting these notes our good weather has deserted us and we are back to where we were. Rain and more rain is the forecast at present. This is serious so late in the season.

Much Conjecture As To Course At Clandonald

Surveyors Map Route of Highway 45

There has been considerable speculation and interest around here of late with the arrival of a survey party to map out the route of highway 45 which at present ends where it intersects with 41 just east of Derwent. If the present route is followed it will cross the road about two miles north of Clandonald and right through Shaw's yard. Continuing in a general easterly direction around the south end of Cameron Lake it will pass about 2 miles north of Dewberry and from there on to a crossing on the Vermilion River. Rumor has it that construction will start next year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roe, former longtime residents here and now living in Edmonton, spent the recent long week end in and around town. Mrs. Roe will be teaching again in a school near Stony Plain and Jake is still working for an Edmonton construction firm. They appear to be both fully recovered from the severe shaking up they received when their car was struck by a locomotive last winter.

Alex and Cliff Stockwell, former residents of this district and now in Edmonton, were visitors at their brother's home here not long ago. During their stay they made themselves generally useful at jobs not usually associated with city dwellers and also spent some time renewing former acquaintances.

About two weeks ago the congregation of St. Mary's Anglican church had the pleasure of a visit from the newly elected Bishop Clark of Edmonton The occasion was when confirmation services were held for six candidates from Derwent and two from Clandonald. Following the service a very pleasant social get-together was held in the vicarage Several families from Derwent were present and further visits with other points will be looked forward to in the future The following Monday some again had the pleasure of meeting the new Bishop at Wainwright the occasion being the semi-annual meeting of the Laymen's Association

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Brockman and infant daughter are spending a few days at the home of Mrs Brockman's parents Mr and Mrs. Henry Brake Fritz is convalescing following a very delicate heart operation and present indications are that he will eventually be practically completely restored to his former health He expects to resume his teaching duties around Sept 20 They will be located at Dinant this year not far from Camrose

Mr and Mrs Ronald King residents of New York state are at present spending a few days at the home of Mrs. King's sister and husband Mr and Mrs Richard Goad Mrs King is also a former district resident having been born and raised in this locality The Kings plan to visit Beaverlodge where an aunt resides before returning to their home Mr King is employed as a conductor on a line running from the province of Quebec into New York state

Deepest sympathy is extended to two district residents who were recently bereaved by the loss of loved ones Mr Henry Schneider was called to the coast a few weeks ago when a sister passed away quite suddenly Mrs Norman Stanley of the Landonville district a short time ago was bereaved by the death of her mother Mrs Groves an old timer of the Edgerton district

RAIL SERVICE INTERRUPTED

Following the very heavy rain fall about ten days ago service on the C P R here was interrupted for two days due to a washout and a minor wreck not far from Two Hills

Gravel is being hauled in preparation for the building of a garage in the southeast corner of town which will house some of the municipal road machinery

Congratulations and best wishes for future happiness are extended to three young people who took practically all of their schooling here and whose marriages took place during the past few weeks These are Eileen McLaskie who recently became Mrs Michael Brodbin Mildred Barclay now Mrs Jerry Powell and Lorraine Goad who from now on will be known as Mrs Joseph Carlin

Friends of the late George Jackson were shocked to hear of his passing at the coast at a comparatively early age George spent most of his early days in this district and came with his wife and infant daughter to Clandonald to live around the year 1928 The house now occupied by the McMorrow family part of which provides the post office was built by the Jacksons Following several years residence here the family moved to the coast about 1936 Mrs Jack[illegible] taught the public school for several years and while here the young couple took an active part in community life

Last week another fine house was moved from Clandonald and is now situated in the town of Lloydminster This was the house built by [illegible] and [illegible] and more recently owned by [illegible]. The new owner Wilf Ro[illegible] is at present engaged in extensive oil hauling operations and he plans to make Lloydminster his headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Moore of Ponoka are spending a week in Vermilion visiting at the home of the former's sister Mrs. Wm. Roebuck.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hareuther returned Sunday after spending two weeks at Vernon B.C. and other points in the Okanagan Valley. They were accompanied back by Mrs. Hareuther Sr. who has been visiting in Vancouver.

Friends of the Cameron family in town were greatly interested in the wedding of Geoffrey Cameron King and Kathleen Lapointe, an account of which was contained in a recent issue of the Edmonton Journal in which city the ceremony took place. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John King (nee Jean Cameron) now of Haney, B.C. and a grandson of Mrs. Annie Cameron of Vermilion. The young couple will make their home in Edmonton.

Alex Marian wishes to apologize for inconvenience caused motorists by the interruption in service at his service station. The present building is being moved on to a foundation in a little different position and a large addition is now underway. Consequently power had to be cut during the moving of the building. A very modern service station building is planned.

Bowtell Bulletin

The writer was pleased to have a phone call from Mrs. Sylvia Gould informing us that some old time neighbors and friends were on their way to visit us. Nevertheless, the writer was surely pleasantly surprised when Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krampe drove into the yard. These good folks left our district some ten years ago and settled in the Kelowna district in B.C. Their daughter is employed in Edmonton. You had us guessing Sylvia.

Miss M. Rochford left Vermilion for a new position in Calgary.

Frances Sherwood celebrates her 11th birthday on Sept. 20. Many happy returns go to an old neighbor and friend Mrs. McClellan whose birthday is Sept. 21.

At the time of writing it is raining again and harvesting will be later than ever.

Mrs. T. Sherwood was pleased to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Ostrchuk have moved into Vermilion and have a nice home in the east end.

The writer along with others was pleased to hear our editor Ashley Cooper speak over the radio on Sunday.

While on her way to hand in this news the writer was much surprised to see Mrs. S. McClellan in a car driving down the street in Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lippert Isabell and Jimmy were visitors to Wainwright on Sunday.

Vermilion Soldier Promoted

Cpl. Robert Thomas Robson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Robson of Whitehorse, Yukon, has been promoted to rank of Lance Sergeant, it has been announced by Headquarters 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in Soest, Germany.

Sgt. Robson, 29, born in London, England, moved to Vermilion, Alta., at an early age, and received his elementary schooling at King Edward public school.

He is a member of the Royal Canadian Electrical Mechanical Engineers attached to Dog Squadron Lord Strathcona's Horse (RC) Regiment. It is part of his responsibility to keep the armoured unit's 56-ton Centurion tanks in good repair.

Sgt. Robson enlisted in the Canadian Army in August of 1944, receiving his discharge two years later. After only nine months of civilian life, he re-entered the army.

His qualifications include Driver Mechanic (Tracked) and Vehicle Mechanical Group 3. His wife, Joan, lives in Wickede, Germany.

Derwent Couple Honored On 40th Anniversary

Approximately sixty couples of friends, relatives and neighbors met in the town hall in Derwent to honor Mr. and Mrs. William (Bill) Rogucki, the occasion being their 40th wedding anniversary.

The table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and bouquets of flowers. After a delicious buffet supper everybody spent an enjoyable evening dancing.

Toasts to the couple were proposed by M.C. Peter Mudryk, Rev. Father Cherkowsky, Mayor M. N. Cherniawsky, Mike Mudryk, Mike Onysyk and by their son Alex.

The daughters-in-law on behalf of all, presented Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rogucki with a 12-piece set of community chest silverware.

Corn-in-the-Bag

Buying corn on the cob for the for the family dinner used to be a chancy business when the ears of corn were sold shrouded in their green husks. Today, Canadian supermarkets sell this seasonal delicacy already husked and dewy-fresh in polythene plastic bags and the housewife can see at a glance the size and condition of the corn she is buying. After the bag is empty, it will serve a multitude of household uses.

Health Unit Notes

COMMON SENSE FEEDING HABITS FOR BABY

Mixed Feeding — When baby is ready to start mixed feeding introduce new foods in very small quantities. If a food is refused don't worry but try it again another day. Try new foods early and often but feed the same food for several days until he is used to it before going on to another.

How to Feed — While he is very small, take baby on your knee to feed him and only when he has got used to taking food from a spoon and cup put him into his high chair. Don't make him the centre of attention as this will encourage him to show off and need coaxing to eat. Take plenty of time over feedings so that he can enjoy his food.

Be Calm and Unconcerned — His appetite will vary from day to day just as yours does so don't worry if he sometimes refuses things. As he gets older he will develop definite likes and dislikes but try not to show your own dislikes too much as he will quickly follow your example.

If baby does not want to eat at all perhaps your attitude is at fault, you are worried and anxious about him. He is quick to find that this is a way of getting extra attention.

Types of Food — Some mothers feel that baby's food tastes uninteresting but actually simple foods with natural flavors and little seasoning are enjoyed most. Tinned foods are a useful standby but when possible something from the family menu should be given. These can be mashed up finely with a little milk and are much more economical especially in the early stages when baby only takes a spoonful or two.

Amounts to Give — Serve very small portions at first, gradually increasing, as baby gets used to new foods. Make the most of the different colored foods and avoid covering everything with brown gravy. Don't overload baby's dish as this discourages him and may spoil a normal healthy appetite.

Feeding Himself — By the time baby is a year old he should have begun to handle his own cup and spoon. When he begins to reach for the spoon let him have one of his own to hold and leave him with the last spoonful of his meal to finish by himself. As soon as he seems able, let him feed himself. You will of course protect his clothing and the floor around as he is bound to make a mess while he is learning.

Joining the Family Meal — As soon as your child is able to feed himself and enjoy his food without wanting to be the centre of attraction you can introduce him to the family table. He will quickly learn table manners from those around him but it is better not to overstress these until he has learnt to enjoy his food, otherwise meal times will become an unhappy time for you all. Aim at cheerful, happy meal times but avoid too much conversation or rowdiness amongst the juniors.

Motor Accidents Greatest Cause Of Childhood Deaths

More school children are killed in motor vehicle and pedestrian accidents each year in Canada than there are die as a result of the next nine major causes of childhood death put together, Carol Lane, nationally known travel expert reports.

With school now underway Miss Lane appeals to everyone who possesses a driver's license to conduct his own campaign to reduce motor accident fatalities and injuries among our youth.

The most dangerous hours of the day according to the travel authority, are between 8 and 9 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. when children are going to and from school or leaving playground areas.

"If you're driving during those periods always remember to expect the unexpected," Miss Lane declared. "You can never predict a child's actions and it's best to be prepared for anything."

Other cautions for motorists advocated by Miss Lane, Women's Travel Director of the Shell Oil Co. of Canada, include:

Drive with extra care when you see children or when you're in a school zone or residential area where youngsters are likely to be playing or crossing the streets.

Watch out for bouncing balls, children on roller skates, scooters or bicycles. Always give the child the right of way. The time you lose may save the life of a boy or girl.

For parents, Miss Lane suggested that they explain to their children the importance of obeying traffic signs and police officers.

"Impress on your children the necessity of crossing the streets only at crosswalks," she said. "Tell them to wait on the curb until the way is clear."

"Don't let your youngsters play in the streets. If there is no playground in your area, get together with the school authorities or your neighbors and arrange for a safe place for children to play."

"When we consider the shocking number of children who are so needlessly killed or injured in motor vehicle and pedestrian accidents, it should be clear to all of us that we have an individual responsibility to be doubly alert and careful when we're driving," Miss Lane said.

THE HAPPY PEOPLE

Quite a few of the popular songs give me the heebie-jeebies, but I heard one the other day that really appealed to me. It was a catchy little thing, and the words packed a lot of punch. In short, they advised us to "Be with the happy people".

When the song was over, I shut the radio off and did quite a bit of thinking. The people I know can be divided into two categories — the glum and serious, the gay and pleasant. I asked myself which class fared the best.

I didn't have to do too much thinking to get the answer. On almost every count the happy people were the winners. Their homes were gay and bright. They had friends, eager to see them at all times. Most of them did well financially; and even those who had very little money, got a lot of pleasure out of the little bit they did have.

I made a decision at that moment.

From now on, I intend to "be with the happy people". I'm through with gloomy joes. You won't catch me leaning on any wailing-wall, moaning and groaning about the state of affairs, indulging in self-pity. I'm going to spend my time with men and women who know how to turn the corners of their mouths upwards.

Any pity I indulge in from now on will be lavished on those poor, gloomy sad-sacks who think the country is all going to pieces. I feel genuinely sorry for these wide-eyed dead-pan do gooders trying so hard in their dull and deadly way to save us all from ourselves. Poor, misguided creatures! I am sure that if they ever got into positions of power they'd lead us all to sorrow and tears and ruin.

Give me the happy people every time. I like the grin on the chin of Churchill. I go for the twinkle in the eye of Uncle Louis St. Laurent, although I sometimes wish he'd share some of his twinkle with the dull do-gooders who run some of his government agencies. I'm sold on the happy people!

GOOD SENSE

A Montreal daily paper quotes the editor of a country weekly paper as having said, "In order to be a real success in the world a fellow should always be willing, at the right time, to give the other fellow an advantage over him."

Wel, now, on the face of it, that looks like nonsense. But stop and think about it a moment.

The more thought you give to it the more you will realize how clever and correct it is. To make a friend, give an advantage. To build a business, always give advantages to your customers. This, while it sounds strange, is one of the secrets of success that every big businessman has followed.

Naturally, you must beware of being exploited. But you can carry that fear of exploitation too far. The man who is always too cagey, always too eager to get the best of it, always afraid to give the other fellow an advantage, soon fails!

I think the reason country editors come up with this kind of astounding good sense (when so many folks in this world are listening to everything but good sense) is that they are dealing every day with actual case histories. City editors, like politicians, often deal in theories without ever getting around to seeing the facts in action. Consequently nearly all their statements look good on the surface— but when you get down to the real nub of truth they won't always carry weight. Real life, seen at close hand, is often a paradox. That's why local editors, observing these things taking place, often write with such striking originality.

Some while back the Country Editor's Association made a presentation to a Parliamentary Inquiry Committee. The presentation they made absolutely shocked the politicians. Up until the country editors appeared, the whole meeting had been a bandying back and forth of fancy theories. When the editors stood up to say their piece—the facts fell one by one with thuds that could be heard all over Ottawa. When the editors said plainly and bluntly that you cannot have free speech in a country when radio and television are both controlled by a government agency, they were merely stating a fact. They backed the statement up with other facts. You would have thought that a bomb had exploded.

Nevertheless, when the air had cleared again, a good many politicians thought it over and decided that the editors were right. So far very little has been done about it but the effects will one day be felt.

Life Work of Pioneer Missionary Commemorated

A pioneer Anglican missionary who became one of the first to introduce farming to the Peace River district has a permanent memorial in the region. A bronze tablet was unveiled at Peace River on Sunday September 12 in his memory.

The tablet honors the Rev. John Gough Brick and has been erected by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada. It was unveiled under the [illegible] of the Peace River Town Council.

[illegible] Gough Brick was born at Upton-on-Severn in [illegible], England, in 18[illegible], and emigrated to Canada in 18[illegible]. He settled in the Eastern Townships, entered the Anglican ministry in 18[illegible], and, the same year, was chosen to establish an Anglican mission at Fort Dunvegan in the Peace River country.

He made the long and adventurous journey to the site of his new Mission by rail as far as Winnipeg, then by Hudson's Bay boat through Lake Winnipeg and up the Saskatchewan River to Prince Albert. From there he proceeded overland to the Clearwater River, down stream to the Athabasca, through Lake Athabasca to the Peace River and on to Fort Dunvegan.

For the next 12 years he devoted his life to furthering the work of the Mission and to developing the agricultural possibilities of the area. Fort Dunvegan was a gathering place for the Indians and the vigorous missionary-farmer conceived the idea of establishing a Mission farm to train young Indians and add to the productiveness of the district. He spent two years in eastern Canada and England raising the necessary funds for his project and in 18[illegible] returned to the Peace River with farming and milling equipment and a stock of pure-bred cattle, swine and poultry. With this he established the Shaftesbury Mission about 15 miles above the present town of Peace River. His exhibit of a globe of Red Fife wheat grown in the Peace River district won acclaim for Canada at the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 18[illegible].

By 1894 the effect on his health of his work in northern Canada began to show and he retired to take up a less exacting post as rector of the Aspinwall Memorial church at Barrytown-on-Hudson in New York State. He died in 1897.

Tractor Accidents Take Twelve Lives in Alberta

Farm tractor accidents this year in Alberta have already taken a toll of 12 lives, according to figures compiled by the Alberta Safety Council for the period ended Aug. 27. In addition, there were 29 other fatal farm accidents of various types, exclusive of tractor mishaps.

The start of harvesting operations and other farm work calls for fresh observance of safety measures if the number of fatal accidents and physical injuries is to be curbed.

Overturning of tractors accounted for 5 deaths of drivers while on the highway. There were four deaths from overturning during field work, one from falling under a tractor, and one other, cause unstated. In addition, one bystander, a child of four, was fatally injured when he became entangled in a power take-off.

Among the farm fatalities, there were 4 involving cars and trucks, one train and motor, four from fire and burns, four by accidental shooting, two from farm machinery, 8 drownings and five from miscellaneous causes.

Paul Lawrence, safety director of the ASC, has stressed the need of extreme care in operating farm machinery, especially tractors. Frequently loss of life in farm operations results from the improper handling of tractors, the chief hazard being overturning. To avoid this, spread the wheels as far apart as practical for the job in hand. Furthermore, stay off soft road shoulders and edges of cutbanks. It is highly essential to avoid side hills where a slope could cause tipping if the low wheel drops into a depression, or the high wheel runs over a bump.

When operating a tractor on the highway, use low gear when going up or down hills. Also drive slowly on loose gravel, or roads with soft shoulders.

Keep on the alert to avoid accidents. Don't allow anyone to ride on a tractor as a passenger, and never attempt to unclog or adjust any machine until it has been stopped.

The Alberta Safety Council warns that "death rides tractors".

Early Entries Grade Only Average

Up to Sept. 10 only 15 shipments were received, not enough to make any estimate of the number of samples to get to the judging tables when final awards are made next [illegible].

The few inspections to date confirm estimates of various agencies the last three weeks that the 1954 barley crop is smaller in quantity and inferior in quality compared with former years.

The crop in the northern regions of the two competing provinces, Alberta and Manitoba still runs the risk of frost. How high the average standard of entries may prove will likely depend on the Manitoba growers who have made 75 per cent of the entries 877 of a total of 1134.

The overall picture however is not encouraging. The Sept. 7 crop report of the Manitoba department of agriculture said the barley crop in the province was disappointing in yield and much below average in quality, much of it grading only as feed. Average yield per acre was estimated at 21.7 bushels. On this basis the total barley crop in Manitoba is put at 68,126,000 bushels, compared with 61,000,000 bushels in 1953.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

SOME CAUSES OF HOME CANNING PROBLEMS

Why are Mrs. A's canned raspberries such a nice red and mine faded? Why are my pears pink? Why did my corn turn brown? This is the season when so many homemakers are confronted with such problems of home canning. Miss Joyce Lewis, Nutrition Specialist, Alberta Department of Agriculture, has the answers to [illegible] these problems.

FADED BERRIES

Some varieties lose color more than others. Injury to berries during prepartion causes escape of the juice and hence loss of color. Storage in a light place may cause fading.

BROWN DISCOLORATION IN CANNED FRUIT

This is caused by oxidation. Air has not been removed either because too low temperature was used or because of poor seal or faulty lids. Using a hot rather than a cold pack will help prevent this. Use standard processing time.

PINK PEARS

May be due to overcooking, or too slow cooking. Some varieties of pears tend to turn pink.

WHITE SEDIMENT IN VEGETABLES

White particles settling out in the bottom of containers is probably due to hard water used. White sediment in peas or beans may be due to overmature vegetables. Sometimes starch cooks out and gives the liquid a white appearance. The white sediment in tomatoes indicates spoilage. It is caused by using a poor product and by cores present.

BROWN CORN

May be caused by canning corn at poor stage of maturity, in using too much corn and not enough water in jar. Kernel corn should not be packed too tightly.

FOGGY LIQUID

This may be flat sour spoilage. To avoid, handle products rapidly and carefully. Follow the recommended procedures. Store in cool place.

SULPHIDE SPOILAGE

Found particularly in peas. Food is often soft and has a very unpleasant odor. The trouble is due to the presence of bacteria which may be destroyed only at a higher than boiling temperature (pressure canning). Too warm storage conditions may lead to development of the bacteria not destroyed in canning process.

BOTULISM

Botulism in vegetables may or may not have any odor, off taste, or other signs of spoilage. A soil born organism which is destroyed only at higher than boiling temperature (pressure canning). Botulism is fatal unless the product is boiled when removed from the container. Home canned vegetables not canned in a pressure cooker should be boiled at a full rolling boil for a minimum of 10 minutes before using.

For safety in home canning use only recommended methods. A bulletin "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" may be obtained from my office, Wainwright.

VEGETABLE SALAD

This is one of my favorite salad recipes and if you have any small amounts of vegetables left [illegible] from canning, and yet not enough to actually can separately, why not try this for a change? It's delicious served with those extra special meals in the winter.

Vegetable Salad Recipe

Ingredients: Yellow beans, green beans, peas, carrots, onions, cucumbers and celery. Cut in pieces as desired. Mix. Pack solid in hot sterilized jars. (Quart size).

To each quart add: 1 scant tsp. celery seed; 1 scant tsp. mustard seed; 1 tsp. salt; one-third c of vinegar; one-third c of sugar. A touch of finely sliced red peppers adds color (added before boiling).

Corn can add variety. To 8 quarts add 1 can of whole kernel corn. Fill jars with boiling water, seal tightly. Boil three hours.

TO USE SALAD

New Life for Brushes

A paint brush that is gummy with hardened paint needn't end in the trash can. Soak it for a day or so in a liquid brush-cleaner, working the bristles occasionally to loosen the hard paint. Scrape or comb out as much paint as possible and soak the brush in hot, soapy water. Then, using soap powder, scrub the brush on a washboard. Rinse away all soap and paint, dry, and the brush is ready for use again.

In 1953 American tourists spent $282 million in Canada. Canadian tourists spent $307 million in the U.S.

CHIROPRACTIC DAY

September 18th

MARKS GROWTH OF GREAT NEW SCIENCE

This day is set aside to do honor to Chiropractic and the vast good it is doing in relieving the suffering of humankind; and to honor those who have contributed to the growth, development, and research in Chiropractic and advanced the science to its present high position of service to Mankind.

Observance:

Throughout Canada, United States, Britain, France, Switzerland, Scandinavian countries, South Africa, New Zealand and Australia, the 57th anniversary of Chiropractic is being commemorated today.

Origin:

In Davenport, Iowa, on September 18th, 1895 Dr. D. D. Palmer gave the first Chiropractic adjustment to Harvey Lillard resulting in the restoration of his hearing within a few days.

First Medical Chiropractor:

Dr. A. B. Hender, a young physician, had been treating Lillard. He was so amazed at the Chiropractic results that he began collaborating with Dr. D. D. Palmer. Later Dr. B. J. Palmer, a son, associated himself with these two and Chiropractic began to develop into a distinct science.

What Is Chiropractic:

It is a science based upon the premise that a normal nerve supply results in normal function or health, conversely that an abnormal nerve supply to the tissue cells caused by a misaligned vertebra can result [illegible] other condition [illegible] abnormal function or disease. It is the Chiropractor's purpose [illegible] nerve supply to the body by correcting misalignments of the spine.

X-Ray:

This instrument of body study had its origin at almost the same time and has been utilized in most phases of Chiropractic development. Today Chiropractors probably make more use of X Ray in analysis than any other healing science.

Growth:

21 thousand Chiropractors are caring for 30 million patients.

Education:

(a) There are more than a score of Chiropractic Colleges.
(b) These colleges require a four-year course exclusive of preliminary study and internship for the degree of Doctor of Chiropractic (D.C.)
(c) Department of Veteran Affairs has paid for the education of several hundred Canadian Veterans in Chiropractic Colleges.
(d) Many physicians and specialists in other [illegible] studied Chiropractic.

Recognition:

(a) The science is legalized in U.S.A. and Canada.
(b) Health and accident departments of more than 500 Insurance Companies pay for Chiropractic Services.
(c) The Alberta and U. S. Civil Service Commissions accept certificates of absenteeism from Chiropractors.
(d) The Alberta Compensation Board recognizes Chiropractic claims equally with other professions.
(e) Michigan and Oregon have ruled that all state hospitals are open to Chiropractors and Chiropractic patients.

Chiropractic as a Career

There is a vast field in Chiropractic for young men and women seeking a professional life. Scholarships are available. Members of the profession would be happy to advise any who may be interested.

Scope:

Chiropractic is an exact highly specialized healing science. It is not a cure-all. Chiropractors care for the vast realm of chronic and acute diseases. Its limitations exist in (1) Length of illness (2) Amount of tissue destroyed (3) Co-operation of the patient. You are invited to consult a Chiropractor regarding your health problems.

Memory of Pioneer Agriculturist Honored

A man who left the mark of his work on the agricultural pattern of the north, Dr William Donald Albright, was honored when a cairn with bronze tablet was unveiled to his memory at Beaverlodge Alberta on Sept 8.

"The cairn and tablet have been placed there in recognition of Dr. Albright's outstanding contribution to the development of agriculture in the Peace River area," said Resources Minister Jean Lesage. The field stone cairn has been provided by the Department of Agriculture and [illegible] erected by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada.

Dr Albright was born at South Cayuga, Ont. in 1881 and grew up on his father's fruit farm on the Niagara Peninsula. He graduated from the Ontario Agricultural college in 1908 with an Associate Diploma and the Governor General's prize for general efficiency. From 1908 to 1913 he edited the Maritime Farmer and later the Farmer's Advocate, one of Canada's oldest and most respected farm journals.

He moved west in 1913 and bought the section of land that was to become the Beaverlodge Experimental Station and the site of a notable life's work. One of his greatest triumphs was to demonstrate to innumerable sceptics that alfalfa, by means of innoculation, could be profitably grown in that northern region.

In 1946 Mr Albright received the degree of LL.D from the University of Alberta. The late Dr R.D. Sinclair, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture, paid this tribute to his pioneer work: "Under Dr Albright's direction the Beaverlodge Station made an outstanding contribution to the development of agriculture and home-making in the Peace River territory. Production methods suited to the soil and climate were developed and research conducted over a period of 22 years that has left its mark on the agricultural pattern of the north". Dr Albright died in 1946 at Haney, B.C.

THE RUST SITUATION LOOKING AHEAD

In view of the devastating toll which both stem and leaf rust has taken this season, it is evident that, despite the best efforts of our plant breeders, the race against time is being hardly won. Whilst we know enough about Nature to realize that she follows no set pattern, perhaps the most hopeful thought that we can put forward at the present time is that the widespread infestation which occurred this year was the result of unusually early and extensive shower spores - conditions which might not occur again in our generation. The damage has been done, but fortunately the disease itself cannot over-winter here and we start with a clean slate next year subject, of course, to the whim, direction and timing of any spore showers which may occur next season.

Moreover a study of the yearly damage effected by rust shows that following the first serious outbreak recorded in 1904, there followed a period of 6 years when the damage was light. Again following the heavy infestation of 1927, there was a period of 2 years with very little damage evident and again following the serious epidemic of 1935 there was no rust reported the following season when only very limited quantities of the new Thatcher variety had been distributed.

In a future article we shall deal with possible seed suplies of the rust-resistant varieties for which there will be a heavy demand, but in the meantime the above reflections may provide a measure of hope for those who have suffered such losses this year.

Must Be Tough

Korea seems to have taught U.S. military men something that they should never have forgotten from pioneer times, namely that soldiers must be tough, says The Financial Post.

In Canada nursemaiding of our troops has not gone to the same lengths as in the United States. Maybe we just haven't had the money to throw around or perhaps our [illegible] experience in the earlier and less victorious parts of the two world wars has made us more cautious about overloading with luxuries. Nevertheless as anyone who will compare living conditions in the first world war with the second will testify we have been leaning in the same direction both in supply and recruiting policy. Perhaps we too should re-examine our tactics.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

New Paper Money Makes Debut Throughout Alberta

EDMONTON — So varied were the comments about Canada's new paper money which made its debut in Alberta last week, that the only agreement seemed to be the old one - everybody wanted more, be it old or new.

Offering a distinct change in design from those which Canadians have been using for so many years, there is less ornamentation and plainer style lettering.

Some store clerks getting their first look, remarked that they looked like the merchandise coupons given away by soap companies. To other persons, the bills didn't look like real money. Some bank tellers were having trouble because the bills were sticking together.

There is a new feel because of a new type of paper. Not so noticeable is the size — the same in length, six inches, but narrower by one-eighth of an inch at 2⅞ inches.

The Queen's portrait, about which both good and bad comments were made, is at the right side of the bill rather than in the traditional centre location. Now when a bill is folded, it will not affect the portrait, which will remain in good condition longer.

Probably the biggest change is on the backs of the bills. Gone are the allegorical figures, which took a classicist to interpret. They are replaced by scenes of rural Canadian [illegible] for each denomination.

The picture on the back of the [illegible] $1 bills looks down a country road with a grain field at one side. The back of the peach-orange $2 bill illustrates a tiny village in central Canadian countryside. The $5 bill in blue and mauve shows a river tumbling through a northern woods, while the salmon-purple $10 depicts a mountain peak.

Two of the new bills did not appear immediately but it won't bother many Albertans. They are the grey $100 bill and the rose-grey $1000 bil. The $100 note shows a lake and rolling hills, while an old covered bridge is on the infrequently seen $1000 bill.

About $80 million worth of new bills were issued last week by the Bank of Canada - a small start at replacing the 160 million notes worth some 1½ billion dollars which are in circulation at any given time. Many new bills would be taken out of circulation as soon as they were issued as currency collectors picked up complete sets — $1,188 for the works.

The new bills, designed to give greater security from counterfeiters, represent the first change in Canadian paper currency in 17 years. Previous to that a change was was in 1935 when the Bank of Canada, the central bank set up by the government, began operations and the issuing of all currency, which previously was done also by the nation's chartered banks.

The bills still are a different size than those of the United States. That nation uses notes which are 6⅛ inches long and 2⅝ inches wide. Of course, the U.S. bills are all the same color, regardless of denomination.

Canada's currency has gone through many stages since the nation first was settled. In very early times barter was one of the chief methods of exchange while foreign coins, notably French money and Spanish silver dollars, also were recognized.

Card money was paid to soldiers in 1685, pending shipment of supplies from France. To pay war debts, there was an issue of army bills in 1812. The first issue of government paper money in what now is Canada was made by Nova Scotia in 1812, while in 1848 and 1849, the right of chartered banks to issue notes worth less than $5 was withdrawn and government issue of paper currency was introduced.

Manitoba Oil

Manitoba's oil industry [illegible] the last half of 1954 with a rate of production increase which if continued until Dec. 31 will see the province producing half of its 20,000 barrels per day requirements, reports The Financial Post. At July 31 it was producing one-third of it.

New producers and steady production of old ones brought July oil yields to a record 196,824 barrels, 15% higher than the previous June record of 165,885 barrels.

The Governor-General receives an annual salary of $48,667 a year, tax free: in addition he receives an expense allowance of $100,000 a year.

VERMILION TIGERS HOCKEY CLUB HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Tigers Hockey club was held in the Legion hall on Sept. 17 with a fair attendance of interested persons. Reports covering the past year were heard and the election of officers resulted as follows:

President — Neil MacLean
Sec.-Treas. — Mitchell Taylor
Executive - Robt. Allan, Stan Manyluk, Russell Carroll, Chas. Heckbert, Les Williams.
Immediate Past Pres.—C. Upshall.
League Representatives — Al Locke and Stan Manyluk.

FINANCES IMPROVE

It is gratifying to note that in the past hockey season the financial position of the club improved from a deficit of some $533 to a bank balance at the present time of slightly over $240, an improvement in the position at the beginning of the season of some $750.

Several suggestions for the coming year were made to the incoming executive, such as asking the league to enforce the existing ruling outlawing the paying of players. Last year some other clubs in the league imported several players with the result that as has always happened in the past, the imports have led to considerable in the way of rough and dirty hockey. This neither pleases the crowd nor encourages young local players to take an active part in the game.

Plans were also made for a vigorous fund raising program again this year, including a bingo, the printing of advertising programs as was done last year, and several others suggestions.

PLAYER ROSTER UNKNOWN

The player roster for this year is not known as yet, but prospects look as though we should be able to ice a good contender again. Hockey fans in Vermilion and district can look forward to another good year of hockey this coming winter.

OLD STALWARTS IN EVIDENCE

It was pleasing to see some of the old stalwart hockey players at the meeting including Elmer Kreiler, Les Williams and Stan Manyluk. Wally Footz who notched 5 goals in one game two years years ago is back in Vermilion and has been nursing an injured knee all summer, forsaking baseball in order to be able to play hockey this winter. Wally was here during the 1952-53 season and seated with him was his old running mate on the forward line Ted Koehll.

Two players who will be greatly missed will be Johnny St. Martin and Gerry Patsula who topped the league scoring race and had been with the Tigers for two years. Their scoring punch will have to be replaced. Good news is also apparent as Jim Ferguson who missed last season in the hockey wars will be back again. One newcomer with considerable hockey experience and ability is Wm. Novak principal at the Junior high. He played with the Ponoka Stampeders for several seasons. Whether the midgets get him as coach or the seniors as a player remains to be seen. The younger players will all be back again and the big question mark is just how much hockey talent will turn up at the V.S.A. when the term opens.

St. Saviour's Men's Club Makes Plans For The Year

On Monday, Sept. 20 the Men's club of St. Saviour's Anglican church began their year's activity with a meeting at 8 p.m. in the parish hall. President J. V. Kneale was in the chair and the meeting was opened with prayer. Introductions of new members and visitors were then made and the following were introduced to the gathering: Mr R. J. Cosh, Mr W. K. Roots, Mr F. Zuberbuler, Mr P. Lusser and Mr. [illegible].

Plans for the year's work were discussed including a proposal that the Men's club sponsor the publication of a 50th anniversary booklet of St. Saviour's parish. Reference was also made to the two successful ventures of the spring, namely the sponsoring of the play 'Chintz Cottage' and the curio and [illegible].

Then followed the showing of a number of interesting and colorful slides on Switzerland by Mr Zuberbuler and Mr Lusser. These depicted many aspects of life in that picturesque country and were much enjoyed by all present.

Light refreshments brought to a conclusion a very satisfactory evening. The next gathering will be a supper meeting on the first Monday in October.

Mannville Old-Timer Passes Away

MANNVILLE. Long time resident of Chailey and Mannville, Mr George Rostron passed away early Sunday morning at the age of 88 years. Mr Rostron came to Chailey from Lancashire, England in 1913 and farmed there until he moved to town about eight years ago.

Mr Rostron was well known around the town, very interested in any building and improvements that were going on. Although in poor health for the past two years he was always very cheerful.

He is survived by one daughter Mrs. F. Arnold and two sons, Tom of Chailey and Allan of Mannville. His wife predeceased him in 1938.

Funeral services were held from McQueen Memorial United church on Wednesday Sept 22 with Rev R. Clennett officiating and interment in Chailey cemetery. Mayers of Vermilion were in charge of the arrangements.

Parishioners Of St. Saviour's Hear Archbishop

Over sixty parishioners of St. Saviour's journeyed to Edmonton last week end to attend the great service of witness in the Edmonton Gardens at which the Archbishop of Canterbury gave the address. Those who were able to attend will long remember the magnificent and colorful service at which over 8000 people were present.

The big building was filled to capacity with the crowd that occupied the centreice portion as well as the seating. Leading the worship was a choir of 315 voices of whom some ten were from the choir of St. Saviour's. The great procession included three Bishops, the Diocesan clergy, visiting clergy of other denominations as well as prominent laymen of the diocese. The focal point of the worship was the altar furnished with the cross and the candlesticks that were used in the services at the recent Pan-Anglican Congress in Minneapolis. After the main procession the Archbishop of Canterbury was met at the west entrance of the Gardens by the Bishop and Cathedral Chapter and ushered in to a fanfare of trumpets. The Archbishop was preceded by his son bearing the Primatial Cross and flanked by taper-bearers. The order of Evening Prayer was used with Dean Grant Sparling acting as precentor.

In his address, the Archbishop called for understanding on the part of Anglicans and others in the matter of their own faith. He pointed to the fact that our divisions are a matter of conscience and are not to be treated lightly in hoping for quickly won unity.

Attention was drawn to the fact that the robes worn by the Archbishop were those which he wore at the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. The Cope (or cloke) was made for his use by the Anglican Christians in Japan.

To participate in this service was a most rewarding experience and served to strengthen in the worshippers that in their faith they do not stand alone but are part not only of a great tradition but also of a tremendous world-wide communion that unceasingly offers to God the sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving.

Home & School To Meet On Tuesday

Agricultural Society Sponsors Trip To Royal Winter Fair

As announced at the annual meeting of the Vermilion Agricultural Society last spring tentative arrangements are now under way to arrange for a Vermilion car to go to the Royal Winter fair in Toronto in November.

Two plans are available, one over the Canadian National and the other via Canadian Pacific. About twenty persons are required to fill a sleeping car and at a price of approximately $140 to $150 the tour can be arranged, the outlay including tickets to the Fair and other interesting entertainment events in the East. The cost of transportation will be practically all inclusive and any who are interested should contact S. C. Heckbert, Secretary Manager of the Society as soon as possible.

The Royal Winter Fair is one of the outstanding exhibitions of the world and is considered the show window of Canada by means of which we may see the finest livestock and other natural products of our country at first hand.

Details of the trip will be available in the very near future and meanwhile all interested are invited to contact the Fair Board office, so that plans may be initiated towards a successful group expedition.

New Teachers Are Officially Welcomed

The eleven new members of the teaching staff were officially welcomed to Vermilion when they attended the first meeting of the local school board held in the town offices on Tuesday evening. It has been the custom for some years for the board to meet the newcomers in a body in this manner.

The teachers were introduced by the four principals, welcomed by the board members, and views regarding schools, equipment and various educational matters generally exchanged in round table discussions.

Members of the board in attendance were chairman Don Taylor, Ashley Cooper, Rev. D. A. Ford and E. M. Stewart.

Three Injured, Horses Killed, When Truck Crashes Wagon

Walter Melnyk of Innisfree will appear in Police Court on Monday charged with dangerous driving. The charge was laid as a result of an accident six miles west of Vermilion last Friday about 6 p.m. on highway 16 when Melnyk, driving a light truck and travelling west, ran into the rear of a team and wagon driven by Albert Baldwin, also travelling west. In the wagon also were Mrs. Baldwin and daughter Vivian. As a result of the accident the three Baldwins were taken to hospital, one horse was killed outright, the other had a broken leg and had to be shot.

Of the injured, Mr. Balwin was the most badly hurt, receiving deep cuts to the head. He is still in hospital. Mrs. Baldwin and Vivian have returned home. Melnyk was unhurt.

C. of C. Official Addresses Local Board of Trade

Derek Griffin, secretary of the Alberta Associated Board of Trade and Agriculture, was the guest speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Vermilion Board of Trade. Other guests present on this occasion were George O'Brien of Vegreville, immediate past president of the Alberta body; M. Christianson, superintendent of construction under the V.L.A. who comes from Edmonton; W. H. Prescott of Saskatoon; Mr. Ed Clarke of Lloydminster, while attending for the first time since being appointed here was Thos. McGregor, manager of the Bank of Commerce.

In his address Mr. Griffin dealt with the work of the Chambers of Commerce generally across the country and told more specifically of activities in the Peace River country as he has just returned from visiting 33 centres in that area. Boards of Trade in the central part of Alberta were in a particularly healthy state, doing a fine job for the community, for the province and a few for the Dominion when national affairs came up. Problems at the Dominion and Provincial level, can and do affect everyone of us right at home.

Mr. Griffin also spoke of the happy relationship existing in Alberta between the Associated Boards of Trade and the Provincial cabinet. Once a year the Board's executive is called into Edmonton for a day long interview and discussion with the entire cabinet. The cabinet is very interested in the policies of the Chamber and every resolution presented by the members is thoroughly discussed. There is no healthier working partnership between any two bodies anywhere than that which exists between the Alberta Cabinet and the executive of the Alberta Associated Boards of Trade and Agriculture, stated Mr Griffin.

The speaker concluded his remarks by outlining some of the services rendered by the Dominion Chamber of Commerce; these included short radio talks delivered by business men across the country.

W.M.S. RALLY HELD AT ISLAY

About fifteen ladies of the United Church W.M.S. attended the rally held at Islay United church, Thursday Sept 16. The President of the Islay Affiliated Society, Miss Muriel Stone, extended a warm welcome to the guests and in her opening remarks paid tribute to the pioneers of the church. The church at Islay was started in the early days when much of the travelling was done on foot and people came across the prairies following trails, to the gatherings. Among those present whose families had done much to promote the first churches in their localities were Mrs. Norman McInnes, Mrs. Thos. Bothwell, also Mrs. Oakley and Mrs. H. N. Stephens of Vermilion. Mrs. McInnes, a former resident of Islay but who now resides in Nova Scotia, is here for a visit. A son is now a missionary in Africa. Mrs. McInnes led the worship service. A solo "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" sung by Mrs. Axley was much appreciated.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was Rev. Mr Morrison of Lloydminster who gave a wonderful and enlightening address on the World Council of Churches which he recently attended at Evanston, Ill., U.S.A. Mrs. Wm. Roebuck, Presbyterial Secretary for Temperance and Christian Citizenship, gave a talk on the work of that department with suggestions to the auxiliaries and societies on how this work might be promoted. A lunch was served by the Islay ladies and a social half hour brought a very pleasant gathering to a close.

Worthy of Attention

A potato that really rates mention is one dug by Jack Killion in his garden in town. The spud weighed in at 3¾ pounds while the hill contained 9 pounds of good Irish mainstay. Jack had several potatoes weighing around the 2½ pound mark.

Cub Leaders Organize Packs for Year

A meeting of the leaders of the Cub movement in Vermilion both of this coming year and the past year, was held in the Anglican parish hall on Friday evening. The chief topic of discussion centred on the large enrolment of Cubs and the number of packs needed. So far 74 boys have registered, requiring three very full packs.

Meeting days and times for the three packs are:

Mr. Robinson — Tuesday, 4 p.m.
Mr Herberts — Tuesday, 7 p.m.
Rev. Ford—Wednesday, 6:30 p.m.

The cub leaders wish to emphasize the fact that final registration day for Cubs will be Oct. 31, also that owing to the large number of boys wishing to join the cub packs the minimum age will be strictly adhered to, a boy must be at least 8 years of age by the end of this year. No exceptions will be made to this rule.

15.61 Ins. of Rain

According to the last crop report issued by the Alberta Pacific Grain Co., the Vermilion district received 15.61 inches of rain from Apr. 1 to Sept. 16. This compares to a normal rainfall of 12.28.

The big trouble with the rain was however that fully half of it fell during August and September.

THE MESSAGE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

The recurrence of National Immunization Week constitutes the annual reminder of the Health League of Canada that each of us has a part to play in keeping Canada healthy. We require to be reminded because the spectacular success in controlling smallpox, diptheria, whooping cough and tetanus has not been achieved by legislation action but by the regular and persistent immunization of millions of children, one at a time. These scourges have not been eliminated but they have been kept at bay by the intelligent acceptance by parents and children of the protection which immunization provides. New developments in combined antigens started in early infancy reduce the number of injections required and make it even easier to acquire protection. When your doctor recommends that the baby have his shots, when Jane brings home a note from school that her booster dose is due, Canadian mothers and fathers can do their part by saying, "Yes". We want our children to be immune."

The Canadian Medical Association, speaking for your physician endorses the message of National Immunization Week and recommends that every citizen do his part in keeping our children healthy.

Canada's 12th National Immunization Week — Sept 26 to Oct 2.

If your child cannot see correctly his life's activities are seriously affected. Avoid this. Make sure your child sees well to learn well.

I THOUGHT IT WAS A DEER!

A red cap sits at a jaunty angle on his head. A rifle shining with newness is gripped tightly in his hands. His eyes peer up the well-worn game trail. A dry twig cracks sharply in front. Leaves move as if something were passing through the trees. He whips his weapon to his shoulder, aims quickly and fires. A body thumps into the dry leaves carpeting the forest floor. A human body — that of his hunting companion. The hunter thought it was a deer!

There is no need to elaborate on the genuine remorse this hunter must have felt over the accident. But it is hardly believable how such accidents could happen. Men are not only taken for deer but recent reports show that they've been mistaken for squirrels, partridges, raccoons, moose, fox.

Then there are other hunters who handle their guns so carelessly they not only endanger the lives of those around them, but their own. Such a theme is expressed in a 20-minute 16 millimetre motion picture film available from Canadian Industries (1954) Ltd. This production 'stars' Trigger Happy Harry who is the epitome of the man who does everything wrong with a rifle. His antics serve as a convincing lesson to hunters who are in the sound shot' class or whose impatience impels them to let loose at the slightest movement in the bush. The film is well worth seeing.

Our constitution has given every Canadian the right to own a rifle or shotgun without the benefit of permit or registration. Let us not usurp this right by making murder weapons of them. Make absolutely certain you know what you are shooting at this hunting season before you squeeze the trigger. Statistics show hunting is still one of the safest sports. Let's keep it that way.

CLOSEST — BUT NEGLECTED

Local or municipal government is "closest to the people", says The Financial Post. It furnishes our primary protection in police, fire and sanitation forces. It provides us with streets, water and sewers. It looks after much of our education. It furnishes the finest possible training grounds for the country's public servants. And yet in spite of its paramount importance in our daily lives, interest in local government is at a dangerously low ebb in most of Canada and especially in the urban centres where we are most dependent on its services.

The Citizens Research Institute has just completed a survey of the voting turnout in municipal elections in Canada. The results are alarming. For all Canada a good deal less than half of those eligible voted for the chief elective office and for some of the larger centres including Montreal and Toronto only one in three exercised their franchise. That indicates slim general interest indeed in a type of government which in 1953 spent over $800 millions on current account alone on behalf of the inhabitants.

Canadians consume 800 pounds of steel per person per year; Americans consume 1200 pounds of steel per capita.

25 Alberta Highway Fatalities During August

Death rode Alberta highways during the month of August when there were 25 fatalities, according to reports summarized by the Alberta Safety Council. The month's total was an increase of 7 over the same month of 1953.

For the 8-month period ended on Aug. 31, there were 121 highway deaths reported, six more than in the comparable period of 1953.

The Safety Council reports that during August Edmonton had two fatalities, Calgary one and Lethbridge one. The R.C.M.P. reported 21 others in various parts of the province.

While highway deaths are on the increase, the number of accidents and persons injured is on the decrease. Accidents during the 8-month period numbered 10,488 as against 10,898 a year ago.

Persons injured in motor accidents since Jan. 1 number 2,179, a substantial drop from the total of 2,513 in the similar period of last year.

During August there were 467 motor accidents in Edmonton, a decrease of 22. The Calgary total of 291 was an increase of 43. Medicine Hat had 15, a drop of 3 and the 26 in Lethbridge was an increase of three. The R.C.M.P. report shows 645 in various rural parts of Alberta, 45 less than a year ago.

In August, there were 1,471 highway accidents, three more than a year ago. During the month there were 267 persons injured in these accidents, which was a sharp decline from the 400 in August, 1953.

Edmonton reported 51 persons injured in accidents last month, compared with 76 in the same month of last year. Injured persons in Calgary numbered 47, a gain of 7, while Lethbridge had 4, Medicine Hat 6, Jasper Place 3, other towns 13. The R.C.M.P. reported 172 persons injured, compared with 286 in August last year.

It costs about $800,000 a month to administer family allowance payments.

FARM LABOR

Thirty four Eastern harvesters have been placed and about 50 men from Saskatchewan and Alberta points. Farmers needing men for threshing should place their orders or I will not know how many men to get in.

TREATING FENCE POSTS

Poplar spruce and willow posts last from 2 to 7 years. When these posts are treated with preservatives they will last 5 times longer. Circulars on treating fence posts can be had at my office. It is cheaper to treat poplar than to buy and use cedar or willow posts.

FEEDER CATTLE

The report comes from southern Alberta that the demand for feeders may even exceed the supply. It would be good business for anyone intending to feed cattle this winter to pick them up now.

STRAW COVERED SHELTER

Farmers who have used straw sheds for cattle say that it is the best way to winter stock. The frame work is made of poles, slabs, old lumber straw, brush, baled straw and wire. Get a circular from this office on building a straw shed.

FALL CULTIVATION

Owing to wet weather a lot of summerfallow could not be worked. This means that thistle will not be killed out unless the fields are cultivated regularly to freez up. Fall cultivation of stubble also kills most of the thistle. Thistle has increased the last two years. It will pay to give infested fields a thorough working over this fall.

OFF COLOR PIGS

Nearly all the pigs coming to the yards in this district are white. This shows that they carry Yorkshire bacon type breeding. Market hogs here are grading A and B1 while in other district there is a high percentage of C grade. Keep up the good work. It is paying off. Quite a few orders are coming in for registered Yorkshire boars at $75 delivered to your station under the government policy.

Visits Mannville Lodge

MANNVILLE. — Magdalene Chapter No. 70 O.E.S. was honored on Sept. 14 by a visit from Mrs. Elizabeth Hart of Three Hills, Worthy Grand Matron of Grand Chapter of Alberta, O.E.S., and with Mrs. I. McCauley as Worthy Matron of Magdalene Chapter.

A tea was held in her honor in the afternoon. Mrs. MacKinnon as hostess entertained Mrs. Hart at supper previous to the meeting.

GETTING BIGGER

Canada's growing population numbered 15,226,000 at mid-year, as compared with 15,025,000 at Jan. 1 and 14,821,000 at mid-1953, reports The Financial Post. Increase of 201,000 in first six months of this year was 17% greater than comparable 1953 increase.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

No less than four local firemen have been called back to work on the C.N.R. for the first time since 1932. The four are Bert Taylor, Frank Pittle, Slim Robinson and Clarence Potter.

Prevailing lack of teachers for the schools in outlying districts is probably the worst in Alberta's history, the provincial supervisor of schools stated. At least 30 schools in outlying districts have been unable to begin the 1938-39 term because of lack of teachers. Low salaries is claimed to be the reason.

Threshing is in full swing with most grain grading a No. 2 and yielding an average of 20 bushels.

Three lines of men's suits were advertised in Vermilion at $12.95, $15.95 and $19.95.

W.M.S. Rally at Islay Well Attended

The W.M.S. rally last Thursday was well attended, some 65 were present. Miss M. Stone presided. Mrs. Norman McInnes, a pioneer of Islay, but living in Nova Scotia for some years, and here on a visit to her son Donald and wife, read the Scripture lesson. Mrs. Lila Waterfield presided at the organ and Mrs. Jean Axley sang beautifully a solo 'The Garden of Prayer'. The guest speaker was Rev. Mr. Morrison of Lloydminster who gave a very delightful address on observations at the World Council of Churches which he attended at Evanston, Ill. Mrs. Irene Martin and Mrs. Betty Shaw received the offering. Mr. Collins pronounced the Benediction. Lunch was served at the close. Mrs. Annabelle Robinson of Vermilion expressed the appreciation of the visitors for a very enjoyable afternoon. We at Islay were very pleased to have all the visitors and hope for as successful a day next year.

Several people have asked — "Is Islay going to have a chicken supper this fall?"

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Young of Vermilion were visitors in Islay last Thursday 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. Cor Greefhorst, a year out from Holland, who have been in Islay for the past two months, have been transferred to Lloydminster. Mr. Greefhorst has been with Panther Products and in the spring will continue his work with Panther. He is at present with Harris, the electrician. Mr. and Mrs. Greefhorst expressed regret at leaving Islay where they said they had met such friendly and sociable people, not found as nice anywhere, so were sorry to leave their new friends. But they are not so far away and will most surely make return visits. Indeed, Islay is sorry to have them go but circumstances made it necessary.

The W.A. hasn't set a date for shipping to Fairfields, but get your rags ready, when all are not so busy we will set the date giving you a little time to make the last rush. The W.A. have cards for Christmas as usual. The next meeting, Oct. 7, will be at Mrs. I. D. Inman's home. It is the month to renew your Missionary Monthly magazine.

On Sunday the radio brought us the voice of the Archbishop of Canterbury. The minister announced that the Archbishop was wearing the robes that he wore when he crowned Queen Elizabeth. Mrs. Betty Shaw and Mrs. Lila Waterfield motored from this area to the city to hear the Archbishop speak in the Gardens where some 8000 people gathered. They report a good trip and that it was a wonderful address that the Archbishop gave. Betty said it seems marvelous to go to the city and be back all in one day, left about noon and were home again at 10 p.m., hearing the address and having supper there in the meantime. 30 years ago by going in the Ford touring it would take all day going the one way. The road was a winding one and was not marked so we kept to the one most travelled — from town to town.

Mannville & District LOCALS

Mannville and district residents are sorry to hear that an old time resident of this district Mr. George Thompson is seriously ill in the University hospital.

Mr Steve Smart, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smart is in the local hospital. He was seriously injured in a hunting accident and it is not known as yet whether he'll have the use of his leg again.

Among those from Mannville who attended the Service of Witness in the Edmonton Gardens at which the Most Rev. and Rt. Hon Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England was the preacher, were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williams, Mrs. C. Manz, Mrs. E. J. Lugg, Mrs. A. M. Rutherford, Mrs. R. Whitson, Miss Kay Sutton, Mrs. Sutton Sr., Mrs. Walter Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. D. Otto, Mrs. Don Upton.

Mrs. A. H. Elliott has returned from a visit in Calgary with her son and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McLuckie, Norman McLuckie and Connie Gerhart motored to Edmonton last Wednesday to attend the wedding of Miss Audrey Hughes and Mr. Norman Thompson.

Mr and Mrs H Arnold have returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Edmonton. They returned with Mr. and Mrs. W. Osborn who spent the week end in the city.

Misses Florence Otto, Sharon Meeer, Arlene Leitch, Mr. Kevin Majeau and Mr. Bruce McDonald left over the week end to register for first year varsity. Miss Audrey Hamilton left earlier to enrol for University nursing course. Messrs Fred Otto, Robin Stuart and Sandy Hogan have also returned to University to continue their studies.

Canada Biggest

Not so very long ago, points out The Financial Post, pulp and paper, the country's biggest single industry, was having a tough time winning back markets and confidence after two heavy cracks, an overdose of expansion in the late 20's and an overdose of depression almost all through the 30's. In that winning back however, the industry has acquired not only growth but of equal importance, new strength. Today it rests on a far broader foundation and serves a far broader market. Literally the industry has grown up, down and sideways.

10 Degrees of Frost Saturday Morning

Hard frosts at last arrived to complete an already devastated harvest picture. Frost set in early last Friday night and it continued to freeze practically all night through, the official low point being 22 degrees above or ten degrees of frost. There was no doubt about it being felt, everything showed the results of the big freeze early Saturday morning.

Second frost of the fall was on Monday the 20th with a low of 24, eight degrees of frost.

Only two light showers have fallen, Saturday and Sunday, and they amounted to .04 of rain. Some progress is now being made in cutting operations.

Thorncliffe W. I.

The September meeting of the Thorncliffe Branch of the A. W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. John King on Sept. 10 at 2 p.m. Four members answered the roll call with the story of a famous lady. Three visitors, Mrs. Cecil King, Mrs. Geo. Doherty and Miss Eunice Clark were also present.

The meeting opened in the usual manner followed by the Women's Creed. The minutes of the July meeting were read. (Owing to the muddy roads there was no August meeting). At the July meeting the members had their pictures taken and these turned out very well. It was therefore decided to have some more developed.

The social was by Mrs. James Moses. She thought of a prominent person, gave a few clues and the ladies were to tell who she meant.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. James Moses on Oct. 6 at 2 p.m. The roll call will be "What I was doing when I was 20 years old". Mrs. Thompson is on the list for the social. Mrs. Clark will give a talk on health. Lunch will be served by Mrs. John King and Mrs. James Moses.

Everyone is pleased to have as a new member Mrs. George Doherty of Vermilion. By the way ladies, if you care to attend our meetings may we take this opportunity to say 'Come along, you will be very welcome.'

The meeting adjourned with the singing of 'The Queen'. A very nice lunch was served by our hostesses Mrs. Clark and Mrs. King.

Pretty Wedding At Mannville

MANNVILLE. — In a mid-afternoon double-ring ceremony, Miss Dorothy Jean Wood and Mr. Wilfred Gunnar Johnson were united in marriage by Rev. H. Cantilon on Saturday, Sept. 11th at McQueen Memorial United church, Mannville.

Dorothy is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood, and Wilfred is the son of Mrs. S. Johnson and the late Mr. H. Johnson of Jasper Place. For the occasion the altar was banked with gladioli, asters and dahlias.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of nylon net over satin. The fitted lace bodice was topped with a matching lace bolero. She wore a fingertip veil of nylon net with lace trim. Her bouquet was of red roses and her only jewelry a birthstone pendant on a gold chain, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaid was Miss Gwen Symington who wore a salmon pink gown of nylon net over taffeta with lace bolero.

The groom's brother, Mr. Clare Johnson was best man and the ushers were Mr. Ross Symington and the bride's brother, Mr. Roy Wood. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Sterns of Edmonton and the soloist was Miss Dorothy Allen of Edmonton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wood chose a bright blue crepe dress with grey accessories. A dress of navy blue crepe with white accessories was worn by the groom's mother.

A reception for fifty guests was held in the United church hall. A three tier wedding cake centred the bride's table. Bouquets of gladioli decorated the hall and the tables were decorated with vases of flowers.

Mr. N. Terryberry, a friend of the family, gave a toast to the bride which was fittingly replied to by the groom.

Out of town guests were: Rev. and Mrs. H. Cantilon, Mrs. S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Johnson and Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Marshall and Mona and Luella, all of Jasper Place; Mrs. Simms of Calgary; Rev. Rice of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wood, Margaret and Wayne and Mrs. Mae McLuckie of Lone Rock, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Symington and Ross, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, Mrs. Harvey Lawrence and Kerry, Miss E. Crouger, Mr. N. Terryberry, all of Edmonton.

Protect Pheasants

Clarence Neis recently spent a whole day posting no shooting signs for the protection of pheasants in the area. Co-operation of all hunters is requested in protecting these game birds to the utmost. Obey the law in respect to these birds for a few years — then there will be plenty of hunting for everyone . . . But right now let your slogan be - PROTECT THE PHEASANTS.

Three-quarters of the province of New Brunswick is covered with merchantable timber.

HANDICRAFT GUILD NEWS
A general meeting of the Canadian Handicraft Guild will be held in the Junior high school on Thursday Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. Mrs. M. Norton will demonstrate the making of ric-rac jewelry. All members are urged to attend.

Charlie Deford who has been visiting in Vermilion, Clandonald and Elk Point left for Calgary this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rose returned from Vancouver last week end. They intend to go back to the coast very shortly.

Mrs. C. E. Doupe of Vancouver who has been visiting in Vermilion for the past two weeks left for her home on Monday morning. It is six years since she was here last. While in town Mrs. Doupe was a guest at the home of her brother Mr. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, and of Mrs. M. P. Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bussard were visitors to Vermilion last Thursday evening and Friday, returning to their home in Lethbridge early Saturday. Mr. Bussard is a former principal of the Vermilion high school and is now superintendent of schools for the City of Lethbridge. It is seven years since they left here and this is their first return. Needless to say they were heartily greeted by many old friends and the visit proved an enjoyable one. Lawrence was quite surprised at seeing houses going up on the site of the former tennis courts, when, as he says, "the trend in most centres is toward more recreational facilities". Mr. and Mrs. Bussard and son Jim, now a grade 11 student, holidayed at Vancouver and attended the British Empire Games which proved a great experience. Prior to visiting Vermilion Mr. and Mrs. Bussard were in Edmonton attending the annual convention of the Canadian Education Association.

The following floral tributes were omitted from the funeral account of Baby Stewart: Mr. and Mrs. R. Tessman and family; Mrs. Terry and Violet; W.I. Claysmore ladies.

We love and miss her so."

THE STAGETTES

Oh yes! That's what we like to see every member out to every meeting. Just keep that up and we'll catch up to that Attendance Shield that has been floating around just out of our reach for some time. It's in the hands of Saskatoon this year but we're going to close in for the catch. A good attendance record is the makings of a good club by holding the interest high and passing it on to new members each year.

We met this week in the small room off the kitchen in the Legion but before long we [illegible] the kitchen itself much more to our comfort. You know those pesky little flies that flock to the light by the thousands if they can get in? Well, they got in. We fought very gallantly but their supply of reinforcements was endless so we retreated, fast!

One of the first moves of the Stagette club each fall is, of course the Harvest ball with which most of you are quite familiar by now so be on the lookout for posters and ticket sellers very soon as we would not want you to miss this gay get together set for Oct 19. Don't forget that buying advance tickets means saving yourself two bits.

When the question of checking came up we had - volunteers yet! Ivy's gone checking crazy. She and Joan volunteered for Thursday night square dancing night and she and Noreen volunteered for Saturday night. The check room was in quite a state of disorder as a [illegible] of the girls took on the clean-up task. I was going to help but I couldn't get in the hall. I tried [illegible] honest injun! Must have had the wrong key.

After the meeting we met some of the girls who are interested in Stagettes and spent a friendly hour over a cup of coffee in the Rio. Already we are bursting with ideas for initiation. Ohhh what fun! It gets better every year. The [illegible] bunch initiated like to have revenge on the newcomers. Don't worry though, you'll get over it we think. The others always have we think.

You'll find that there's an extra "ingredient" mixed with our peerless prescription service at no extra charge —the spirit of Friendliness, always!

Attend Convention At Halifax

Mr and Mrs. Ross Boake returned home Monday from Halifax where as vice-president of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association Mr Boake was delegate to the annual convention of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association which was held from Sept. 4 to the 8th. The trip was made by car. Four days on the outward trip were spent in Toronto and vicinity where they visited relatives, some of whom they had never seen before. The Canadian National Exhibition was attended while in the Ontario city. At Milwaukee a good sample of league baseball was seen in a game between Milwaukee and Philadelphia with the former winning 3 runs to 2.

Mr and Mrs. Boake crossed the northern New England states just one day before Hurricane Carol. Five wonderful days were enjoyed in Halifax where everything possible was done to make the convention an interesting one. A cruise was even arranged on board the destroyer "Mic-Mac" with the delegates having a first class look at the battleship 'Quebec', also in the Halifax harbor.

On the return trip they just missed Hurricane Edna being at times only two hours ahead of it. When passing through Detroit Mr and Mrs. Boake were shown through the mammoth Parke-Davis factory, the largest drug manufacturing plant in the world.

At London Ont they were joined by son Rex who flew out from Calgary for a short holiday before returning to University and made the remainder of the homeward journey with them. In all 8400 miles were travelled and as it was done by car a very good impression of Canada was gained.

Kitscoty News

On Sunday Rev Alex Heron accompanied by Mrs. Leon Apperson and Miss Beth Tyler motored to Edmonton to hear and see the service of Witness of Archbishop of Canterbury at the Edmonton Gardens. This was a very inspiring service. Mr and Mrs T F Mason and the children also motored to the city to attend the service, also several members from the Irwinville and Marwayne churches.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mrs. J R. Fox and Mrs A. McGladrie who are hospital patients, and to Mrs. Pauline McLean who is ill at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Cattapan of Edmonton visited with their parents Mr and Mrs. A. Hale during the past week.

Mr R. Mathewson of Edmonton visited here with Mrs. Mathewson during the week end.

Mrs. J A. Blair has now taken up residence in Vermilion and will be missed by her many friends and neighbors.

An enjoyable gathering was held on July 28 in the Irwinville school, when the ladies of the district met to honor Miss Ella Pidcock at a miscellaneous shower. After an entertaining program of contests, a recitation and a song, the bride-to-be was presented with gifts in a very novel manner — Ella followed a string through a maze of thread and many objects, at the end of which various lovely gifts awaited her in a basket daintily decorated with pink and yellow bows and silver bells. Appropriate decorations of bells and flowers formed a suitable background for Ella as she opened her gifts assisted by her mother and Mrs. Art Kent. Ella then very graciously and suitably thanked the ladies for the lovely gifts and Mrs. G. Connon for the beautifully decorated bride's cake. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies to bring an enjoyable afternoon to a close. The hostesses for this occasion were Mrs. R. Saville, Mrs J McKnight, Mrs. L. Quist and Mrs. A. Good.

BOING!

MODERN ALUMINUM alloys seem tough enough to take almost anything. For instance, one manufacturer uses aluminum for those little electrically driven cars the kids love to climb into at carnivals and fairs. The idea is to whirl around at high speed exchanging spine-shattering bumps with other "motorists". They actually stand up under this treatment (the cars, we mean). Our own Alcan research-ers are constantly developing and testing new applications, better products, improved production techniques. There's always something new in aluminum! MANNVILLE. — A goodly sum was raised for the Arena Fund at the Deep Freeze Bingo held Wed., Sept. 8th in the Mannville curling rink. It is the first of many affairs and raffles [illegible] will be put on to raise money to complete the arena that will soon be started. Parents and friends of the young people of the district are asked to help all they can. As the rink is being built near the schools it will benefit the country children as well as town.

Wildmere Girls' Club Plan Active Year — Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the Wildmere Beavers was held at the home of Mrs. R. Martin. The President Betty Smith called the meeting to order by asking everyone to rise and sing "O Canada" followed by the Flag Salute and Code.

Twelve girls answered the very interesting roll call of hints for something new for next year's work.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and declared adopted. Any business arising from these was discussed. The dance put on by the girls had been very successful and had added a bit to the funds. It is hoped to put on another after harvest.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were then read, a summary of what had been accomplished last year. Mrs. Martin announced that Mrs. F Gibson had consented to be assistant supervisor and would help with the programs. Mrs. Martin also expressed her appreciation of how well the girls worked and played together and that she was looking forward to the next year of W.I.G.C. work.

The election of officers was then held the following being elected:

- President — Maureen Cruthers
- Vice-Pres. — Janet Cruthers
- Secretary — Margaret Steele
- Treasurer — Hazel Whitlock
- Press Reporter — each one to take a turn
- Sick Convener — Betty and Marie Smith
- Program Committee — Mary Gibson, Marlene Smith, Doreen Martin.

The other conveners are to be chosen next meeting as a few members were absent.

Thirteen girls paid their membership fees and the meeting carried on.

It was moved and carried that handicraft work be done again this year. Any girl over 12 does the senior work and under 12, junior.

Motions were also made and carried to have two draws for the Mystery box, one for the Juniors and one for Seniors and these gifts are to be about 25 cent value as there is a large membership this year each one will get a chance at the draw. Motion was made and carried that the treasurer send for Club crests for members and that she also send club dues to Mrs. Handley.

The members are also going to have Secret Pals this year. Names were put in and drawn, each secret pal to be remembered on her birthday and at Xmas and a small gift for the next annual meeting when secrets will be told.

The club letter from Mrs. Handley outlining year's work as planned at convention, was then read.

As meeting had been long and busy the girls did not spend too long discussing the year's program and will discuss it more fully next meeting.

Place and date of the next meeting is not yet definite but everyone will be notified in time.

Remember girls that the roll call is 'Program Books' finished ready to write in the year's program which the committee will have ready.

Isabelle Gibson won the Mystery Box a small jewel box with Vermilion on the top. The meeting was then adjourned and was closed by the singing of "God Save the Queen". After a short game in the fresh air the girls were ready for the lunch served by the hostess.

F. U. A. Executive Calls For Advances For Grain Stored On Farms

At a meeting of the F.U.A. executive, held in Edmonton Sept. 9 and 10, the financial position of western farmers was given much consideration. In view of the very small quotas prospect, it was the unanimous opinion that a system of cash advances to farmers against grain stored on farms should be instituted this fall. Results disastrous both to agriculture and to business are foreseen unless this is done.

This point of view will be urged upon Mr. Howe and the Cabinet probably by a small delegation from the Western Farm Unions which will visit Ottawa about the end of September. While at Ottawa, the delegation will present a brief to the Canadian Tariff Commission in opposition to the proposed increase in tariff on British woolen goods.

F.U.A. ROUND-UP DAY

Plans for the coming one-day member drive were reviewed by the executive. This will be styled "F.U.A. Roundup Day" and will be held about the middle of November. The purpose of this drive is to get a majority of the farmers of Alberta enrolled in the Union.

LOCATION OF AUDITORIUMS

The location of the Jubilee Auditoriums to be built in Calgary and Edmonton by the Provincial Government, was discussed. It was felt very strongly that unless these buildings are centrally located in the cities, their usefulness to the rural people will be very limited. Representations to the government will be made on this subject.

ANNUAL CONVENTION

The executive also reviewed arrangements for the annual convention which will be held in Edmonton on Dec. 6-10 next. In view of the increase in F.U.A. membership this year, a capacity attendance is expected.

Arrangements were made to have the Union represented at several gatherings, including conventions of the Montana Farmers Union, the Industrial Federation of Labor and the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts. The matter of a publicity director and an income tax consultant was left to the President to deal with. Authorization was given to the temporary investment of the F.U.A. Building funds in government securities. Many other matters of detail were also dealt with by the executive.

Multi-Million Dollar Power Plant Planned at Forestburg

Mr. J. C. Dale, General Manager of Canadian Utilities, Ltd., has announced plans for a new multi-million dollar power plant near Forestburg. Preliminary work is now underway, and actual construction will start in the spring of 1955. The firm of Haddin, Davis and Brown has been retained as consulting engineers.

Initial construction, at a cost of over five million dollars, will consist of an earth-filled dam, the plant building, and the installation of a generating unit capable of 40,000 horsepower output. Provision will be made for the addition of two more units of the same capacity as the original, giving a final maximum output of 120,000 h.p. These additional generators will be installed individually as they are required for increased production.

In discussing his company's plans, Mr. Dale stated that the operation of the new project did not mean that Canadian Utilities planned to shut down any of the existing plants. These will continue to operate with Forestburg providing the additional power required by Alberta's ever-expanding economy.

Mr. Dale's announcement brought forth some information which will be welcomed by Alberta's coal interests. The fuel to be used will be supplied by two local coal producers, Forestburg Collieries and the Battle River Coal Co. It is expected that when the plant opens, early in 1957, coal consumption will run to about 100,000 tons per year. This will go up to 200,000 tons when the second unit is installed, and 300,000 tons when the third and [illegible] begins to operate.

Another point of interest is the fact that the construction of the dam will will cause the formation of a large, extremely pretty lake. It will be half a mile wide by ten miles long, and will contain several picturesque wooded islands. The water which is used to condense exhaust steam from the turbines (distilled water is used in the boilers) [illegible] be quite warm for bathing, and [illegible] be stocked with game fish. It is expected that the area will make an exceptionally fine park and summer resort.

In addition to the initial cost of five million dollars as mentioned, a further expenditure of more than one and a half million will be required. This money will be spent on two transmission lines, one from Forestburg to Vermilion, the other from Forestburg to Halkirk. These lines will carry 69,000 volts, with provision being made for raising the voltage to 132,000 if required in the future. Through these connections, the power will be available to either end of the interconnecting systems at any time. It will also be available to the Grid System, under which the various power companies in the province are able to supply current to one another in times of crisis.

Mr. Dale's announcement is regarded as a tribute to the expansion and progress taking place in Alberta today. It is also an expression of faith in the future of private enterprise.

Evangelistic Film To Be Shown Here

'Oiltown, U.S.A.' beautiful color, sound motion picture, and latest release from the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, will be shown Monday Sept. 27 at 8:30 p.m. in the Vermilion Armories by Mr. Wm. F. Beale, West coast representative for the Billy Graham Evangelistic Films Inc.

This feature length motion picture is centered around Billy Graham's evangelistic crusade in Houston, Texas, last summer, and not only features the Graham team, but also such outstanding Christian motion picture artists as Colleen Townsend Evans, Paul Power, Georgia Lee, Robert Clarke, Cindy Walker, Redd Harper and Ralph Ward. Incidental music is supplied by Andy Parker and the Plainsmen and the musical score was arranged by Ralph Carmichael. Dick Ross of Great Commission Films directed and produced the film.

The plot revolves around a rich oil magnate played by actor Paul Power, and his beautiful daughter, played by actress Colleen Townsend whose wealth and social life have kept them far from the principals of Christianity. Their chance meeting with converts of the Graham crusade begins an unexpected and exciting train of events which go to make a dynamic and appealing religious motion picture.

'Oiltown, U.S.A.', is actually a sequel to the popular 'Mr. Texas' film, another Billy Graham release which has been the means of over 25,000 persons turning to Christianity.

As a special feature of the evening a ten-minute newsreel of the first four weeks of the London Crusade at Harringay Arena will be shown.

This showing is open to the public with no admission charge. The doors will open at 8 p.m. 12-12c

BRITAIN BUYS FROM CANADA

Britain continued to buy impressive amounts of Canadian products in the first seven months of this year though the overall U.K. imports from Canada were lower than for the same period last year. Statistics just released in London by the Board of Trade show that the British imports from Canada of fish, tobacco, rubber, softwood, pulp and paper, petroleum, chemicals, non-ferrous base metals and electric machinery have all increased in 1954 over last year's figures.

WILDMERE WINKS

(Held over from last week)

The community along with the writer extends deepest sympathy to Mrs. Alfred Green and Mr. James Irving of Auburndale on the passing of their brother John in Edmonton last week. John was [illegible] here and later as a young man became a salesman for the I.H.C., a position he held for 40 years before retiring in 1951. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, two sons and a daughter besides his relatives here.

We extend heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Marklund of Kokness on the loss of her mother Mrs. Townsend, formerly of Mannville. One by one the old timers who did so much at opening up this vast country are being called home to their well-earned rest. It can be truly said, "Well done thy good and faithful servant, take now thy rest".

We congratulate our faithful mail man Mr. Geo. Martin who has not missed many mail days in his 16 years of service to us. Even in that short span of time he has seen quite a number of changes and improvements on his route. He will not forget no doubt the long wearisome plodding of his faithful horses through the deep snow to get the mail delivered in his first year on the job. Now he can nearly always get around his route by truck as roads have been improved very greatly since the horse and buggy days.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith and daughters Diana and Georgina of Bon Accord spent the weekend visiting relatives in our district. We are pleased to say little Georgina's arm is nearly normal now. She was born with a tumor on it. The arm at one time measured nearly ten inches around. With constant care and attention it is doing fine.

There was a nice attendance at church on Sunday evening. Rev. MacKay of Vermilion gave a very interesting sermon, one that could be put to good use in our daily lives. How much better this world would be if everyone could show Meekness, Patience, Love and Peace to one another. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Osterberg had their little son Barry and baby daughter Elaine Ida baptized, also Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howard their son Philip Lloyd baptized by Rev. MacKay. Next Sunday is our last Sunday of church. Please keep in mind that it will be held at 3 Sunday afternoon with a social hour following. Mr. Plant leaves that evening on his return home to resume his studies. We will miss him greatly and the inspiring sermons we have enjoyed all summer.

Margaret Whitlock who successfully passed her Grade 10 is now taking Grade 11 in Vermilion. Bobby Graham who took Grade 10 at Kitscoty also passed but Bobby did not go back this term.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. D. Johnston (nee Jean Gilholme) of New Westminster on the birth of twin sons this month, brothers for three little sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Gilholme of Edmonton now have 8 grandchildren.

Mrs. Moore, we have not seen you the past few Saturdays. Where are you keeping yourself?

We enjoyed hearing our news editor Mr. Ashley Cooper speak on the radio Sunday afternoon over "News Round Up".

Sunday Sept. 15 Mr. and Mrs. Alex Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison and Bruce all of Bowtell district, visited at the J. Wilson home in Wildmere.

The same Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. Westman and family, also Geo. Batke visited at the J. Batke home in Basswood. Little Beverly Westman who had spent a few days visiting her grandparents returned home with her parents on Monday.

Miss G. Craig of Vermilion visited the week end at the Holte home in Wildmere. She also attended church Sunday evening.

Mrs. A. Osterberg of town came out with Rev. MacKay to see her grandchildren baptized on Sunday. Come again Mrs. Osterberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Kwong Back from Hong Kong

MANNVILLE.—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kwong have returned from Hong Kong, bringing with them their youngest son, George. Mr. Kwong returned to China about two years ago and brought Mrs. Kwong and Jimmie to Canada but was unable to bring George at that time. They left Hong Kong on Wednesday morning and arrived in Edmonton on Thursday morning by plane, and journeyed to Mannville by bus on Thursday night. Needless to say Jimmie is very pleased to see his brother and has been busy showing him around the town.

Canada has ten cities of more than 100,000 population, six in the East and four in the West.

Sept. 11. 1954

The Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alta.
Dear Sir:

Decision of the Farmers' Union of Alberta to go all-out in a big one-day drive to try and enroll a majority (over 50%) is to be commended. As the Hon. Jas. G. Gardiner told a Saskatchewan audience last fall [illegible] be 100% of the farmers signed up and their doing so is 40 years past due.

I am interested though, in the general blueprint of the proposed drive. The Farm Union will conduct the drive from headquarters in line with a 'Range Round-up'. They will have 'foremen' with 'crews of riders' to sweep the uplands and lowlands for farmers to join. All terms used will be borrowed from the range. It is hoped to gather in at least 55% to 60% of the resident farm operators.

If the F.U.A. is successful, it will be the first time in the history of Canada, that a non-commercial educational organization of farm dwellers succeeded in enrolling a clear majority. In fact, we are told that only North Dakota of all the 48 States, has reached the long-sought goal.

It is to be devoutly hoped that Albertans will rise to the occasion. Let's make history as the first provincial body of agrarians in Canada to make its objective. The farmers of Manitoba enlisted 43% Saskatchewan 48% and Alberta has only to double its present farm union sign-up in order to 'break' the record.

Some say it can't be done. They said that about climbing Everest and the 4-minute mile. Well, the impossible was done in those fields of activity. Alberta can - and we hope will - 'break' the record in the field of farm organization.

Yours truly,
Mildred G. Redman,
Director Dist. 7, F.U.A.

GREEN TOMATOES

Many of you will have your green tomatoes picked, just waiting for them to ripen. Only 'mature greens' those that are about to turn color and often with a white spot around the blossom end will ripen successfully. 'Immature Greens' will not ripen and are likely to [illegible] if kept too long. It is best to use these as soon after picking as possible.

SOME WAYS TO USE GREEN TOMATOES

Fry or boil them by cutting in ¼ inch slices, dip in beaten egg, then flour or bread crumb and cook until tender [illegible] with grated cheese if desired.

Quarter and add with other vegetables to meat stew.

Stuff green tomatoes with buttered bread crumbs, top with cheese and bake or scallop, alternating layers of tomatoes and bread crumbs and top with grated cheese.

For marmalade, relish, mincemeat cake and cookie recipes using green tomatoes write for the recipe sheets "Green Tomato Recipes".

ROSE HIP CATSUP

Significant Figures

On this planet there are 2400 million human beings. Underdeveloped countries account for 1600 million. Intermediate countries have 425 million. The highly developed countries have 375 million inhabitants. Of the world's total population, 70% is still non-Communist. In underdeveloped countries 1100 millions are non-Communists. These 1,100 millions may well determine the course of civilization. Hence the initiated and financed in undeveloped countries by the free nations, projects such as the Point Four Plan and the Colombo Plan.

PAVING HELD UP BY WEATHER

Paving of roads in the town's business section is being held up by the cold, damp weather. Three blocks have had the preliminary oiling ready for the hard surface, with all the remaining roads prepared to the oil coating stage.

The mix plant in the meanwhile is held up in its arrival here as it has three hours work to do on a previous contract and warmer temperatures are awaited in order to finish the job.

While town officials are still hoping for the best, the wintery trend of the weather is beginning to make the completion of the hard surfacing program this fall very very doubtful.

Dedication Service Held At First United Church

The Dedication services for the recently renovated sanctuary of the United church were held on Sunday, Sept. 19.

Dr. G. H. Villett, B.A., B.D., the Principal of Alberta college, Edmonton, spoke to a well filled church at both morning and evening services. In the morning Dr. Villett spoke on the theme 'Hands' and at the evening service he spoke very forcefully on the words of the Apostle Paul, "Wherever I go, thank God, He makes my life a constant pageant of triumph in Christ, diffusing the perfume of His knowledge by me. (11 Corinthians 11 James Moffat translation). This text with its practical application deeply impressed those who heard it.

At the evening service of worship, Dr. Villett conducted the Dedication service at which time the sanctuary was dedicated to the Glory of God and His service in this community.

The Committee of Stewards deserve a great deal of credit for the many hours of planning and work in order that God's house might be a place of beauty.

All are informed that the Family Night services commence this Sunday, Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. For this first Family service it is hoped to have the Concordian-Lutheran film entitled 'Torn Between These Two'. Those who have seen these films appreciate them very much. Come and bring a friend.

Construction Swings Into High Gear

Construction which has been on the slow side so far this year, has really swung into high gear with the approach of winter.

Headlining the construction of course is the addition to the hospital which will double the size of that building. It is hoped to have this closed in before cold weather so that work on the interior can be carried out all winter.

In the business section the biggest project at present is the new service station being erected by Alex Marian. He has moved his small station back and is incorporating it into a much larger structure, which will present an ultra-modern service station appearance when completed. $8000 is the amount of this building permit.

In the meanwhile efforts are being made to overcome the shortage of houses in town. In the east end nearing completion are houses erected by Henry Geeraert, Sandy Wright and Lorne Dowling. E. Coulburn has a good start on his new home while Julius Mueller has taken out a permit for a new house.

The same story is noted in the west end of town. George Senz has a new home well on its way to being finished, as has Raoul Bodard located out toward the hospital. Nick Kowalchuk has construction started on his home on one of the former tennis court lots alongside the Senz residence, while George Cooper has a new house built on the south side.

Vermilion Beverages have an addition nearing completion to house heating boiler and equipment. St. Saviour's church is adding a vestry and additional Sunday school space to the north side of the church, so fast has that Sunday school grown that already all the classes cannot be accommodated in the parish hall only recently built.

The M.D. of Vermilion River plans to build a machine storage shed measuring 50 by 120 feet at a cost of $3250.

House additions, improvements and new private garages are very much in evidence.

At Vermilion October 14th and 15th

Expect 260 School Teachers To Attend Two-Day Convention

Teachers from three school divisions, Vegreville, Wainwright and Vermilion to the number of 260 are expected to attend the annual fall convention to be held at the school of agriculture, Vermilion on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 14 and 15. Mr. James A. Smith, of Kitscoty, convention secretary, announced the dates this week.

The program on Thursday will be devoted to the improvement and inter-change of ideas on teaching methods at many group discussions at the various school levels. At 3.30 there is the Superintendents' period. At 6:30 Thursday evening a banquet will be held in the dining room with Mr. S. Lindstedt, Superintendent of Schools of the Rocky Mountain division as the guest speaker. The banquet is followed at 9 p.m. by a dance in the school gymnasium to which the general public is invited.

FRIDAY PROGRAMS

Programs on Friday are more general in nature with a joint meeting of the A.T.A. locals of the three divisions. Mr John Fabian is the chairman and guest speakers are F. J. Edwards and F. J. C. Seymour, A.T.A. officials. This is followed by the separate annual general meetings of the three A.T.A. locals.

There are two guest speakers scheduled for the afternoon. Mr. D. R. Cameron, Registrar, Dept. of Education, and Mr. N. V. Scarfe, Dean of the Faculty of Education, University of Manitoba.

Gerry Moffat Moved To Grand Prairie

R. C. "Gerry" Moffat, popular assistant district agriculturist here for the past year, is being transferred to Grande Prairie and will shortly leave to commence his duties there as District Agriculturist. Gerry is in the north town making arrangements for the move at the present time.

Besides being a good Agriculturist, Gerry's departure deprives the town of the best baseball promoter here for many a year. He managed the club in Vermilion and with the ardent support of his team members, played in a baseball league and won the championship. For the first time in Vermilion's history baseball was played right through the summer until the end of August. Gerry is credited with injecting a lot of interest into the game. He was also a valuable member of the Tigers hockey team, leaving another vacancy in that organization that won't be any too easy to fill.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Moffat is generally regretted. It was taken for granted however that Gerry would soon be given a territory of his own to administer as a D.A., and that his stay here would not be of long duration. Best of wishes accompany the family to their new home in the thriving centre of Grande Prairie.

7 Vermilion Girls Start Training For Nurses

Seven Vermilion high school graduates have now reported to various hospitals in Edmonton and have commenced their three-year nurse-in-training courses.

Registering at the University hospital were Joan Lingings, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. Lingings recently moved to Calgary; Joan Maxwell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Maxwell; Betty Barlow, daughter of Mr and Mrs. H. Barlow of Buffalo Coulee district, and Iris Lind daughter of Mr. and George Lind.

At the Royal Alexandra hospital are Betty Hawley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hawley and Marian Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manson Barr.

Annual Boy Scout Canvass Oct. 1; Apple Day Saturday, Oct. 2

The Vermilion Boy Scouts Association and Boy Scout Troop are sponsoring their annual Apple Day drive for funds on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 1 and 2.

On Friday the Association will carry out a canvass of business places, while on Saturday, Oct. 2, the Scouts themselves will hold their annual Apple Day.

Funds are required to supply heat, light and maintenance for the Scout Hall, badges, prizes, test and training matter and equipment, as well as camping equipment, camp operation and a score of other incidentals.

200 BOYS AND GIRLS

Because of the generous and whole-hearted support of the community as a whole this past year, it has been possible to maintain this organization which embraces some 200 boys and girls in Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies.

Outstanding leadership and wide-spread public support is providing numbers of our boys and girls with a character training, comprehensive in scope and high in accomplishment.

GUIDES — Mrs. Jean Manyluk, Mrs. G. Clendenning.

SCOUTS — Mr. Wm. Nakivelle, Mr. Mitchell Taylor.

As stated before, business men will be approached to donate to the Scout organization on Friday, while the Troop will carry out their annual Apple Day on Saturday.

Evangelistic Film Deeply Impressive

The Billy Graham Evangelistic film "Oiltown" shown here in the armories on Monday evening, attracted an audience close to 500 which completely filled the seating accommodation in the hall.

The drama created a deep and lasting impression, while the words and appearance of Billy Graham who appears in the film, and in a newsreel taken during his crusade in London, was inspirational.

Listening to him speak gave an insight into the reason he attracts larger attendances at his meetings than anyone in history.

Ileen was accompanied by her mother who spent two weeks there, returning home last week end.

Greenlawn Club Plans Projects

The September meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill club was held in Greenlawn hall with 11 members present.

The secretary had on hand a reply from the Salvation Army asking that we send the blanket to a burned out family in the Peace River country. Another reminder of the widespread work of the Salvation Army.

The suggestion that we help the Dewberry Home and School in their effort to start a library fund was brought before the meeting. After a lengthy discussion it was moved and passed that we contribute $25.

Since the fall season is here again the topic of chicken supper was brought up. Nov. 5th is the date to look forward to; providing of course that the weather co-operates and harvesting is finished.

After being entertained by Myrtle McMullen with a few tricky riddles and timely verses, the meeting adjourned. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Max Maddex.

WEATHER SUFFERS BAD RELAPSE

After a week of perfect weather which came to an end on Monday, the weather suffered a serious relapse even to the point where it snowed enough to whiten the ground Wednesday night.

Farmers took full advantage of the good week, the first fine weather they have had since the harvest season was supposed to have started, with the result that some 60 per cent of the wheat has been cut, most of it with the binder and stooked. That which has been combined is grading mostly No. 5, a little 3 and 4 and 6. The oats threshed so far are grading No. 1 Feed with Barley going No. 1 and 2 Feed.

There has been a big demand for stookers this fall indicating that the farmers have no faith in this freak year and would rather have their grain in stooks than in the swath or standing in case the weather man decides on an early snowfall and winter.

Near Com. President At Lloydminster

Responding to an invitation from the Lloydminster Chamber of Commerce, seven members of the local Board of Trade attended a banquet at the Border town on Tuesday evening. The guest speaker was Mr W. J. Borrie of Vancouver, the President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, making this a very outstanding occasion. The banquet and entertainment was in keeping with the visit and presence of such a high official.

Glowing reports of the event with high praise for the Lloydminster body in carrying out such an ambitious undertaking in such excellent fashion, is given by all the local men attending.

Those present from the Vermilion board were the president K.G. Urquhart, secretary F. J. Richardson, E. Herzog, K. Chalmers, I. Miller, E. Clendenning and D. R. Mitchell.

1955 Fall Rally Planned For Vermilion

100 Attend W. M. S. Presbyterial

WMS PRESBY MEET [illegible]

More than one hundred women attended the autumn rally of St. Paul United W.M.S. Presbyterial held Sept. 20 in Wainwright United church. The President, Mrs. J. A. Hamilton was in the chair and the session was opened with an inspiring devotional service on the theme "Faith" conducted by Irma auxiliary. Mrs. McPherson welcomed the Presbyterial on behalf of Wainwright W.M.S. and Rev. D. W. MacPherson brought greetings from Presbytery.

The roll call showed most societies represented. Several reports were heard and the treasurer urged all auxiliaries to remit promptly each quarter. The books are closed on Jan. 5 each year.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Kenneth Maath, who represented the United Church of Northern India at the World Council of Churches at Evanston, gave a very informative and interesting address to an appreciative audience. She outlined the evolution of the Womanhood of India in four stages: 1. In early times women of India were honored and a woman chose her husband; 2. Then came a dark stage in Indian womanhood 1200 A.D. The Moslems and the Hindus were enemies and the Purdah system was originated for protection. Child marriage was arranged and a widow's lot was hard; 3. 1600-1800 the British came for trading and the missionaries came bringing light. The practice of burning a wife when her husband died was abolished; 4. 1980 to the present. This was the time of the movement for independence and now Indian women have complete emancipation and take part in politics even becoming economists and ambassadors. Social changes have followed.

Only 2 per cent of the population of India is Christian. In the United Church of Northern India composed of Presbyterian, Congregational, Moravian and Reformed Evangelical Churches, there are 434,000 baptized communicants, but no organized women's work. Very primitive household tools in Indian homes make cooking a full-time job for the housewife. However, educated Christian women workers have become teachers mostly in primary schools, doctors, nurses and midwives, so they make an important contribution to the improvement of social conditions.

After an organ selection by Mrs. Adam, Miss Ila Newton, W.M.S. worker at Vilna, spoke of her work in that district. It is 50 years since this field was first started at Wastao so that anniversary was observed recently. Miss Newton also reported on the successful Girls' camp this summer at Whitney Lake.

It is planned to hold the 1955 autumn rally at Vermilion.

After the close of the meeting, those present enjoyed a second bountiful meal served by Wainwright Women's Association.

Local Gideons Active

On Sunday Sept. 19 four local Gideons, E. Clendenning, O. Gunderson, R. Watkins and E. Schurman, visited Marwayne and along with two Gideons at that town, Dick and Albin Swanson, and another from Lloydminster, John Lupul held a service in the Marwayne Alliance church.

This is one of several such services held during the summer. Others were at Peoples Mission Wainwright; United church, Elk Point; Alliance chapel Vermilion and Irma, and the Salvation Army Vermilion.

The purpose of these services being to explain the Gideon ministry of scripture distribution in schools, jails, hospitals, hotels, etc. soliciting support and ministering in local pulpits in the absence of the regular preacher.

Mainline C. N. R. Trains Routed Through Vermilion

Transcontinental Canadian National trains were routed through Vermilion on Wednesday of last week due to trouble on the main line near Biggar. The eastbound passed through town at 11 a.m. and made quite a stop here allowing local folks to get a glimpse through the 17 ultra modern and luxuriously fitted and air conditioned coaches in use on the trans continental trains. It would be nice to have them running through Vermilion every day.

Standardizing Fire Hose Couplings

Just in case you are wondering about the mobile machine shop set up beside the firehall in Vermilion, the purpose of this is to standardize the threads on all fire hose couplings. In Alberta the standard thread is 8 per inch. This mobile machine unit, travelling in the interests of Alberta Mutual Aid and sponsored by Civil Defence visits every town and changes over the threads wherever necessary. They are now nearing the end of their task which was a big one the changing over of between 17,000 and 18,000 couplings.

The mutual aid plan is not only in cases of war and air raids but in case of a fire in a neighboring town or a disaster of any kind where fire hose is needed. The mobile unit is a two man setup and there are two of them working in Alberta.

Mr McMann who is in charge of the operation in Vermilion was a guest at the Board of Trade luncheon meeting on Wednesday. He outlined the purposes of his visit and gave the gathering an insight into what was taking place.

Harvest Garden And Cut Greenfeed

NEIGHBORS RALLY TO HELP INJURED BALDWIN FAMILY

On Sunday morning Sept. 26 a request for help was sent out around the Clovelly and Stellaville districts for help to get up the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baldwin who along with their daughter Vivian were seriously injured in a highway accident recently and hospitalized for an indefinite period. Considering the time of year and lateness of the harvest the response was magnificent to say the least. Some two hours after the request was made around 35 men, women and children were at work in the Baldwin garden and within some four hours everything in sight was stored in the cellar, including a patch of potatoes of no small size. No children have as yet been reported missing.

It is actions of this nature that make one feel his community is a good place in which to live. There is nothing finer than the desire of the people of any community to help one another and give freely of their time and help when the need arises.

Credit is also due to Mr. Bill Wharry and Mr. Norman Wharry of Mannville for cutting the green feed.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH, YIELDING TO NEW...

These words spoken so long ago are still proving themselves very true. In many cases passing of the old order is hailed with delight as usually something better takes its place. In other instances it causes quite a pang as witness the closing down of the Rose' mill here at the end of last year. Still again, some changes do not benefit anyone and cause a distinct pain in the pocket book, created by force of circumstances.

Vermilion business men are going through this stage at the present time the cause being the decision of the co-operation of the central steam plant which has supplied most for some 40 customers and which commenced operation back in 1920.

Instituted as a subsidiary to the Vermilion power plant in 1920 at a cost of $50,000 the steam plant retired this indebtedness in six years instead of two, and so long as the town owned the power plant operation was on a satisfactory basis and proved a valuable source of extra income. Use was made of exhaust steam for heating and even though this steam was required in colder periods, it still made a handsome profit for the town's ratepayers. No extra help was required and very little was spent on fire fighting for many years.

Apparently it was too good to last and when it came to the time when it appeared wise for the town to sell their municipally owned power plant to those who were in the business of supplying electricity on a large scale the steam boat became quite a point in the negotiations.

Naturally enough, the town council wanted to sell everything including the central heat plant. The Utilities in question didn't want anything to do with central heating. For awhile negotiations hung on that point. The Utilities would only proved the more convincing debaters. The result was that the town council was left to operate a central heating plant that was deemed practical solely on the fact that it was designed as a subsidiary operation, to function on waste or exhaust steam to act as its lifeblood. It was soon found that despite the talk about automatic controls, need for one man only or, that a full staff of men would be required just as many as needed to operate the entire system of steam boat and all. The price of gas increased and after a winter's operation the overall economy of that they were unable to carry on. This left the steam boat standing in a lurch. They now had discarding heating systems. Other years of central heating they were pointed to that and that alone, many had no place to put boiler and fuel. The steam plant thoroughly disheartened to try their hand at other fuels, succeeded to be the only one. Return order these boiler rooms were converted to gas or private heating with the change in hands of the furnaces, heating so much applied for repairs and maintenance.

This spring at a special meeting of the Board of users' association it was reportedly decided that it was impossible to carry on. Closing down proved a costly venture not only to individuals but to town taxpayers as well. Some systems had to be put into high school, the town hall, arena rink, in public work as the Elks and Legion. In business places the majority of which were on the central system, and to a number of householders in the west end of town who happened to be located along the steam line to the high school.

In operation for 36 years, in its time it made money for the town and attracted a lot of publicity as it was the only one of its kind in Alberta in this particular case the old order changed, and the change was a costly and rather a regrettable one

Democracy Begins With Me...

The following address is being published at the request of the National Affairs committee of the Vermilion Board of Trade This is the prize-winning address in the recent Canadian Legion public-speaking contest for Ontario's elementary school pupils. The speech was given by Richard Yeomans, 13 years of age and a pupil in Grade 8 of St. Basil's school, Branford. The basic philosophy is very impressive and it is reproduced in full.

There is an old saying, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and the proof that a system of government is good is this: All the the citizens enjoy freedom and security. What do we mean by freedom and security? We mean that a man is regarded as an intelligent, reasonable and responsible human being who therefore has the right to run his own life with as little outside interference as possible. There is no sense in saying that a man is free and secure if he can't make a move without an elaborate array of planners, expert committees, and welfare officials pouncing on him to decide the sort of work he should do the place he should live, the kind of food he should eat, the provision he should make for his old age or the type of education he should give his children. A free man has rights which antedate the state. Such rights are freedom to worship God, freedom to rear and educate his own children, freedom to choose his own trade or profession, freedom to earn his own little fortune and to keep it for his own use, the right to be protected from the violence and tyranny of ruthless parties, or powerful interests. He is considered to have enough common sense and native decency to attend to the business of life with unwarranted assistance.

Democracy in the system of government that must nearly achieve the ideal. It regards the individual as the heart of society. His welfare must be sensed if the body is to function properly. In a society that is good must be made up of good men, of men who know their ultimate good and how to achieve it, and who understand the capable of sacrificing a society which will serve the real needs of human life. I want to do my part in leading Canada a fit dwelling place for free men. I have to learn the sort of man who will be strong in defence of the right and ever ready to fight against the wrong.

How can I achieve this high destiny? In the first place. It is plain I must know the difference between right and wrong. How can I make the good choice unless I have a permanent standard by which to judge my actions? I need religious instruction and that I can govern my conduct by the law of God. Not so long ago, Churchill and Roosevelt got on eight sessions by which to re-make the world. Who remembers these eight points? Nobody? Would Churchill please stand them with his life? But where God's law is recognized, man's rights are secure. The Ten Commandments can only become law in a free running democracy. The violations still spoken the good order of human society. In the first place, I must be ready to accept responsibility for my actions. However can I be free without free-will? In order to exercise this God-given gift I must be prepared to take the consequences of my acts of action. For if the welfare state, the trade union, the monopolistic state, or the controlled press move me here and there like a puppet, I am no longer a man but a thing. Who cares of my actions? Will I even have any say in them? But if I have the power of self-discipline, otherwise my activities could become a menace to myself and others. Therefore, I have to develop the habit of saying 'no' to pleasant things which would harm myself or others, and the habit of saying 'yes' to things which go against the grain, but which are good and useful. Thirdly, I must develop my power to think, to sift the true from the false, to form good judgments. This is the only way I can safeguard myself and my country against propaganda and indoctrination of false ideals. I must see that I get education which will make it possible for me to improve the world, and not just the sort of training which will fit me to find a comfortable place in things as they are. This means that I will have a proper understanding of Canada's glorious past, and will try to build Canada's future on the achievements of those pioneers who crossed the first human out of the Canadian wilderness. I must make the best use of stone or wood, or wheat fields or uranium mines, but out of the characters of their citizens. Let me live for a greater Canada, through greater Canadians!

FALL TEA AND BAZAAR

St. Saviour's W.A. will hold their annual fall tea and sale of work on Saturday Nov. 27 in the parish hall. 14c

"GREEN ACRES"

QUALITY HOGS IN DEMAND

This summer hog prices were higher in Canada than in the United States. Then why have we exported over 240,000 hogs to the U.S. in six months? The reason is that Canadian hogs are leaner and meatier pork is in demand in U.S. as well as in Canada. Now is the time to place your order for a 7 months old purebred Yorkshire boar for $75 delivered to your station under the Alberta Government Swine Improvement Policy.

TOUGH AND DAMP GRAIN

The Canada Wheat Board has warned against threshing tough or damp grain this year. The Board states that it will be impossible to handle tough and damp grain. Such grain will likely heat in farm bins before it can be sold.

SELKIRK WHEAT

This rust resistant wheat will be in big demand next year. Anyone with breaking or clean summerfallow land should plant Selkirk for a sure seed. Last spring farmers were allowed only six bushels each. This year also Selkirk will be restricted to pedigreed seed only. Let me know now if you want to raise seed of this variety.

CATTLE SHUTES

I have just received a circular describing a corral and shute for handling cattle. This is something vaccinations this fall. Get your copy at my office. One of these days when the crop is too wet to thresh is a good time to construct one of these easy to make cattle shutes.

bother and the 'wet' a lot of time when he comes around for Bang's we have needed for years. It only takes a few posts and a hammer to make and it will save you a lot of. FREE SHUTE PLANS AVAILABLE

About six low growing trees and shrubs will be put up in bundles for farm planting next spring. The bundles contain about 50 hardy shrubs such as Mountain Ash, Honeysuckle, Elderberry, etc. The shrubs are to be used for low windbreaks near farm buildings. All orders should be placed now at this office. Trees will be shipped from the Alberta Government nursery early in the spring.

TRIP TO THE ROYAL

Groups of farmers and others are going to the Royal Show, Toronto. From some districts in Alberta every year. We have never got a group lined up from this area. It takes 15 people going down in the same sleeper car to qualify for the half fare rates. See Mr. Heckbert, Secretary-Manager of the Vermilion Agricultural Society for more information.

The east side of the Alberta hotel was badly charred and all the window sashes on that side were destroyed. 9 head of horses in the livery barn were burned. This was the second barn on this same site to be destroyed by fire. The first one back in 1908.

EVERYONE HELPS WITH THE HARVEST AT DELAY

The work of five harvest weather has been enjoyed. Women and children were giving help in many ways — Grandma making meals, lunches for the field, wife driving the tractor and after school hours the younger fry taking over. We noticed Mima Scrimshaw driving the tractor and Daddy Charlie on the binder, and Mima becoming expert enough to be able to turn the corners without getting all four wheels of the machine into the grain — and there is Frances Keoughlahd helping with the spuds when we could go on and on.

The Home and School executive met Thursday night with a full attendance, one member coming in six miles, just off the binder and without his supper. That was Jack Hardstaffe, hats off to you Jack! Our first Home and School meeting is planned for Oct. 4.

Noticed Clarence Gould on his way home from Vermilion where he is working on the new hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Williams visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Dedelly had dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cars.

Mr. Jones visited with his daughter Mrs. King and Mr. King at the C.N.R. camp.

Miss Bessie Anderson entertained at afternoon tea in honor of Mrs. R. Martin being the occasion of Mrs. Martin's 70th birthday. Present were Mrs. Betty Fryer and her mother Mrs. Caldwell who hails from the Pacific coast, Mrs. Elsie Clarke and the boys, Mrs. Portin of Ordon Lake, Gladys and Mabel Osman. An all set at lunch which was bountiful, we sang 'Happy Birthday' and the wee boys blew the candles out on the birthday cake.

This may be a little late but we didn't hear of it until now: Mrs. Linton and Mrs. Fyfe went out on a visiting tour, a bit too soon after the rains. "They went to see Mrs. Linton's brother and sister in the people loved him as a father He was always ready to help when trouble had to be met, and many a family was helped by his quiet reasoning and advice. He will be greatly missed from among these hill

At Dewberry on Sunday Sept. 19 a service was held in his memory. Rev. C. W. Mackay preached a sermon of hope and all were given a glimpse of the region beyond where we shall find rest in higher and nobler living The Dewberry United church choir rendered the anthem "I Come to the Garden Alone", by request.

The Madden family wish to thank all their friends and neighbors for the help and kindnesses received during their time of trial and sorrow.

20 Delegates From District At Convention

Approximately 20 delegates were in Edmonton from Vermilion and district to attend the Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, Sept. 17 to 19. On Sunday morning Mr. M. Warren of Vermilion addressed the convention on the subject "Happy Giving". He chose as a theme Acts 20:35 N.W. ..... "There is more happiness in giving than there is in receiving". As an example he pointed out that God has given us His Word His Son, and even life itself, because He finds happiness in giving People who find greatest happiness in giving to others. "Misers are not happy people", he stated. A true Christian will help others open up a treasure chest in their own home the Bible. That is the most valuable gift they can receive.

A. 4 Prisoners, also of Vermilion, illustrated how a minister can present an appealing sermon by shoeing that the Bible is an accurate book of science, a history book, and a book of true prophecy. Mrs. Warren then demonstrated how women, too, can present Bible sermons. She stated: "A lot of people feel that they should store up money but the Bible says that knowledge is more important. Ecclesiastes 7:12 says, 'For wisdom is a defence and money is a defence. but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it'"

Highlight of the convention was the public talk in the Strand theatre by J. H. Nathan, entitled "Does God Really Care?"

New Silver Pattern Has Dramatic Lines

Striking new contour that flows with the feeling of today's freedom of living is Community's newest silverplate pattern "South Seas." Following no ordinary line of design, the handles reverse like the surging sea, ending in subtle curves that resemble the crest of a wave. Exceedingly correct, too, are the wider fork tines, an inch center to center, the wider and shallower spoon bowls for smoother dipping; the shorter, perfectly balanced knife blades with serrated inner edge like seaweed knife.

Nothing quite so dramatic has happened in the silver world for many, many years. Nothing is quite so appropriate for this modern generation, an era that points up the importance of freedom of life.

Farm Union Heads Meet Mr. Howe

On Wednesday Sept. 15, a Farm Union delegation met Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, at Saskatoon. The delegation was headed by J. L. Phelps, Chairman of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, and Henry Young, President of the F.U.A.

At this meeting the need for some system of advances to farmers against grain stored on farms was impressed very strongly on Mr Howe. It was pointed out that unless grain producers can be financed until the main part of the crop is harvested, many will have great difficulty in carrying on and many businesses dependent on farm trade will face a crisis.

Some other points on which the farm Unions delegation asked for action were:

1. Immediate settlement of final payments on the 1954 oats and barley pool.

2. An interim payment on 1953 wheat at an early date.

3. Establishment of a Parity Price on all wheat consumed in Canada.

An Unsurpassed Printing Service
Offered by The Vermilion Standard

Throughout the past year, the plant and printing equipment of The Standard has undergone enlargement and renewing, with the result that an unsurpassed newspaper and job printing service is now offered the general public.

The new and modern equipment enables The Standard to offer a larger range of work, plus much faster delivery.

OUTSIDE ORDERS

Business firms in neighboring towns and villages need only send along a sample of the job required. It will be delivered within a few days. Prices are based on the list approved by the Alberta Graphic Arts and by the Franklin Printing Catalogue, recognized as the basis of printing prices for all of North America. Customers are assured of fair and just prices.

No. 1 MIEHLE NEWSPAPER PRESS

Shown above is the new No. 1 Miehle Press which prints The Standard and all larger bills and posters. Installed at a cost of $8,000.00, it does a superb printing job.

We have an illustration for practically everything you have to advertise. Choice of 1,000 cuts, splash headings, distinctive type, etc., etc.

NEWSPAPER FOLDER

This Omaha Folder does away with the excessive hand folding and inserting of The Standard, which previous to its installation used to practically submerge the staff weekly. It has proven itself a great time saver.

WE PRINT—

Tickets of every kind — Programs for every occasion — Envelopes of all sizes — Letterheads, Noteheads, Statements and Monthly Account Forms — Ruled Forms of all kinds — Circular Letters — Cheques — Financial Statements — Wedding Invitations — Auction Sale Bills at short notice — Handbills, Circulars, Fliers of every size and description.

NEW THREE-MAGAZINE TYPE-SETTING MACHINE

FULLY AUTOMATIC MIEHLE VERTICAL

Above is our main job printing press. It is called the Miehle Vertical, is fully automatic, and prints everything from a No. 8 envelope or post card size jobs up to posters 13x20 inches. It is the means of completing jobs quickly and efficiently.

The Standard has two additional job presses in the plant's equipment.

Pleasant Valley

The valley is a wonderful sight to behold, leaves are all colors of the rainbow. At time of writing everything was dry and everyone was working hard and long The potatoes seem to be quite wet in the ground however most people are now digging them.

Mr. Wellington gave us a good laugh saying that he fell over in the wheelbarrow in the yard and hurt his hip. He thinks that he has a sliver in it.

Then we met Mrs. Wellington who told us about a badly injured cow they have. It appears she knocked the lady right into the slough in order to get to her calf. She might easily have been drowned. This is only a sample of fun down on the farm.

Even the critter is nursing a few bruises among them from a fall or two.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Sobey were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moore the writer and hubby left shortly after for farm duty. It was a real enjoyable visit

The leaves are falling fast and it looks very much as if every

SALT CHART REMOVES GUESSWORK

The "pinch" and "dash" of salt our grandmothers used have been brought down to exact measure by modern cooks. Above is a chart of the salt needed for each vegetable or fish. Today's homemaker can cut with exactness by following this simple guide. Slightly larger amounts of salt should be used during hot summer months to prevent heat fag which results when excessive perspiration depletes the body of necessary salt.

WOODVALE DISTRICT ALARMED BY PROSPECT OF RATS

A Norway rat has been killed at the Wes Lamport farm. It would be a wise thing to do to look out for these animals. It probably is not a stray The saying goes that where one rat is seen, hundreds more will be about As rat control seems to be a provincial matter, could not local organizations apply for it? If all get together maybe something will be done. If the present tendency to do nothing about it is continued it is a certainty that the country will soon be overrun with rats.

Finally we have had a week of nice weather and binders, mowers, combines and swathers are all being used to good advantage. If it stays dry now there is a good chance to get the crop safely harvested Though the wheat crop is a disappointment barley and oats promise to be good.

Mrs. A. McQuid was unfortunate indeed to break her wrist when she fell while walking in the yard. It is in a cast now and healing well

THE STAGETTES

When the roll was called on Tuesday night (we surely appreciated that warm kitchen) attendance numbered 18 and would have been greater had there been no Home and School meeting at the same time to keep about six of our teaching friends away. This number, of course, included our prospective members of whom Marina Capeton, Marie Perky, Ethyl Dickson, and Marie Miller were present. Lena, who is an active Stagette from way back . . . way, way way (I guess that's far enough) outlined the general purpose and the operation of the club to the visitors. She did a good job of it too. Having been president, delegate to conventions, district governor when convention was held in Vermilion, and holder of other positions on the executive Lena has a pretty thorough knowledge of Stagettes. (That should be good for a coffee)

In case you haven't noticed any of the posters around town yet, the Harvest ball is the 19th of October all right, with St Paul Keynotes providing the music. The girls all have tickets now so hurry and buy yours before they turn on the heat!

Until this year Stagette Week has been celebrated the first full week in November but was changed at the National convention to the first full week in October with the idea in mind of having warmer weather for the various activities. All clubs of the Association start the week with a church parade on Sunday, and the rest of the week is left to the discretion of the individual club with the main object being advertising and arousing outside interest in Stagettes. Every evening of that week finds the girls together and in uniform someplace or another. It's hard on the pocket-book for Club funds are never used, but we have a lot of fun and get around the country. The following Tuesday is, brace yourself, initiation night — the night of nights. With Lil at the controls in the torture chamber you can expect anything. I wonder if Mr Caron has started training. The girls nearly got him last year.

Besides the initiation committee of which Lil was nominated convener, a couple of other committee conveners were chosen. Lena, to head the Social committee; Marina (we like to start 'em early) to take charge of the Sick committee. Next week we should have a few more names on our list.

Checking — you can always depend on that — Edna and Marina are the next on the list.

The new boxing ring recently installed in Madison Square Garden can be knocked down almost as fast as some fighters we could name. This is important to the Garden, with its quick-change schedule of sports events, from boxing to basketball to hockey and back to boxing again. Made of lightweight aluminum, this ring promises to be more than a match for the toughest heavyweight.

Aluminum is constantly making news in our own sports world. Anglers, yachtsmen and other strenuous types go for the light, strong, non-rusting equipment made by Canadian manufacturers from Canadian aluminum. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Strike At Toronto Plant M.-H.-Ferguson

Friday night, Sept. 10, 2800 employees of the Toronto plant of Massey-Harris-Ferguson went out on strike.

Chief issue in the walkout, which came when negotiations collapsed over a new contract, was the Company's refusal to grant the Union demand for a general wage increase of 10 cents an hour. Employee earnings since 1946 have risen by 98 cents an hour.

The Company claimed it could not agree to any action which would further increase the manufacturing costs on farm implements, in view of reduced earnings of farmers and present uncertain crop prospects. In a prepared statement it said it was not asking employees to accept reduced wages but merely to hold the line at present levels. Its wage costs since 1941 have increased by 173.9%.

A Board of Conciliation reported in July that employees' average hourly earnings in M-H-F plants of $1.77 were much ahead of all manufacturing in Ontario. It said it could not find any justification for a wage increase on any grounds.

Terms of settlement which kept wages at present levels were worked out with the assistance of the Ontario Minister of Labor on Sept. 2 and agreed upon by the Union Joint Bargaining committee for all Canadian plants.

Employees in the M-H-F plant in Woodstock and the three plants in Brantford voted to accept the agreement on this basis and are continuing at work. Toronto plant employees took strike action.

The youngest children are the most vulnerable to disease, warns the Health League of Canada. Infants should be immunized against whooping cough, diphteria, lockjaw and smallpox by the time they are 3 to 6 months old. And 'booster' doses should be administered during pre-school and school years in order to keep their guard up against these notorious child killers.

Mannville H. & S. Present Scholarships To Students

MANNVILLE. — The first meeting of the Mannville and District Home and School Association for the new school year was held on Thursday, Sept. 16 with a good attendance. One half of the auditorium has been taken for a class room and there is no the space now that there was. Any special affairs will have to be held after Christmas when the new gym will be completed.

Representatives of the bus routes were not elected in June as there were to be new ones this fall, so after the regular business of the meeting the following were elected: Fidelity, Bird Hill and Claysmore - Stanley Richards; Bloomington, Hamilton - Ed Calder; Lake Geneva, Forest Hill — Mrs. Willie Ross; Challey, Wealthy — Mrs. Pat Cotter; Braes — Ms. Emmett McLaughlin; Minburn, Birch Cr - Mrs. Ray Nicholson; Underwood, [illegible] Mrs. Gartner; Tankerton, Scotstoun — Don Wagner or Louis Smith; Stellaville, Creighton — Oswald Bauer; Claysmore, Clovelly — Harvey Robertson.

Mr. Doherty then introduced the teachers. As there were different parents there as well as several different teachers he introduced all the staff. Grade 1, Mrs. Alice Hamilton, Mrs. Olga Brown; Gr. 2 — Mrs. Mabel Otto, Olga Mackowecki; Gr. 3 — Ruth Rodwell, Mrs Sheila Baldwin, Gr. 4 — Mrs Muriel Lugg, Mrs. Ilene Trynchuk, Gr. 5 — Mrs. Emily Gamble, Grs 5 and 6 — N. Bohaichuk, Gr 6 Mrs. Nielsen; Gr. 7 Mrs. Elizabeth Ross; Grs. 7 and 8 - A. T Rostron; Grs. 8 and 9 J S Misik, Gr. 9 — Mrs. Lily Park Vice-Principal. High school - A. R. Myhre M. J. Jampolsky, M. A., Gertrude Nelson, B. Ed., H. A. Doherty M Ed., Principal. There is at present an enrolment of 550 pupils.

Mr. Cooper who was to be Physical Education instructor but who decided to return to Varsity, gave a short talk on Physical Education.

He urged the Home and School to take an interest in the school playground helping to instal an oval racetrack which would have many uses, volleyball courts, permanent jumping poles, etc. He also remarked that the new gym when completed would be the hub of school life and would need to be used every day to fulfill its purpose.

Mrs. George Young presented the W.I. scholarship to which 8 branches of the W.I. contributed. This scholarship is presented to the Grade 12 student with the highest academic standing and who plans to continue his or her studies further. Miss Sharon Meece was the recipient of the scholarship and she replied very fittingly to Mrs. Young's best wishes, saying that she hoped she would bring honor to this district.

Musical numbers during the evening were given by the trio, Norma McLuckie Connie Gerhart and Doreen Gerhart accompanied by Mrs. McLuckie, and Miss Betty Proudfoot accompanied by Mrs. Elliott.

Mr. Doherty concluded the program with a very interesting and enlightening talk on the 'High School Curriculum' and afterwards answere questions.

As there was no secretary elected at the June meeting those nominated not wishing to act, Mrs. Mary Morrison agreed to take the office for the coming year.

Lunch was served by the lunch committee and meeting adjourned.

Proud of Our Women

How extraordinarily fortunate Canada has been in the appearance and personalities of the young women who have been called by destiny, and by the dazzling character of their achievements, to typify this country in the eye of the world, comments B. K. Sandwell in The Financial Post.

I am not referring to the successive Miss Canadas who have emerged from that remarkable publicity stunt the all-Canada beauty pageant, because I cannot regard their achievements as having anything dazzling about them.

No nation could ask or hope to be represented to the world at large by better emissaries than a Barbara Ann Scott or a Marilyn Bell, to name the two most universally famous of our recent world figures and in such other and diverse lines as golf (Marlene Stewart) and in horseback riding Shirley Thomas we have done superbly.

One Fair Price!

It is quite a job nowadays to figure out which is the right price for any number of articles for sale . . . The government has refused to allow a set price on anything and the battle goes on . . . Let's be sensible about the whole thing . . . Any grade 5 student will know that if a merchant sells his merchandise at a loss for very long, his place is soon closed . . . If a merchant wants to get rich quick and lays on too much profits, he is eventually closed . . . We like the middle road!

We have set a fair price on our musical instruments . . . competitive with anyone anywhere . . . We buy direct from the best manufacturers . . . no middleman to pay. We pay cash for the lowest possible price . . . we won't stoop to the old trick of adding on a hundred dollars and knocking off fifty . . . It's easily done on pianos when not one of you can tell the difference of a hundred dollars on a piano . . . We don't think it's fair to charge you one price and your neighbor another . . . he won't like us and you won't trust us because you will wonder what your other neighbor is paying . . . A Fair Price for Honest Merchandise is still the best for all . . . So when you get offered a $700 piano for $500, beware and check on the right price first. With our low overhead, we will compete with anyone anywhere on our regular prices and we won't coax you by throwing in a television set, kitchen sink or nylon stockings . . . We will throw in however free tuning, courteous service and a guarantee that means you will be satisfied for life!

Health Unit Notes

SOUND ADVICE ON THE COMMON COLD

Is there anyone who hasn't caught cold at one time or another? The common cold is common indeed! Besides making you feel miserable, colds steal your time and money. They fool you, too, because the early signs are often the same as those of more serious illnesses. And long continued colds may pave the way for an attack of pneumonia, tuberculosis, or a chronic infection of the nose, throat, ears, or sinuses. So do your best to kep from catching cold. And if you do catch one, take proper care of yourself so you can get rid of your cold promptly and avoid infecting other people.

TO HELP KEEP FROM CATCHING COLD

1 Insofar as you can, stay away from people who cough or sneeze carelessly who seem to have a cold.

2. Use only clean eating and drinking tensils. Don't share the use of toilet articles, towels, spoons or drinking cups, with anyone else.

3. Always wash your hands with warm water and soap before eating or handling food.

4. Eat properly. In your daily diet include milk and cheese; potatoes and at least two other vegetables; a citrus fruit and tomatoes and one other fruit; fish, meat, or poultry; eggs; cereals and bread and butter; and a moderate amount of sweets.

5. Take a cod liver oil preparation to increase your resistance to respiratory infections.

6. Guard against chilling, especially when overheated. Avoid drafts, wet feet, and wet clothing. Wear clothes suitable to weather conditions, and live and work in well-ventilated rooms.

7. Get enough sleep, rest, recreation and outdoor exercise. Most of us need at least 8 hours of sleep every night to give our bodies a chance to make up for the day's wear and tear.

8. Have a medical check-up regularly, and consult the doctor promptly in acute illness or for any chronic difficulty.

9 Maintain your natural resistance by following all the rules for healthy living. The value of vaccines for the prevention of colds is still in question. However, there are vaccines which may help to prevent influenza A and B and pneumococcal pneumonia.

WHEN YOU HAVE A COLD

1 Get as much rest as possible. Stay in bed or indoors for the first day or so if you can.

2 Keep warm and dry. If you must go to work, wear clothes that will protect you adequately when you go outdoors, and avoid drafts and sudden chilling when overheated.

3. Drink plenty of water, citrus fruit juices and other liquids. Eat simple foods which agree with you.

4. Protect other people as much as possible. Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze. Use paper handkerchiefs or paper napkins that can be burned. Wash your hands frequently with soap and water.

5. Blow your nose gently. If you don't, you may force infected material from your nose into your sinuses, or middle ear and develop sinus trouble or serious ear infection.

6. If a cold starts with chills, fever, or aching, or seems more severe or lasts longer than usual, consult a physician without delay.

Canadian Youth Missing the Boat

Canadian Farmers Enjoy High Standard of Living

NIAGARA FALLS. — Canadian youth "are missing the boat by ignoring the solid opportunities of farm life for the fool's gold glitter of big city industry" John Brittan of Hamilton told farm electrification authorities attending the 10th annual meeting of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers Association here.

"Never before in our agricultural history, has the Canadian farmer enjoyed such a high standard of living", stated Mr. Brittan, who is post-chairman of CEMA's Rural Electrification Committee.

"Modern developments in farm electrical equipment," he said, "have literally revolutionized rural life by enabling the farmer to produce more at less cost. Labor-saving machinery has eliminated much of the drudgery which formerly went hand-in-hand with farm life. Many farm women now have electrically-equipped kitchens which are the envy of their urban cousins.

"The average Canadian farmer has achieved the degree of security and prestige which the youth of today consider the cornerstones of better living". Mr. Brittan further stated. "He is his own executive manager, his own purchasing agent and his own labor relations manager. As an agricultural specialist, his success depends upon his own individual ability to produce. And he can move up the ladder just as fast and as far as his initiative drives him.

"In short, modern farming in Canada offers youth the opportunity for achievement and a standard of living second to none. It offers scope to those who would accept the challenge," he concluded.

Safe simple safety from childhood's killing diseases — whooping cough, diptheria, lockjaw, smallpox — is as close as your family doctor or your local public health clinic. Sept. 26 to Oct. 2 is officially designated National Immunization Week as a reminder to parents not to neglect this practical health insurance.

Tree Planting Car Visits Vermilion Monday, Tuesday

A unique travelling schoolroom, on its 34th consecutive year spent touring the west, was in Vermilion last Monday and Tuesday. In addition to three successful meetings in the car, three programs of sound motion pictures and short talks were held. Attendance in all totalled about 320 people. The schoolroom is in reality a railway car fitted out for the purpose, and it travels over both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific lines.

Horticulturist in charge of the car is Mr. A. Paton who has had over 30 years experience in horticulture and landscape gardening in Alberta provincial nurseries and grounds. The many attending the lectures and films enjoyed Mr. Paton's talks on tree planting, home beautification and landscaping.

The programs presented here demonstrated what can be accomplished by the use of trees, and provided practical planting instructions in what trees to plant, how to plant them, the layout of home grounds and the development of shelterbelts and field shelters.

The annual tour of the tree planting car is sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Association.

It all began 34 years ago. A handful of Western Canadians gathered at Winnipeg to solve an urgent prairie problem. They wanted every prairie farmer to know about the value of shelterbelts of trees for home improvement, for productive gardens, for more pleasant living conditions and betterment of farm values.

So, they appointed a man to tell everybody about it, with the Canadian Pacific providing a railway auditorium and both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific undertaking to move this 'Classroom on Wheels' on their western lines. He was soon known as the 'Travelling Schoolmaster' and the public response was immediate and hearty. The Canadian Forestry Association was his sponsor.

Today, over 300 million trees have been planted on 100,000 prairie farms. In recent years scores of young farmers are putting to practical use the lessons they learned when they visited the tree planting car as school pupils. This interest in tree planting has now spread to field shelters for the increase of grain yields and the protection of farm soils.

The success of this tree planting campaign through the years has been due to generous co-operation extended this undertaking by the press, radio and a great many individuals and organizations.

C.N.R. ORDERS NEW DIESELS

MONTREAL. — The placing of orders for new diesel motive power annouced by the Canadian National Railways, marks another step forward in the railway's modernization plan to step up efficiency and strengthen its competitive position.

Of interest is the fact that the new purchases include 19 'A' and 'B' type passenger road diesels of 1750 h.p. and 1600 h.p. These have been ordered from Canadian companies for main line passenger trains in Canada.

The new order, totalling 127 units, is part of the C.N.R.'s five-year dieselization program on which the company embarked in 1951 following extensive studies of the economies and advantages to be obtained by the use of this type of power. Since then the railway has purchased more than 300 diesels for use in through freight services, yard operations and on short passenger runs.

"SAFETY" AND "CARE" IN HARVESTING

"Safety" and "Care" in Harvesting

Violation of the common-sense rules of "safety" and "care" during harvesting operations is a prelude to disaster by needless accidents, and to substantial losses in grain yield and quality owing to inefficient, careless harvesting practices.

Prevent Accidents. Every year at harvest time tractors, power take-offs, binders, swathers, combines and grain loaders take a tragic toll of farm people, including farm children. It has been found that at least one out of every ten fatal farm-tractor accidents involves children under 5 years of age. Be strict! Be careful! Don't allow small children to 'ride' your tractor or power harvesting machinery. Remember too that the long hours you spend riding equipment when harvesting is responsible for greater fatigue, and therefore increases the danger of accidents occurring. Think Safety, Act Safely, and Be Safe.

Avoid Grain Losses. Faulty harvesting operations can easily be responsible for the failure of much grain to meet top-grade standards. This is particularly true in the case of malting barley. In harvesting and threshing any grain every effort should be made to eliminate kernel injury (peeling and breaking of barley, splitting of wheat and cracking of flax seeds). Such kernel damage can be largely prevented if combines and threshing machines are properly adjusted for quiet threshing. Slow cylinder speed and keeping cylinder, concaves, sieves and wind properly adjusted at all times will reduce the amount of kernel damage.

Farm efficiency is many things. It not only includes crops and soils, methods and men, but also the "safe" and "careful" use of harvesting equipment. Prevent harvest accidents. And remember care in harvesting will help you to reap the highest possible return from your 1954 grain crop.

School for Basketball Officials, Coaches

An attempt to standardize basketball rule interpretations and floor coverage throughout Alberta will be made next month when a school for basketball officials will be held at the composite high school, Red Deer.

Sponsored jointly by the Department of Education and the Alberta Association of Approved Basketball Officials, the school will be held during the week end of Oct. 9 to 11. At the same time, a clinic for novice basketball coaches will be held as a service to schools and communities where the sport has been recently introduced.

Coaching staff will be headed by Ted Sawchuk and Miss R. Anderson of Edmonton, while officials will include H. McLachlin and A. Henderson of Edmonton, I. Bourn and D. Leishman of Lethbridge and L. Goodwin of Calgary.

Persons attending the school must be at least 17 years of age and sponsored by a school or community basketball association. They also must intend playing an active part as coach or official during the coming season. Registration fees of $3 will be charged to cover the tuition, board and dormitory accommodation.

Applications for the school must be submitted before Oct 1. Forms may be obtained from Health and Recreation Branch, Department of Education, Administration Building, Edmonton.

Sept. 26 to Oct. 2 is National Immunization Week organized by the Health League of Canada — to remind parents that it is their duty to see their children are protected against whooping cough, diptheria, lockjaw and smallpox.

News Notes From Your District Home Economist

READY MADE GARMENTS

Look for the label advising you of special finishes. It is best to follow the manufacturer's directions in washing the fabrics with the newer finishes. Here are some of the more usual finishes — how many are you familiar with?

1 Sanforizing or rigmel — These terms mean that shrinkage will not exceed 1%.

2 Preshrunk — This term is deceiving. It gives no assurance as how much the fabric will shrink further. Look for specific information about the percentage of shrinkage when buying washable garments.

3. Everglaze — A resinous finish used on cottons which adds sheen to the fabric and makes starching unnecessary. Laundering does not always remove grease spots on everglaze fabrics. Use of spot remover or solvent is recommended before laundering.

4 Trubenizing — This term refers to a process used on collars eliminating the necessity of starch. Washing does not affect the finish.

5. Temporary water resistant finishes — The labels 'aqua-sec', 'aridex' and 'impregnole' indicate this type of finish.

6. Permanent water repellence — 'Zelan' and 'Cravenette' are the labels to look for.

7 Crease-resistant finishes — An increasing variety here. The more common ones are 'tebelized', 'T.B.L.', 'Unidure', or 'Vitilizing'.

8. Permanently crease-resistant and water repellent—One of the most recent finishes. The adapted term is 'Duraleen'.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Another successful summer for 4-H Clubbers has gone by. The girls in the garden clubs should be very proud of themselves since all gardens were of excellent quality. Mr. Braithwaite, Alberta Wheat Pool Fieldman, and I judged the gardens the second week in August and then at the Achievement days in the first part of September, we judged the produce — vegetables, flowers, canning, salads, etc. We were pleased to see so many parents and friends out to these functions. Next year, be sure to attend one of these functions of the 4-H club in your district.

These are the girls with the best garden in their club:

Czar — Ann Mitchell

Streamstown - Durness — Betty Ann Davies

Paradise Valley — Helen Krawchuk

These girls received a prize of a value of not more than $5 presented with the compliments of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Girls who were chosen as Efficiency winners from their club are:

Czar — Ann Mitchell

Streamstown - Durness — Joan Hardstaff

Paradise Valley — Emily Swayne

These girls have the honor of attending 4-H Club Week at Vermilion School of Agriculture next July.

FAREWELL . . .

This will be the last time I will be writing to you as your District Home Economist. I am leaving at the end of the month to return to my home in Manitoba where I plan to remain for a short time.

At present I do not believe there is another Home Economist to take my place, but when there is, I hope you will give her as much help and co-operation as you have given me.

Two of the most pleasant years of my life have been spent in this district. It is very hard to leave the people and the place I've enjoyed so much.

Thank you all for your many kind deeds and your generous help to me. May happiness and contentment be yours in the years to come.

Cinderella Material

"Fool's Gold" fooled many a novice prospector who, thinking he had discovered gold, learned his find was only "rotten mica". Today, however, this same product has become one of the most valuable minerals in the building industry.

Technically known as vermiculite, this mica-like mineral is found deep in the earth. It is processed by exposing small particles of the raw ore to extreme heat in a specially-designed furnace. The 2000 degree temperature 'pops' the particles as the thousands of tiny laminations in the ore separate, expanding the mineral to fifteen times its original size and entrapping millions of airy dead air cells. These dead air cells make vermiculite one of the best insulations known to man.

The finished product is amazingly light in weight — a cubic yard only weighs about 216 pounds, while the same volume of sand weighs about 2700 pounds. It is fireproof and, while it will melt at 2500 degrees (whereas steel begins to weaken at 1000 degrees), it will not burn. You can actually put a copper penny on some vermiculite held in your hand and melt the penny with a blow torch without feeling the heat on your hand!

Vermiculite is manufactured in various grades for a wide variety of purposes. While it is primarily known in the home insulation field, it has also achieved tremendous popularity as a replacement for sand in plaster. The Prudential Life Insurance building in Chicago, the largest office building under construction today — is plastered throughout with vermiculite plaster. It is also used as a concrete aggregate where, replacing all or part of the sand, it gives the advantage of light weight, ease of handling, and insulating properties.

Other grades of vermiculite are used in acoustical plaster, packing and shipping, and soil conditioning. A new vermiculite product, Sanifloor poultry litter, was recently introduced into Canada and has gained immediate acceptance in hatcheries.

(This news was written for last week but was held over due to lack of space).

It is a very pleasant day, the sun is shining and the binders are humming in the fields. Leaves are now turning a bright yellow and soon trees will be bare.

Last week end Mrs. Potvin had as her guests her relatives from Edmonton who were down to visit Wilfred, a patient in hospital. They entertained him with projection of pictures taken while they were in the east.

Mrs. Giles had all the family home on the farm on Sunday.

Mrs. Potvin and family enjoyed supper with Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell on Sunday.

SURPRISE PIONEER FARMER

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent at the Bothwell home last Friday. It was a surprise tea party for Mr Bothwell, the district's first homesteader, who was 79 years young that day. Throughout the years he has proved himself a helpful and kind neighbor and a good citizen. How nice it is to go out and visit with your neighbors. It did everyone there a lot of good, a friendly chat and a happy smile really makes life worthwhile.

Tips on Touring

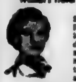
By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority



Six-year-old Richard already knows the fundamentals of safe car operation and basic traffic rules — all because his parents had a novel idea when they gave him a tricycle.

They called it his 'car' and encouraged his natural tendency to imitate the way his dad drives the family automobile. Now it's a fine game. Richard gets on the trike, throws imaginary gears into neutral, turns the switch, steps on the starter, and looks right, left, forward and to the rear before he starts off.

From the time the three-wheeler first came, Dad referred to the sidewalks as 'streets' and set up make-believe intersections, stop signs, lights and traffic lanes. Once a week Dick gets a 'check out' and is taught another simple little rule of traffic or safety.

Treated seriously and as a full-fledged 'grown-up driver' Dick takes great delight in signalling left turns, deftly parking between two boxes, turning off the ignition and setting the hand brake when he dismounts.

Dick's dad has a lot of fun teaching his son to be a good driver — and a good pedestrian—and he knows that now Dick is off to school he'll be more than usually alert to traffic dangers.

Salvation Army Leadership In Canada Changes Hands

Dalziel Retires After Fifty Years' Officership

Widely-known Salvation Army leader, Commissioner Wm. R. Dalziel, will retire from command of The Army's work in Canada and Bermuda on Dec. 31, after 50 years' officership. With retirement age for Commissioners set at 70 years, few men equal this record.

The Commissioner, with his wife, will retire in Toronto where he has spent two active terms, having first been appointed to that city in 1930 as Chief Secretary, and returning in 1951 in charge of all Army operations throughout the Dominion.

As Territorial Commander for Canada he has had responsibility for a nation-wide chain of hospitals, homes and hostels as well as supervising The Army's evangelical effort in almost 400 corps. This term of leadership has been a period of unprecedented expansion for The Salvation Army.

The Commissioner's half-century of Army service took him to many lands, and also gave him oversight at various times of Army activity in Australia and Great Britain.

Commissioner Dalziel has been a Salvationist all his life, being born of Salvation Army parents. He became an officer from King's Cross, London, Eng., in 1904.

During World War 1 he was in charge of The Salvation Army's Ambulance Brigade in France. With his men he brought comfort and healing to battle casualties. With initiative he formed his men into a band and when relief from military duty made it possible, took music with a message to men in leave camps.

Later, the Commissioner was appointed Chief Organizer of The Salvation Army's Scout Movement. From that position of incalculable influence he was appointed Divisional Commander. In this capacity he served at Leicester, Liverpool and in South London, distinguishing himself by dashing leadership. He was afterwards appointed Assistant Chief Secretary in the British Command. From that place of preparation he came to Canada in 1930 as the Chief Secretary.

Mrs. Dalziel before her marriage was Lieut-Col. Miriam Houghton, for many years Superintendent of Army hospitals at Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, and later head of the Women's Social Services of The Salvation Army in Canada.

Commissioner Dalziel will be succeeded early in the new year by Commissioner W. Wycliffe Booth, grandson of the Founders of The Salvation Army, General and Mrs. Wm. Booth, and younger son of General and Mrs. Bramwell Booth.

Commissioner and Mrs. Booth have served in Great Britain, in Switzerland, and in France where the Commissioner was Territorial Commander for several years and saw many advances made. He was appointed Territorial leader for Norway in 1951 and has had a successful term of command in that country. He was one of the nominees for the post of General in the Salvation Army High Council, held in April, when Commissioner W. Kitching was elected international leader of the world-wide Salvation Army.

Mrs. General Bramwell Booth, mother of Canada's new leader, is still living at an advanced age in Britain.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The week of the 19th was a marvelous week for harvesting. Most of the farmers have their binding and swathing finished. Soon combining and threshing will commence.

On the afternoon of Sept. 9th a very sociable time was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mayers when the monthly meeting of the Allandale W.A. met; Our honored guests were the Misses Adeline and Laura Mayers. Through the kindness of Mrs. Scilas Lee we had Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Spencer and Mr. McBride from town and Mrs. Orville Armstrong. There will be no meeting in October. The November meeting will be at the Ralph Strome home. Plans are for an apron exchange. Mrs. McPhee for the devotional and Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Baldock on the lunch committee.

Mr Gerald Omness of Kindersley, Sask., was a visitor in Allandale district the week of the 20th. He reports very fine crops there and the swathing was finished before the frost.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Omness on the birth of a daughter Sept. 10. They are now the proud parents of five daughters.

Congratulations also to Mr and Mrs. Frank Schmidt on the birth of a daughter, Susan Arlene, on Sept. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Greaves and family Brenda and Brian were home at the Baldock's last week end. Misses Joan Nelson and Shirley Hicks accompanied them home for the week end.

Noticed for some time now that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strome are driving a new wine colored Meteor car.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Throndson and family Beverly, Steven and Jean have returned from their holiday at the West coast. They are leaving shortly for Yellowknife and plan on stopping at Ft. McMurray on their way home to visit their cousin Mrs. Della Walsh and family.

School Lunch Time Is Here Again

Once again Alberta mothers are thinking of foods for the school lunch. They don't want to see a lag in those healthy appetites developed during vacation and realize that every effort must be made to keep the school lunch interesting and nutritious.

It's not so hard to get a variety of essential foods in the school lunch during September, says Miss Joyce Lewis, Nutrition Specialist Alberta Department of Agriculture. Cool milk drinks in the thermos bottle; fresh fruits or vegetables to eat from the hand or in salads; body building protein foods such as fish, meat, chicken, eggs or cheese in sandwiches, salads or as finger foods, and whole grain or enriched bread, rolls or biscuits — these provide the minerals and vitamins essential for health. Extras in the form of cakes, tarts, or other sweet desserts provide additional energy value and give a finishing touch to the lunch.

A mid morning snack in the form of a raw fruit or vegetable, a small sandwich or a favorite cookie to be eaten at recess will stave off that hunger so the main lunch won't be robbed and the appetite dulled before lunch time.

Children like milk and fruit juice combinations for a school lunch beverage. One-half cup of tart raspberry juice with 1 cup of milk sweetened slightly if desired makes a very refreshing drink and the color helps to perk up the lunch. Orange, apricot, prune, pineapple or other fruit juices may also be combined with milk.

More ideas for the school lunch box may be found in the bulletin "Lunch Boxes and Hot School Lunches" available from your Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gunn and Miss Shirley Gunn were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fair at Vermilion on Sunday last.

FINE GIFT TO CHURCH

The United churchyard has taken on a new look during the past week. The Clare school building has been moved in and put on a cement foundation. This building was very kindly donated to the United church by Mr. William McLean who purchased it from the Vermilion S.D. It will be used as a classroom for Sunday school and other meetings. This gift is deeply appreciated by the congregation.

Mrs. James Storms Jr. and Wayne of Edmonton and Mr. Elmer Storms of Weyburn, Sask., and Miss Turik also of Weyburn, are guests with Mr. and Mrs. James Storms Sr.

A dance was held by the students in the school auditorium on Friday evening to honor Mr. Frank Venner and Charles Rohia who are leaving for Calgary to attend tech school there.

Miss Lois Stoddart and Mr. Donald Levitt are attending Lutheran college at Camrose for the coming term. Miss Marion Fulgham and D. Fair are attending the University of Alberta at Edmonton this year.

We are afraid to mention the weather this week. We can hardly believe it possible but we have had ideal harvest weather for the most part of the past week and farmers are working hard to get their crop harvested. Swathing and straight combining is the order of the day. We do see a few stooks as we drive around the country side but very few. Let's keep our fingers crossed that good weather will continue.

Federation Executive Holds Two-Day Meet

Home And School Association Studies University Entrance

FORMER TEACHERS WILL TEACH

Eighty-four former teachers are willing to return to teaching either on a part time or full time basis to help relieve the serious teacher shortage existing in the province was reported in a survey conducted by the Teacher Shortage Committee of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations. The report presented to the executive meeting held at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, indicated that one-third of these teachers would prefer a short refresher course. Reliable information indicates that the shortage will continue for many years and that the return of well-trained former teachers to the classroom is essential.

The survey will be continued next spring so that more Associations will have the opportunity to canvass their communities.

CHILDREN'S READING CLUBS

Mr. F. O'Hara, Edmonton, Chairman of Children's Reading committee, reviewed plans to encourage good reading among children. Students Book Societies, Leisure-time Reading clubs, School Papers, Book Bazaars, Travelling Book Exhibitions similar to travelling art displays to show what is available are excellent activities for Home and School Associations. Parents lead the way by taking an interest in good books. Reading lists of books suitable for all ages may be secured from the Chairman. Mr. O'Hara went on to report that skill and interest in reading can be developed and that lack of such skill is frequently a major cause of disciplinary problems among children. All Associations are asked to have one program a year devoted to ways of encouraging children to read good books.

COMMUNITY INFLUENCES

Rev. G. H. Hutchinson, Telfordville, Chairman of Community Influences, stated that it is being assumed that communities are relatively stable and that this is not so. Communities are changing. Communities are affected by many new trends such as centralization of schools, transportation of large numbers of rural children to town schools, many nationalities, church no longer the centre of the community, mushrooming suburban areas with large composite schools, crowded classrooms. These trends have their good points. Home and School Associations are asked to take a look at their community life, gather facts, note trends and develop programs which will assist the community to develop the best for their children in accordance with the conditions and trends.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

Seven Dr. Kerby scholarships will be made, four to students in schools with two or fewer teachers, three to students in larger schools. All are for scholarship standing in the Gr. 9 departmental exams. Awards are for $50 each. Interest in these scholarships is growing as this is the first year that seven awards have been made.

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCES

The Alberta Federation of Home and School will conduct 8 Leadership Training conferences in the province. The first will be at Leduc in October.

Home and School representatives to the Curriculum committees were instructed to collect factual information concerning the reports being circulated that Alberta students are having difficulty in entering universities outside of Alberta.

Executive members attended the meeting from many points in the province.

FOOD PRICES IN A DECLINING MARKET

A question that must be uppermost in the mind of many Canadian consumers is: "Why do retail prices of food not reflect the decline that has taken place during the past year or two in the price of farm products?"

According to the 1954 "World Food Situation" issued by F.A.O. during the years 1952 and 1953, farm prices fell by 17% in the U.S. and by 20% in Canada. These declines were clearly followed by wholesale prices but retail prices were relatively unchanged. The report goes on to suggest that one of the reasons for the widening gap between cost of food at the farm gate and in the retail store was the fact that marketing costs represent from 30 to 50% and at times nearly 70% of the food costs to the consumer.

An analysis of costs seems to indicate that high labor costs involved in all aspects of processing, packaging and distribution are mainly responsible for the failure of retail prices to reflect lower basic costs. Indeed it is suggested that retail prices might today be even higher had farm prices not declined.

Since it is only the retail price which affects the consumer, the rigidity of retail prices undoubtedly tends to restrict demand, even though basic prices are lower.

One Of Four Girls Enters Nursing Profession

If a girl is in the 18-year age bracket, and has recently graduated from high school, there is one chance in four that she will soon enter one of the 171 schools of nursing in communities across Canada, states the Canadian Nurses' Association.

During the past few weeks roughly 3500 girls, about half from cities and half from rural areas, entered the three-year course, as nursing schools opened their doors to new classes.

Recruitment figures prepared by the CNA indicate that approximately one-quarter of all female high school graduates annually begin training for the much coveted professional "R.N.".

"Nursing continues to be the first occupational choice of Canadian girls graduating from high school" said Miss Frances McQuarrie, CNA Nursing Education Secretary who is concerned with recruiting more girls into the profession.

Describing reasons for the preference for nursing as a career, Miss McQuarrie said: "Girls are interested in working with people rather than with a typewriter, or serving goods across a counter. Moreover both daughters and parents tend to favor nursing because of the public's high regard for the work of the profession."

"But what we really look for in a girl, is the desire to serve, and a genuine interest in health improvement", she said.

Today's opportunities for nursing service are wider and more stimulating than at any previous time. In addition to service on hospital staff, nurses work in public health, private duty, industry, airlines, and in the remote northern settlements. International openings exist in the World Health Organization, Colombo Plan, the International Red Cross, and other organizations.

Commenting on the large number of nurses who marry after a short time in the profession, Miss McQuarrie said: "As far as I know there is no better preparation for marriage than a nurse's education. Once she marries, however, a girl is not lost to the nursing profession. We have many married women practising nursing in Canada today."

When a girl enters a nursing school, she may be required to pay a small tuition, or registration fee and she may have to buy her text books. There is a trend towards supplying uniforms in many of the schools.

The opportunity to enter nursing occurs twice a year, in September and in January or February. Entrance requirements include high school graduation with certain required subjects. They also call for a minimum age of 18 years admitted to schools of nursing at except in Ontario where girls are 17 years of age.

We are indeed sorry to hear that our neighbor Mrs. G. Whitlock has been a patient in the hospital. We all wish her a speedy recovery to health and home.

On Sept. 19 our last church service for the season was held with a nice attendance. After the service a social hour was enjoyed and a small remembrance was presented to Mr. Plant with the hope that he could come back next year. Mrs. Wallington, secretary of the church gave a report of how much had been collected and donated. To date $206 are on hand and the objective is $300. Anyone wanting to help out can contact Mr. Holte, Mr. Gibson or Mrs. Wallington.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers and Gary, Billie and Adam Smith were Sunday visitors to the Wallington home after church. Adam also brought along his pictures. They really are good and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Everyone is busy harvesting — last week was nice but this week so far has been tricky so to speak. Threshing, combining and swathing are all on the go. Wheat is a very poor crop and grade. Barley is a much better sample. There will not be many seed oats around as the frost came a bit too early.

The writer is busy with threshers so news will be short this week.

SELF RELIANCE

A big corporation gave a farewell dinner to its personnel man last night. He was an old man . . . years old but kept in harness . . . past retirement . . . [illegible] ability to select men. At the dinner were a number of top [illegible] executives who had been hired originally by old Bill.

When the president made his farewell speech to Bill he said: "Hiring men is getting to be a science. The personnel department now has all sorts of graphs and charts and tests to give. But Bill never needed any of that new fangled paraphernalia. And yet his judgment was almost always right. He could spot instinctively the young man or woman the company would be able to count on for good performance. He has probably contributed more to this corporation than any other single individual because he has helped us to select the right men and women for the various positions so important to the corporation."

Naturally I wanted to learn Bill's secret. This morning I was able to get half an hour with him. He told me how he judges men.

"I have an imaginary little country in my mind that is not on any map," he said. "I look at the boy or girl before me and ask myself this question: If this country was to be developed would this be a good boy or girl to send on an expedition to develop it? Would this person go on such an expedition determined to look after himself and try to do a little extra to help his companions? Would he go with the notion of getting all he could out of it for himself or would he [illegible] in the expedition? When I have satisfied [illegible] points, I am [illegible] man."

[illegible] It's also a good way [illegible] country. As long as [illegible] peopled by citizens will [illegible] after themselves and do [illegible] extra for their neighbors [illegible] succeed. But if there ever [illegible] when we have a majority of citizens who expect others to look after them, we will fail.

I sometimes wonder if in our scramble for the welfare state we are not forgetting the old fashioned virtue of self-reliance which Bill looked for in his candidates. If we [illegible] the welfare state . . . but there will not be any welfare for anyone. Welfare is the product of self-reliance. Lose that and you lose the other.

Digging a hole in the ground is a simple job for Scotty, and he does it for fun. The men who dig for your natural gas are not digging for fun. Their purpose is to make sure you have a constant supply of this all-purpose fuel.

In some parts of the world, they, like "Scotty", have to dig deep. In other parts, they don't have to go as far down for gas. Naturally, the depth they have to go for gas, the availability of gas and the costs of the goods and services involved in delivering the gas to your home affects the size of your gas bill.

It is the aim of your gas company to keep total costs at a minimum through efficient management. The result has been that Albertans enjoy fuel rates that are among the lowest on the continent.

Richard Watling, Vermilion, Willie Stewart, Kitscoty, Tops in Grain Plots

Richard Watling, young member of the Vermilion Barley club, wound up with the highest score plot judging for five Barley clubs when plot judging for five Barley Clubs in the Vermilion Agricul- month. Willie Stewart, Kitscoty, duplicated his last year's record by topping all wheat plots of the District's 5 Thatcher Wheat clubs. A total of 165 grain plots were inspected in the district, and of these, Richard's Vantage barley plot and Willie's wheat plot were entered in the Provincial-wide competition. In this very stiff competition, Richard's barley plot stood 3rd, and Willie's wheat plot 7th.

Fred Weeks, McLaughlin, member of the Paradise Valley wheat club, stood second only to Willie Stewart. Fred's Thatcher plot was the cleanest of any inspected in the whole area. David Davies, Lloydminster, of the Durness Barley club, was runner up to Richard Watling, with his neatly-kept Olli barley plot.

Durness Barley Club — David Davies; Greenlawn Barley club — Rudolph Holmen; Islay Wheat club — Jimmy McGuigan; Greenlawn Wheat club — Douglas Wilson; Vermilion Barley club — Richard Watling, Vermilion Wheat club — Stanley Barlow; Mannville Barley club — John and Joan Clennett, Kitscoty Barley club — Helen McCourt; Kitscoty Wheat club — Willard Stewart, Paradise Valley Wheat club — Fred Weeks.

There were 165 plots to be inspected in the ten district clubs. This was done by Jerry Moffat, Assistant District Agriculturist at Vermilion. Mr. Moffat states that the plots were suffering effects of leaf rust, stem rust and wet conditions as are most crops in the district. The barley, being less effected by the rust, seems to have suffered the least. Certainly the quality will be much lower than last year. The members should not get discouraged however when preparing a sample for show as everyone is in the same boat.

Despite the poorer yields and the lower quality, the plots were generally better managed than those of last year. There were more members who selected their plots on clean summerfallow or breaking and on more uniform land sites. The club crops were cleaner this year as more roguing was practised and more members sprayed to kill annual weeds and thistles.

More rural people should be encouraged to take advantage of this 4H grain club program. By seeding 3 or 4 acres of clean land to registered grain in the spring, it is possible to build up a pure and clean stock of seed for the whole farm in two or three years. At the same time the young people learn much about field husbandry through the media of meetings and actual practice.

In judging the plots, the following points were considered: the general appearance, including neatness of margins, isolation strip, etc.; freedom from weeds; freedom from other kinds of cultivated plants; freedom from other varieties and species; freedom from disease and insect injury; apparent yield; vigour and uniformity, and earliness.

Thanksgiving Holiday Monday, Oct. 11th

Agric. Schools Staff Conference Here

Staff members from the three provincial schools of agriculture are in conference at the Vermilion school this Thursday and Friday, Oct. 7th and 8th.

The meeting will be to introduce new staff members and acquaint all the staff with the agricultural school program for the coming year.

It is expected the conference will hear a talk by Hon. L. C. Halmrast, provincial minister of agriculture. The guest speaker will be Stanley Hambley, Camrose district superintendent of schools.

Other speakers will include the principals of the three agricultural schools — J. E. Birdsall of Olds; N. N. Bentley, of Vermilion, and J. E. Hawker, of Fairview.

Oil Freighter Derailed Near Kitscoty

TRAFFIC DELAYED 14 HOURS

The east bound Canadian National passenger train No. 6 was delayed 14 hours in Vermilion from 2:20 a.m. to 5 p.m. as a result of the freight train known as the 'Oil Switcher' being derailed at a point 4 miles east of Kitscoty. The Oil Switcher is a train which operates between Lloydminster and Vermilion. In the accident six oil tank cars loaded with fuel oil went off the track and tipped over, five on the north side and one on the south side of the rails. The track itself was torn up for 200 feet, some 16 rails being damaged and the ties broken. The caboose also went off the track but stood upright. There were 20 cars on the train and the last six tank cars and caboose were those derailed. No serious injuries were suffered but two of the trainmen received bumps and some bruises.

The west bound passenger train No. 5 had passed over the track just a half hour before the derailment of the freight.

Passengers on the delayed eastbound train included Coach Doug Bentley and the members of the Saskatoon Quaker hockey team on their way home from playing the night before in Edmonton. They and all other passengers boarded the eastbound Greyhound bus which leaves Vermilion for Saskatoon at 11 a.m.

In Vermilion investigating the wreck are Mr Bryant of Edmonton, assistant district superintendent who happened to be here at the time, Mr. Linke, divisional engineer who was on board No. 6 going to Lloydminster, and Mr. Rabl, roadmaster from North Battleford who was in Lloydminster when the accident happened.

Vermilion Agricultural Society Plans Royal Winter Fair Trip

The Vermilion Agricultural Society is now pleased to announce details of a proposed 'group' trip to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto and invites district people to participate.

The trip is planned for the Canadian National Railways, leaving Wainwright early on the morning of Nov. 13. The sleeper to be used for the trip will be parked at Wainwright about 10 p.m. of the 12th and may be boarded at that time. Those going on the trip may return any time within thirty days and a minimum of 15 and a maximum of 20 persons can be accommodated.

The cost of the trip will be approximately $130 which will include railway transportation, berth and two meals each day, each way in the diner, hotel accommodation in Toronto for 4 nights and 5 days, free daily admission to the Royal Winter Fair and a number of conducted tours including Toronto's new subway system, the Massey-Harris-Ferguson plant, the Canada Packers plant and a tour of greater Toronto.

For those wishing to take part in the Royal Winter Fair or to visit in Ontario this special trip will be found to be reasonable in cost and the fact that a district group will be going east will doubtless be of interest. In order to secure reservation of a good car it is desirable that all who are interested contact the office of the Agricultural Society or the C.N.R. at Vermilion.

S. C. Heckbert, Secretary-Manager of the Society will be pleased to accept applications for inclusion. As the maximum number that can be accommodated in one car is 28 it is important that applications be placed as early as possible.

Teachers of Three Divs. To Meet Here

LARGEST GATHERING IN RURAL ALBERTA

Vegreville, Vermilion and Wainwright teachers will meet in a two-day convention at the Vermilion school of agriculture on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 14 and 15. The Vermilion convention will be the largest gathering in the central eastern area of the province.

Convention arrangements are being directed by Miss Marjorie Knapp of Vermilion and Mr. James A. Smith of Kitscoty. F. B. Facey of Vegreville, L. G. Hall of Wainwright and S. D. Simonson of Vermilion, school superintendents of the three divisions will attend as will Dr. J. W. Chalmers, high school inspector for the Department of Education.

N. V. Scarfe, dean of the faculty of education, University of Manitoba, will be the A. T. A. guest speaker. Addresses to sectional and general meetings of the convention will be given by Donald R. Cameron, registrar of the department of education and Mrs. Cornelia G. Higgin representing the faculty of education, University of Alberta.

Fred J. C. Seymour, assistant general secretary of the A.T.A. will speak to the convention on association business.

About 300 teachers are expected to attend the convention.

A banquet will be held in the dining room of the school of agriculture on Thursday evening followed by a dance in the large school gymnasium. The dance is open to the public.

It is to be noted that eight educationists, internationally prominent in school affairs, have been invited by the Alberta Teachers' Association as guest speakers at the fourteen conventions scheduled in Alberta from Oct. 4 to Nov. 5.

Vermilion's First Car Bingo A Grand Success

Derwent Ball Player Wins Car

This town's first car bingo went over as an unqualified success both in the eyes of the Curling club who sponsored it as a means of making some money to pay off on the new curling rink, and in the eyes of Mike Schur well known young man from Derwent who won the new Pontiac two door sedan. Mike played ball with Derwent Cardinals also centre field for Elk Point, so became quite a familiar figure to baseball fans in Vermilion appearing here on numerous occasions during the season. He is very proficient at wielding that hickory. Mike did not have a car of his own.

He also must have his share of luck as a short time ago, playing for a car in a bingo at St. Paul he lost out for the big prize in the tie-breaker. On Saturday night here his was the only bingo called for the car so that it was a clean cut win.

Just over 2100 players paid their way into the bingo game where the main attraction of course was the two-door Pontiac purchased from Jim Rowe and Sons, local dealers. Extra cards were sold at $1 each.

Don Taylor acted as announcer and made a fine job of it. The rink was adequately heated, indeed as a result of the huge crowd it became a bit too warm before the twelve games were completed.

NICE AUDITORIUM

It appears that the curlers have been doing a lot of work on the interior of the rink. The walls have been plastered and painted white. The ceiling and trusses have been covered with aluminum paint, the result was that on Saturday night it presented an appearance of a fine auditorium rather than the interior of a curling rink. It is a good building and those responsible did a nice job on it.

THE WINNERS

Twelve games were played, and the complete list of winners is as follows:

1. Tri-lite — Won by Jas. Martin, Clandonald.
2. Sunbeam Automatic Toaster — Mrs. H. Ganton, Innisfree.
3. Chest of Silver — Mrs. F. Long, Lloydminster.
4. Sunbeam Mixmaster — Doris Wertzell, Vegreville.
5. Reclining Chair — K. Selte, of Tolland.
6. Floor Polisher — Jack Peet of Derwent.
7. Wingmaster Shotgun — Jack Duffy, Vermilion.
8. Set Matched Luggage — Harry Palmarchuk, Derwent.
9. Chrome Kitchen Suite — Larry Barlow, Buffalo Coulee.
10. PONTIAC CAR — Mike Schur of Derwent.
11. Portable Radio — Jim Barr, Vermilion.
12. Wrist Watch — Jas. McGillawee, Dewberry.

CAR BINGO SAT., OCT. 16

A second car bingo will be held in the Vermilion curling rink by the Curling Club, on Saturday night October 16th commencing at 9 p.m. The big prize will be a Meteor four-door sedan, purchased from Geo. C. Webb & Sons, with eleven other very fine prizes. See the official announcement in the Standard advertising columns and watch next week's paper for the complete list of excellent prizes. The building will again be heated and will be just as comfortable as your own home. A change is being made in the loudspeaker system to further improve the sound effects.

On Wednesday evening, Sept. 22, a party celebrating the ninetieth birthday of Mrs. Isaiah Winters was given at the home of Mrs. Williams on Kerslake Drive in Vancouver. Mrs. Winters is a former old timer of Vermilion.

The guest of honor, wearing a corsage of orchids, was the recipient of numerous gifts, also messages of congratulations from distant points.

On the Saturday afternoon preceding the anniversary a tea complimenting Mrs. Winters was held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Brown, Vancouver, with the following old friends present: Mrs. Winters, Mrs. Waddell, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Yungblutt, Mrs. Hazel Day Smith, Mrs. Bravender (a sister of Mrs. H. N. Stephens), and Mrs. Blain (nee Miss Pearl Farrell) the first lady to teach school in Vermilion.

District Bar Assoc. Meets in Vermilion

The annual meeting of the Vegreville and District Bar Association was held Tuesday afternoon at the Court rooms of the Provincial building in Vermilion, with the President T. C. Wakeling of Lloydminster in the chair. Among the visitors sitting in on the meeting were His Honor Judge Greschuk, S. B. Smith, Q.C., president of the Alberta Bar Assoc.; H. J. Wilson, Deputy Attorney General, B. C. Whittaker, Edmonton; John Decore, M.P. for Vegreville, H. Ponich, M.L.A., Vegreville; J. Kashuba of Vegreville who is secretary of the Association. There were 15 members of the District Association present.

Several matters of import to the fraternity were discussed, some of which were referred to the parent association and to the Attorney-General's department for their consideration.

A sumptuous banquet followed in the evening at the Brunswick hotel at which Judge Greschuk and S. B. Smith were the principal speakers.

Names Monkey — Wins A Bike

Earl Ireland, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Ireland, is the proud owner of a new bike, presented to him by an Edmonton firm. The Standard does not know the whole story, but it does appear that big sister Reah was in an Edmonton store recently and entered a name in a "name the monkey contest". Reah thought up a cute name for the monk, entered it in Earl's name and promptly forgot the whole thing. Wednesday morning Earl received the news that as a result of naming the monk, he had won a fine new bicycle.

Park Superintendent Visits Vermilion

Charles Harvey, superintendent of provincial parks in Alberta, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in town inspecting the provincial park here. He met the local parks board on Wednesday evening and discussed future plans for the park with the members.

Director of Guidance Guest Speaker

Large Attendance At Opening Meeting Of Home & School Association

The first meeting for this season of the Vermilion Home and School Association was held in the auditorium of the Junior high school on Tuesday evening. 125 members and visitors were present.

After the singing of "O Canada", the president, Mr. E. C. Clendenning, extended a welcome to new members and visitors, also commenting on the good attendance at the meeting.

Some items of business carried over from last year were disposed of and the proposed increase in dues was discussed. Since the expenses of the Home and School Associations have greatly increased it was decided to raise local dues.

An interesting film entitled "You and Your Family" was then shown. This picture deals with the problems of a teen age boy and his share of adult responsibility. After the film four discussion groups were formed, one for parents and teachers of children in each of the four local schools. The principals of these schools acted as group chairmen and the secretaries of each group reported back to the general meeting.

For the primary group Miss Marshall reported. It was explained to the parents why children were taught to print their letters first rather than write them. The reason being that full muscular control was not developed at that age. Several other topics were also covered.

For the elementary group Mr. Gerald Stephens reported that the main discussion had centred around the film. The opinion of the group was that responsibility for the children's behaviour should be gradually shifted from the parent to the child according to his rate of development. This seemed preferable to the sudden transfer of responsibility during the mid or late teens.

Mrs. F. Stewart in reporting for the junior high school group mentioned that it was the group's opinion that this film should be shown to the junior and senior high school students, that it would help them to a better understanding of their parents' motives. It was also pointed out that both parents and teachers should be firm, fair and flexible but consistent.

For the high school group Mrs. Kibblewhite reported that opinion was that parental authority should be used mainly for matters of major importance, while the child should usually be permitted to decide on incidentals. The child should also accept more responsibility in exchange for more personal freedom. Generally speaking there should be more trust and understanding between the child and his parents.

Following these reports Mr. S. D. Simonson introduced the guest speaker, Mr. A. A. Aldridge, director of Child Guidance for Department of Education, who pointed out that developing a sense of responsibility and a desire for independence is met by all young people and that keeping both things equal is the job of the parents.

All members were reminded that the next meeting will be held in the Junior high school on Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Lunch was served following the singing of "God Save the Queen".

S. S. Attendance Campaign Will Be Launched

Joining with Christian and Missionary Alliance churches across the nation the local Alliance chapel Sunday school will launch an attendance increase campaign on Sunday Oct. 10. During the month members will be visiting homes in the community and extending invitations to their Sunday school, which meets at 10:30 a.m. at the church. The pastor, Rev. McNair announced that the national goal for Alliance churches is an increase of 15 per cent in Sunday school membership. The Chapel Sunday school has set their goal at 150. Special programs to interest all who attend have been planned for each Sunday during the campaign.

By way of special interest the local church has challenged the Alliance Sunday school at Cranbrook, B.C., to outdo it in attendance during the campaign. Since the local pastor formerly served at Cranbrook competition between the churches is expected to be keen.

Fly To Chicago

Two well known pioneer residents of Vermilion who might be on in years but are certainly young in spirit and outlook boarded the TCA plane on Sunday at Edmonton bound for Chicago. They are Mr. John Brimacombe and his sister Mrs. Maude Calvert. They plan to visit relatives in the [illegible] city for some two or three weeks. It is the first time either had travelled by plane.

Public Invited To Convention Dance

The general public is invited to the dance being held by the teachers in connection with their annual A.T.A. convention. The dance is scheduled for the first night of the convention, Thursday, Oct. 7 commencing at 9 p.m. in the V. S. A. gym. Admission is $1 and lunch is being served.

Lands Biggest Trout — 22 pounds, 1 ounce

Mrs. Bob Rouse Wins Cold Lake Trophy

The biggest trout caught in Cold Lake this season was landed by a Vermilion lady, Mrs. Bob Rouse. As a result of the catch she has been presented with a very handsome trophy by Mr. Hial of Cold Lake village on behalf of the Fish and Game league there.

Mrs. Rouse caught her fish on [illegible] Sept. [illegible] quite close to the end of the fishing derby. She was fishing in company with her husband who at the time was working at Cold Lake and it was his day off. They were not quite prepared to handle the size of trout that Mrs. Rouse caught as it weighed in at 22 lbs. 1 oz. and measured three feet long. The big fellow was firmly hooked and despite the use of all tricks known to a trout was gradually reeled up to the boat. How to land him was the question as Mr. and Mrs. Rouse had neither gaff nor net. Experience in fishing in the Great Lakes years ago however now stood Bob in good stead as he caught the monstrous fish under the gills with both hands and hauled him into the boat.

Cold Lake villagers claim that it is the biggest trout to come out of Cold Lake for years and gives them the hope that Cold Lake will soon again become the mecca for fishermen from all over North America as in days of yore.

The trophy presented to Mrs. Rouse is a gold fish mounted on a pedestal, a very handsome ornament.

Go West, Young Rat

Autumn is the time of year when Norway rats migrate to new locations. With the coming of cold weather, these pests seek accommodations that offer food and shelter for the long winter ahead. Conditions are crowded in our eastern provinces. The old saying could be modified to "Go West Young Rat. Go West". The province of Alberta offers an opportunity for a fresh start. Here is the rat frontier with possibilities aplenty. The granaries bulge with unsold grain; cozy shelters await in urban and farm buildings, at nuisance grounds and rubbish piles. Unsuspecting citizens supply room and board at no cost.

Norway rats are migrating along the Saskatchewan border area from the Cypress Hills to the North Saskatchewan River. J. B. Gurba, assistant supervisor of pest control, Alberta Department of Agriculture, warns Alberta residents, both rural and urban to keep a sharp watch so that these pests may be spotted and exterminated before they become established. Watch for signs of rat evidence: burrows, droppings, tracks, chewings, etc. Report any suspicions to your local Pest Control officer or District Agriculturist.

Permanent control and final eradication must be the objective of any successful program. Four major phases must be incorporated:

1. Destruction of rats.
2. Elimination of rat harbourage.
3. Elimination of rat food supply.
4. Rat-proofing of buildings.

Details of control methods are outlined in Publication No. 8 "Rat Control in Alberta" and in the pamphlet "Kill Rats with Warfarin". Individual residents can help to stem the invasion by cleaning up their premises of all rubbish, waste and other harbourage sites. Warfarin and other approved poisons are available free of charge, safe to use and easy to apply. A new water-bait form of Warfarin has [illegible] been put in use and is expected to be of considerable help in the [illegible] program.

For further information, contact your local pest control officer, district agriculturist or the Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

It would seem feasible that as this portion of Alberta is in the "front line" of the Battle of Rats, that the provincial government would appoint full time men to [illegible] out the campaign. This was done in rat-proofing the border line from Provost south with considerable success. This is not the time for half-way measures or wishful thinking, direct, definite action, well directed is essential.

Advertising Pays Dividends

Canadians increased their consumption of dairy foods all along the line in 1953, according to most recent Bureau of Statistics reports. Officials of Dairy Farmers of Canada believe that their program of advertising and public relations, established in 1950, has sparked industry co-operation and is beginning to pay off in the increased per capita consumption of dairy foods. However, they point out that increasing production of milk and shortening export markets for milk products still pose grave problems for the industry.

There were at least two significant reversals in dairy food consumption trends in Canada last year. Both fluid milk and butter turned upward on a per capita consumption basis, with fluid milk moving from .85 of a pint per person per day to .86 of a pint per day in 1953. Butter consumption raised from 20.22 pounds per capita per year to 20.66. [illegible] government reviews give at least part of the credit for the reversal of the butter consumption trend to increased advertising of the product.

In the past four years cheese has found its way to Canadian tables in a steadily increasing way. The per capita consumption increase was from 5.89 to 6.09 pounds, a new all-time record.

Ice cream was also consumed in record-breaking quantities in 1953, up from 1.89 gallons per capita per year to 1.94 gallons. Concentrated milk products consumption increased from 20.20 pounds per capita per year to 20.75 pounds.

WISE WORDS FROM LABOR

From one of their own national leaders, labor unionists heard a warning that management and consumers have been voicing for months. Labor, said A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor can price itself right out of work by pressing for higher wages.

That is plain, common sense, declares The Financial Post. It's to be hoped in the interests of everybody and of labor in particular that it will be heeded.

Since the end of the war Canada has become a high-priced country — in some lines, very high-priced indeed. That's a grave enough handicap at any time for any country but for one that is as dependent on foreign trade as we are, it just doesn't make sense at all.

At this time particularly, labor must realize that still higher wages mean still higher prices, fewer sales, smaller production and fewer jobs.

"GREEN ACRES"

SEED OATS

There is no doubt that frosts on Sept. 16 and 20 spoiled the germination possibilities of most of the seed oats in this area. There will also be a shortage of seed oats in most parts of Alberta. This means that all oats that will make seed should be saved. Farmers are advised by the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, to hold back all old oats from sale even if they contain some wild oats. It would also be better to feed barley and low grade wheat instead of oats.

USING A VACUUM

First pull all the furniture out from the threshed swath with field and go over the rug twice. Take long easy strokes. Then push the furniture back against the wall. If this is done often enough there will be no need for spring cleaning. See your District Home Economist for further information.

SAVING THE STRAW

Combine straw can be gathered from he threshed swath with field balers or combination sweeps and stackers. Trailer type bunchers are also used. Where straw is not wanted for feed or bedding, straw spreaders or straw cutters will make it easier to cultivate the fields after threshing with one-way or disker. The land benefits when straw and stubble is worked into it. The poorest way to get rid of straw is to burn it.

BOARS FOR SALE

The time for placing orders for boars under the Provincial Live Stock Improvement Policy is getting short. These good purebred Yorkshire boars are laid down at your station for $75 each. Orders should be in by Oct. 15. You will get far more grade A pigs by using bacon type purebred boars.

NEW RAT POISON

Warfacide is now available for killing rats. The Alberta government has placed supplies in municipal offices for free use on farms and in towns. Rats are being found and reported to this office nearly every week. People are asked to check their places often and report if rats are found. Free bait can then be handed out. The rat outbreak in this area is real serious.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

If everybody made up their minds that there would be no buildings catch on fire, it would go a long way in preventing fires. Like accidents most fires are caused by carelessness and the carelessness is the result of laziness. Did you ever figure it out that way? Then fix the chimney, burn the rubbish, change poor electrical wiring and connections, install lightning arrestors etc. Do it now!

200 Fatal Accidents in Rural Areas

Safety Council Plans Second Campaign

Another province-wide campaign to reduce the alarming accident toll within Provincial borders is being sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council. Initial plans were approved at a recent meeting of the provincial directors at Red Deer.

The final campaign of 1954 will be a two-in-one drive in that two safety objectives will be launched and continued concurrently.

One is a Pedestrian Safety campaign. At the same time there will be a Winter Driving Hazards campaign. They will open during the latter part of November and will be carried on until after the New Year's holiday.

"Fall and Winter, with [illegible] early darkness, is the time when all types of accidents increase greatly" said Paul Lawrence, Safety Director for the ASC, at the Red Deer meeting. "This has happened in this province, regardless of whether the ground was covered with snow or the roads were bare and dry as they have been until Xmas for the past two years."

"The records show that in the cities it is the pedestrians who most often lose their lives. In rural areas, of course, it is the [illegible] and their passengers," stated the director.

Surveys have disclosed that there is [illegible] highway accidents in October when darkness comes so much earlier, and this trend continues during the winter.

Rural residents are urged to be especially on guard against accidents. This is brought home when it is seen that of the 289 motor accident fatalities in Alberta last year, 200 occurred in rural areas.

The forthcoming safety campaigns are very appropriate in a season when accidents of all types occur. They will stress the necessity of pedestrian safety, such as extra care in crossing streets and highways, and alertness to traffic regulations.

Winter driving hazards also need to be impressed on motorists. Proper headlights, brake efficiency to contend with icy surfaces and skidding are factors in greater motor driving safety and will reduce accidents when heeded, according to officials of the Safety Council.

This week, Oct. 3 to 9 is being observed throughout Canada as Fire Prevention Week, and it is designed to focus public attention on the ever-present need for fire safety and protection.

Despite the constant efforts of many organizations, hundreds of fires occur every day, from the small ones in rubbish to the large spectacular fires.

Statistical figures bring to light that greater care must be exercised in order to reduce the economical waste. Millions of dollars go up in smoke every year, and unless time is given to analyse the figures, one does not realize the tremendous amount of money involved, the number of lives lost and injuries to persons.

On an average between 35,000 and 65,000 fires are reported every year, or over 150 to 170 fires a day. These losses account for anything from $65,000,000 to $90,000,000 per annum. The average for the past five years is approximately $75,000,000.

This tremendous sum of money is lost, chiefly through carelessness, for instance in 1952 smokers' carelessness and matches caused approximately 40% of reported fires, misuse of electricity 9%, stoves, furnaces, boilers and smoke pipes 10%, defective and overheated chimneys and flues, hot ashes and open fires 7%.

The above are the chief causes of reported fires and it leaves little to the imagination of how many are caused through just carelessness.

Fire is a man's most useful force, but it is never completely servile. A moment's carelessness, a brief lack of respect for it can cause a lifetime of grief.

The high level of fire losses is a drain on the resources of the country and must be controlled.

Archbishop Thanks Locomotive Engineer

WINNIPEG. — Manitoba's top Anglican church dignitaries and laymen were on hand to greet the Archbishop of Canterbury when he arrived here by Canadian National — but the man His Grace was most eager to meet was the train's engineer.

After he was introduced to the official party, the Most Reverend Geoffrey Francis Fisher moved away and said, "I'll just sprint up to the engine and see the engineer if you don't mind."

He actually did "sprint" down the platform to meet Engineer W. H. Thomas and thank him for getting the C.N.R. train into Winnipeg on time to enable the Archbishop to keep a speaking engagement.

Said Mr. Thomas, a veteran of 45 years with the C.N.R.: "The Archbishop is a very fine and humble gentleman. Not many men of his station would make such a gesture."

CAR FIRE SATURDAY A.M.

The fire brigade received a call to the residence of Joe Payne on Saturday morning where a fire had started in the engine of Mr. Payne's car. About $200 damage was done to wiring and ignition system.

NEWS from ISLAY

Baseball and mumps! Baseball on the radio, mumps on the neck! "Well", says Ken Gunn, "I couldn't have gotten mumps at a better time, home from school, close by the radio and the world series on. Oh Boy, am I enjoying myself!" Guess the mumps weren't so bad after all.

Mrs. Ada Fraser spent several days last week at the Wm. Waterfield home. Must give her age to neighborly news one of these days, we believe Mrs. Fraser over 80, and a birthday close at hand. She is exceptionally active, helped Lila peel potatoes, wash dishes etc.

A birthday neglected, that of Joe Belton who was 91 years on Sept. 20. Joe is a pioneer of Islay. He lives alone, does his own cooking and housework and can still carry on a good argument — Congratulations Joe!

On the second Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. there is to be a study group meet in the church. It will be on Religion through the ages and will be illustrated by colored slides. This is open for any who wish to come. Bring your Bible and a notebook.

On Friday afternoon the executive of the Knox W. A. met for a business meeting but it was turned into a quilting bee at Mrs. R. Martin's home. Some extra ladies came in and the quilt was finished. We still have two quilts to put together. They are the tops that Mrs. Bothwell made last winter and gave them to the W.A. If you like to quilt now is your opportunity. Mrs. Ollie Midgley and Mrs. Janet Hancock came all the way and did a good share on the quilt.

Bingo by Jingo, says Ulva McFadyen. He was lucky down at Lloydminster. We are awaiting Ulva's appearance in a new suit. That is what he won. Think we should have a party in the hall when he gets it?

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fortin of Onion Lake on the birth of a 9-lb. daughter born in the Islay hospital on Oct. 2nd. Also congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Cor Greefhorst, a son, born in Lloydminster hospital Oct. 3.

Noticed Ben Axley in Islay on Tuesday.

TEACHERS SUPPORT VISUAL PROGRAM

Because visual deficiences always result in lower academic achievement, any move to prevent the existence of visual problems among school children, is enthusiastically supported by Alberta teachers, according to Frank J. Edwards, Edmonton, president of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Mr. Edwards commended the program of the Alberta Optometric Association, currently being carried on throughout Alberta, and emphasized that Alberta teachers will give it their wholehearted support in their respective communities.

The provincial program is being conducted on the theme, "See Better — Learn Better" and is designed to arouse public interest in the value and importance of taking preventive measures to minimize visual deficiencies among children of pre-school and school age. It is part of a nation-wide program sponsored by the Canadian Association of Optometrists.

Mr. Edwards termed the Alberta program is a very laudable one. He stated that teachers are aware of the importance of good eyesight in the classroom, and that generally teachers arrange their seating with the purpose of placing pupils with visual deficiencies in seats most advantageous to them. However, anything further that is being done to bring this important matter to the attention of teachers and parents is most commendable, he stated.

The Alberta Optometric Association's program materials serve to call special attention to the causes underlying visual problems of the school children. It is pleasing to note that much of the material stresses preventive measures that may be taken, Mr. Edwards stated.

a proud ... RECORD

Service has been the motivating force of the Alberta Wheat Pool since its inception 31 years ago. Built on this sound foundation the organization has been outstandingly useful to Alberta's grain producers and has made steady growth.

Today the Alberta Wheat Pool operates a system of 507 country elevators and has terminals at Vancouver and Port Arthur, all owned by Alberta's grain producers.

Besides giving producers unequalled service and protection, the Pool's financial accomplishments on their behalf have been substantial. From the initial investment of $8½ million made by members in the early years of the organization, the following has been achieved:

| | |
|---|---|
| Paid cash patronage dividends | $ 6,250,000 |
| Purchased reserves in cash | 9,140,000 |
| Paid interest on reserves (1923-29) | 630,000 |
| Acquired property at a cost of | 18,200,000 |
| Built up a working capital of | 4,800,000 |
| Repaid, with interest, 1929 overpayment | 8,700,000 |

The record of the Alberta Wheat Pool is one of which grain producers who are the owners of the organization may be justly proud. The Alberta Wheat Pool organization has proven that it is worthy of the continued loyalty of Alberta farmers.

Garden Achievement Day, Paradise Valley

The Paradise Valley annual Garden Achievement day was held in the United church basement Sept. 9 at 4:00 p.m. Mr. Braithwaite and Miss Holms were judges. Among the ladies interested in our club work was our former club leader Mrs. Gunn.

Lunch was served and then the program opened with President Sharon Walter opening with 'O Canada'. The first item on the program was a demonstration given by Helen Krawchuk and Carol Richardson on 'Jams and Jellies'. Next Emily Swayne and Grace Stoddart gave an interesting demonstration on 'Preparing Vegetables for Exhibition'. Gloria Baxter and Shirley Wiley gave a demonstration on 'Care of Cut Flowers and Flower Arrangement'.

Miss Holms District Home Economist who judged the canning and flower arrangements remarked on the demonstrations and pointed out possible improvements for next year. Mr. Braithwaite, the representative of the Alberta Wheat Pool, sponsoring organization, who judged the vegetables, told of how improvements might be made on vegetable showing. Both Miss Holms and Mr. Braithwaite commented on the support given by the parents and others interested in club work.

The first prizes in the different classes were awarded as follows:

Canning 1st and 2nd Year — Marion Holgate.

Canning 3rd year — Carol Richardson.

Project Book — Helen Krawchuk.

Mrs. Swayne club leader kindly donated three prizes one of which was won by Marion Holgate for the best attendance at meetings. Carol Richardson won the prize given by Mrs. Swayne for the most points in the third year class and Marion Holgate won a similar prize for the most points in the first and second year class.

Mr. Powell our new high school vice-principal was asked to lead in the singing of 'God Save the Queen'.

The last meeting of the club was held Sept. 22 at the home of Gloria Baxter. At this meeting we discussed what we had learned during the year and plans in respect to Garden Club work next year.

Large as the fire loss is, the current relationship between losses and property subject to damage points up the efficacy of the means now available to control this national fire waste.

Sgt. Fred Waite Receives Citation

SAVED 22 DESERGE:

SERGEANT CITED

Sgt. Frederick H. Waite of Ed mention who was recently given a citation for commendable conduct by the General Staff, is well known in Vermilion as he is a son-in-law of Mr and Mrs Vernon H. Cooper and has visited in Vermilion on several occasions. At the time of the episodic related in the following story, Sgt. Waite was on two months relief duty at Ennadai Lake, having for the past year been stationed at Calder where he is a member of the N.W.T. & T. Radio system, Royal Canadian Signals.

Sgt. Waite and his wife (nee Nadeen Cooper) had previously spent five years in the far north, at Aklavik inside the Arctic circle and at Ft. Good Hope 200 miles further south. Just a year ago they were transferred to the Edmonton station where they purchased a home in West Edmonton.

The action for which he received his citation is told in the following press despatch:

OTTAWA, — The army Friday told the story of a signals corps sergeant who doubled as a doctor last spring to save the lives of 22 Eskimos in a lonely native camp in the Northwest Territories.

The chief of the general staff has given a citation for commendable conduct to Sgt. Frederick H. Waite 33, of Lindsay, Ont. He was NCO in charge of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals station at Ennadai Lake, N.W.T. last May when an influenza epidemic struck a tiny Eskimo village three miles away.

Weather conditions prevented a doctor from reaching the scene but Sgt. Waite kept in touch with Fort Churchill, Man., by radio. He treated the Eskimos with penicillin and aspirin. Next day he found only two cases.

At one stage the sergeant himself developed flu symptoms, but kept going, treating his patients in accordance with radio instructions. They all pulled through.

Snow was added to the low temperatures and rain just for the sake of variety, a half inch falling on Friday and another 1.4 inches on Saturday with a trace on Sunday. Temperatures have been well below normal until Wednesday and Thursday when the sun finally broke through and daily temperatures climbed back to normal for this time of year. Snow has all disappeared except in shady low spots.

As a result of the wet snow last week, end harvest operations were again slowed to a crawl.

Pleasant Valley

Not very pleasant at time of writing, the leaves are gone, there is a skiff of snow on the ground, everything looks rather bleak and sad.

Congratulations to Annie and Christie Clark on the birth of a baby daughter.

Mrs. Gillies arrived from Edmonton last Thursday.

Rev. D. A. Ford paid us a visit on Friday. He found us all busy. We were diligently digging spuds. Mrs. Tesky and Mrs. Hilda Bell were out. We certainly received a surprise to see Mr. Ford smiling on us. It was raining so all quit the job and spent a time together over a cup of tea. Mrs. Lynn also joined us. Hope your potatoes all dried girls.

Quite a number from this district played bingo in Vermilion last Saturday night, but no luck. Oh well, another big night bingo in the curling rink on Saturday Oct. 16. It's great fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper were in Vermilion Saturday evening, we noticed them on the street.

Hello Mrs. Wallington, do hope that you are feeling fine after your frightening experience. Cows are certainly clumsy, ungainly things and are my pet abhorrence.

Wilfred Purvis is doing fine work on his crutches and has now been home from the hospits for a week.

Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held on Oct. 17.

Wildmere, Alberta,
Sept. 30, 1954.

The Editor,
The Vermilion Standard

Dear Sir:

According to the press the Grain Board has sold more wheat since the close of the 1953 crop year than during the same period last year, and still no wheat has moved from the farms despite the fact that many have an opening quota of 300 bushels per unit and many of us are hard put to finance harvesting operations. This, it seems to me is a job for the organized farmers, but when we can't get at least 50 per cent of said farmers into our organization we cannot expect results.

At present central office is pressing for a deposit, or at least a loan on farm stored grain. Now as I see it this grain could be bought up to 75 per cent of its value without embarrassing our Board but again we cannot expect results unless we have your unqualified support.

The preceding suggestion is, of course, my own, and could be used as a basis for discussion and then I maybe would have something better. At any rate nothing will be done unless you and I push with all our might, so why not get in and get results.

Fred C. Haines.

Small Sask. Crop

The latest report of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool indicates that wheat will average about 13.2 bushels per acre in Saskatchewan this year, giving a total crop of around 260 million bushels. This would be the smallest harvested since 1948. The Pool states that in most areas the durum wheats have been completely or almost completely destroyed by rust and that over an extensive territory both the yield and grades of bread wheat have been seriously impaired.

Foam rubber is used in all mattresses and seat cushions in Canadian National Railways new passenger cars.

Urges Co-operation In See Better-Learn Better Campaign

Whole hearted endorsation of Alberta's See Better — Learn Better program, sponsored by the Alberta Optometric Association, was voiced by W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of schools for Alberta in a recent interview.

Mr. Frame commended the Alberta optometrists for taking an active part in calling attention to causes underlying visual problems of school children to parents, nurses, teachers and other interested people through the province.

The Alberta program is part of a national campaign sponsored by the Canadian Association of Optometrists across Canada. The Alberta program will continue through the month of September.

Program is directed to the welfare of children of all ages and includes the publication of several pamphlets stressing the prevention of defective eyesight. These are available through the offices of the optometrists and are being distributed to schools, service clubs, welfare organizations and other outlets.

In endorsing the provincial program Mr. Frame stated that his many years of experience in school administration have pointed up most emphatically the seriousness of the visual problem among children of all ages, including those of pre-school age. Anything the optometrists can do to bring this situation to the attention of parents, teachers and others interested is highly commendable he stated.

He reminded education officials and others interested that a recent ruling passed by order in council of the department of education makes it a general policy of the department to require teachers to take all possible measures to prevent eye strain in the classrooms and to assist by every means at their disposal in discovering children suffering from defective eyesight.

He extended the fullest possible cooperation of his department to the carrying out of this program provincially and urged teachers, parents, nurses and others to do likewise.

Apple pie... coming up

A king-size apple pie weighing over a hundred pounds was recently baked for the Washington State Apple Blossom Festival. The specially built aluminum pie pan — the largest ever made — measured eight feet across.

Made us wonder how big a pie you'd get if all the apple pies baked in one day on regular-size aluminum pans were put together. And that brings to mind all the different aluminum cooking utensils used today in homes and hospitals and restaurants . . . No wonder Canada is stepping up her production of this light, bright metal to one and a quarter billion pounds a year! Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Brother, Sister Meet After 52 Years

MANNVILLE. — Mr. Geo. Bennett of Mannville journeyed to Edmonton last week to meet his sister, Miss Mary Bennett of Aberdeen, Scotland. This is their first meeting in 52 years and Miss Bennett will spend some time visiting with Mr. Bennett and his family in the Creighton district.

Holy Name Church Is Scene Of Pretty Wedding

The Holy Name church, Vermilion, was the setting for the recent wedding of Marie Juliette Beaudoin, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Donat Beaudoin of Edmonton and Leo Charles Leahy eldest son of Mrs. Charles Leahy of Vermilion. Rev. Father Landrigan performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr William McGinnis grandfather of the groom.

The bride wore a strapless gown of nylon and net with a lace jacket. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a sequin and beaded tiara. Her bridal bouquet was red roses and her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Attending the bride was Jeannette Beaudoin sister of the bride who chose a yellow lace over taffeta dress with matching headdress. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Attending the groom was Alphonse Toner.

The bride's mother wore a grey dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses for the occasion. The groom's mother chose a navy blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at the Rio cafe. The reception was at the Catholic church hall where the bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake.

The Rev. Father Landrigan proposed the toast to the bride.

For their honeymoon trip to the States and B.C. the bride changed to a blue suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Benoit of St. Albert; Mrs. G Halle and son, Mr and Mrs. Albert Wulf of Morinville; Mrs. Chas. Hulme and son of Halifax, N.S.; Mr and Mrs J Thomson and Jerry Melnyk of Edmonton; Mrs. Mary Finlay, Mr and Mrs. Chas. Finlay and family, Mrs. Milton Finlay and family of Mannville; Mrs. O. Perkins of Lloydminster and Mrs. Stafford James of Kitscoty.

THE STAGETTES

Stagette week got off to a good start with church parade Sunday morning at the United church and again in the evening at the Anglican church. That's right—twice! After the evening service we held a brief parley (about three-quarters of a jiffy) to decide on Monday's activity and came up with a pot luck supper idea. On that [illegible] notice how [illegible] it be anything but pot luck? It turned out to be a real feast though with everything from scalloped potatoes to fruit salad and ice cream. Oh, and baked beans. Who ever heard of a pot luck supper with no beans. It was really fun and most of the girls, when they could drag themselves and their next door neighbor away from the table, followed it up with a theatre party. That's after the dishes were finished of course.

Tuesday was a regular [illegible] night with 20 girls to sing the club song. We were pleased to see some more new faces of girls who are anxious (?) to get in before Initiation. They're wild [illegible] the idea. That's O.K. Lil and her gang will tame 'em. In another week or so we'll settle down to our regular meetings every first and third Tuesday of each month, and the meetings will run in a series of three, one business, one social and one educational. The latter headed by convener Betty Gray. With several prospective [illegible] on committees we are sure that they will earn their pins in true Stagette style.

Wednesday a trip to Lloydminster. Another supper — what's more fun than eating? Thursday will be spent recuperating. No, that doesn't sound quite right — let's see. Thursday will be spent at the discretion of the individual (which in all probability will be recuperating) except for Kay and Marina for whom Thursday will be spent at the hall checking. Have fun you two. Friday is show night so don't be later than 7 p.m. at the theatre kids, and Saturday Mildred and Ema take their turn checking while the rest of us have already left for the long week end. Isn't checking wonderful?

Next week be sure to be on hand for next week. Who knows what lurks around the next corner. Most likely a Stagette in Initiation get up.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3rd to 9th

150 – 170 Fires In Canada Every Day

This is Fire Prevention Week — but fanfare and public speeches won't make Fire Prevention Week a success. That takes "action"!

Each year there are hundreds of thousands of people for whom Fire Prevention Week is a failure. There are the victims of this country's 60,000 yearly fires. Many of them lose their homes or their jobs — over 500 of them lose their lives.

Human carelessness is responsible for most of our fires. The people who cause fires are probably exposed to just as much fire prevention talk as the rest of us, but it doesn't seem to 'take'. Matches and smoking are still the top cause of fires and have been for years. An old story — but thousands have evidently never really listened!

In public places fire safety rules are enforced by law. But you and I alone have the authority to enforce safe living in our homes. Only if it inspires us to do that the year around, will Fire Prevention Week be a success.

CARE TO BURN A $5.00 BILL?—

Care to burn a five-dollar bill? Everyone in Alberta did last year according to a breakdown of 1953 property loss due to fires.

Last year fire destroyed $5,652,339 worth of property which works out to a per capita loss to each Alberta citizen of $4.71. Besides the financial loss there was a toll of sorrow from the 2,553 fires of last year whose cumulative effect cannot be expressed in cold statistics. A total of 54 persons died in fires which might have been avoided.

Facts like these will be considered by thoughtful Alberta citizens this week when the Province observes its annual Fire Prevention Week. Local fire departments are busy encouraging public awareness of fire safety but all citizens are asked to eliminate all conditions in their homes and places of work liable to cause fires.

Provincial and local fire officials urge citizens to support the objectives of Fire Prevention Week. Careless handling of inflammable fluids, overheated stoves and smoking in bed are some of the hazards which can be avoided not only during Fire Prevention Week but throughout the year to keep fire losses at a minimum.

U. S. Wheat Crop

The latest estimate of the United States wheat crop made by the department of agriculture in that country places production at 962,135,000 bushels. This compares with 1,168,536,000 bushels harvested last year and would be the smallest crop since 1943.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH By Arnold

Mannville Fire Hose Standardized

MANNVILLE. — The men of the mobile machine shop set up alongside the fire hall for several days the beginning of the week, expected to be pulling out of Mannville on Thursday. They have been standardizing the threads on all fire hose couplings. As the new hydrants are standard the job here was not so long as in towns where all the hydrants as well as the fire truck had to be changed. This mobile unit is sponsored by Civil Defence and is travelling in the interests of Alberta Mutual Aid. The standardizing of hose connections will enable fire trucks to be used anywhere in case of fire or any other emergency where fire hose is needed.

MANITOBA CROP ESTIMATE

Wheat production in Manitoba this year is now estimated at 20,700,000 bushels by Manitoba Pool elevators. Last year production totalled 46,000,000 bushels. The average yield per acre, estimated at 14.6 bushels, will be the smallest in 18 years.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Oct. 6, 1938

W. E. Mackenzie retired from the railroad after giving 35 years service. Bill was locomotive foreman of the local round house. He had lived in Vermilion since April 28, 1908. N. W. MacKay from Edson was his successor.

The inter high school track meet was held at Lloydminster. The cup for the individual championship of the Junior division was won by Percy Cooper of the local high school. Perce won 3 firsts and one second for 18 of a possible 20 points. Lloydminster high school won the school honors.

Work was started on the Vermilion Wainwright highway, gangs starting on the north and south approaches to the Battle River.

Drilling of a deep test well in the Lloydminster area will be started shortly.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Oct. 4, 1922

Joe McKone, Ray Norton, Walter Nellis and Percy McKone returned from a 2-day goose shoot with 44 geese, shot 30 miles south east of Vermilion.

At press time Thursday it was snowing heavily.

A light crop is reported from the Islay district, wheat averaging as low as 4 to 6 bushels per acre.

Movement of grain to the elevators is the slowest in years. With a light crop and plenty of storage space the farmer does not seem overly anxious to market his grain.

Health Unit Notes

COMMON RESPIRATORY DISEASES

The most common respiratory disease is a 'cold in the head' and ways of preventing and treating this were discussed last week.

SINUSITIS

In the bones of the face there are several air-containing spaces called sinuses which lead into the nose through very narrow openings. When a person has a respiratory infection, germs may travel from the nose into one or more of these sinuses. As a result, the sinus lining becomes inflamed and pus accumulates in the sinus cavity. The severe pain in the cheeks or over the eyes, which is the most common symptom of acute sinusitis, is caused by the pressure of the accumulated pus on the sinus wall.

Alway report to a physician when a cold is accompanied by pain or soreness in the cheeks or over the eyes, as chronic sinusitis may develop if the condition is neglected. A head cold that 'hangs on' or repeated attacks of head colds, particularly when they are accompanied by a dull headache or pain or soreness over the affected sinus, are signs that chronic sinus disease may be present.

EAR INFECTIONS

During a head cold, infection may also travel from the back of the nose into the middle ear by way of the Eustachian tube and cause a middle-ear abscess. Infants and children sick with measles, scarlet fever or some other contagious disease are especially susceptible to middle-ear abscess and should be closely watched for signs of earache. The chief danger is the chance that the infection may spread to the mastoid bone, which has a small connection with the middle ear. Always consult a physician without delay if a cold or some other respiratory infection is complicated by earache so that the proper treatment can be started in time to prevent the development of mastoiditis. The use of sulfa drugs or penicillin has greatly reduced the danger of this complication.

Forcible blowing of the nose is one of the principal ways in which infected material from the nose may be driven into the middle ear. Blow your nose very gently when you have a cold, and do not use a nasal douche unless a physician tells you to do so and teaches you how to use it.

Chronic inflammation of the middle ear is the chief cause of loss of hearing. Always consult a physician if nagging pain or a feeling of stuffiness in the ear, head noises, and dulled hearing accompany repeated or long-continued colds.

TONSILLITIS

Acute inflammation of the tonsils caused by germs of various kinds is called tonsillitis. The symptoms of acute tonsillitis are sore throat, fever, and 'aching all over'.

Prompt medical attention is important because certain types of throat infections, particularly those caused by streptococcus germs (streptococcal sore throat or 'septic sore throat'), frequently lead to complications which may involve the heart, kidneys, or other vital organs. Fortunately, physicians are finding penicillin and sulfa drugs very helpful in treating severe throat infections.

Tonsils may become enlarged or chronically diseased from repeated acute attacks of tonsillitis or frequent colds. Enlargement of the pharyngeal tonsil, or 'adenoids', occurs most frequently in childhood. Mouth breathing, loss of hearing, and the spread of infection to other parts of the body are dangers against which the surgeon guards a child when he removes diseased or enlarged tonsils and adenoids.

INFLUENZA

Influenza is a respiratory disease which may be caused by any one of several different strains of influenza virus. The virus is present in the nose and throat discharges of an influenza patient and the disease seems most contagious in the early stages when it may be confused with 'just a cold'.

Influenza usually develops within two or three days following exposure. The patient has a fever, his back, head and limbs ache badly, and he may have a stomach or intestinal disturbance. Usually he is actually ill for only about a week, but the exhaustion which follows may be severe and last for a long time. The chief danger is that pneumonia or some other serious complication may occur during the recovery stage, especialy if the patient tries to 'get back on his feet' too quickly. At the first sign of a cold with fever and aching, go to bed and call a physician. Stay in bed until the physician says it is safe to get up.

(to be continued next week)

THIS IS HOW WE GROW

The new C N R line from Sheridon to Lynn Lake was built primarily to bring nickel out from the Lynn Lake Mine. But it has opened up, as well, a market for high-quality fish caught in the northern lakes along the route.

This, says The Financial Post, illustrates once again what afterdinner speakers mean when they talk of "pushing the frontier north". This pattern is a healthy one. First we find a basic, bread and butter resource, in this case the nickel; in another, iron ore of Labrador. Next follows the transportation, in both instances a railroad built primarily to bring out the new supply of raw material. Then follows the development of additional raw materials and industry, of new freight traffic and permanent settlement.

The Bang's Disease Question Box

QUESTION 1. — Why is Bang's disease important?

ANSWER — Bang's disease, also called bovine brucellosis, has caused an estimated $2 to $3 million loss annually in Alberta. The loss is going down every year through the co-operation of the cattlemen in building up Bang's resistant herds by the calfhood vaccination program. The loss to some individual cattlemen has been as high as $15,000.

The disease is also important because it can be spread to humans in whom it causes undulant fever.

QUESTION 2. — What are the symptoms of the disease?

ANSWER — The main symptom is the premature birth of calves during the 5th to 9th month of pregnancy. Frequently a lot of cows lose their calves in what is called an abortion storm. Sometimes when the disease is very bad a whole calf crop will be wiped out. Following that the odd cow may be sterile — not many, some will have retained after births, and dairy cows will give less milk for that lactation period. A cow usually only loses one calf and then gives birth to normal, healthy calves.

QUESTION 3. — How does the disease get into a herd?

ANSWER. — Usually by the purchase of an infected animal. A blood test taken by a veterinarian will tell whether the cow is infected or not. Care on buying additions is very important. Raising your own herd replacements is the best plan, or buy only vaccinated stock. One man this year brought 20 pregnant Bang's free cows into an infected herd and most of them aborted. This could have been prevented to a great extent if he had purchased such cows which had been vaccinated as calves against the disease.

QUESTION 4. — How can I protect my family against induiant fever?

ANSWER Have the milk cows blood tested by a veterinarian and only use milk from Bang's free cows. If that can't be done, pasteurizing or boiling the milk for three minutes, will render the milk safe to drink. Personal cleanliness when helping with calving cases will help kill any Bang's bacteria on hands and arms.

QUESTION 5. — How should I clean up my infected herd?

ANSWER — The most practical and economical method is to follow a program of yearly calfhood vaccination. As these vaccinates mature the infected cows should be sold for slaughter and in a period of a few years the disease can be practically eliminated. The proof of this is the excellent results in the University of Alberta herd, on ranches and in dairy herds in Alberta.

If there were only a few infected animals they could be 'sold for slaughter' right at the first, but the test and slaughter policy hasn't proven practical in badly infected herds. Consult your veterinarian before selling these animals though as his advice may avoid some costly mistakes.

QUESTION 6. — Should vaccination be done in a clean herd?

ANSWER — Definitely yes, to build up a Bang's resistant herd. With a resistant herd, a cattleman doesn't need to worry too much if his neighbor's herd becomes infected. He may have the odd cow abort but certainly won't have an abortion storm and lose thousands of dollars in gross income.

QUESTION 7 — What is calfhood vaccination?

ANSWER — It is the vaccination of calves with Brucella Abortus Strain 19 vaccine, giving them a good resistance against Bang's disease so that they won't lose their calves when they mature and take their place in the breeding herd. Calfhood vaccination isn't 100% perfect, but has proven to be about 95% effective, which is very good.

QUESTION 8. — Does the vaccine cause the disease?

ANSWER — No. The vaccine is not strong enough to cause the disease, but it is strong enough to build up a good resistance, as has been proven in many Alberta herds.

QUESTION 9 — Does vaccination interfere with breeding efficiency?

ANSWER — No, according to a report of the U. S. Livestock Sanitary Board. Evidence in Alberta shows as good breeding records in vaccinates as in non-vaccinates. If trouble exists call your vet to check for other causes.

Question 10. — At what age should calves be vaccinated?

ANSWER — To be classified as official vaccinates, calves must be vaccinated between the first day of the 6th month and the last day of the 8th month of age. Calves can be vaccinated though, down to four months and up to nine or ten months in some cases where they are for herd replacements. Purebred owners should get all calves done as official vaccinates, so they can export to the United States without a blood test up to 22 months after vaccination.

QUESTION 11. — Are vaccinates worth more money?

ANSWER — Yes. Wise buyers are only purchasing vaccinates and they are paying $10 to $25 more. One dairyman in Alberta paid $50 extra each for several heifers because they had been vaccinated as calves. One rancher got $18 extra each for 30 vaccinated heifers.

Vaccinated stock are the only kind that should be bought as additions to infected herds.

QUESTION 12. — How are vaccinates identified?

ANSWER. — A numbered tamperproof tag is put in the ear and that number is registered on the vaccination certificate that the veterinarian gives to the owner.

QUESTION 13. — Who does the vaccinating?

ANSWER — The practising veterinarians in the province. To get calves vaccinated, contact your local veterinarian or list them with your district agriculturist, or the Agriculture Service Board.

QUESTION 14 — Are there many calves vaccinated in Alberta?

ANSWER — 147,483 calves were vaccinated in Alberta in 1953 compared to 6,700 in 1947. Alberta has the second highest number of calves vaccinated in Canada, only Ontario has a few more thousand. Fourteen municipalities are Brucellosis Restricted Areas and are vaccinating every heifer calf. In a few years, the whole cattle population in these municipalities will be Bang's resistant, losses from the disease, and cases of undulant fever in humans practicaly eliminated. Two municipalities will be vaccinating their fifth calf crop this fall. They report that the cattlemen are very pleased with the program, as their losses are negligible compared to heavy losses a few years ago.

QUESTION 15. — How about herd additions?

ANSWER — Raising one's own herd replacements is the best policy. Where extra female cattle have to be purchased, they should be calves that can be vaccinated, vaccinated calves, or heifers or calves that were vaccinated as calves against Bang's disease.

AS IF

I was not surprised the other day when I came upon an article by Margaret Culkin Banning urging the benefits of acting "as if". She reminded her readers that Thomas Kempis told a story of a man filled with anxiety and fear. Then the man heard an inner voice from God which said, "Do now what you would do if you were sure you could succeed at it."

This is an old and well known truth. Always act as if it were impossible to fail. Another great writer Dorothea Brande said "This is the talisman, the formula, the command of right about face which turns us from failure toward success."

The ability to act "as if" comes only to those who develop faith in themselves. Those who expect always to be sure of everything before they make a start at it can not develop this inner faith. They become the misfits, the failures, the envious, the greedy. They are the ones who allow themselves to be regimented, put on the dole, enslaved.

On the other hand, those who learn to act "as if" ... venture without worry or apprehension. There is confidence in their every motion. They risk and they gain. And even when results are not exactly what they hope for they have at least the sense of having done their best.

Is there ... you have been considering? If so ... it "as if it were impossible to fail." You may be surprised at the wonderful results!

The Canadian National Railway spends about $2.45 per minute on supplies for its operation.

WEDDING BELLS

KENT—PIDCOCK

Holy Trinity church, Irwinville, tastefully decorated with massed bouquets of summer flowers, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, August 4th. Rev. R. T. Clennett united in holy matrimony Ella Miriam Pidcock, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Pidcock, Kitscoty, and Brian Arthur Kent, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kent, Marwayne.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was radiant in a floor-length gown of white nylon tulle over nylon taffeta, styled with a tulle bodice over strapless top and a three-tiered skirt edged with dainty nylon lace. Her gown was complemented with matching tulle mittens and a sweetheart headdress of pleated nylon net which held in place her finger-tip veil of French illusion. The bride wore a dainty stone-set gold pendant with matching earrings, gift from the groom, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, mauve tulle and lily of the valley centred by a mauve orchid.

Miss Sheila McCorry, as maid of honor, and Miss Janet Kent, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid were attired in identical floor-length gowns of corded taffeta, styled with net yokes, cuff collars forming cap sleeves trimmed with silver cord. Their dresses, in shades of peach and lilac respectively, were complemented by matching styled ruffled nylon head bandeaux and ribbon-tied mittens in shades of pale green and mauve. They carried tulle-tied Colonial bouquets of Talisman carnations and fern.

The groom was ably attended by his cousin Mr. Malcolm R. Kent. The guests were ushered to pews tied with white ribbon and sweet peas by Mr. Jack Tyner and Mr. Russell Lang.

Mrs. George Bootsman sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and during the signing of the register she rendered "O Perfect Love". Mrs. Elsie Batty ably provided all the wedding music.

A profusion of summer flowers decorated the Tracy Memorial hall, Kitscoty, for the reception when the bride's mother received wearing an azure blue orlon and nylon afternoon dress styled with a fan-pleated insertion skirt. To complete her ensemble she chose white accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

To receive, the groom's mother chose a dusky-rose silk crepe afternoon dress complemented by white and navy accessories and Talisman roses en corsage.

The bridal table was laid with an ecru silk lace cloth, centred by a beautifully decorated three-tiered cake topped with a miniature heirloom china basket holding pink sweetheart roses and fern. The cake was imbedded in tulle and flanked by tall pink tapers in silver candlesticks and bouquets of pink roses in crystal vases.

After the bride and groom cut the wedding cake Mr. James McCorry proposed an eloquent toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded.

Several young friends of the bride and groom assisted in serving one hundred and fifty guests who signed the guest book presided over by Miss Dorothy Watt. Mrs. Russell Lang was in charge of the many and beautiful gifts and Mrs. George Bootsman entertained with two delightful solos, "Because", and "I'll Walk Beside You".

Guests from afar were Miss Nora Wood of Delph, Yorkshire, Eng.; Mrs. John Bell, Richard's Landing, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mcnab, Abbottsford, B.C.; Mrs. C. East, Mrs. E. N. East, and Betty East of Winnipeg, Man.; Mrs. E. Schwartz and sons of Berrymore, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Linsdell, Mrs. R. I. Howlett and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Linsdell, Gordon and Stuart all of Edmonton; Mrs. Wm. Golightly, Grand Centre; Mr. Barnett Fraser, Wainwright; Mr. and Mrs. Howard McLaughlin and James of Vancouver, B.C.

A telegram of congratulations was received from Mr. J. A. Smith, the bridal couples' former principal who at that time was attending college at Missoula, Montana.

For a honeymoon trip to Yellowstone National Park and Salt Lake City, the bride donned a slate blue gabardine suit to match the groom's. To complete her outfit she wore white and navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kent are now residing in the Irwinville district near Marwayne.

To earn the price of one truck tire the Canadian National Railways has to haul one ton of grain a distance equal to that from Edmonton to Vancouver.

Presentations Made To Departing Members

Banquet Completes Baseball Season

Vermilion's baseball season was officially wound up Saturday evening when the members of the Tigers Senior Baseball team accompanied by their wives and lady friends, the executive members and wives, and a few guests who had been of special help to the team during the year, gathered together at a banquet in the Legion hall. The enjoyable affair served also as a farewell party to playing coach Jerry Moffat who has been appointed District Agriculturist at Grande Prairie and to Phil Huber who has now moved to Edmonton.

Bob Allen, a member of the executive, was toastmaster, and in his opening remarks, commented on the exceptionally fine season of the great summer pastime Vermilion had enjoyed in 1954. The calibre of ball played was high and the young men on the team were a very fine and desirable group. Mr. Allen went on to welcome the guests present, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper representing the Standard which gave the team such wholehearted support and publicity; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moyer, ardent followers of the club, always on hand to help; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart of Craig Bros., which firm donated a dress shirt for every home run hit and there were quite a number of them; and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Park whose firm, the B.A. Oil Co. presented the club with new uniforms.

Mr. Allen then called upon Mr. Ashley Cooper to read a letter sent by the Vermilion Board of Trade and addressed to the baseball team. The letter commended the club for the manner in which they played the game this summer, congratulated them on winning the league championship. The hope was expressed that this sport would be carried along on the same high plane next season.

The letter closed with a paragraph regretting the departure from Vermilion of playing coach Jerry Moffat and centrefielder Phil Huber.

In replying to the sentiments expressed in the letter, Mr. Moffat stated his appreciation of support received all season. He hoped that the baseball had provided entertainment and added to the prestige of Vermilion. Jerry then reviewed briefly each player's part in the season's play. He indicated a keen knowledge of the boys and quite obviously felt a genuine affection for each and every one of them. He regretted that a few of the players were absent, namely Brent Macnab who had reported for his hockey training at Springfield, Mike Kochen, Doug Willmer, Ray Jones and Eddie Bykewich.

Mr. Gordon Park then stated that he had a duty to perform which he hated to do, this was to bid farewell to a couple of very fine fellows and good ball players. He had been very proud of the Vermilion ball team all summer. Gordon then presented farewell gifts to Jerry and Phil from the baseball club. Both boys suitably replied and wished that they could be back again next year.

Several of the players present spoke [illegible] Les Williams, Ernie Larcombe, Umpire Irvin Gordon and John Webb, secretary of the club.

Catering for the enjoyable event was the W.A. to Canadian Legion. It is to be hoped that Vermilion can look forward to many more fine baseball seasons such as in the summer just passed, and this enjoyable social gathering was in keeping with the fine sportsmanship displayed all year.

C.N.I.B. Tag Day On Saturday

Masonic District Meeting Held Here

The Vermilion Masonic Temple was the locale of the annual general meeting of members of the Order for District No. 10 of the Grand Lodge of Alberta recently, when J. W. G. Morrison, Q.C., the District Deputy Grand Master presided.

All of the eleven Lodges concerned, seven of them rural and four from Edmonton were represented, and one hundred and thirty members were in attendance.

Prominent Masons, in the persons of Rev. the Honourable Peter Dawson, Grand Master, S. Carl Heckbert, Deputy Grand Master, and Ross M. Shephard and Ray Rierson, M.L.A. both of whom are Grand Lodge officers, were in attendance and considerable district business was completed.

A number of addresses and papers were given by members of the Lodges represented and forum discussions held. # J. E. Brownlee, Q.C. To Speak At Wainwright Oct. 15

ON GRAIN MARKETING

J. E. Brownlee, Q.C., president of United Grain Growers Ltd. and an authority on grain marketing will visit Wainwright on Friday Oct. 15 at the invitation of Wainwright and District Chamber of Commerce. While here he will address a meeting of all those interested in learning more about our problems in connection with the marketing of grain. The Chamber is very happy that Mr. Brownlee has found it possible to visit the town and is confident that the address and subsequent discussion will do much to disseminate accurate information on the situation as it now exists.

The meeting will be held in the Elite theatre and will commence at 8:00 p.m. It is hoped that a large number of people from Wainwright and the surrounding district will take the opportunity to hear this important topic discussed and will come prepared to ask any questions which will help in its clarification.

Board of Trade Holds Regular Meeting

Province To Launch Intensive Rat Extermination Campaign

The regular luncheon meeting of the Board was held Oct. [illegible] Ross Boake in the chair and twenty members present. Mr. Gerry Lang of Camrose was the guest of Dr. King.

Mr. E. H. Buckingham reporting for the Agricultural committee stated that the Alberta Department of Agriculture was embarking on a comprehensive plan for rat extermination in this portion of Alberta and that the plan would be announced shortly. As a result he recommended that the Board of Trade take no further action in regard to this matter, as there was nothing that they need or should do. The plan, when announced, would also contain definite directions to the citizens in towns.

In the absence of Mr. E. M. Stewart, the Board of Trade member of the delegation, Mr. Sutherland reported on the Board's request that the Department of Highways hard-surface the river hill roads as these are adjacent to the Provincial park. They had waited on the Hon. Gordon Taylor with this request but had received little hope that it would be done. There are at present other requests of like nature from two other towns but to the present the Department has not formulated a policy in respect to hard topping through towns that are situated on highways.

Mr. Cooper introduced the matter of paying some tribute to the Vermilion Tigers' baseball team and suggested that the executive of the team and the playing coach Gerry Moffat be invited to attend the next luncheon meeting as guests of the Board. Mr. Buckingham pointed out that Mr. Moffat would be away before the next meeting as he had been transferred.

Moved by G. F. Stephens and seconded by Dr. Ben King that a letter of congratulations be addressed to coach Gerry Moffat and the executive of Vermilion Tigers' baseball club on their very successful season which was climaxed by the winning of the Eastern Alberta Baseball league. This letter to be given to Mr. Lacie to read on behalf of the Board of Trade at the baseball dinner to be held Saturday evening. Cd.

Moved by N. N. Bentley seconded by D. R. Mitchell that similar recognition be paid to the Vermilion Ladies' Softball team which had won the Provincial Intermediate B. championship for 1954. Cd.

Mr. T. Watts mentioned that Steve Pus, local boy who was navigator on the plane which flew Prince Philip during his recent visit to Canada, was visiting his home here. The entertainment committee was instructed to invite Mr. Pus to the next luncheon meeting as a guest of the Board.

The Civic committee was instructed to look after decoration of stores for Teachers' convention days and for the V.S.A. opening on Oct. 19.

C.N.I.B. CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

The annual campaign for funds in aid of the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind opened in Vermilion on Oct. 12 reports Mrs. G. D. Matheson, Regent of Frog Lake Chapter I.O.D.E. which is sponsoring the C.N.I.B. campaign here.

In making this announcement Mr. J. A. Weber stressed the importance of this annual appeal. "The C.N.I.B. is the only organization having a general service program for blind Albertans and the special services available to blind people through the C.N.I.B. can be secured from no other source", he said.

The objective of the campaign for Northern Alberta is $25,000. This amount is needed to supplement the municipal and government grants which the C.N.I.B. receives in order that the wide range of services which it has developed can be maintained. These services include instruction in Braille and handicrafts, training in adjustment to blindness, vocational training, job placement and employment services, library, special concessions and personal services, prevention of blindness and general welfare services.

"There are now 550 blind people registered with the C.N.I.B. in Northern Alberta", stated Mr. Weber, "who look to the C.N.I.B. for service. This register of blind people is constantly increasing" he said, "and the C.N.I.B. can only meet the additional demands upon it if adequate public support is forthcoming." Those in charge of the local campaign in Vermilion for the C.N.I.B. are Frog Lake Chapter I.O.D.E.

Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic Here

A mobile Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic is to visit Vermilion on Monday, Oct. 25th from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. The clinic is at Legion hall and no appointment is needed.

Residents of this district are being asked to give a donation of blood. This blood is very urgently needed ... maybe a friend or relative of yours may benefit greatly, even have a life saved by your donation. Perhaps many people feel depressed at the thought of an almost barren harvest. Remember that the best way to at least partially forget our own troubles is to do a service for others. You do this when you donate blood.

Purebred Livestock Sale Attracts Fine Stock

Reports of the purebred livestock sale of the Agricultural Society, scheduled for November 13th, indicate that there will be some choice livestock available for the improvement of district herds. Entries close on Saturday next and it is anticipated that the offerings will be of the highest quality. Entries are being limited by the selection committee.

A complete list of the stock offered will be available in the Standard next week and meanwhile those who desire to effect herd improvement are urged to concentrate their attention on this annual sale. Hogs will be sold starting at ten o'clock and cattle offerings will go under the hammer immediately following lunch. Don F. Ball, well known Edmonton auctioneer, will conduct the sale.

255 Teachers Here For Convention

By 11:00 o'clock this Thursday morning 255 teachers had registered at the annual A. T. A. convention which opened in the Vermilion school of agriculture. Of this number 80 were from Vegreville S.D., 73 from Wainwright and 96 from Vermilion. There were also six student teachers in attendance to make up the total.

Following registration the sessions were commenced by Invocation by the Rev. J. T. McNair, greetings from Mayor S. C. Heckbert, of the Town of Vermilion, and an address of welcome by N. N. Bentley, principal of the school of agriculture.

Air Cadets To Fly On Saturday

Vermilion Cadets will take to the air on Saturday Oct. 16 as an R.C.A.F. aircraft will arrive here at 10 a.m. that morning and take all the boys for flights.

All cadets who want to enjoy a flight should report at the Vermilion airport at 10 a.m.

High Standing By Vermilion Boys

The two Vermilion boys, Gordon Scott and Ronald Inman, who won air cadet flying scholarships and as a result obtained their private pilot's licenses during the four weeks course at the Edmonton Flying club in the summer vacation, ranked very high for all cadets taking these courses across Canada.

Of the 250 in Canada who won these scholarship flying courses Gordon Scott took third highest marks in the final tests. A most notable achievement. Gordon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott of Borradaile.

Ronald Inman's marks were well above the average. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Inman of Islay who took his high school courses in Vermilion. The marks obtained on the tests have just been received by FO Stan Manyluk, OC of the Vermilion Flight of Air Cadets.

Attends University Under Officers' Training Plan

Another member of the Vermilion Air Cadets to take an important step is Stewart Dow who is attending the University of Alberta under the reserve officers' training plan. He is studying Electrical Engineering. Under the plan the R.C.A.F. pays the student's tuition and employs him during the summer vacations. At the completion of the University course Stewart enlists with the R.C.A.F. for a period of three years. At the end of that time he may stay in the service or return to civilian life.

Attend C. G. I. T. Conference, Olds

Three members of the C.G.I.T. from Vermilion, Anne Stewart, Joan Kibblewhite and Erva Sweet, attended the C.G.I.T. senior provincial annual conference held at Olds from October 9th to 11th.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vermilion, Alberta, Oct. 12

The Editor,
The Standard,
Vermilion, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

The Council of the Town of Vermilion has been endeavoring to give Vermilion streets which are at least the equal of those in any of our progressive western centres and doubtless considerable interest will be shown in the progress of the paving work which is rapidly nearing completion.

In order to keep our streets in as nice shape as possible this letter is to urge town and district people alike to assist us by refraining from dropping papers and other litter on the streets. Receptacles are provided at the main corners for litter and the effort required to utilize them, rather than merely throwing scrap on the street is not great.

Quite often people are observed opening car windows and dumping cigarette packages, contents of ash trays, paper bags etc. on the street, resulting in totally unnecessary work in cleaning and, at the same time making for untidy dirty streets.

Incinerators are provided at strategic points for the destruction of waste material from business places and those responsible are urged to make sure that all such material is burned and not permitted to add to the untidiness of the lanes and streets.

The co-operation of all concerned will be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
S. C. Heckbert, Mayor,
Town of Vermilion.

CALLS FOR CELEBRATION

Long a dream of progressive and community minded citizens, hard surfaced roads in the business section have now become a reality. In this achievement, Vermilion takes the lead in this northern half of the province, as no other town in our experience has so far attained this rather coveted objective. The completion of the hard-topping of the twelve business blocks is worthy of a celebration, not of the ribbon-cutting variety but something such as a huge street dance. The hard surfaced business section sets Vermilion just a jump ahead in convenience to the shopper, in appearance and cleanliness, and is a symbol of progressiveness.

PROOF POSITIVE.

Two Vermilion citizens of the present day found their way into the pages of the Edmonton Journal which told about the Golden anniversary celebrations carried on in that city. While we always knew these two chaps were smart now we thought they had accumulated that desirable characteristic after coming to Vermilion. Apparently they started off on the right foot in Edmonton as long as a half century ago. In the honor rolls of the city schools of 50 years ago appear the names of Frederick Richardson and Donald Taylor both ranking right at the very tops of their classes in the old McKay Avenue school. Just so that there is no mistaken idea of the boys' ages they were then in "department 1" so were just starting their school careers.

PUT A MUSICAL NOTE IN IT!

A whine is generally classified as an unpleasant sound on the same key, and citizens are apt to agree with this during the past week or so. It would be nice if a musical note or two could be injected into the whistle which emanates from the big new turbine in the power plant.

WHAT THE C.N.I.B. IS —

Like all serious disabilities blindness does not choose its victims. It strikes young and old, rich and poor, men and women. No one can say "It can't happen to me." It has already happened to more than 20,000 Canadians and new cases are being reported each week.

In our modern society most real needs are being met by special services. Blindness is no exception. It is fortunate for those who are blind and for those who will inevitably become blind that there is an organization with knowledge and experience to serve them.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is the only organization in Alberta so equipped. It was founded in 1918 and its aims are to prevent blindness and improve conditions for the blind. Its services include counselling in the care and training of pre-school blind children, co-operating with educational authorities in the education of school-age blind children, giving adjustment and vocational training to blind adults, instructing in braille and handicrafts, supplying handicraft materials, developing special appliances, maintaining a library service, finding and creating employment, developing and extending special concessions and personal services, maintaining residences and service centres and promoting recreation of all types. In short, meeting all essential needs.

The C.N.I.B. serves blind people of all ages, all races and all creeds. It is a voluntary agency and depends on public support to maintain its work. Its annual campaign is in progress in Vermilion now sponsored by the I.O.D.E. By supporting this appeal you will be offering a friendly helping hand to those who no longer enjoy the blessings of eyesight.

People will be glad to learn that steps are being taken to eliminate the noise altogether, so that its continuation is not in the books.

"GREEN ACRES"

FARM LOSES MONEY

It is nothing new for a farmer to lose money but here is one who lost $282.70 on 37 pigs which he sold last month. They all graded "C". The spread between "A" grade and "C" grade is $3 per cwt. Then there is the premium of $2 for grade "A" pigs. When it is all added up the loss for low grades to this farmer was $282.70.

MONEY IN HOLSTEINS

At public auction in Edmonton recently 25 Holstein [illegible] heifers averaged $452 each. Maybe we are in the wrong business down here. A few good dairy cows soon builds up into a paying business. At least a dozen farmers lately have enquired about buying milk cows.

CALF CLUBS STARTED

A meeting has been called for starting a calf club at Tulliby Lake. It looks like there will be four calf clubs in this area. If any other groups wish to get going please let me know soon. I can come out to a meeting and explain what is required. The boys and girls and the parents too get a great kick out of the calf club.

JUNIOR FUTURITY SHOW

Entries for the first annual Junior Futurity show close on Nov. 1. I hope that some of our calf club members and others too from this district will enter calves for this show. There are lots of prizes. Some purebred beef cattle breeders are co-operating with young feeders by supplying calves on shares. I trust that some breeders in this area will find a boy or girl if they have none of their own and make a deal.

POTATOES AND CARROTS

People tell me that their potatoes are not keeping well this year. This may be due to late blight or the wet season. It might be caused also by a few of the potatoes near the surface being frozen before digging. At any rate it will mean picking them over every couple of weeks or the entire bin will go rotten. Keep stored vegetables cool from 38 to 45 degrees. Carrots, also, should be watched for stem end rot.

PRUNING TREES

Several people have asked me lately if trees can be pruned in the fall. Yes, fall is a good time, but wait until freeze up so that the movement of sap has stopped. The spring seems to be the usual time for pruning. It is done before the sap starts to move. Anyone interested in pruning can get a circular from my office.

Carrying A Heavier Load

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR EDUCATION IN ALBERTA

FIRST IN A SERIES

Who is responsible for education in Alberta? Does the B.N.A. Act require the Province to establish and finance schools? Many people firmly believe that such is the case. They are convinced that the Province is required to provide for the education of young people and therefore should underwrite the cost of such an undertaking. In effect, however, the B.N.A. Act states that the federal government may not control education; its control must be left to the people of each province to exercise as they see fit. It is up to the people of Alberta to decide whether education is to be a matter for local, or for provincial control, or partly one and partly the other.

In practice the Alberta Government has adopted a middle course. By such statutes as the Department of Education Act and the School Act, the legislature has created a Department of Education, with its Minister on whom certain powers and duties are placed. These include responsibility for the preparation of courses of study, the selection of text books, the certification of teachers, the preparation and the marking of departmental examinations, the financial assistance of local school authorities, and the provision of certain supplementary educational services. The Legislature, following long Canadian tradition, has also created local school authorities — divisional, district, and county boards — to whom it has delegated certain duties and given certain powers. In general, school boards are expected to provide and equip school buildings, to maintain them in operating condition, to appoint teachers and other employees, to provide transportation for pupils as needed and to requisition from municipal authorities much or most of the money needed for these services.

But whether the Minister of Education is approving the choice of a new text-book, or a local trustee is investigating a leaky school roof, it must never be forgotten that each is performing his function on behalf of the people he represents. The power they exercise is wielded as stewards for their fellow citizens. Thus, there appears the unavoidable conclusion that all adult citizens of Alberta are responsible for education. And from this, it follows that the quality of education depends, at least in part, on how well and conscientiously Alberta citizens perform the duties which civic responsibility demands.

Why should any person be responsible for the education of any children other than his own? The answer of course is that a modern democratic people, for its continued existence as such, must be founded on an intelligent and informed electorate, on people who understand the meaning of democracy and who have the will the energy and the skills to put its principles into practice and to make the best possible contribution to one another's welfare. In other words, democracy cannot continue to exist if a large part of the population are ignorant of or indifferent to their democratic rights and duties. Thus is established a fundamental principle in Alberta education, one of its purposes is to train all boys and girls to become effective citizens of our Province and our country.

Curtis-Nixey Wedding Of Wide Interest

On Thursday Oct. 7 at 2 p.m. a pretty wedding was solemnized at the United church, Lloydminster, when Miss Audrey May Nixy, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Nixy of Kitscoty, became the bride of Mr. John Vernon Curtis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Curtis of Dewberry.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a light blue tailored suit with all white accessories and she wore a corsage of dark red roses and fern. Her only ornament was a rhinestone necklace and earrings to match, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Rose Buchanan, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was charming in a navy tailored suit, with pink and white accessories. Her corsage was pink roses and fern.

Supporting the groom was Mr. Milton Nichols of Lloydminster.

Rev. Morrison performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Morrison played the wedding march and during the signing of the register sang a beautiful solo.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Buchanan of Islay, for the immediate family and a few close friends. The table was beautifully laid with an ecru crocheted table cloth made by the groom's grandmother, and centred with a lovely three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom, and flanked by tall silver and white tapers. The room was tastefully decorated in pink and white. Rev. Morrison proposed the toast to which the groom fittingly responded. Mrs. W. Parker of Dewberry and Mrs. K. Buchanan of Lloydminster served.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a grey tailored dress with grey and white accessories and wore a corsage of tiny red roses, while the groom's mother wore a lavender tailored dress with grey and lavender accessories. Her corsage was also of tiny red roses.

In the evening the bride and groom were hosts at a very enjoyable and well attended wedding dance in the Islay hall.

The happy young couple will make their home in Lloydminster where the groom is employed with a trucking company.

WANT MORE FRIENDS? THEN WRITE MORE LETTERS!—

One of the most intriguing events of our daily existence is the mailman's ring, the call at the post office or the visit to the rural mailbox, according to what manner of mail service we depend on. An out-of-date newspaper, a circular, even a bill is more rewarding than emptiness. But the thing we pounce on with glee and devour with interest is the message from a distant friend.

We crave those letters, we want friends, but many of us fail, in the course of our busy days, to take the obvious steps towards bringing about such a desirable result. Do you want more friends? Then write more letters.

There is a long list of standing excuses. You're thinking of them already. There's no time, nothing to say, tomorrow or next week will do just as well.

No time? If you keep materials handy and write briefly, a message can be prepared for the mail almost as quickly as a note is written and placed up in the kitchen. Don't put off writing. It's only the message that gets on paper and on its way that brings a glow. Tomorrow or next week might bring you a happy reply.

Nothing to say? Writing a letter is as easy as talking. By sending frequent short letters you can be very casual and you can satisfy yourself and your correspondent with one or two items of current news. Who wouldn't prefer frequent brief messages to one long, newsy letter they must wait weeks or months to receive?

Keep a list of names and addresses of your friends and relatives and keep it up to date. Keep writing materials and stamps — plenty of them — on hand and handy. People make your life. Let them make your life more interesting by inviting them to write you often — that is by writing first!

Weather Slows Tourist Season

In spite of poor weather most areas in Alberta seem to have enjoyed a relatively successful tourist season. From the Crowsnest Pass comes word that while the season wasn't the best on record, the opening of the Coleman-Kananaskis highway has helped to keep things active. Grocery stores and service stations in particular estimated that the highway had meant a 20 per cent increase in summer business for them. Tourist resorts and cafes reported less activity, with cabins [illegible] [illegible].

From Banff reports indicate that while a greater volume of cars passed through the gates, the over all count from April to August indicated fewer tourists. ## DEWBERRY W.A. PLAN ANNUAL CHICKEN SUPPER IN NOVEMBER

The Dewberry Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. W. Porter for the regular meeting with 14 members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn followed by the Bible reading by Mrs. D Munroe. Mrs. Webedale read "The Upper Room" the daily reading for the meeting day.

The treasurer read her report. Sunshine Lady sent one card. This was to Mrs. Curtis.

In trying to add to the building fund this summer several of the members held Silver teas. Mrs. W. Porter held hers in V[illegible] with a gathering of old friends from Dewberry. Altogether through these efforts over $[illegible] was raised. Mrs. S. Webedale gave the money from her thank-you box. This is a box into which she puts a donation every time she is grateful for something. She always likes to keep the members in suspense as to how much there is, and what cause she will donate it to. The writer thinks that all should have thank-you boxes and can hear someone saying "It isn't easy with a young growing family" and agrees with them there.

The main theme of the meeting was 'when will the chicken supper be held?' After a lengthy discussion the 17th of November was chosen. This will be held in the Dewberry hall from 6 to 8 p.m. Adults will be charged $1 with the children 12 years and under 50c, pre-school age kiddies are free. It is hoped that the crops are all in the granaries by then and everyone will be able to join in this annual effort. The W.A. ladies will be very grateful to anyone wishing to help with the donation of pie or chicken. Following the choosing of various committees the meeting was closed with the Benediction.

The one visitor present was Mrs. Nell East. Mr. and Mrs. East are visiting with friends and relatives in the district. Mr. East homesteaded north of Dewberry back in 19[illegible].

Settled Weather

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather of late has been very favorable for harvesting and everyone is keeping busy. Fall is with us and no doubt winter will arrive too soon for most of us. The beauty of the countryside with all its many colors has now disappeared.

Sorry this item was omitted in our last news — Many happy returns on Dad McBride's 83rd birthday on Sept. 11. Our best wishes for your health and happiness and many more birthdays.

Miss Patricia Cross, R.N. who has been nursing in the city after her graduation last winter, is now nursing in the Vermilion hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Omness and daughters Janice and Irene of New Sarepta were visitors at the home of their daughter Lurlene, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hobbis and family of town on Oct. 6. Rufus and Ruth were dinner guests at the Mayers' home on Oct. 7 and at Armstrong's for supper. On Friday they motored to Elk Point to visit with Rufus' sister Mrs. Gertie Swanson. They returned home that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayers motored to Elk Point on Oct. 9 to visit with the latter's sister Mrs. Gertie Swanson. The next day all went to Spring Park to visit relatives and found them all very well. Their chicken supper, always a gala affair, is Oct. 20 in the large Spring Park hall.

The Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture, kicks off for Alberta in its "National Cheese Festival" while Eddie [illegible], a favorite with Western Conference fans, holds the ball.

KICKS OFF IN CHEESE FESTIVAL

Alberta this month is saluting a tasty, nourishing and simple food which provides an inexpensive staple in many homes.

October is the month of the National Cheese Festival, an annual campaign during which Alberta cheese manufacturers, the Dairy Branch of the Department of Agriculture, dairy farmers, retail stores, hotels and restaurants unite in the effort to increase consumption of this typically Canadian food.

It was 3000 years ago that cheese first came into existence as good sustaining food. The Arab shepherd who discovered a mass of good tasting thickened milk in his water bottle made of a sheep's stomach, was the first person on record to eat cheese in its simplest form. He liked it too so he told his nomadic neighbors and they spread the news to the far corners of the ancient world. Since that time, the use of cheese as a food for humans has developed in progressively varied forms. There is not one country in the civilized world, since the days of Genghis Khan which has not had its own particular type of national cheese. The origin of many of these types is lost but there are interesting stories recorded, telling how certain well known cheese names acquired their distinguishing qualities. Today there are about 800 varieties known to the world and from this wide choice special preferences are found both on the tables of humble cottagers and those of the wealthy.

On the North American continent the art of cheesemaking began in farm homes, where settlers from the Old Countries augmented their larders with cheeses they had learned to make in their native lands. The rapid growth of the commercial cheese industry in those formative years in the middle of the last century, and its persistence since, is an indisputable tribute to the place which cheese holds in the estimation of consumers of all generations.

The opening of the first commercial cheese plant in Canada in 1864 was the beginning of an era which not only supplied Canadian tables profusely with good Cheddar but it was the start of an export business which grew by leaps and bounds, reaching an all time high in 1904, when 234,000,000 pounds were exported to other countries, notably Great Britain. Then, other dairy products came into existence and there commenced a new diversion of milk. The natural demand increased with population but cheese retained its honoured position as the balance wheel of the whole industry.

In Alberta, it was Ebenezer Healy who started it all in 1888. He built and equipped a cheese factory on his farm at Springbank near Calgary, bought milk from some of his neighbors, added it to his own supply and sold his cheese for many years in Calgary and also to the mining areas of southern B.C. Alberta cheese production has been up and down since those pioneer days and while cheddar cheese, which was the Healy variety, is still the main product made here, other kinds find a ready sale on our provincial market. Prominent among these is locally made cottage cheese which is finding increasing favor with Albertans everywhere. In years to come, and indeed at the present time, the many new immigrants to the province have demonstrated a yearning for the cheeses of their native lands. This may yet open a new doorway in the business of local cheese manufacture because the demand for foreign type cheeses is not confined solely to new Canadians' preferences.

Keeping pace with industrial progress, improvements to both cheese factory buildings and equipment have been evident in recent years. Stainless steel vats with mechanical agitators have not only lightened the work but also have contributed to higher quality cheese. All plants now have artificial refrigeration installed to control temperatures for proper curing.

The real function of the cheese industry is best known to the consumer. It supplies the needs of Alberta tables and in fact, some is exported to B. C. and Saskatchewan. In years of low production Albertans have resorted to eating cheese of equal quality when available from other cheese producing provinces, notably Ontario.

Since 1937 the grading of cheese has become a regular practice through the grading service of the Dominion department of agriculture. Improvement in the quality reached a new peak in 1952, when Alberta factories turned out the highest percentage of top grade cheese since grading was instituted.

Most up-to-date demonstration of the progress in quality improvement is indicated by prizes won by Alberta cheddar cheese at the 1954 Canadian National Exhibition. This cheese competed with and won over some of the best that Ontario produces and that in itself is a most commendable achievement.

Former Resident Honored, Mannville

MANNVILLE. — On Friday evenin, Oct. 8, a social evening was held in the United church hall in honor of Mrs K C MacLeod a former minister's wife. She and Rev K C Macleod spent 13 years in the work of the United churches in Mannville, Minburn and Innisfree. Mrs Macleod was renewing acquaintances in these towns and districts for a few days. The guest of honor gave a short talk on life and conditions in the north where she and Rev. Macleod are working in the United Church at Grimshaw and Berwyn. They like the north and are very happy, having made a host of friends. A large and up to date manse is being built which they hope before too long to occupy.

Owing to the lateness of harvest our country ladies were unable to attend. The guest of honor favored those present, about 23 in number, with some fine solos. A very pleasant time was spent after which the company sat down to a delicious lunch served by the W.A. of sandwiches and cake.

The last items on the program were 'Old Lang Syne' and 'For She's a Jolly Good Fellow'.

Present day production is about 3,000,000 pounds annually from 10 factories located mainly in the northern area where milk cow population is more concentrated.

"Mommy, what makes the gas flame go?"

That's Jim being asked. "What makes the stove twinkle?"

But when your son asks you can tell him: "Gee, Sonny, it is hidden away below the ground. Mother Nature formed the gas a long, long time ago. Men drill holes in the ground to find it. Other men pass it through machinery known as dehydration to take the water vapor out. The gas goes through a gathering system of pipes to a central station where odors are put into it for our protection.

"The gas then goes into a transmission system in sufficient quantities to provide enough pressure for communities like ours. Regulating systems make certain we get the right amount of pressure for the gas range and other appliances in our home."

The efficient delivery of natural gas into your home or business is the result of large investments by your gas company.

These are among the things, Sonny, that make the gas flame go!

SEEDING TO HARVEST
Line Elevator Farm Service Conducted by
F. L. WATTERS
Chief-in-Charge, Entomology Laboratory, Canada Department of Agriculture, Winnipeg

Preparation of Farm Chemicals

An insect survey recently completed in the three prairie provinces by entomologists of the Canada Department of Agriculture shows that grain-infesting insects are present on most farms. By following a few simple practices in preparing granaries for newly-harvested grain, farmers can save themselves serious losses from insects.

How to Prevent Losses. (1) If the granary is movable place it on high ground; here there is good drainage. Raise the granary also a ground level to provide a free air space below the floor. Burn to old grain trenches around the granary as insects are usually heavily infested with insects. (2) Sweep the ceiling, inside walls and floor of the granary, clean. Bury the sweepings. (3) Repair leaky roofs, windows, windows and doors to keep out rain and snow. (4) Sprinkle hydrated lime on the floor and spray it into the cracks. (5) Spray the ceiling, inside walls and floor with either Pyrenone (2%) dairy and mill spray, or Lindane (1%). Apply either of these emulsions at the rate of 1 gallon per 1000 square feet. One gallon is usually enough to treat the inside of a 1000-bushel granary. (6) Do not store machine-sold grain near feeds or on a bin of old grain. (7) Do not fill the granary above the level of the walls.

Many farmers are constructing new granaries with concrete floors. These may be sprayed with good quality vapor barrier paper between layer of gravel and mud. Remember, grain that is housed dry and kept dry will not spoil or become heavily infested.

Farmers may obtain further information from their local Agricultural Representative, the Line Elevator Farm Service by writing to the Entomology Laboratory, 726 Dominion Public Building, Winnipeg.

A Military Ball is to be held in the Armouries by "A" Company, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, on Friday, November 5th. The Citizen's Committee of "A" Coy. is co-operating with the unit in making arrangements for this big social function.

A limited number of invitations will be available from Chairman A. E. Kaiser, Secretary E. H. Buckingham or from the Commanding Officer Capt. L. O. Roy. Invitation cards are required for admittance at the door. The cost is $4.00 per couple.

This is the third Military Ball arranged by the local unit and this one promises to be bigger and better than ever.

The band of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry will provide an orchestra for the dance music. This unit is now affiliated with the Loyal Edmontons.

Dress for this function is uniform if you have it. Permission has been obtained for all ex-service men to wear uniform on this occasion. Otherwise formal or semi-formal dress is in order. 16-7

Wedding Bells

BOULTON - McCOLLIN

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Saviour's Anglican church on Saturday, October 9 at 11 o'clock in the morning when Edna McCollin became the bride of William Boulton. The Rev. D. A. Ford officiated.

Attending the young couple were Miss Doris Salisbury and Mr. Saul Clithero both of Edmonton.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin.

Stagettes Initiate New Members

Initiation is over. Peace be with you till the same time next year. Eleven girls Marie Miller, Betty Gray, Esta Curtis, Rita Wright, Sheila Hamilton, Marie Ferby, Ethyl Dixon, Marina Capatos, Nan Marshall, Edna Allen and Joan Hildreth went thru' the ordeal of paint, pig tails, and punishment to become proper Stagettes. They did everything from walk the plank to selling dance tickets on the street, proving themselves to be real sports and the makings of real Stagettes. Dressed in latest startling fashions (more startling than fashionable) they looked like — well, yes they did, but I was going to say they looked like Hawaiian dancers on the warpath. Every so often Edna breaks out with a tricky little dance step she learned last year and though it isn't everyone she'll teach it too I see that Joan has had an inside track. They are a good bunch of girls and we are very happy indeed to have them in the club.

If you ever go to the Chicken-in-the-Ruff with Kay make sure you're just a little more than arm's length away, unless you "don't care to eat anyway." We went to the show in Lloyd. last Wednesday as planned — didn't we, Denis? — and had lunch at the Chicken-in-the-Ruff afterward. If this happens you know Kay is around. She didn't like chips so she ate only half on the three closest plates. She didn't care for chicken so ate only two of the smallest hunks the size of your fist; she can't drink coffee—and drank three cups. Then her order came, and she ate all that except one bite. And Lil had not one but two, foot long hot dogs. (I ate also.)

A donation to the Blind starts the wheel of charity spinning and a second to CARE which goes to the Medistone School in London follows. Saturday will find volunteers helping with the Tag Day for the Blind and we wish to thank the public in advance for their cheerful response to the call of the less fortunate folk in our land.

For checking on Saturday comes Lil's and Ethyl's turn.

Tuesday night is full for all. Come and join us at the Hall. What, you wonder, is the call? It's the Stagette Harvest Ball! See you.

Former Clandonald Lady Ranks High As Artist

Mrs. R. R. Elliott, (nee Kathleen Stockwell) who grew up in the Clandonald district, but who in 1922 moved to Ontario, is the lady featured in the following story which is taken from the Port Hope Illustrated News. Mrs. Elliott attended the Vermilion high school, Camrose Normal, and then taught school for several years in the Vermilion inspectorate as it was known in those days. In 1919 she married Mr. Ridd Elliott and in 1922 they moved to Ontario. The couple have two sons and one grandchild. As stated in the story Mrs. Elliott has only been painting as a hobby for about two years, which makes her success in such a contest all the more remarkable.

E. A. Stockwell of Clandonald is a brother of Mrs. Elliott's and Mrs. Walter Coulter of Vermilion is a niece.

There is an illustration in the Port Hope paper showing Mrs. Elliott beside the picture which was her one of four honorable mention awards among the 150 entrants. The story as told in the Port Hope News follows:

"A high placing in the Women's Institute provincial contest for amateur artists has been won by Mrs. R. R. Elliott, Toronto Road.

It was a surprise to Mrs. Elliott when she turned on the one o'clock news on Friday to hear her own name announced amongst the winners in the province-wide Tweedsmuir Cup competition for amateurs. The contest was sponsored by Salada Tea Company and was open to members of Women's Institute in Ontario.

Quoting the Toronto Globe and Mail: "Entries in this competition came from all parts of Ontario and were judged by A. J. Casson, P.R.C.A., O.S.A. and Herbert Palmer, R.C.A., O.S.A. There were 150 entries and in commenting Mr. Casson said they have an honesty about them which is refreshing. A good many of them show remarkable color sense and a sense of composition."

The winners were Mrs. Mabie Grundtsch, Welland, first prize with a picture of Niagara Falls. Mrs. M. McBride of Walkerton attained second placing and honorable mention was awarded Mrs. Elliott for a picture of Walter's Mill at Garden's Crossing. Mrs. Elliott is a member of Institute branch of the Institute. The prize money was graded according to placing.

The prize pictures will be arranged in a suitable case for display and will travel to 12 area conventions this coming autumn.

(In speaking with Mrs. Elliott she said it was almost her last thought to enter the contest. In fact the picture was scarcely dry and had to be carefully packed to arrive in Toronto by August 1st dead-line. This local artist has been working for a little over two years endeavoring to make a visible record of the beauty spots of Durham county before many of them disappear forever in the path of the axe, the bulldozer and similar modernizing forces. The Ganaraska, the marshes, old bridges and the numerous scenes and vistas dear to the memory of Durham people, are being translated in oils and appear on the walls of her home and the homes of those who have secured them for themselves.

The picture of the Walter's Mill is expected home in November when the public may have an opportunity to view it in a convenient setting."

Mr. and Mrs. T. Dick Are Honored

At the time of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dick's departure for Victoria, the Vermilion branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society recommended to headquarters that the badge of Service be awarded to both these Red Cross members, who had worked so faithfully and well for this Branch over a period of years. The Vermilion branch have now received a letter from headquarters in Calgary, quoting a letter from Victoria, and reads as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. Dick were welcomed by Col. Turner, introduced to various chairmen and invited to visit the branch at any time. Early in the meeting the Citations were read, the Badges of Service presented, after which Miss Curtis showed the visitors over the building. We were happy to have the opportunity of presenting these badges and hope that the manner of presentation will be satisfactory."

Local Chev. Dealers See 1955 Models

Back from the history-making three-day national Chevrolet-Oldsmobile dealer convention in Toronto which he described as "the largest and most significant convention in the history of the Canadian automotive industry", E. J. Herzog was interviewed by the Standard. He was accompanied to Toronto by Albert . Rattray of Wainwright and Walter Coulter of Vermilion.

"Startling design and power changes in the completely revamped Chevrolet for 1955", Mr. Herzog reported, "will make this the most important model ever to be offered in the popular-priced field."

This was the unanimous reaction of 1300 dealers and department heads from points as widespread as Northern B.C. and Newfoundland, who gathered in Toronto for the record-shattering convention.

The dramatic model changes were introduced in the first-day feature of the convention, a two and a half hour glamour review that highlighted the cars on the largest indoor stage ever built, against a background of costumed models, and specially-arranged music. Canada's top variety talent was enlisted for the Broadway-standard production.

The 1300 guests made a detailed tour of the company's new 47 and a half acre passenger car assembly plant in Oshawa, largest in Canada or the Commonwealth, on the second day of the convention. The enormous plant, Mr. Herzog reported, gives General Motors a productive capacity of 1250 vehicles a day, by far the Canadian auto industry's greatest.

Third-day highlight was a trip to St. Catharines and the new 'push-button' foundry of McKinnon Industries, a GM division. Steel men around the world regard the new foundry as the most modern in existence.

The new model developments, combined with the greatly stepped-up productive capacity resulting from GM's 100 million dollar expansion program over the past four years "have left me", Mr. Herzog said, "with the conviction that car buyers can look forward in 1955 to the most important year on record".

Mr. Ralph McGray from California visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. E. Joy.

Mr. J. W. Tupper is progressing favorably in the University hospital. His friends in Kitscoty and district extend their best wishes for a speedy recovery to him.

Mr and Mrs. Tim Bootsman and Marlene have taken up residence in Wainwright where Mr. Bootsman is employed at a construction job. Tim has resided here for 42 years and the best wishes of the town and community go with him and his family in their new home.

We are pleased to report Mrs. W. A. McGladrie is home from the hospital and is much improved in health.

Mr. J. A. Smith spent the long week end as a patient in the Lloydminster hospital receiving treatment.

F. U. A. Asks Provincial Help

In a message to the Provincial Cabinet, President Henry Young points out the disastrous situation among Alberta farmers as a result of the marketing situation and one of the worst seasons in Alberta's history.

In the F.U.A. submission, the provincial government is asked for action along the following lines to help alleviate the situation.

Points from the F.U.A. letter to Mr. Manning:

1. Waive collection of hail insurances taxes on at least the first 5 bushels per acre which is delivered to elevators.

2. Postpone for one year collection of installments on loans for the building of R.E.A. lines.

3. Take action to prevent farmers being evicted from their farms through tax sales, foreclosures, etc. during this emergency period.

4. Take immediate steps to ensure that adequate supplies of both seed and feed are retained in the province.

"We believe that these steps, if taken immediately, will help our farmers to meet the emergency. They are all within the power of the Province, both legally and financially. Now is the time for this great rich province to put its resources behind Agriculture. In doing so, it will help maintain prosperity for other classes, for in Alberta most of those in urban areas depend upon a prosperous agriculture," the letter also stated.

School Age Not Same For All Children

The months of September and October are delicate months for teachers, principals, as well as parents and would-be parents of first grade children. While many new pupils fit into school routine with little difficulty, hurt feelings, confusion and even anger can arise over those who do not.

An article entitled "Is Your Child Ready For School" in the current issue of Health magazine answers many of the ticklish questions with which parents and educators are faced at this time. The article is by Dr. F. Weinberg of the University of Toronto. Health magazine is published by the Health League of Canada, the national voluntary organization for preventive medicine.

"Each child grows at his own rate of speed mentally and socially. Research has shown that you cannot, without injury to his nervous system, force that rate beyond its limit. A 6-year-old child may be as advanced as a 7-year-old in his use of language, yet be so clumsy with his hands in using tools or drawing that a 4-year-old could surpass his performance," writes Dr. Weinberg.

"To decide whether a child is ready for school," says Dr. Weinberg, "It is important to take into account the kinds of experiences he has had before he goes off to school. The over-protected child comes to school unable to meet the everyday problems on his own. The child should get enough experience in the pre-school years at home. He should be encouraged to investigate, see for himself without too many don'ts."

Dr. Weinberg submits a list of things a child should have learned before he is ready for school.

1. He should have learned to attend to his own toilet needs without supervision.

2. To dress and undress himself without assistance with a few exceptions, such as snowsuits and shoe laces.

3. He should have acquired a fair degree of control of the larger muscles such as in running, jumping, climbing. He should be able to understand simple directions and carry them out.

4. He should have learned to accept necessary restrictions and rules.

5. He should speak clearly and readily with no baby talk.

6. He should be content without his parents, go places without them, stay at home when they are not there.

7. He should have discarded temper tantrums as a method of getting his own desires.

8. He should have learned to play with other children without too much conflict or quarreling.

Albertan Wins Julian Crandall Trophy

The conservation work of Henry Stelfox of Rocky Mountain House has won national attention through the awarding of the Julian Crandall Association Trophy at the Canadian Tourist Association convention.

A citation, read at the convention, stated that Mr. Stelfox has conducted a successful campaign to conserve animal resources throughout a large area of the eastern slopes of the Canadian Rockies. His friendship and influence among the Chippewa and Cree Indians in the foothills area is well known and it was partly through his influence that the bands of Ochiese and Sunchild were brought under treaty a few years ago.

Pleasant Valley

This is it folks, summer weather is here at last. Let's hope that it stays for a long time. The men are busy haying, combining and threshing.

Edith Coutts and Tommy King spent their Thanksgiving holiday on the farm with Annie and Christie.

Earl Bowser and two sons from Edmonton spent the Thanksgiving holiday visiting his father and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waterfield. Earl did some hunting while here. How many geese Earl?

Bill Bothwell from Regina motored home for Thanksgiving to visit his parents Mr and Mrs. Tom Bothwell on the old farm. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper and family, Miss Connie Harle, Mr. and Mrs. Will Muir and Willmer Pretty were all down from Vermilion for a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner, with chicken, pumpkin pie and whipped cream and many other goodies.

Garfield Potvin was home from University over the week end visiting his parents and brother Billy. Did you have a turkey Sylvia?

Mrs. Gillies and Mrs. Gould enjoyed the harvest festival service at Islay. The church was very nice with harvest decorations.

The Moore family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Gould and were guests for supper with Mr and Mrs. Bert Gould. Here another chicken supper was enjoyed with ice cream and strawberries for dessert. Oh my, those country folks surely do put up real he-man meals.

The writer visited Mrs. Jones on Friday the cream puffs were very good there. Mr Jones was driving the tractor for Frankie Robinson. Even the older folks are helping to gather up the grain in this late harvest season.

Mr. Van den Dolder drives down every day and works until dark. Both these chaps are over 70 years young.

It was nice chatting with Mrs. McAcheen and Mrs. Allan on Sunday.

THE SAFEGUARDING OF "SELKIRK" STOCKS

The recent move by the authorities concerned to prohibit the export of Selkirk seed stocks from Canada was a timely one indeed, and it is a step that will be welcomed by farmers generally. It should ensure that every bushel of Selkirk seed that has been raised in Canada this year will find its way onto Western Canadian farms in 1955, thus providing the fullest measure of protection against rust another season.

It will be recalled that the change-over from Marquis and other varieties to Thatcher took several years to bring about, beginning in a small way in 1936 with the limited stocks then available, and being slowed down to some extent by the short crop of 1937 when yields were very low.

A good start was made last year with the distribution of Selkirk wheat and the spring of 1955 will see a much wider distribution throughout the west. Available stocks, however, are still quite limited in relation to the probable demand. It is good to have the assurance, therefore, that supplies of this rust-resistant variety, which has stood the test so well this year, will, for the time being at least, be retained in Western Canada where it was developed.

F.U.A. Seek Program To Halt Migration From Farms

EDMONTON — Farmers' Union of Alberta will seek a mandate from the rural population to support a 5-point program designed to halt the migration from the farm by protecting primary producers.

The grassroots organization will continue to seek parity prices on foreign markets for all farm produce, it was stated.

At the same time it will maintain pressure to secure provincial legislation for a vote to decide the question of producer-controlled marketing boards as a means to obtaining floor prices on the Canadian markets.

The alarming prospects of rural depression has led to plans for protecting the farmer in possession of his land and equipment. This program calls for measures to combat prospective evictions by foreclosure, tax sales, etc., and losses of equipment, machinery and livestock by seizures or other means reducing family farm tenure.

Enquiry into ways to halt disintegration of the family pattern of Canadian farming that has already resulted in a drop of 20% in the rural population of Alberta since 1941, is another point in the 5-point program of the grassroots farm body.

A public meeting to be advertised in the weekly press, will be held in Edmonton the latter part of October or early November, it was stated by F.U.A. headquarters in Edmonton.

Unrecognized Alcoholics May Be Major Problem

Alcoholics who maintain some degree of family and job stability are often overlooked in alcoholism surveys, but they constitute the most significant section of the total alcoholic population, according to Robt. J. Gibbins, M.A., of the Ontario Alcoholism Research Foundation. Gibbins discusses alcoholism statistics in the current issue of Health, published by the Health League of Canada, the national voluntary association for preventive medicine.

"Frequently, groups attempting to make alcoholism surveys consider only alcoholics seen in Skid Row districts, those arrested by the police, those seen at social agencies, and perhaps those who undergo treatment in mental hospitals. They then make the error of defining the community's overall alcoholism problem in terms of the characteristics of these easily definable persons", says Gibbins.

Gibbins divides 'alcoholics' into two general categories. The largest number are called 'alcohol addicts', meaning those persons who have an uncontrollable craving for alcohol and who are unable to break with the drinking habit. 'Chronic alcoholics' are persons who have been drinking excessively for a prolonged period of time and have suffered one or more of the complicating diseases of alcoholism such as liver cirrhosis, delirium tremens, etc.

Statistical surveys indicate that out of every 1000 Canadian alcohol users approximately 20 are alcoholics. Of these approximately 6 are chronic alcoholics.

Gibbins says: "There is evidence to show that in Canada as well as in other countries the consumption of alcoholic beverages and also the incidence of alcoholism have decreased in times of economic depression and unemployment and increased in times of prosperity. Of the known alcoholics, the majority occupy the middle and upper occupational levels."

"The complexities of the problem," he says, "have been somewhat obscured by the propaganda of certain groups. On the one hand there are those who assume that alcoholism is the direct cause of most social problems, and who with more imagination than regard for accuracy issue statements which greatly exaggerate its deleterious effects. On the other hand, of course, are those who because of wishful thinking, self interest, lethargy or lack of information tend to underestimate the size of the problem."

SCALLOP POTATOES WITH A SOUP-SAUCE

FALL brings a tide of fresh enthusiasm for things domestic. Mrs. Homemaker looks for improved ways to do things, from cleaning the house to preparing meals.

New ideas in the cooking department are always welcome. With gusto, the homemaker clips recipes from newspapers and magazines and tries them out on the family. When a dish meets her approval, she tucks the recipe to her file or cookbook to be used again soon.

A "family-tested" recipe with a slightly different twist is scalloped potatoes made with condensed cream of chicken, celery or mushroom soup makes a smooth flavorful sauce for the potatoes. Once the family has tasted them prepared this way, they'll never want them any other. As Suzy says, "They're scrumptious!"

A cup of cooked chicken or turkey (from stew or roast) goes into the dish as well as a bit of onion, pimiento and seasoning. When all together are combined in a casserole, they're baked into the oven to bake for an hour. That allows time for the homemaker to toss greens for a salad and warm some cherry Danish pastries or English muffins. Desert could be sliced peaches or baked apples.

"EXTRA-SPECIAL" SCALLOPED POTATOES

Blend soup, milk, salt, pepper and onion. Arrange alternate layers of potatoes and sauce in a greased 1½ quart casserole; dot top with butter. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) for one hour. 6 servings.

Frost Injures Seed Grain

Frost seriously affects the germination of unripened grain. The amount of damage to seed depends on the maturity of the crop and the length of time and the number of degrees the temperature is below the freezing point. Without a doubt the frosts of Sept. 16 and 19 seriously affected the yield and quality of all crops in central and west-central Alberta. As a result seed supplies, particularly seed oats, are likely to be inadequate in some districts for the 1955 planting advises Arthur M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Good seed oats may be difficult to obtain by seeding time, Mr. Wilson warns. Farmers who require seed should avail themselves at an early opportunity to purchase the seed they need. In some districts there is likely to be a carry-over of oats from 1953 that will be suitable for seed. Lest these move into other channels farmers who require them for seed should arrange for the quantity needed without delay.

Until the 1954 harvest is completed an accurate appraisal of seed supplies for 1955 is not possible. Yet the apparent damage warrants immediate action from farmers in areas where frost has been severe.

AROUND THE END of the last century, when aluminum was practically a precious metal, a famous racing stable had one of its thoroughbreds shod with racing plates of the weight-saving material. They were made at Tiffany's, the famous New York jewellery house.

Nowadays it is standard practice for race horses to run in aluminum shoes. Since the turn of the century the price of aluminum has been reduced to the point where it is now one of the most economical of all materials, extensively used for things like barns and boats and bus bodies. ## WILDMERE WINKS

Back again, and we promise to keep the Winks up to date from now on. Threshing is nearly over and it won't be such a busy time from now on.

Thanks Pleasant Valley for all your kindness. Yes, we are feeling very well again after our frightening experience of lying in the lake with a mad cow standing above. However we are very thankful to get off so lucky. It could have been worse. From now on we leave the cows alone. Jimmie is also better after his tumble over the wheelbarrow in the dark.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ford have returned to Vermilion after spending a while with their daughter and family Mrs. F. Gibson of Basswood. Mrs. Ford kindly got the meals while Mrs. Gibson ran the tractor helping Frank cut grain.

Threshing and combining is going ahead these fine days. While wheat mostly is a very poor grade, coarse grains are very good. It's just one grand hum in the country from early morning until late at night.

Ken Holte of Winnipeg spent a few hours at his parents' home in Wildmere when he was out here working and lecturing on TV for [illegible].

Mrs. Roy Dibben's grandmother Mrs. Rudell of Edmonton who has spent the summer with her, returned the end of the month to her home in the city.

Mrs. W. J. Garnett of Basswood was able through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham of Vermilion, to attend the talk given by Mrs Fisher to the ladies, and then on Sunday to hear the Archbishop of Canterbury speak at the Edmonton Gardens during his recent visit. We listened to the service Sunday morning over the air. He truly is a wonderful speaker.

Anne Garnett who has spent the past six months nursing at the San at Tranquille, B.C., is now home for a visit and a rest.

The streets in town are gradually getting fixed up and soon we hope we will not have to carry our groceries so far on Saturdays. The streets are being paved and will do away with dust and mud.

Billie Smith and Mrs. C. Cruthers went up to Edmonton on Friday to meet their mother who came from Vancouver by plane that day. Mrs. Smith will spend a few weeks visiting her family around Wildmere and Basswood.

Norman Smith and family of Bon Accord spent the Thanksgiving week end with his mother and brothers Bill and Adam.

The writer and family enjoyed a short visit with a cousin Russell Graham, his wife and daughter Melva from Echo Bay, Ont., who spent two days here last week while on their way to Vancouver. While Russell has been out in the west twice before at harvest time it was the first time for his wife and daughter who thought it a vast country. Melva enjoyed horseback riding very much and Russell got in some duck hunting. Mrs. Graham attended the W.I. meeting at Mrs Wilson's with the writer.

Mrs. A Riley of Vermilion spent the week end with her stepdaughter Mrs. R Martin of Wildmere. On Sunday in company with Mrs. Gibson they attended church in town then came back out to a chicken dinner at Mrs. Gibson's home, then later that afternoon they had a cup of tea with Mrs. Smith. The writer enjoyed a nice visit with them when Mrs. Martin took Mrs. Riley home that evening as she went along for the ride.

Miss Lily Maggs was a week end visitor to the Cruthers home. She returned to her school at Earlie Monday evening.

Coyote Getters And Pellets For Coyote Control

How effective are coyote-getters in controlling coyotes? Farmers and ranchers have obtained varying degrees of success, depending on the number of guns used and the place and kind of setting made, reports W. Lobay, Supervisor of Crop Protection and Pest Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

One farmer, in particular, has had considerable success in using the getters. He is P. R. Chubb of Bluffton. Mr. Chubb states that since the fall of 1951, he has taken 160 coyotes with coyote getters on his own farm.

Prior to obtaining the getters, Mr. Chubb had to reduce his sheep population because of coyote predations. This flock has now been increased and getters are continuously 'watching' his sheep for him.

Under the Alberta Department of Agriculture Coyote Control Program, coyote getters as well as strychnine pellets are available to the farmers through their municipalities. Those who are having trouble with coyotes should contact their municipal pest officers to get their supply of materials. The District Agriculturists are prepared to train persons in the safe and proper use of the poison materials.

Now is an ideal time to get that coyote which has been bothering your sheep, cattle or poultry. A little effort with proper materials may pay you dividends manyfold.

RESPIRATORY DISEASES

BRONCHITIS

Acute bronchitis is an inflammation of the windpipe and the bronchial tubes. It is rarely serious in healthy adults but may be fatal in the young and the old. Acute bronchitis may develop independently, but usually it extends from some other infection such as a cold, tonsilitis or sinusitis.

Acute bronchitis usually starts with hoarseness followed by a feeling of heaviness and tightness in the chest. The temperature at first may be normal or show only a slight rise. Later a fairly high fever may develop.

It is very important to call a physician at the first signs of "a cold on the chest". The principal danger to guard against is the development of complications, especially pneumonia.

Chronic bronchitis may follow repeated attacks of acute bronchitis. In most cases, however, chronic bronchitis, marked by a persistent cough and shortness of breath, is associated with chronic lung infection, heart disease, or kidney disease. It chiefly affects old people, and the cough is most bothersome in winter. For that reason it has been called "the cause of the winter cough of the aged". A person suffering from chronic bronchitis should have medical attention.

PNEUMONIA

Pneumonia is a serious, infectious disease of the lungs. Its cause may be any one of 40 different types of pneumococci (pneumoccal pneumonia) or other bacteria or less commonly a virus (primary atypical pneumonia or virus pneumonia).

The immediate forerunner of pneumonia in the great majority of cases is severe or long-continued cold or an attack of influenza. A cold or some other acute infection of the upper respiratory tract seems to make the lungs more than usually susceptible to attack. The ability of pneumonia germs to establish themselves depends a great deal upon the strength of the defense forces of the body invaded. The principal ways in which the body's defence forces may be weakened are chilling of the body following exposure to cold and wet, or sudden chilling when overheated; continued exhaustion from any cause; other infections, particularly colds, influenza, bronchitis and the childhood diseases such as whooping cough and measles, surgical operations and accidental injuries; chronic or acute alcoholism.

The onset of pneumococcal pneumonia is likely to be sudden. The patient may have a shaking chill or just feel chilly; his temperature rises, he usually has a cough; rapid, panting respiration; and sharp pain in the side, chest or shoulder made worse by breathing; he may raise small amounts of rust-colored sticky sputum. In the great majority of cases these signs and symptoms mean that the patient has pneumonia.

The chance of recovering from pneumococcal pneumonia is much better than it used to be, because physicians have very effective drugs for use in treatment. The sulfa drugs and penicillin act on all types of pneumococci and are about equal to each other in effectiveness. The physician's choice of which to use will depend upon the needs of the individual case and the facilities he has available. For safe treatment, sulfa drugs or penicillin must be given only under the direction of a physician. No specific treatment has yet been found for virus pneumonia.

Skilled medical and nursing care is essential for all pneumonia patients and complete rest and the proper nourishment are absolutely necessary. In some instances oxygen must be administred. It is important that a pneumonia patient remain absolutely quiet in bed and be relieved of all physical exertion, such as feeding and moving himself. Restlessness adds to the danger. If the physician decides that the patient should be taken to a hospital, his orders should be obeyed without delay or protest.

If the patient is treated at home, no one should enter the sickroom except those who are responsible for his care. This will insure quiet and help greatly in preventing the spread of the infection. The nose and the throat discharges of the patient should be caught in pieces of cloth or soft paper and burned. The eating utensils and linen should be taken care of separately and should be thoroughly scalded and washed with soap and hot water after use. When constant professional nursing care cannot be provided, visiting nurse service should be obtained, if possible. In her visits the public health nurse will carry out the physician's orders and give services of great value to the patient and to the member of the family who is caring for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Vice Sr. of Edmonton are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. L. Vice in town for a few days.

LAC Don Brown, Mrs. Brown and daughter Dianne of Edmonton visited this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fair. Mr. Brown has just returned from a year's service with the air force in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cavanaugh have been stationed at Ottawa visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parke Dobson during the week. They will be stationed at McDonald, Man., on their return to duty.

The W.A. of the United church have definitely set the date of the chicken supper for Oct. 29. There has been a mix-up over the date but everything has now been straightened out and the 29th is the date. A special meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Oct. 20th. All members are requested to be present but if unable to attend please send word as to what you can bring and where you prefer to work. The November meeting is on the 12th and the local ladies will entertain the Rosedale W.A.

We extend sympathy to Mr. Jack Hawkes on the death of his brother Peter who was killed near Bangor, Maine, in a plane crash recently.

The many friends of Miss Thelma Flint gathered in the basement of the United church on Tuesday evening Oct 5 to shower her, a bride of the month. A lovely evening was spent and Miss Flint was the recipient of many useful gifts. She was on the teaching staff of the Paradise Valley school for a number of years.

We are afraid to mention the word 'weather' for as soon as we do it changes. At time of writing it is on its best behavior but for how long? That is the $64 question. The grain is still on the tough side but drying out to some extent. The farmers are busy combining as they are afraid to take a chance on a further delay.

Miss Sharon Walters who is attending the Zion convent at Saskatoon spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Walters. Miss Lois Stoddart and Mr. D. Levitt who are attending the Lutheran college at Camrose also were home visitors for the holiday.

YOUR HEALTH

Did you ever watch a soldier or sailor walk down the street? Did you notice the vigor of their steps, the flatness of their stomachs, the abounding good health?

You, too, can enjoy similar health. No, I don't mean that any national health plan can give it to you. You can give it to yourself.

Soldiers and sailors do not get that vigorous walk by chance. Many of those young men entered the army or navy with protruding stomachs, sagging muscles, and lethargic circulation. But for 60 days they follow a simple set of exercises that put them in good condition.

You and I can follow those same exercises. Any librarian can give you books which will tell you how to do it. Any doctor can tell you the simple rules of diet. But the book won't do the exercise for you; and the doctor can't do the eating for you. These things are up to you.

Gene Tunney used to say, "You can buy substitutes for exercise in any drugstore — headache powders, antacids, laxatives, pick-me-ups — which promise to confer priceless blessings. But you need never buy them again. You will not need the false stimulation of benzedrine or the pain-killing effects of aspirin; you can shake off your dependence on habit-forming laxatives and overcome the acid torments of heart-burn if you spend fifteen minutes every day in exercise."

Every time I hear politicians prating about some kind of national health plan, I get angry. I think what we need most of all is a personal health plan. The vast majority of us could be healthy if we wanted to be. Fresh air, exercise, lots of good, crystal-clear water, and less stuffing of ourselves with food, would do more for the health of Canadians than all the millions of dollars squandered on national health plans. The government can't exercise for us, can't eat for us, can't breathe for us. There are still some things in this world that we must each do for ourselves. Anybody ready for a good fast walk around the block?

TRY ONE SPRINT

This is an invitation to adventure. Tomorrow morning, when you get out of bed, I would like you to try an experiment.

For one day try sprinting. Extend yourself. Work harder, faster, and more efficiently than you have ever done before in your life. Just for the heck of it, pull out all the stops – live as though this were the last day you were given.

I will guarantee that you get so much pleasure out of this adventure, you will want to try it again. I have seen it work wonders for many men. I know one fellow who does it every other day. He says it gives him a delightful change of pace.

I learned the trick from an old scoutmaster. We had decided to go on a long hike to a neighboring town. We could not run all the way; but if we walked, we'd never make it there and back in time.

"Here's what we'll do," the scoutmaster said. "We'll walk twenty steps, then run twenty steps. I think you boys will be surprised at the speed we'll make that way."

That is what we did. We reached the town in plenty of time, and we were home again by nightfall. We had actually ran the distance from our camp to the town — but not all at once. By changing pace we had kept fresh.

Try sprinting tomorrow, and going back to your normal pace the following day. You'll be surprised what a change of pace can do for you!

ACT NOW

A reminder concerning applications for shelterbelt trees comes from Peter D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture, Alberta Department of Agriculture. The demand for shelterbelt trees has been extremely heavy this year and there are only a few varieties left. These include Green Ash, Manitoba Maple, Caragana and Russian Poplar (hardwood cuttings). The supply of lilac and honeysuckle and other such shelterbelt trees at Brooks is exhausted.

Mr. McCalla urges farmers desiring any of the trees that are left to get their applications in as soon as possible. Application forms may be obtained from the D. A.

VACATION BOOKLET

A new Alberta vacation booklet is being prepared to replace the old 'Alberta Tour'. The booklet will be evenly divided between color and black and white photos, covering the main districts of the province. This evening show is a new feature this year and it is to be hoped that a good audience will be on hand to see these fine animals judged under the lights. The sale will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 26. J. Charles Yule of Calgary is the official selector and Warren Smith of Olds will be the judge.

The Northern Alberta Hereford club is presenting this year a beautiful silver engraved water pitcher as an outright trophy to the exhibitor of the best pair of females in the show. Prize money donated by the Alberta Hereford Assoc. is available this year for the first time. The show and sale will be held again this year in the Exhibition pavilion, Lacombe, and with the new addition that has just been completed this year stockmen, visitors and buyers will be assured of the most comfortable and convenient surroundings of this type in Western Canada. 14-15

NEW TIRES

Canada's tire manufacturers have been building up pressure for a new push in tire sales tied to the much-heralded tubeless tires, reports The Financial Post.

It's scheduled to coincide with the appearance of 1955 automobiles equipped with tubeless tires. This first major change in years in what's under the fender is expected also to give replacement sales a new lift with a swing toward tubeless.

But to bring these conditions about, the tire manufacturers have created a market this year much like the sales story of the 1954 automobiles. They have cut the prices substantially.

BONNELL BULLETIN

Here we are again folks after trying in vain to get the harvesting finished. Today, Oct. 2, the stooks and swaths are still in the fields under a blanket of snow. A few farmers in the district have a little new grain in the bin.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Bradshaw family in their recent sorrow.

The bridges at Payne's and at Jenkins' are under water, thus closing the road to Clandonald via that route.

P. Kuchnerek spent several days in hospital with a badly infected hand. Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison were visitors to Lloydminster Monday. Mrs. D. Cummings was a dinner guest Friday at the Sherwood home. Mr. and Mrs. Jones were visitors to Lloydminster Thursday.

Since starting these notes the weather is again dry and harvesting is in full swing.

Congratulations and all good wishes go to Dorothy Isley and Bill who are to be married this month.

Twelve members of the Busy Bees attended the September meeting at the home of Mrs. Hardie in Vermilion. Everyone was pleased to have Mrs. McClellan, a life member of the club present from Edmonton, as well as Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Van den Dolder present as guests. Each member brought some household hints and these proved very helpful. An entertainment committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Moses, Mrs. Maggs, Mrs. J. Morrison and Mrs. R. Repp. Mrs. Hardie was the winner of the draw.

The October Busy Bee meeting will be held at Mrs. Moses on Oct. 20. Lunch to be served by Mrs. Gow, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Moses.

SHOWER HONORS BRIDE

A miscellaneous shower in the form of a surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. Freestone in honor of a new bride, Mrs. J. Howse, nee Lucille Freestone. The bride received many useful gifts. Among those present were Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Maggs, Mrs. Moses, Mrs. J. Morrison, Mrs. O. Repp, Mrs. F. Robinson, Mrs. D. Harrison, Mrs. A. Morrison, Miss M. Knutson, Mrs. Fenton, Mrs. Gow, Pat Fenton, Mrs. Repp Jr., Mrs. Scott, Mrs. B. Tweedy, Mrs. E. Williams, Mrs. C. Hobbis, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. E. Johnson, Mrs. Stinston, Shirley Johnson, Mrs. Fulton, Mrs. Dedelly. The young couple will make their home at Innisfail, and good wishes of their friends and neighbors accompany them.

The writer was pleased to have her nephew Robert Fowler and a friend B. Lillie of Edson visit over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, Beverly and Mr. and Mrs. McFarland journeyed to Edmonton on Sunday where Mr. McFarland entered the General hospital for medical attention.

Mrs. Bert Gould spent Friday afternoon visiting Grandma Jones.

Civil Defence Course Scheduled For 18th-23rd October

The fifth Alberta Civil Defence Organization course for municipal officials including mayors or reeves, councillors, municipal secretaries, directors and deputy directors of Civil Defence will be held in Edmonton from Oct. 18 to 23.

The course will be general in nature outlining civil defence organization, planning and procedures. In addition, lectures will be given on basic civil defence subjects.

It is emphasized that this is not a course for the training of instructors, which cannot be adequately accomplished in a one-week period. It is designed for the purpose of giving key people the basic general knowledge required to carry out their responsibilities in civil defence planning for the Province of Alberta.

The province will pay return transportation for all candidates and allow $6.25 per day while travelling to and from Edmonton, with an additional $2 for each night spent in Edmonton.

Municipal officials are urged to take advantage of this course. All candidates must be enrolled in their local civil defence organization and a copy of the enrolment card forwarded to Alberta Civil Defence Headquarters, if this has not already been done.

The World of Wheat

By W. G. MALAHER,
Director, Research Department,

A TIME TO BE CAREFUL

The desire of farmers everywhere to get on with the harvest, which has been delayed so long because of unprecedented rains, is understandable, but if there ever was a time to refrain from threshing or combining tough or damp grain, this, surely, is it.

The need for caution has been emphasized recently by the Canadian Wheat Board who have pointed out, because of the limited storage space available, it will be impossible to handle tough and damp grain in any volume; further, that producers who do harvest out-of-condition grain must accept the responsibility of storing it on their farms.

The difficulties which producers themselves will face in storing such grain on their farms is only too apparent and, because of this, every precaution should be taken to see that the grain is not tough or damp at the time it is threshed. Here is where the moisture testing facilities available at country elevators can provide a real service to farmers, and it is suggested that where there is any doubt about the moisture content of the grain to be threshed, a sample should be submitted for a moisture test. Only in this way can farmers be reasonably sure that the grain will be in condition either to market or to store on the farm.

The building of new houses in Canada this year is running ahead of 1953, when more than 100,000 new dwelling units were completed to establish an all-time record high. —Quick Canadian Facts

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

SEED TESTS IMPORTANT FOR 1955

Seed is the raw material on which every western farmer will pin his hopes for a profitable grain crop in 1955. This year, unfortunately, rust, excessive moisture, hail, and, in some districts frost, sawflies and drought have seriously reduced the seed quality of grain crops in many districts. We cannot therefore over-emphasize the importance to farmers of having any grain from this year's crop they intend to use for seed in 1955, tested for germination and for the presence of harmful disease - producing organisms (Smut and Seedling Blight). Only with the results of reliable seed tests can the quality and true value of seed be determined.

Free Tests Available. To serve western farmers, the Line Elevators Farm Service operates a modern, efficient, cereal seed-testing laboratory. Free of charge, this laboratory will test any farmers' seed grain samples for germination, disease (Smut and Seedling Blight) and for weed seed content. All a farmer has to do to have a germination test made, for instance, is to take a truly representative sample (about 8 oz.) of the seed [illegible] tested to the local Agent of any of the Line Elevator Companies listed above. The Agent will provide a clean envelope, labels, etc., and forward the sample to Winnipeg for testing. Farmers can assure themselves of prompt service by sending in their samples as soon as possible. To avoid the "Spring rush" we urge farmers to send in their samples this Fall. Now is the time to make sure that your seed grain for 1955 germinates well and is free or relatively free of disease.

Warning. Tests made by the Line Elevators Farm Service are not "official" seed tests. According to the Canada Seeds Act, seed advertised, offered for sale, or sold in Canada must be tested at a government seed testing laboratory. Farmers who want to have an "official" seed test made should send their samples, and testing fee to cover same, directly to the Plant Products Division (Seed Laboratory), Canada Department of Agriculture, at Winnipeg, Saskatoon or Calgary.

Cancer Society Announces Scrap Book Competition

Prizes totalling nearly $1000 will be awarded in the 1955 school competitions organized by the Canadian Cancer Society, it is announced from the Provincial office of the Society in Calgary.

This year's competition will take the form of a scrap book contest with pupils required to depict the Cancer problem and Cancer control through cuttings from newspapers, periodicals and other printed matter. Last year's contest which was of a similar nature drew over 3000 entries from all parts of the province.

The cash prizes for the competition have been donated by a group of life members of the Society who annually give funds for this purpose.

This week all schools in Alberta are being supplied with posters giving the details of the competition. Requests for literature with which to get acquainted with the topic may be obtained from the Edmonton office of the Society at 11328 Jasper Ave., Edmonton.

The prize list in each of the Society's branch areas comprising Calgary, Crowsnest Pass, Drumheller, Edmonton, Grande Prairie, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Peace River, Red Deer and Vermilion, consists of 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th prizes of $10, $5, $3 and $2 respectively in Grade V and VI, Grades VII and VIII, Grades IX and X, and Grades XI and XII. Grand prizes for the best entries in the same classes in the entire province will be awarded following the Branch awards for which entries will close on March 15 of next year.

Teachers and pupils who have not received the posters and other information relative to the contest may secure them from the Society's Edmonton office at the address given above.

Leanna Strang, 8 Years Old, Loses Life In Farm Accident

Leanna Alice Strang, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strang who farm north-east of Vermilion, was killed on Thursday last, October 14th as she attempted to lead a horse from the barn out to the pasture. Leanna had noticed the horse enter the barn and knowing that it should be in the pasture, tied a rope around the animal's neck. Investigations point to the possibility that she may have tied the other end around her own waist. As the horse left the barn it apparently began to kick and run, dragging the little girl after it for a distance of nearly 300 yards. Death was from a bad bruise on her forehead, caused either by a kick from the horse or by striking against something hard while being dragged. The only witness to the tragedy was her four-year-old brother. Leanna was rushed by her parents to the Islay hospital but was dead on arrival.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, October 19th at 2 o'clock at St. Saviour's Anglican church, with interment in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. D. A. Ford officiated.

Surviving members of the family are the sorrowing parents; 5 brothers, Henry in Vermilion, Robert at Strathroy, Ont., Ernest, William and Frederick at home, and two sisters, Caroline at Lloydminster and Linda Lou at home; her paternal grandparents, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lee.

Moyers were in charge of funeral arrangements.

15 Planes To Land Here On Sunday

The Wetaskiwin Flying club, 15 planes strong will land here Sunday morning. The first planes are expected in about 9:30 a.m. The visitors will be greeted by members of the Board of Trade and then taken into town where they will have breakfast.

Vermilion is possibly the only town which has a large well-developed air field, served by a radio beam Department of Transport station. There are two runways, one 3000 feet and the other 2800 feet long and this is ideal for flying club purposes.

TOWN NOW SERVED BY PAVED ROADS

Vermilion is now served by twelve blocks of paved roads in the business section. The work was completed by the contractors, T. J. Pounder and Company of Winnipeg on Monday. There is still the rock-chip surfacing to be applied but this will not be done until spring as it requires warm weather for best results.

Hard surfacing of the business section roads is now meeting with the unqualified approval of everyone. Lack of dust is very noticeable and the town has a prosperous, clean small city appearance. Cost of the road surfacing was $61,000.00, done by contract by the T. J. Pounder Construction Company. The money was borrowed at a low rate of interest on a 15-year debenture plan from the provincial government.

One More Week Needed for Threshing

One more good week should see the 1954 harvest completed. At Thursday of this week an estimated 80% of the wheat had been threshed, averaging 9 bushels to the acre, and the average grade being No. 5. About 60% of the oats are threshed, average grade is 2 feed and yield will run 35 bushels. Barley is grading 1 and 2 and averaging 25 to 30 bushels per acre, with 70 per cent. threshed.

DEEP FREEZE BINGO AT DERWENT

The Derwent Curling Club are holding a deep freeze bingo in the curling rink on Thursday of next week, Oct. 28th, commencing at 8.30. There are 15 additional valuable prizes, any one of which would make a trip to Derwent worthwhile.

If the weather is unfavorable for holding the event in the curling rink arrangements have been made to switch it to the two halls in town. So the big event will go on anyway, rain, snow or shine.

Livestock Sale Has Attractive Entry

The forthcoming sale of Purebred cattle and hogs being staged by the Vermilion Agricultural Society on Nov 13 has attracted a fine entry of 33 head of cattle and 50 hogs. Of the several sales held in recent years the entry for 1954 appears to be by far the most attractive ever to be offered.

The sale of hogs will begin at 10 o'clock sharp on the morning of Saturday, Nov 13 at the Vermilion Exhibition grounds. Immediately following lunch, the sale of cattle will begin in the arena rink where splendid facilities are available for the comfort of both sellers and buyers. Terms of sale will be cash and buyers are responsible for their purchases as soon as the auction has been completed. Mr. Don E. Ball, well known auctioneer from Edmonton will wield the hammer.

Offerings of cattle have come from the following breeders:

Shorthorns — W. H. (Bert) Duncan, Peter Samoil, Jos. Lukasewich, Wm. McCutcheon, W. R. Cornish, M.L.A., Marshall Samoil and E. Waring and Sons.

Aberdeen Angus — A. Sokoluk and Sons, Wm. E. Cross, Kennedy Bros., D. A. Wynnychuk, E. R. Jackson, H. J. Warrilow & Sons.

Herefords — Arthur Miller, J. S Cross, J. Andriaschuk, Lewis Hendell, Geoffrey Dorey, E. W. Clements, E. S. Plaxton, Elmer and Vivian Derkson, Warren Andrews, Mike Pashulka, Wm. Handel, Thos Smith and Homer Campbell.

Hog entries come from A. W Hougham, Douglas Clark, Peter Samoil, Jack Perkins, E. E. Dorey, Stanley Syvenky, Alex MacMillan, Glen Berg, D. C McGrath, H. B. Craige, MacMillan Bros., W. R. Cornish and Gordon Willoughby.

Sale catalogs are now being printed by the Standard Press and will be available for distribution the first of next week.

Local Legion Elects Officers for 1955

Vic Tillett was elected President of the Vermilion Branch, Canadian Legion, at the annual meeting of that body held recently. Mr. Tillett has been prominent in Legion affairs for many years. He has been vice-president for several years past and has headed some important committees. This is the first time that a veteran of the second world war has been elected president of the Vermilion Legion.

Lawrence Webb is first vice-president and Neil McLean is second vice-president for 1955.

Mr J W G Morrison Q.C., Robert Fair, M.P., and the Mayor of Vermilion, S. C Heckbert, are honorary presidents.

Rev. D. A. Ford was re-elected as padre and A. E. Moore will be the sergeant-at-arms for the coming season. Thos. Wilson continues as treasurer and E. H. Buckingham as secretary.

In addition to the president and vice presidents, the following members were elected to the executive: George Scarboro, A. E. Moore, O. R. J Stephen, A Callas, Stan Manyluk, T. Thompson and R. Allan.

Donations were authorized to the Edmonton Home for ex-servicemen's children, the Boy Scouts and the Institute for the Blind.

Plans were made for the annual Armistice dance which will be held on November 10th this year.

At the close of the meeting Bob Allan, on behalf of the members, thanked George Martin for his services as president during the past two years.

Increased Number Of Blood Donors Needed

The Vermilion Branch of the Red Cross invite the people of Vermilion and district to take a chance — no high entrance fee, no large prizes awarded — but a free opportunity to perform a service which may pay off by saving the life, sometime, of someone near and dear to you. You yourself may already be indebted by having taken advantage of this free service. The local branch of the Red Cross are quite concerned over the fact that owing to the V. S. A. opening being unavoidably delayed probably no students will be able to attend the forthcoming Blood Clinic, thus pulling the average down considerably. The local branch would thus be very grateful if everyone will remember and try their best to attend the Red Cross Blood Clinic to be held in the Legion hall Oct. 25th. 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Air Cadets To See Football Game

Approximately 50 Vermilion Air Cadets are going to Edmonton on Saturday to attend the Eskimo-Roughrider football game that evening.

Fifty seats in one block have been arranged for by Mr. Eric M Duggan, vice-president of the Air Cadet League of Canada and a director of the Edmonton Eskimo Football club.

The Cadets will be accompanied by Flight-Lieut. A. E Moore. They leave here by bus from the armories at 1 p.m. and will return home directly after the game.

The boys greatly anticipate the event and feel fortunate in having officers such as Mr Manyluk and Mr. Moore to arrange these very worthwhile outings for them.

Hotel at Mannville Changes Hands

Mr and Mrs. George White and family will be leaving for Penticton, B.C. on the first of the month after serving the public for a number of years in the Mannville hotel here. Both Mr and Mrs White will be missed in the town as they were active in various organizations, and Mr White was one of the "agitators" for the installation of water and sewerage. Mr and Mrs Mrstik are leaving for a well earned holiday and then their plans are not definite. The Whites have purchased a motel at Penticton.

The town will be sorry to lose Mr and Mrs White and Mr and Mrs Mrstik as the Mannville hotel has been held in high esteem by travellers and others who have stayed there. It was run in a very orderly manner and they have been commended by the Alberta Hotel Association for the manner in which the hotel was looked after and operated. This is an honor which few hotels obtain.

The new owners are Mr Peter Melnyk and Mr. Robert Tronne. Mr Tronne will be the manager of the hotel.

S. S. Contest In Full Swing

The current Sunday School contest at the Alliance Chapel is causing considerable interest and the record attendance of 143 last Sunday shows well for its success thus far. One of the special features each Sunday is a telephone call from the Cranbrook, B.C. Alliance Tabernacle with which the local Sunday School is in competition and at present leading. It is expected that the attendance goal of 150 shall be far exceeded before the contest ends on November 4th.

Stephens Limited Founded Here In 1904

Vermilion's First Business Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary

Founded here before the townsite was definitely located, before the arrival of the railroad, and before Alberta became a province and forming part of the core of the community ever since, Stephens Limited Department store is this week celebrating fifty years in business in Vermilion. It seems almost incredible that in a community not yet a half century old itself a business should have started and stayed over the whole course of the community's history. All the more remarkable in that the Canadian West has been noted for its shifting population.

The history of this pioneer firm is well worth reviewing. The Vermilion business was founded in the fall of 1904 by the late Mr Henry N. Stephens who had come west from Glencairn Ontario. The lumber for the first store and the first stock of merchandise was shipped from the east to Edmonton. It was then loaded on to a scow and brought down the Saskatchewan River to the mouth of the Vermilion River, a spot about where the Lea Park ferry is located. The trip down the river took ten days and the scow was piloted by Larry Garneau an experienced river man with Fred Miller, now the well known Elk Point Doctor as the crew. Mr Miller had accompanied the carload of effects west. Mr H N Stephens had purchased a team of cayuses in Edmonton and driven to the site of Vermilion. He met the scow when it landed and moved the cargo to Vermilion by seven freight teams. Some of these freighters are well known old timers Bill Hill and his son, Bill Steele, Dan McLaren, Norman Tucker, Danny McMillan and Jack Hazlitt.

The first store was located about one quarter of a mile south of the present agricultural college. When the railroad grade was surveyed this building was moved to a spot close to the present flour mill site. Construction of a larger building was commenced immediately and by the end of the year a store on the present location was occupied. To follow the history of the buildings to the present time the store just mentioned was completely destroyed by the great fire of April 1918. Temporary quarters were rented in the Imperial block while the present solid brick and tile store 60 foot frontage and 100 feet long, one of the finest retail premises to be found in the rural west, was constructed. It is in these fine premises that the firm has since served the public.

Associated with Mr H N Stephens in the business was his brother Mr J Dawson Stephens who came to Vermilion in 1906 from Swan River, Manitoba where he had been in the general store business. In the meantime Mr H N Stephens had been joined by his wife and family who came out in the spring of 1907 to take up residence here.

The Stephens Brothers, pioneer merchandisers, builded wisely and well, the business expanding and prospering as it filled an ever-growing need, and a firm foundation was laid for the half century of service it has now completed.

The founder of the business Mr H N Stephens passed away in April 1926 and Mr J D Stephens in November 1932. Mr Fram Stephens, a son of the former took over the active management of the business in 1930 and continued in this capacity until his untimely death in a motor accident in August 1937. Since that time the store has been managed by the youngest son, Mr Gerald F Stephens and associated with him is his sister Miss Margaret Stephens.

The history of the Stephens family and that of the Town of Vermilion are inextricably interwoven. Mr H N Stephens was mayor and councillor, Mr J D Stephens was school trustee and board chairman; Mr Fram Stephens did his part in Board of Trade and sports, mainly baseball promotion. Mr Gerald Stephens has served on the council and is a past president of the Board of Trade. They all did their bits in other organizations. The ladies of the family aided greatly in cultural circles with music and women's organizations. All members of the family always were and are still great church workers. All had the interest of their community at heart which has resulted in their long, happy and successful history in Vermilion.

FOR THE NEXT ISSUE

A further story of the early history of Stephens Brothers locating in Vermilion, and of the early days of the store here will appear in the issue of the Standard next week.

Information for the story is supplied by none other than that well known pioneer Dr F C Miller, of Elk Point.

Break-In At Islay Nets $30.00

A break-in at Inman's garage in Islay netted the robber from between $25 to $30 in cash taken from the till. Entrance was gained by removing two panes of glass from a rear window. Police are investigating but clues are slim. The robbery occurred sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning Oct 20.

C. G. I. T. Commence Fall Activities

The Canadian Girls In Training commenced their fall meetings on Sept 27. After a short business session Mrs. Moore gave an interesting little talk on Mrs. Macaih, a missionary she had met from India. The girls then marched to the armories to see the Billie Graham Evangelistic film.

October 4th the girls met at 4.30 to make flowers for baskets. These baskets were made by the Seniors last spring. We appreciate the help and direction of Mrs. Alf Green and Miss Ernie Werezuk in making these flowers. A 6 o'clock a sumptuous pot luck supper was served. Following a short business session, Erva Sweet who was a Junior leader at Camp Fallis this summer spoke to the girls on experiences at the camp.

No regular meeting was held on Monday Oct 11 but four of the C G I T girls decorated the church for the Harvest Festival services with fruit, vegetables and grain.

Monday Oct. 18 an important meeting was held at which elections of officers took place. The following officers were elected:

President — Sue Carmichael
Vice-Pres — Barbara Green
Sec-Treas — Anne Beatty
Press Corr — Margaret Wilson
Social Conv — Margaret Goodwin

The leaders are in charge of group worship.

Mrs Annabelle Robinson spoke to the girls on India introducing the study book "Sari and Sandals".

Mrs. M. Johnson on behalf of those present wished Lois much happiness and presented her with a "barn" full of beautiful and useful gifts. Miss Finlay very fittingly replied.

ONE IN HOSPITAL AFTER CAR - TRUCK CRASH

Walter Oleksiuk of Edmonton is in the Vermilion hospital with a compound fracture of his left leg as a result of a car-truck crash on highway 16, 4½ miles west of Vermilion. The accident occurred at 5.30 o'clock on Tuesday morning, Oct 19. Oleksiuk was driving the car when it crashed into the side of the truck. Owner of the car Gerald Marvin Scobie, also of Edmonton received cuts and bruises but has already been released from hospital. Oleksiuk will be confined to hospital for at least two months as the break is a very bad one.

The truck driver Peter Purvis of Sutherland, Sask., was uninjured. There was no apparent reason for the crash. Investigations reveal that the truck was well on its own side of the road. The car was sheared along the entire side and is a complete wreck. Its previous value was placed at $1000. No insurance was carried. The truck was also damaged to the extent of $1500 and is covered by Saskatchewan Government Insurance.

At the time of the accident the truck was travelling west and the car was coming east.

Charges are pending including one against Oleksiuk for driving without a license, one against the owner Scobie for allowing other than a person with a driver's license to operate his car.

The Town of Vermilion

Extends to Messrs. Stephens Limited the heartiest congratulations on the achievement of Fifty Years of Service to this Community.

This pioneer firm with an historic background has established a most enviable record during the past half century, and all citizens will join with the Town Council in expressing their pleasure on the golden anniversary of one of the first business firms to establish in Vermilion.

It is notable that members of the firm in the generations concerned have made no small contribution to the welfare of the community life. The Council of the Town of Vermilion, the School board of the earlier days, musical circles and the advancement of the Church work in the community have all felt the impact of the Stephens families and the present standing of the Vermilion area as one of the leading communities in Western Canada is due in no mean measure to the presence of the staunch Stephens men and women.

I am sure that we are expressing a genuine and thoughtful tribute on behalf of all citizens in extending congratulations at this time.

THE FIRST GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years of service in a town which has yet to observe its own Golden Anniversary is remarkable and unique, and calls for congratulations and, in this particular case, commendation from fellow business men. To the firm of Stephens Limited who are this week observing their fiftieth anniversary — the first such occasion in the history of Vermilion — the Standard extends its its sincere congratulations. In the first issue of this paper, printed in June 1909, a large display advertisement of Stephens Limited appeared and those ads have continued to appear each week without one single miss from that time on.

Such solid, community minded, here-to-stay businesses serve as an anchor for the building of progressive, successful towns.

IN TIMES OF DISASTER LOOK TO THE RED CROSS

In times of disaster such as struck Toronto and parts of Ontario last week end, we can offer thanks for the preparedness and organization of the Canadian Red Cross. The Red Cross does wonders in alleviating the suffering and distress of calamities such as this one. You can help this Organization of Mercy in one phase of their work by donating blood at the Red Cross blood donor clinic in Vermilion on Monday October 25th.

Based on average revenue per ton the Canadian National Railways would have to haul one ton of freight from Vancouver to Halifax to pay for one track rail.

HOME & SCHOOL TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association will be held on Tuesday evening Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the junior high school.

Parity for Pastors

"Today in most Protestant churches there exists a condition which ought to make the layman hang his head in shame," writes Walter Hoving in the November Reader's Digest. "We are woefully underpaying our ministers. We are asking them to live nobly, dress respectably, labour selflessly and provide for their families on salaries that are vastly inadequate."

Mr Hoving, an active and articulate layman, the Digest says, is president of a well-known New York department store.

At the bottom of the salary scale, ministers and their families accept without complaint a set of circumstances which long ago would have caused any other economic group to raise prices or go on strike.

"The tragedy of our indifference," Hoving emphasizes, "is that during the period of the most phenomenal growth of churches we made no attempt to adjust ministers' salaries to sharply rising living costs.

A minister's prequisites - parsonage rent-free or nearly so, exemption (sometimes) from doctors' bills, reduced fare on railroads and 'other small favors' - do not greatly relieve his situation.

In most cases, retirement offers grim prospects. While most denominations have pension funds, the benefits are usually inadequate to support a retired couple even modestly.

The "conscience of the congregation" must be the key to solving the problem of the minister's pay, the Reader's Digest article says. It urges parishioners to compare their pastors' salaries of 1940 with today and "make a fair adjustment upward".

"GREEN ACRES"

SEED OATS SCARCE

Frosts last September caught most of the oats in Alberta before they were ripe. Many farmers will have to buy seed. Mr Wilson, the Provincial Crops Commissioner warns farmers that they ought to get their seed supplies now. Last year's oats should be held for seed and not sold to the Wheat Board or fed to livestock. Oats of good germination and reasonably free of wild oats will bring more than the elevator prices.

ORDERS FOR BOARS

Last week I announced that good Yorkshire boars were priced at $75. Now I am informed that they can be bought for $60 to $65 under the government plan of free delivery to your station. Purebred breeders have brought their prices down in line with the drop in market hogs. Orders ought to be placed now as the best boars will soon be picked up at these prices.

KILL THE THISTLES

Canada and Sow thistle ran wild this year. There is still time however to do a lot of good by fall cultivation. If thistle infested fields are not well worked this fall it is your business to seed them next year. After harvest cultivation kills out most of the thistles. Two cultivations about 2 weeks apart is better than one.

EDMONTON STOCK SALE

Hundreds of livestock producers go to the annual Edmonton Fall Show and Sale. Even if farmers do not intend to buy stock it is a good outing and there is always something to learn. It might be a good time to pick up boars and gilts at reasonable prices. Price of pork is bound to come back before long. Now is the time to get into the pig business instead of getting out of it.

RUST NEXT YEAR?

Many farmers seem to think we are going to have stem rust of wheat every year now. But this is unlikely. Rust does not winter over on the seed or in the fields. The spores of rust are blown in from the southern States. Usually the wheat in Alberta is ready to cut before rust has time to do any harm. The late growing crop this year was unusual and it was just right for the rust disease.

PLANTING DUTCH BULBS

Now is the time to plant hyacinths, Tulips and Daffodils for winter flowers. All you need now are a few good bulbs (large size) and some flower pots. The bulbs can be planted in soil or bulb fibre can be bought at seed stores. If you haven't grown bulbs inside before you had better get a circular from my office.

EDUCATION FOR THE HANDICAPPED IN ALBERTA

Second in a Series

What is the Alberta Department of Education doing for children who are handicapped?

For more than 30 years the Department has provided for the education of blind and deaf children in special schools in other provinces. Most attend the Ontario School for the Blind at Brantford, or the Saskatchewan School for the Deaf at Saskatoon. Others go to the British Columbia School for the Deaf and Blind at Vancouver, the Nazareth Institute for the Blind at Montreal, the Mackay School for the Deaf at Montreal, and the Institutes for Deaf Girls and Boys in the same city.

These children go with the consent of their parents. The Department of Education pays their transportation, tuition and living costs while they are away from home. Competent and kindly escorts take them to and from the schools in private railway cars. More than 20 blind children and more than 100 deaf children are now provided for in this way. In happy environments and trained by sympathetic teachers they learn the things other children learn. Each one, as well, learns a trade. Nearly all Alberta children who have graduated from these schools are now successfully employed here in Alberta. Many have done well in baking, glazing, hairdressing, piano tuning, and barbering, others are employed in machine shops and offices, and even in executive positions.

A new residential school for the deaf, the most up-to-date and efficient of its kind, is under construction in Edmonton.

Other Alberta children whose eyesight or hearing is impaired attend special classes at Calgary and Edmonton. In sightsaving classes the children's eyes are protected by non-glare lighting and special equipment, such as tape recorders, and an emphasis on oral work. In hearing conservation classes special group and individual hearing aids and other acoustic equipment are used. Many children in these classes become so well adjusted that they are able to return to regular classes for their high school work.

Fifteen special classes in the four largest cities provide for children of low mental ability. Here the pupils receive individual training, and skills in reading, writing, arithmetic and spelling are taught, with each child proceeding at his own rate. Crafts, such as simple woodwork, weaving and sewing are taught and older pupils receive training in home economics or shop work. School boards are encouraged by special grants from the Department of Education to provide opportunity classrooms and specially gifted teachers for children of these groups. Other special grants, up to $1,650 per classroom, are available to assist school boards who wish to provide instruction for children who are so far retarded mentally that they cannot profit from the work even of the opportunity classes.

The Department of Education also provides special grants for speech therapy and therapeutic physical training as well as day-school services for children who attend the Cerebral Palsy Clinics in Calgary and Edmonton. Children, confined for long periods in hospitals, are provided with free lessons from Correspondence School Branch of the department. Others are taught by part time or full-time teachers and in several hospitals there are specially equipped classrooms, tastefully decorated with desks for those who can use them but with plenty of floor space to take care of children who have to be brought in on wheel chairs or beds. The Department of Education, working in co-operation with sponsoring organizations, or with the Department of Public Health, provides special grants towards the maintenance of these classes.

Tigers Make Plans For Hockey Season

At a recent meeting of the executive of the Vermilion Tigers Hockey club plans were instituted for the coming season. Discussions took place on player availability, coaching and financing and announcements will be made on these matters when the plans are complete.

A successful venture of prior years, the Annual Turkey Bingo, will be held again this year, and the date has been set for Wednesday, Dec. 15 the location to be announced later.

F.U.A. To Seek Action In Farm Crisis At Ottawa

Action to meet the crisis on western farms will be the object of a delegation from the Western Farm Unions which will visit Ottawa soon. J. L. Phelps of Saskatoon, Chairman of the Interprovincial Farm Union council, will head the delegation. Henry Young, President of the F.U.A. will probably represent Alberta.

To meet the situation caused by crop damage and falling farm prices, the delegation will press for action on five main points as follows:

2 An interim payment of at least 15c per bushel on wheat delivered during the last crop year.

3 A Parity Price for all wheat consumed in Canada.

5 Extension for one year of the floor price on hogs.

Action on these five points would stabilize Western Agriculture, and provide farmers with money to pay their bills and carry on their business. This is of prime importance to the country generally.

The final payments on oats and barley, while helpful, are utterly inadequate to meet the farmers need for money. For example, the final payment on barley amounts to $9,800,000, an average of $37 per farm on the 260,000 farms on the prairies. A 15c payment on wheat would be $58,500.00 an average of $225 per farm. Western farmers need them both.

In order to get action on this 5-point program, the Farm Unions need the backing of every farmer in the west. Alberta farmers will have the opportunity on Roundup Day to get behind their Union.

This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

R. R. 3, Vermilion.
Oct. 9, 1954.

The Editor,
The Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

I was not very pleased to read your article in the Standard Sept. 30th issue "Democracy Begins With Me" and to learn that it was sponsored by the Vermilion Board of Trade.

It is surprising what a child of 13 years of age can absorb with proper coaching, a mind properly attuned to swallow all kinds of free enterprise (so called) propaganda.

Just to touch lightly on certain points. The Ten Commandments can still keep the universe running straight. They didn't keep us out of terrible wars, they didn't protect Canadians from the Beauharnois scandal and others too numerous to mention, and the breaking of the law by the Flour trusts, the Bread trusts, Rubber trusts, Optical trusts and what have you. We Canadians seem to have forgotten the real meaning of the 8th Commandment "Thou Shall Not Steal".

Not so long ago says the article, Churchill and Roosevelt gave us 8 points by which to remake the world. Who remembers these eight points today? Well, for one I don't Mr. Editor and let me say here we don't need either Churchill or Roosevelt or any other man to remake the world, we have got to do it ourselves through co-op enterprise working with the different nations of the world and forget all about greater Canada and greater Canadians, for a man far greater than Churchill or Roosevelt said, "to save your life you must lose it" and "fear not those that would destroy the body but rather those that would destroy the Spirit".

Our young friend deplores the welfare [illegible] old age pensions, widows allowances, family allowances. We are commanded just as much to look after the aged and sick in the Bible as to obey the other commandments. In a country like [illegible] where it is physically possible to produce food and clothing in abundance it ought to be [illegible]

Yours sincerely,
Citizen of the World.

Young People Join Church At Islay

Mrs. Eva Dibb and wee son Brian of Fairview have been spending some time with her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. D. Buchanan. For the holiday week end her husband Harold, and twin girls, also Mrs. May Oliver and wee son motored down and surprised her folks. Mrs. Dibb and Brian returned home with them.

Grace Schaeffer celebrated her 9th birthday on Oct. 20. Also it was the birthday of Mrs. Yvonne [illegible]hauer, who is at present in Mineral Springs hospital, at Banff. Many happy returns to both.

On Sunday afternoon we saw some good aeronautics over Islay. It made the hens fly for shelter, also saw some children run, but they may have been trying to race with the plane.

On Sunday afternoon a very memorable service was conducted by Rev. E. N. Morrison of Lloydminster in the Islay church when eight young people were received into full communion, namely Kenneth and Bruce McLennan, Catherine and Mima Robertson, Betty and Donnie Martin, Richard and Erva Sweet.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Palin, Billie and Jack were dinner guests at the home of Misses Muriel and Gladys Stone on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McInnes, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInnes were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McEachern on Sunday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL STUDENTS WIN AWARDS

These are the names of the Sunday school scholars who won the cross and crown awards for the year 1953-54: Richard Sweet and Erva Sweet, 8th year; Donald Martin and Elaine Sweet, 7th year; Cathy Robertson and Mima Robertson 6th year; Betty Martin, 4th year; Grace Schaeffer, 3rd year; Janet Bell, Greg Clark, Marion Teskey, Jack Teskey, Dorothy Axley, 2nd year; Jim Shaw, Sandra Bell, Jimmie Schaeffer and Linda Redmond 1st year.

Congratulations are due to Mr. Dave Clark our Islay school principal, who is now president of the Vermilion Local A.T.A. Islay is very proud of this.

LLOYDMINSTER LADY WINS BINGO CAR SATURDAY NIGHT

Despite the fact that attendance fell down to just below the 1500 mark at the record car bingo held by the Vermilion curling club, a net profit of $800.00 was made on the event. Lower attendance was due to the fact that the whole countryside was right in the busy middle of harvest and naturally enough, having a run of fine weather the farmers just weren't calling off the threshing and combining operations on any account. Good work by the ushers in selling extra cards brought up the gross receipts to $3617.00. Due to the fact that many of the requirements for bingo had been met by the first event, expenses were considerably lessened so that even with the reduced attendance the second car bingo was very much worth while.

The grand prize of a four-door Mercury sedan, purchased from Geo. Webb & Sons, went to Mrs. Mary Carson of Lloydminster. Mrs. Carson's was the lone voice to call bingo on the play and thus won a clear car. She did not own a car and had never driven one. Friend husband was in Vermilion and he took over for her. The other eleven prizes were well scattered: three were won in Derwent and one went all the way to Cold Lake, 100 miles away. People from Bonnyville made the trip for the event, while on other days previously a phone call from St. Paul asked for reservations for five carloads of bingo players from that town. All of which was very much appreciated by the Vermilion Curling Club.

During a short intermission Mr. Aldous Kent, president of the Curling Club, thanked the people for their support of the ventures, and had a note of appreciation for Dan Taylor, who was the caller for both bingos. Mr. Kent also had praise for Newt Cooper, a prime mover in the promotion and organization of the big bingos, and to the many others whose help was essential in putting them over. Special mention was made of the members of the Kinsmen Club who acted as ushers and checkers.

The complete list of winners follows:

1- Electric Drill Set — Won by Mrs. Chas. Moore, Manville.
2- Automatic Toaster — Mrs. J. Ford, Wainwright.
3- Coureur de Bois Coat — Miss Lillian Jarock, Vermilion.

Ex-Vermilion Minister National Boys' Work Secretary

Rev. W. N. Blackmore of Toronto, national boys work secretary for The United Church of Canada, was in Edmonton on Thursday for a meeting in the United Church offices. Alberta Conference Boys' leaders from the city and district, the interested Sigma-C's now program for boys, 13 to 14 years of age.

The program was produced in consultation with member churches of the Canadian Council of Churches and has been introduced this year in churches of The Baptist Federation of Canada, The Church of Christ (Disciples), The Presbyterian Church in Canada and The United Church in Canada.

Sigma-C has grown out of a concern over the loss of the teen-age boy from the church and is designed to lead boys into an understanding of the Christian faith and to help him meet the conflicts of adolescence. Each boy must be sponsored by either his father or some other man of the church.

Tips on Touring

by Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Is it possible to hypnotize yourself into an accident by concentrating on the white traffic line in the centre of a highway at night?

I have been assured by psychologists that, under certain conditions, the monotony of the white line may lull a drowsy driver into such a dull state of mind he may completely forget the danger of oncoming traffic or the sudden darting of a car from a side road. And there are a few rare, but none the less real, cases where drivers have actually been hypnotized into sleep by the white line.

The centre line is a top-notch safety device and a real lifesaver when you are meeting the glare of oncoming lights — but don't let it give you a false sense of security. The driver who glues his eyes to the line and ignores other hazards of the road may be courting a much longer sleep than he intends.

Take a tip or two from professional truck drivers on avoiding "centre line monotony": rest the eyes with an occasional glance to the sides of the road; never look directly into the glare of approaching headlights; be certain to dim your lights when meeting cars; check your speed, oil pressure, engine temperature and other instruments fairly often as a matter of exercise; whistle or sing. If you like.

Canadian National Steamships operate 14 ships, six barges and 6 car ferries.

Dual Campaign Planned in Province

TO PROMOTE PEDESTRIAN SAFETY

Opening Wednesday, November 24 a province-wide dual campaign will be launched to promote pedestrian safety and safety-mindedness of motor driving hazards, states Howard Stuttaford, managing director of the Alberta Safety Council.

The forthcoming drive is expected to be even more extensive than the Courtesy Campaign which was started last June 28th, when 39 Alberta cities, towns, villages and municipalities took part.

Mr. Stuttaford said the pending campaign is another ASC follow-up to the Provincial Government's highway conference last spring when wide plans were laid to promote greater highway safety in Alberta.

For the first time in town, the forthcoming campaign will draw upon radio to popularize safety. Posters and other material will stress the need of safe walking to avoid accidents on streets and highways.

To inform them of the campaign and seek their co-operation the mayors of cities, towns, villages and reeves of municipal districts are being communicated with by the ASC. At the same time the material is being assembled for distribution in the safety campaigns.

The safety councils in Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and other provincial centres are expected to give their full co-operation in the local efforts. Some have already had preliminary meetings.

The winter driving hazards campaign will emphasize that these risks exist, even prior to snow and ice conditions, in November and December, the long hours of darkness intensify the hazards.

The second half of this campaign will employ the theme "No Thanks I'm Driving." This will be stressed during the Christmas and New Year holiday in an effort to prevent accidents caused by driving after drinking.

Officials of the ASC also point out that many firms have abandoned the custom of holding office parties at Christmas, recognizing the potential danger of having intoxicating beverages at these gath-erings, to employees who have to drive home. Instead some have adopted the practice of having evening gatherings and concerts for families of staff members.

Canada Thistle

The excessive rain throughout the most of Alberta this year has prevented many farmers from controlling thistles on summerfallowed land. Some of these areas will now be sufficiently dry to allow cultivation. Partial control may still be obtained if two or three strokes of cultivation can be done between now and freeze-up, according to Gordon E. Sterling, Supervisor of Soil Conservation and Weed Control. Alberta Department of Agriculture Cultivation Implements should be sharp, properly adjusted and should cut off all of the thistle plants.

Farmers who have been unable to work summerfallow property should realize that the grain on such land will be re-infested with thistles next spring. Plans should be made to spray such areas with 2-4-D at the proper season in 1955.

A Show of Color In The Spring

October is bulb planting time P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, offers some suggestions for selecting and planting bulbs.

Choose good-sized bulbs of a named variety he advises. The larger ones denote vigor and thrift; named varieties insure uniformity of their growth, height and flowering appearance.

Spacing and depth of planting are also important. The bulbs should be placed a distance equal to twice the diameter of the bulbs apart. This provides space for growth and with the larger bulbs it allows room for setting out bedding plants when the show of early bloom is over. Depth varies with the bulb 6 to 8 inches for tulips, 6 inches for hyacinths, 10 to 12 inches for daffodils and narcissus, and 3 to 3½ inches for crocus.

After freeze-up it is a good idea to mulch with 4 to 6 inches of clean straw or leaves. This will prevent heaving of the ground from alternate freezing and thawing and consequent bulb damage. The mulch should not be removed until all danger of severe frost is over.

Care in selection and planting of bulbs will mean a beautiful show of color next spring.

WEEDS INCREASE IN 1954

The 1954 season has been one of the most difficult in which to control weeds. In many areas wet weather prevented proper cultivation in the early spring and spraying later in the season. The result is a serious infestation of both annual and perennial weeds in the 1954 crop. The annual weeds are of course undesirable. However, the tremendous increase in Canada Thistle and Sow Thistle in Western Canada, particularly in Manitoba, constitutes a serious weed control problem.

Too Much Reliance on 2,4-D. The heavy infestations of both annual and perennial weeds that many fields are carrying this year indicate that many Western farmers are relying far too much on 2,4-D. In many cases, the attitude is "don't worry we'll get them next spring with 2,4-D". Then along comes a wet spring when spraying is impossible and weeds take over. Yes, 2,4-D is a most valuable ally in the fight against weeds. Each year thousands of farmers use 2,4-D effectively and profitably to control weeds on millions of acres of grain crops in Western Canada. However, in weed control, you just can't afford to put all your eggs in one basket.

Cultivation Still Important. Efficient and timely cultivation still has an important place in weed control—particularly in the control of perennial weeds such as Sow Thistle and Canada Thistle. Thorough cultivation started as soon as the crop is off, and carried on until freeze-up this Fall, will do a lot toward controlling the thistle menace.

Competitive Crops. Fall rye is an excellent crop with which to fight weeds. This crop, seeded about the middle of September following thorough cultivation, will help greatly to reduce the thistle infestation in 1955. A barley crop seeded early in the spring is also an effective means of fighting thistles.

Weeds increased tremendously this year. Give your weed control program serious thought and attention this Fall and be prepared to do your best to clean up on weeds in 1955.

Create Gainful Employment For Blind People

The finding and creating of gainful employment for blind people is one of the important services of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Only a small percentage of the blind population, about 11 per cent, is in the employable age group. For those blind people who are capable of work, however, C.N.I.B. assistance is of vital importance. Without it only those with particular initiative and ability can succeed. The great majority look to the C.N.I.B. for aid in becoming established. For them, C.N.I.B. employment services mean the end of idleness and dependence, the beginning of self-sufficiency and independence. For contribution to society along with their sighted fellows. In employment the C.N.I.B. stresses the ability not the disability of the blind individual. Sightless people are employed on C.N.I.B. staff in executive and clerical positions as field secretaries, home teachers and placement officers. They are established in business as managers of tobacco and confectionery stands. They are placed in industry on assembly and other repetitive operations not requiring eyesight. They are given occupational work in C.N.I.B. shops making Blindcraft products. Last year, in Northern Alberta, 60 blind people were gainfully employed through C.N.I.B. effort earning a total of $80,637.44. The cost to the C.N.I.B. of rendering these employment service was $4,689.90, less than 6 per cent of resulting benefits to the blind.

Voluntary donations made this record possible. You can help maintain this important service by supporting the C.N.I.B. campaign sponsored by the I.O.D.E. now being carried out in Vermilion.

W.M.S. Notes

The W.M.S. of the United church held their regular monthly meeting Thursday Oct. 14 at the home of Mrs. Henry Eyben Sr. at 8 p.m. with the president in the chair. Mrs. Robinson opened with prayer, roll call was taken and revealed 18 members present.

Hymn No. 46 'Hail the Power of Jesus Name' was sung, requested by Mrs. C. Barr who then took the study book and gave a splendid review of one chapter. This was very enlightening and gave all an idea of what is transpiring in India and what Christianity is doing for the people of that country.

Mrs. Dunsmore, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Matheson then conducted the devotional. Minutes were read and passed; reports were given and all business transacted.

The president closed the meeting with prayer. The committee in charge served an inviting lunch which was very welcome. A social half hour was enjoyed by all before dispersing.

Cadets Enjoy Flights

Saturday last was a perfect day for flying so that the flights given to 46 Vermilion Air Cadets by the R.C.A.F. Dakota that day were very much enjoyed. Visibility was splendid and the boys and a number of guest passengers could see for miles. Everything stood in bold relief and the boys just looked and looked!

Officer Commanding the R.C.A.F. crew of six men was Flight Lieut. Ken Miller. He had with him a co-pilot, navigator, radio operator and two crewmen.

There were three flights, each one of some 45 minutes duration. Due to the fact that this plane was on stand-by duty it could not go too far from Vermilion.

Officer Commanding the Vermilion Air Cadets Flight-Lieut. Stan Manyluk was in charge of arranging the various flights.

Vermilion is fortunate in having such a fine landing field so that even the larger planes such as this Dakota, which can carry 26 passengers, can land and take off on either of the two runways.

Loyal Edmonton Regt. Plans Military Ball

The officers and men of 'A' Coy. the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, are making plans for the big Military ball to be held in the Armories on Nov. 5th.

The committee reports that there has been a good demand for invitation cards. These cards can be obtained from Capt. Roy, Capt. Buckingham or the chairman of the Citizen's committee, Mr. A. E. Kaiser. All that is required for admittance is to present one of these cards at the door. The cost is $4 per couple.

Canadian Club To Resume Meetings

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Club will resume meetings for the fall and winter months on Monday evening Nov. 8. The guest speaker on this occasion will be Mr Douglas Wilkinson and his topic is "Work and Play Among the Eskimos". Films will be shown along with the address.

Mr. Wilkinson served during the war in the Canadian Army where he became a Captain. Following demobilization in 1945 he became a writer-director in the National Film Board.

He has spent seven years in the Canadian Arctic, he and his wife actually living in Eskimo camps. He wrote and directed several films.

Last year he had himself adopted by an Eskimo family and spent the winter living exactly the life of an Eskimo. He was awarded an Arctic Institute fellowship and has just received a government appointment to return and work among the Eskimo, improving their living conditions — a cause to which he is dedicated.

Mr Wilkinson made two highly successful speaking tours in the East last year and this year he will speak across the prairies and B.C.

Alberta Farmer Becomes 100,000th A.M.A. Member

MR. W. A. SNAITH

The Alberta Motor Association recently reached its goal of 100,000 members with the signing up of Mr. Walter A. Snaith, Vauxhall district farmer, by Lethbridge branch salesman Ken Munro.

Since 1944, the Alberta Motor Association's membership has increased by 70,000, and is now Canada's largest and the 8th in size on the continent.

Mr. Snaith, the Association's 100,000th member, is a prominent Southern Alberta farmer presently operating a section in the Vauxhall district, where he settled in 1920. A member of the Alberta Farmers' Union and farm co-operatives, Mr. Snaith has always taken an active interest in community affairs.

"As a farmer, I'm pleased to become a member of the A.M.A." Mr. Snaith says. "I believe the Association is rendering a real service to farming people."

Undeniably, the number and variety of services offered to members, plus the fact that the Alberta Motor Association is a non-profit organization, has gained for it this widespread appreciation and support. The A.M.A.'s steadily increasing membership proves it!

New Trespass Regulations Create Wide Interest

Under new amendments to the Game Act which take effect this year for the first time, the owners or occupants of privately-owned land who wish to benefit by the provisions against trespass will have to make sure they have signs up — and the right kind of signs, at that.

b Prominently placed (1) at each corner of the land, (2) at each gate giving access to the land;

c In black lettering on a white background bearing the words NO SHOOTING."

Those familiar words 'No Hunting', 'No Trespassing', 'Keep Off, This Means You', and the like will do NO GOOD. If a land owner wants to prosecute under Alberta's Game Act . . . and that is the only legislation he can appeal to, as the Criminal Code of Canada states specifically that no actionable trespass takes place in the pursuit of game and fish provided the entrant does not commit "Wilful and Malicious Damage".

WHAT APPENDICITIS IS

The appendix is a small, and apparently useless worm-shaped organ from about 3 to 5 inches long. It is attached to the large intestine at its beginning, usually located low down on the right side of the abdominal cavity. Appendicitis is an inflammation of this small organ.

The inflammation probably starts in most cases as a result of the blocking of the appendix by foreign matter which may enter it from the large intestine. Blockage of the appendix interferes with its drainage, injures its walls, and permits germs constantly present in the intestinal tract to set up an infection.

Children and adults are unusually susceptible to appendicitis, but it may occur at any age.

WHEN TO SUSPECT ACUTE APPENDICITIS

Pain in the abdomen, with nausea or vomiting, is the earliest sign of acute appendicitis. Frequently it starts with generalized pain, or pain in the upper part of the abdomen which shortly becomes localized in the lower right side. The pain may be severe and cramplike or it may be a dull ache. It may occasionally let up, but this does not mean that the attack has passed.

Soon after the pain sets in, nausea or vomiting is likely to begin. The temperature usually rises slightly above normal, and the abdomen, especially over the appendix, becomes increasingly sore.

WHAT TO DO AND WHAT TO AVOID

In case of any unusual or puzzling abdominal pain or 'stomach-ache', with nausea or vomiting, do not take chances, do not delay. Your life may depend on 3 simple things.

1. Avoid taking a laxative or an enema, or other home remedy.

A person who has abdominal pain with nausea or vomiting also may be constipated or have diarrhoea and feel that he should take a laxative or enema. It is dangerous to do this. The action of the laxative or enema increases the pressure in the appendix and may cause it to rupture or 'blow out' and spread the infection. This may be followed by the serious condition called peritonitis. The sulfa drugs are now often used successfully in the treatment of peritonitis, but peritonitis may cause death.

2. Call your physician without delay.

If he suspects that you have appendicitis, he is the one to decide what should be done. Appendicitis is sometimes difficult to diagnose and the physician may need to take several blood counts and make other tests to help him in making his diagnosis. Be sure to call him in the first few hours of the attack.

3. Rest while awaiting the doctor.

In the presence of abdominal pain and vomiting, do not take any food or drinks, except water. Do not apply an ice bag or hot water bottle to the site of the pain. The pain may be deadened by doing this and the person may think that the attack has passed while he is still in great danger. Do not rub or massage the abdomen. Avoid exercise or unnecessary physical exertion. Lie down, or remain as quiet as possible until the doctor arrives.

WHAT TO REMEMBER

Although no way of preventing appendicitis has been discovered, it is known that serious consequences can nearly always be avoided by the proper early treatment. The patient's use of a laxative or other home remedy before his physician has examined him is responsible for many of the dangerous complications and deaths from appendicitis. Yet the operation to remove an appendix can be performed with great safety when it is done at once, before complications set in.

RECURRENT ATTACKS OF APPENDICITIS

Sometimes a person has a severe attack of acute appendicitis in which the inflammation subsides without an operation but never entirely clears up. Mild attacks may recur from time to time, and between attacks the patient may be troubled with spells of indigestion or have rather constant pain or discomfort soon after eating. If the physician decides that these symptoms are due to appendicitis, he may advise an operation even if the symptoms are mild because it is possible that the next attack may be severe and that the patient may be so situated that he cannot obtain prompt medical care.

WILDMERE WINKS

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Strang family in their sudden sad bereavement in the loss of their little daughter and sister It is another of those strange things so hard for us to fathom.

To all our friends who have been sick, Miss Craig, Mr. Osterberg, Mr. Bretcher, Mr. Sweeney and any others we did not know about, we wish a speedy recovery to health and home

When one sees the street in town now and how nice they are, we can forget having to lug our groceries several blocks for a week or so. The roads are grand and a credit to the town

Our grand weather is still with us at time of writing and farmers are really making the best of it Threshing and combining has been going on full speed. Billie and Adam Smith are all done combining their crop and are busy at fall work J Wallington has also finished his run of threshing and now pulled home He and Bobby Graham at present are busy with fall work too Jimmie hurt his leg and is sporting a pair of crutches to get around with. No. it wasn't the wheelbarrow this time P.V. but a manger in the barn. About time he was giving up farming we'd say.

Laurence Graham has a few days more threshing north of Vermilion after finishing up the run in Wildmere.

Quite a number from south of town attended the Bingo Saturday night but no prizes came our way. Derwent people are really lucky as both times now prizes have gone that way. Congrats to the Lloydminster lady, the car winner.

Looks nice to see trucks hauling grain again, even if it is just a small amount one can sell.

Miss Bease, junior teacher at the Preston school is now settled in a teacherage at the school. She was boarding with Mrs. Wilson until the teacherage was ready.

Mr. David Hughes is now on the telephone His number is 2228 or for a local call 2 long rings and a short one.

Mrs. Cliff Cruthers has received the shipment of blankets, etc. from Fairfields. Anyone having ordered some can get them now from her.

Funniest thing heard - When threshing Jimmie Clark's wheat someone said it's only 'pig feed', and on getting up next morning Lo and Behold — two of the neighbors' pigs must have heard the remark for they were in the yard looking to be fed. Maybe next year Jim you'll fool them and grow No. 1 wheat, who knows!

GO WEST

I talked to a young man on an east bound train the other day He told me that he was hitting East "where the big money is". Perhaps he was right, but I have my doubts.

It is a free country, and every young man has a perfect right to choose his own location Up to the present moment at any rate our government hasn't started telling us where we must work. But I rather think the young man, in hitting for the big money, was walking away from the big future.

All the signs point to a boom on the Prairies. Certainly the industrial development on the Prairies right now is spectacular Within the next ten or fifteen years they will add pulpwood production to their growing string of industries. They have forest reserves capable of supporting large pulp and paper mills and the flatness of terrain which would make that production exceptionally profitable.

It seems to me that the West is just coming into its own. There was a time when Manitoba and Saskatchewan depended almost entirely on the market for wheat. They are wiser today. Manitoba, especially has gone in for diversified farming with a vengeance. Domestic consumption has taken on added importance.

Poultry, pigs, sheep and furs are beginning to play a large part in the Prairie economy. The processing of these items means important urban industries. Alberta and Saskatchewan have their growing oil fields. Increased immigration will make a larger domestic market. The dethroning of wheat as the Prairie kingpin will mean fewer drastic ups and downs in the economy.

It is always hard to prophesy the future But it would seem reasonable to advise young men, looking for a big future, to look westward. All the signs point favorably in that direction.

NEW GEARLESS TRACTOR

A tractor with a hydraulic system which does away with normal driving shaft and gear box, making controls so simple that anyone can learn to drive it in a few minutes, has been developed at the National Institute of Agricultural Engineering Research Station, at Siloe near London, where it is undergoing exhaustive tests. The adaptation of the hydraulic system of propulsion to tractors is regarded as an experiment of the first importance which may open the way to a revolution in tractor design.

MODERN HARVESTING MACHINERY ITS LIMITATIONS

As we continue to hear and to read about farmers who in this very trying year have been able to harvest their hay and grain crops only because they happened to have a team or two of horses and the machinery that goes with this type of power we begin to wonder, as many of their neighbors must do, if there is not something to be said for being a bit 'old-fashioned' at times For some years now the trend has been toward larger and higher priced machinery of every sort all designed and to good purpose we agree to eliminate manual labor and to reduce very considerably the man hours required to do the work That there will be even greater improvements in farm machinery in years ahead we have no doubt, and certainly no one wishes to turn back the clock but the very conditions which have occurred this year when so much heavy machinery was useless for days on end during a critical period in haying or harvesting may well occur again There is a great deal to be said surely for having a few of the older type implements around and horse power with which to draw them Our modern harvesting equipment is efficient to a degree, but that it does have limitations on occasion has been only too clearly demonstrated this year

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Mr and Mrs. Gordon Guy of Edmonton spent the holiday with Mr Guy's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Guy.

Miss Evelyn Willis who taught at Vanesti school for several years was visiting with friends in Vanesti and Paradise Valley. Miss Willis is now working in Edmonton.

Rev. Miss A. Pauls, former minister in charge of the Church of God came up from Saskatoon where she is working to attend the funeral of R. R. Adams.

Bob Stewart, and Comm. Jack Dawson of Edmonton were recent visitors at the home of Bob's parents Mr. and Mr. R. Stewart and got in some hunting.

Patients in Lloydminster hospital include Messrs. R. Smith, C. Bennett and Parke Dobson. All the patients are doing well and we hope to see them back home soon.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the family of Mr. R. R. Adams who passed away in the Lloydminster hospital Tuesday night. The funeral was held Friday afternoon from the Church of God. It was our privilege to know Mr. Adams for many years and we will greatly miss his cheery greeting.

The weather — well, our fingers are still crossed. It worked last week so we hope it will do the same this time. As a result the farmers are going night and day combining. We understand that the quota has been opened at this point so the trucks are buzzing busily about

Mrs. W. E. Walter, Mr and Mrs. Herb Wright, Kenny and Barry, Mr and Mrs Walter McDonald, all of Calgary spent Thanksgiving at the Walter home

CHURCHILL HAS RECORD YEAR

WINNIPEG -The shipping season officially ended for the Port of Churchill with the sailing of the S.S. Pindar, Oct. 6, carrying 373,333 bushels of wheat for Belgium, Canadian National Railways officials announced here.

A record of 36 ships called at Churchill this year to load grain. Total shipments amounted to 12,515,427 bushels, a new record for the port. Last year, 31 ships had cleared with 10,784,445 bushels

According to the C.N.R. carload shipments of grain to Churchill will continue until the elevator is filled there. At present there is room for about 2 million bushels.

Ten Seed Cleaning Plants in Operation

Last season there were ten municipal seed cleaning plants in operation. These plants cleaned a grand total of well over 2,000,000 bushels of seed grain, as well as "rough cleaning" about 1½ million pounds of clover, reports F. F. Parkinson, Supervisor of Special Projects, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

This season, Mr. Parkinson says, there will be 15 plants operating. The construction program has gone right along on schedule in spite of the wet weather. Completed plants include Willingdon, Myrnam, Paradise Valley and Lougheed The construction crew, under foreman Ed Anderson, is now working on the Stony Plain plant, which should be in operation soon after Nov. 1.

Most of the plants are in operation now, mainly cleaning grain from the 1953 crop. Only a very few small lots of 1954 grain have been handled so far, and it is not likely that much of it will be fit for seed due to rust and frost damage.

Several of the plants have reduced their regular cleaning rate on seed cleaned before the first of the year. This is to induce farmers to have as much seed as possible cleaned early, and thus avoid disappointment when the rush is on later in the season Mr Parkinson urges farmers to get in touch with their plant manager as soon as possible to book their grain for early cleaning

Farmers who have good seed from the 1953 crop for sale, should list this with the manager immediately. This applies particularly to oats as there is likely to be a good demand for seed oats.

Get Peek At 1955 Pontiacs, Buicks

Local businessmen Ken and Bob Rowe returned this week from the final session of the Oct. 5 to 13 National General Motors Dealers conventions in Toronto. They described the record-breaking assemblies attended by 3000 GM dealers and department heads from every province and the Yukon as "the greatest automotive convention in terms of attendance and range of activities ever staged in Canada."

Commenting on the mammoth convention Ken Rowe the Vermilion Pontiac-Buick dealer said: "The high point of the program was the preview of the 1955 models, which are still under a very close security screen. I may say that the new cars which will be publicly announced later this fall have undergone the most complete re-designing in at least 15 years, and will offer startling improvements to drivers in the popular field."

The three-day Pontiac-Buick session which concluded the history-making convention, was closely scheduled with a full table of events Mr Rowe said.

Following the opening preview of the new cars, which were presented in a musical production starring ballet dancers and musicians, the program included guided tours by special trains to Oshawa and St. Catharines.

At Oshawa the dealer party inspected the vast new 67½-acre 1,132 passenger car assembly plant it's said's largest by a great margin. Special guides at St. Catharines took the group through the most modern foundry in the world, one section of the new Grantham Township plants of McKibbon Industries a General Motors division.

Among a series of luncheons, banquets and receptions was a ladies' luncheon that included a fashion show of the latest stylings from New York and Paris.

On his return Mr. Rowe said. "The overwhelming success of this great convention was due largely to the powerful impression made by the advance showings of the 1955 models My own view is that these cars will make as great an impression on the public in a few weeks' time as they did on the enthusiastic assembly of dealers in Toronto.

Province Is On The Threshhold Of Literary Censorship

Elimination of Crime, Horror Comics Objective

EDMONTON — Alberta is on the threshhold of the tricky business of literary censorship, although no one knows yet how far it is to be carried.

As the result of a meeting last week at the legislative buildings, it appears very likely that a "citizens' committee" will be formed within next few months, charged with the task of studying the newsstands clear of crime and horror comics. In time it is possible the scope of the committee will be wider and may include magazines and paper-back books.

The meeting had been called by Hon Lucien Maynard, attorney-general, who invited representatives of home and school organizations, church groups, women's and library associations and police officials.

After hearing similar suggestion from some of the delegates, Mr. Maynard told the conference the government has been giving thought to the establishment of a committee which would read the comics and advise distributors on which type to stop handling Should a distributor ignore the committee's suggestion, the attorney-general said the committee could recommend the attorney-general's department take action under Section 207 of the Criminal Code of Canada, which pertains to the distribution of crime comics and other offensive types of literature.

Mr Maynard expressed confidence that the distributors would co-operate with such a committee and indeed, one of the province's largest distributors pledged support of such a program.

The indication that the committee's function might extend beyond the personal of comics was given by Mr Maynard when he was asked if the committee would deal only with the comics.

He said: We would like to see it go as far as possible".

The actual establishment of the committee, methods of selecting the members and mode of operation will be matters for discussion at a further meeting to be held next month.

Delegates to the meeting handled no words about the harmfulness of crime comics, although that this was so and concentrating on some methods of eliminating them.

Some confessed to hope that no form of censorship would be necessary and that the craving for crime books could be eliminated by the substitution of "good healthy" through newspaper facilities such as regional libraries.

Premier Manning, who was also present at the meeting along with Highways Minister Gordon Taylor and Public Welfare Minister R. D Jorgenson, took a more realistic view of such substitution plans, saying: "We should not let ourselves be fooled into thinking the problem will be solved that easily."

The matter of censorship was not dwelt upon most delegates possibly accepting Mr. Maynard's contention that even strict enforcement of the Criminal Code, as it relates to crime comics, involves judgment, which implies a form of censorship.

Mr. Maynard indicated that it was this problem of censorship which was bothering the government and his department in arriving at a suitable method of dealing with literature it, and a great majority of the public, feels should not be offered for sale.

"How far will people stand for us injuring the status of writers on certain comics and banning others?" he asked.

In this, then, is probably the basis for the government's support of a citizens' committee. It would not lend the stigma of government censorship to the problem, and if properly constituted, would have the support of most Alberta citizens.

Given the support of the news distributors, there would be little fuss or publicity given to the removal of objectionable comic books. Distributors will welcome such a committee because it will relieve them of the task of trying to decide which comics violate the code and which do not

PRECIOUS PEBBLE

BACK IN 1825 the Danish scientist Oersted produced the first pebble of metallic aluminum. Half a century passed before a technique was discovered for turning out the metal in quantity.

Modern processing of bauxite ore to make low-cost aluminum uses fantastic quantities of power. That is why Canada is one of the world's major aluminum suppliers. In Quebec province, smelters at Arvida, Shawinigan Falls, Isle Maligne and Beauharnois last year used nearly one-fifth of the country's total electrical output. And in British Columbia new sources of water power are feeding the vast lines of the new smelter at Kitimat, Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

WOODVALE

With two weeks of dry and sunny weather the long delayed harvest is finally making good headway towards completion. Another week without rain will pretty well finish up the work.

Thanksgiving day was a real working day and on many farms haying and harvesting was done at the same time. Hearing about the devastation caused in Ontario and the States we can be truly thankful for our Indian summer and the lovely weather.

Mrs. Suzanne Dubuc with her children Diane and Roger of Vegreville spent a week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs Paul Goutier during Thanksgiving. Marie Goutier was also home from Morinville

Mrs. Ray McQuid has been appointed by the school board to visit the 19 rural schools that have teachers who took the short course or who have not been teaching for a very long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webber of Toronto paid a visit to their brother and sister-in-law Mr. E. E Webber and Mrs. Mabel Webber a few weeks ago after making a trip to the coast.

On Oct. 6 the Red Cross Auxiliary held one of their always pleasant meetings and quilting bees at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Portentich. With eight present it took all afternoon to finish the large patchwork quilt. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Seito on Nov. 3.

Several animals, fairly rare in this neighborhood were seen lately. Mr. E. Webber and Mrs. H. Webber saw a fox on the road near Cartwright's; the large Golden Eagle is paying another visit to the huge stone pile on the highest hill on the Lymens' farm and we

Life Span of 80 Possible by 1975

An average life span of 80 may be made possible within the next two decades by proper public education in the field of preventive medicine, according to an editorial by Dr. Gordon Bates in the current issue of Health magazine. Dr. Bates is general director of the Health League of Canada, which publishes the magazine in the interest of preventive medicine.

Dr. Bates pointed out that application of the principles of preventive medicine already has resulted in an average duration of life of nearly 70, compared to a life expectation of 50 at the turn of the century. A further increase in the life span, said Dr. Bates, will result in all sorts of changes in our way of life. The period of efficiency of the average human will certainly be extended, he said, and society will adjust itself accordingly.

"The problems having to do with the extension of the span of life are still many," according to the editorial. "The great need at this time is education of the public as to means of prevention and the necessity for co-operative action by governments, individuals and organized societies to provide the organization to eliminate unnecessary disease. Knowledge is power and every effort should be made to inform as many people as possible as to means of promoting health

"The most important source of information are the doctors. the nurses, dentists, nutritionist and other technically trained persons who, in our present state of society, are compelled to waste their talents on the care of humans suffering and dying from maladies which could have been prevented."

165 Students Enroll At V.S.A. Classes Are Now Under Way

A total of 165 students have now enrolled at the Vermilion school of agriculture, the opening day being Tuesday. A large registration of students was already enrolled by noon of that day, some even arriving as early as Sunday.

Enrollment in the various classes includes numbers similar to those of recent years. The 165 are divided as follows:

First Year Agriculture, 50; 2nd Year Agriculture 60; Two-in-One class 30.

First Year Home Economics 22; Second Year 15; Two-in-One 8.

In addition to members of the staff new students were welcomed to the school by a group of second year girls and boys headed by Geo. McMillan of Pickardville and Bernice Koetke of Daysland, president and vice-president of the Students' Union for the forthcoming term.

An innovation this year is the outfitting of new students in freshmen regalia including name badges, colorful sombrero hats, canes and school banners which will distinguish them about town during their first few visits.

The incoming students generally report harvesting operations fairly complete with yields somewhat better than anticipated a month ago.

Armistice Day Service Parade and Dance Planned by Legion

As usual the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. has arranged for several functions centreing around Armistice day. At the executive meeting on Friday evening final arrangements were made for poppy day, the Armistice Day service and parade to the cenotaph, the annual dance and Legion entertainment and smoker.

The dance will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 10 in the Armories. Everyone is invited whether Legion members or not. Tickets are on sale now but they can also be bought at the door.

On Nov. 11 the Memorial service will be held in the Columbia theatre. Rev. Mr. Sewell, minister of St. John's Anglican church, Edmonton, will give the address. The padre, Rev. M. Ford and other members of the ministerial association will also take part in the service.

The veterans will assemble at the Legion hall at 10:30 a.m. All veterans are asked to parade — whether Legion members or not. Ex-servicemen should wear medals.

After the parade an entertainment and smoker has been arranged and all ex-servicemen in the district will be welcome to join with Legion members for a couple of hours of comradeship.

President Vic Tillett of Vermilion Branch wishes it to be made known that the public is invited to attend the service in the Columbia theatre and the ceremony of laying wreaths at the cenotaph. All organizations in town are urged to march in the parade. 18-19

Donations For Retarded Children's Project

The organization for the rehabilitation of Retarded Children are holding a mammoth auction sale in Edmonton on Nov. 3. For the past year and a half, a class of 41 retarded pupils have been taught each week by volunteer instructors. Now the organizers wish to put the operation on a full time basis and funds are badly needed. If you would like to donate good clean used clothes discarded kitchen utensils or appliances, furniture, unwanted new articles, anything saleable, please phone Mrs. E. H. Buckingham at 252, or leave your articles at downstairs suite in Baker house or at the D.A.'s office not later than Saturday, Oct. 30

Legion Poppy Day Set For Nov. 6th

Once again we come around to poppy day. This year it will be Saturday, Nov. 6.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion will take posts on every corner with their trays of poppies. Also business firms will be canvassed by Legion members for sale of wreaths for their windows.

The president of the Legion Vic Tillett and his poppy day committee which is headed by L. R. Webb ask that citizens be generous in contributions for wreaths and when they buy poppies on Saturday.

The Legion officers wish it to be known that all donations to the poppy fund are used locally for assistance to needy veterans. During the past year $294.04 was assigned from the Vermilion Branch poppy fund for help to local veterans. When a veteran's house burns down he needs help and the Veterans' Poppy fund is for this kind of help.

Everyone could not fight in Canada's wars but everyone can help veterans when misfortune falls on them. The Legion asks that people give liberally on Nov. 6, so that in the hour of need there will be funds to help the needy. 18-19

Gas For Mannville Wednesday, Nov. 3

MANNVILLE.- A meeting will be held on Wednesday Nov. 3 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening in the Legion hall. Representatives of the Gas Co. will be present to explain safety measures in the use of natural gas. They will also answer any questions about the converting of furnaces, stoves, etc.

A flare will be lighted after the meeting and the gas will be turned on in all the mains.

Ken Caron Has Car Rifled

Ken Caron of Vermilion reported the theft of clothing from his car while it was parked near 105 Ave and 92 St Sunday night. Stolen was a suit, a pair of shoes, shirt, several pairs of socks and two electric razors.

Churches To Observe 150th Anniversary Of Bible Society

The 150th Anniversary of the Bible Society will be commemorated in Vermilion on Sunday, Oct. 31st. On this day, the churches of the town will give special emphasis to the work of the Society. The Rev. E. J. Heuer, Secretary of the Bible Society for Northern Alberta will preach at services in Vermilion in the Alliance chapel in the morning and at St. Saviour's church in the evening.

Following the evening service at St. Saviour's, Mr. Heuer will show films in the parish hall, depicting the work of the Bible Society over the 150 years. A cordial invitation is extended to all people to attend this film showing after the evening service in their own place of worship.

The annual canvass for funds for the Bible Society will take place in Vermilion during the week of November 1st. Citizens are urged to give the canvassers a warm welcome and to assist as generously as they are able in this important work.

CHANCE TO WIN $1,000.00 BOND

Tigers Sign Kreller

ELMER KRELLER

Good news broke for Vermilion and district hockey fans when Neil McLean and Mitchell Taylor, president and secretary respectively of the Tigers Hockey Club, announced that they had secured the services of Elmer Kreller to act as playing coach of the team.

Kreller, who lives just fourteen miles away at Mannville, was playing coach of the Tigers in the 1952-53 season and piloted the team to the Eastern Alberta league championship. Last year he played a fine game on defence, relinquishing the coaching duties due to pressure of his own business at Mannville. This year he has now consented to take over the helm again.

Jack Cross Wins

Among the district winners at the Edmonton Livestock show and sale this week were J. S. Cross in the Hereford classes and John Clennett of Mannville with his sheep.

Wetaskiwin Fliers Enjoy Local Visit

BREAKFASTED, SHOWN THE TOWN

Eight planes, piloted by members of the Wetaskiwin Breakfast club and carrying in all 15 passengers, landed at the Vermilion airport shortly before 10 a.m. Sunday. They were greeted by a large number of local people headed by President Ken Urquhart and a large delegation from the Vermilion Board of Trade. The visitors received a warm welcome as each plane came in, and after being photographed by Georg Conrad of the Vermilion Photocraft were taken to the Brunswick hotel for breakfast.

The visitors were then taken for a ride around the scenic spots of the town including the V.S.A. the provincial park and lake taken through the Canadian Utilities power plant where a new gas turbine unit imported from Switzerland and the first of its kind in Canada has just been installed. A short drive past the new curling and through the residential section completed the tour and the cavalcade of cars ended up again at the flying field.

The Wetaskiwin Flying club is operated by the Central Aviation Co of Wetaskiwin. Flying lessons are given and practise flights such as this one taken to various points where there are landing fields.

Heading the visitors was Mr Jack Ross manager of the Central Aviation and Miss Gretchen Mathers who is the chief instructor. Other pilots were Jim Malin, Lloyd Peifer, Jerry Whitner, Dave Harrington, Bert Wallis and Bud Reynolds.

The passengers included Gordon Wallis, Mrs Whitner, Mrs O A Christian, Lloyd Dalmas, Paul Whiteside and several others.

It is doubtful which group enjoyed the visit most, the visitors or the home town folks who found their guests [illegible] appreciative group.

The visitors [illegible] landing field [illegible] was a perfect [illegible] paved streets the new [illegible] equipment and the [illegible] power [illegible]. Although the visit was [illegible] planned to be of short duration the planes took off for home [illegible]. To the [illegible] widely and [illegible] crowd gathered [illegible] on arrival and departure of the planes. Refreshments were served during the interval.

Martin Shalka and the [illegible] committee of the Board of Trade carried out arrangements for hosting and entertaining the visitors.

The Curling Rink Project Explained

Ratepayers of the Town of Vermilion are being asked to vote on a money by-law on Friday Nov 5 expressing approval or otherwise for the borrowing of $40,000 at the low rate of interest of 3½% from funds set aside for municipal projects by the provincial government. This is just one way the Alberta government takes to assist communities to provide worthwhile facilities for the populace.

WHAT IS THE MONEY FOR?

The $40,000 will do two things 1. Retire the present mortgage of $7,400 on the new curling rink. 2. Pay for the complete installation of an artificial ice plant in the rink.

At the time the application for the loan was made which was last May, the mortgage on the rink was $10,000. Since May this has been reduced to $7,400. This means that the $2600 can go at once into a reserve fund to meet the annual payment.

REPAYMENT PLAN

The repayment plan is over a 20-year period with an annual payment of $2751 covering principal and interest. It may be liquidated in less time if the body responsible for repaying the loan finds itself able to do so. It appears that this will be the case with the curling club.

WHY THE TOWN?

These loans for improvements are made by the province to municipal governing bodies only, town or municipal councils, school boards and hospital boards. When an application is made for such a loan the whole project is examined very thoroughly by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, Province of Alberta. If the project is considered sound by that Commission permission is granted to borrow the necessary funds providing the ratepayers concerned approve.

In this particular case the Town takes title to the rink which is held as security. The rink is leased to the Curling club for $2751 per year which is the amount of the debenture payment. That is the Curling club pays the annual debenture payment. The loan does not cost the Town of Vermilion ratepayers one cent. Operating the rink and paying the debenture are solely the responsibilities of the curling club.

IS THE CURLING CLUB ABLE TO MEET ANNUAL PAYMENTS?

During the past years the Curling Club has flourished grown and prospered. Progress in the last few years has been remarkable and many times the amount of the debenture payment has been raised each year. Since 1946 the former rink has been renovated at a cost of $6000, matched rocks were purchased costing $2900, the new rink was built last year at a round figure of $30,000. Of this $30,000 only $7,400 remains less than one year after the completion of the building. There is no doubt about the ability of the Club to meet the annual debenture payment of $2751.

REVENUE & EXPENDITURES

The revenue of the Curling Club for the 1954-55 season estimated with the same number of rinks as last winter (44) amounts to $7795. This is made up of $3520 in fees, bonspiel revenue $1200, the ladies club $1650, other activities $1425. All of these figures except the fees are the same as last year. The fees are more because it is anticipated that they will be raised slightly from $16.00 to $20.00. This does not take into consideration an expected increase in membership.

Consider the figure of $1425.00 from other sources. In the past month more than double that amount was cleared from two car bingos, and in the summer another $900.00 on a car raffled at the Fair.

Since the beginning of the year the Curling Club has reduced their indebtedness by $8,000.00. Meeting the annual debenture payment of $2781.00 will present no difficulties.

Expenses estimated for the operation of the artificial ice plant and rink for the forthcoming year have been placed at $3360.00. This allows for increase in expenses in every phase of the operation.

Revenues of a minimum of $7795, expenses of $3360 means a yearly surplus of $4435. This leaves a very safe margin from which to meet the annual payment of $2751.

During the past seven years the town has made decided material advances by installation of water and sewer and hard-topping the streets; educationally by building two new schools. It is now desirable that we step up recreational facilities which are lagging, and this is one way we can do it. The curling rink is now a community centre, ladies, men, young people, college and school students all take part in what is one of the fastest growing pastimes in Canada. To enjoy it to the full a new rink and artificial ice are necessities. We have the rink, the finest in rural Ca[illegible], let us complete the picture by voting in favor of the by-law.

There is one big difference between projects mentioned such as water and sewer, hard surface and new schools. These have been financed and paid for by the ratepayers. This rink will be paid for by the curlers and the curlers alone.

The Standard has studied every phase of the proposal along with the financial statements of the Vermilion Curling Club for several years past. The above article is based on those findings and is passed on to the ratepayers as a true picture of the project. The Standard has no hesitation in recommending the plebiscite as one that should be unanimously endorsed by the ratepayers.

Gaol Terms For Dangerous Driving Convictions

Magistrate Basler takes a very serious view of dangerous driving convictions and twice this week meted out gaol terms to offenders.

On Monday Lloyd Whitten of Minburn was convicted of dangerous driving as a result of a car accident near Mannville in which he ran into another car and then left the scene of the accident. He was sentenced to one month in gaol plus a total of $80.00 in fine and costs, or an additional one month in gaol.

On Tuesday Walter Melnyk of Minburn was charged with dangerous driving as a result of driving his truck into the wagon and team belonging to Mr and Mrs. Baldwin and in which all the Baldwins were injured Mr Baldwin quite badly. Melnyk was found guilty and sentenced to one month in the Fort Saskatchewan jail. The accident happened 4½ miles west of Vermilion.

Both actions were defended.

Mrs. Don Harrison left by train Friday for the coast to visit her parents. Her father, Mr. Wilson, we are sorry to say is in very poor health.

VERMILION, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28th, 1954

150th ANNIVERSARY OF THE BRITISH & FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY—

"It is a great and humbling thing to be the channel of God's Grace for 150 years."

These words were spoken by Dr Eric North during the Third Jubilee celebrations of The British and Foreign Bible Society in London, England in May 1954.

The living Word of God has come to millions of people in their own language because of the labors of this Society in the field of translation, publication and distribution of the Holy Scriptures. The British and Foreign Bible Society has faithfully served the Christian Church in supplying the printed Word of God to the mission fields of every church. It also maintains colporteurs in many lands and can truly be called "the handmaid of the Church".

The Society was founded in London in 1804 by a small group of men with a great vision to circulate the Holy Scriptures throughout the world in the mother tongue of every tribe and nation. The British and Foreign Bible Society alone has distributed over 610,000,000 copies (never less than one complete book) in 825 languages. Every year a dozen new languages are added to the list. The world total for all Bible Societies stands well over one billion copies in 1077 languages.

106 IN ONE HILL!

It has been a good year for spuds at least, and Joe Dmyterko dug 106 out of one hill. Joe farms 12 miles north of Vermilion and told the Standard reporter that he thought he was never going to come to the end of the potatoes in that hill.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Oct. 27, 1938

The V.S.A. opened with a registration of 140 students.

Jack Winters was advertising a huge closing out farm auction sale.

Miss Dorothy Harris was crowned Queen of the Elks carnival in the first contest of that kind held in town.

W. P. Colbert of Mannville sold his I.H.C. agency to E. A. Mercer.

An old timer stated that this was the best fall he had experienced in 33 years in the west. Tennis (we had courts then, Ed.), and golf were still being played and several young men have been swimming right along at the pool in the river.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

32 YR AGO

Oct. 26, 1922

District potato crops were much below average.

Mayor J. W. G. Morrison was offering cash prizes for the best essays covering the history and development of Vermilion.

It is estimated that despite heavy shipments of stock Vermilion district farmers still hold 15,000 head of cattle.

By Your District Agriculturist

"GREEN ACRES"

T. B. AREA

Minburn M.D. is a T.B. restricted area. Testing of cattle for tuberculosis is not yet completed but all cattle coming into the area must be either tested or enter under a permit. This means that it is a violation of the Animal Disease Act for anyone to bring breeding cattle or feeders into the area without testing or Dr. McDonald, Health of Animals Veterinarian, Vermilion, could be asked for a permit.

LOW GRADE PIGS

Last week I checked on pigs coming into stockyards throughout my district. The grades are fairly good in all areas except Clandonald. Some of the farmers up there are taking an awful licking on low grades. They are losing at least $3 per pig on over half the pigs coming into the yards.

STUBBLE BURNING

Some farmers are talking of burning stubble. They have a mistaken idea that burning straw and stubble will kill the rust. But rust does not live over winter in Western Canada. Also some people think that burning stubble will kill wild oats and other weed seeds. Very very few weed seeds are killed by burning stubble. Work the combine straw and stubble into the ground to stop wind and water damage to the soil. That is where trash does the most good.

PUREBRED STOCK SALE

On Nov. 13 the Vermilion Agricultural Society will hold their annual sale of purebred stock. Swine will be sold at 10 a.m. and cattle at 1 p.m. Here is a chance for district farmers to get boars, gilts, heifers or bulls to improve stock on their own farms. So many times I have seen people pass up the chance to buy breeding stock at auction sales and before six months they paid double as much for the same stock.

SWINE ERYSIPELAS

Last week we sent a 7 weeks old pig to the Veterinary lab. at Edmonton. The report came back "Erysipelas". This disease is not common in the district but it is contagious so likely it will spread around as time goes on. The Alberta government has published a circular on Swine Erysipelas. Every farmer raising hogs ought to get a copy from this office.

SNOW MOLD ON LAWNS

Nearly every lawn in this district was damaged by snow mold last winter which killed out the grass in spots of various sizes. Loss can be prevented by spraying the lawn late in the fall, about freeze up time with the following chemicals. Two parts of Calomel and one part of Corrosive Sublimate spread at the rate of 3 to 4 ounces per 1000 square feet. As the chemicals do not mix with water very well it is best to mix them with dry sand and scatter the mixture on the lawn. Corrosive Sublimate is a very bad poison, so BEWARE!

But Nothing Comes Out

WHO GOES TO SCHOOL IN ALBERTA

Third in A Series

We in Alberta believe that education, tailored to their needs and interests, and measured to their various talents, is the right of all our children. The school must reach them all and develop in each one the best of skill and wisdom that he can attain. We owe this debt to those who live in the forest and on the range, to those who live 40 miles from town, to the very dull, to the very bright, to the crippled and the deaf, as well as to the children who play next door.

We owe them training as workers or as scholars, each according to his will and capacity ... and training too, as future citizens, able and apt to share in the fellowship and public life of their community, and responsive to its needs. That is what we mean, in Alberta by equal opportunity for all our children.

Can this be done? Albertans believe that it can -- but there are many obstacles to overcome. Alberta is a land of vast distances and sparse population. The population is smaller than British Columbia for example but, because of its distribution Alberta has twice as many schools. There are inequalities numerous and varied but the Alberta Department of Education has taken vigorous measures to eliminate these.

It has extended and enriched the learning program in remote areas through more adequate supervision and guidance through correspondence courses, audio-visual aids and school broadcasts. It has given assistance where necessary in centralization of schools in rural areas and in the substantial increase in school transport. Nearly half the number of rural children now travel by bus to modern, centralized schools.

But most of all, increased building and operational grants paid directly to school divisions and districts, and the equalization grants, allocated according to local need, have brought about a "new look" in rural education.

The equalization grant, based on assessment per classroom, is one device responsive to the need of school divisions and districts. If local resources, as measured by assessment, are high, then the equalization grant is low; if local assessment is low then the equalization grant is relatively high. For example the assessment of Camrose School Division is approximately $97,000 per classroom while in Lac la Biche School Division it is only $26,787. Equalization grants compensate for this disparity.

In 1953, the Camrose School Division received a grant of $80,452.00, approximately $20 per pupil, while the Lac La Biche Division received $136,623.74, about $90 per pupil. Equalization and operational grants from the Department of Education paid in these cases 26 per cent of the cost of Education in Camrose and 77 per cent in Lac La Biche.

A modern and efficient school program requires a modern and efficient school plant. The Alberta Government through its building grants, advisory services, assistance in marketing debentures, and guarantee of interest has provided effective leadership in this program of post-war school expansion. In 1945 the value of rural school plant and equipment in Alberta was less than $11,000,000.

Today it is close to $80,000,000.

In 1952, 882 school units were under construction in Alberta at an estimated cost of $25,000,000. More than 300 of these provide improved school accommodation for children who live in rural areas. There are 750 more classrooms in Alberta than at the end of World War II but there are nearly 900 less one-roomed rural schools, and of these additional classrooms, more than two-thirds are high school grades.

Claysmore Clippings

Mr. and Mrs. P. Duffy have bought a small acreage and built a neat little house two miles east of Claysmore on the highway. All are pleased to welcome them into the neighborhood.

The Wheat Pool have a crew busy digging a basement for the new house for their agent here. They hope to pour the cement and get the framework all up this week. The new house site is on the main road just south of the Tom McCauley residence.

Mr. Martin Van Nest and his stepson Raymond Pierce of Edmonton visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Nest last week end. Raymond is looking after the chores while Mr. and Mrs. Van Nest are spending a few days in the city this week.

Mrs. Stewart Hillcox has gone to Three Hills Bible school where she is taking a winter's course of Bible Study.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burnett who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacMillan left Thursday on their homeward journey. They will make a stop at Onoway and Acme, Alberta, and then go on to Lethbridge where Mr. Burnett has a winter job.

Mrs. Joe Bauer was a visitor at the J. Horne home Thursday evening.

The Claysmore branch of the W.I. are holding their bazaar on Nov. 12 at the school. The program will be much the same as last year with a home cooking table, sewing table with many useful and practical garments for both children and adults, and a booth of surprise boxes and grab boxes. Tea will be served from 2:30 to 6 p.m. It is hoped that everyone interested in our children and the Xmas fund will come and bring along a friend. Donations for any of the tables or grab bags for the bazaar will be gratefully received.

"STEPHENS COME TO TOWN"

The Standard is indebted to Dr. Fred Miller of Elk Point for the information contained in the following story.

The freight car containing the stock for Stephens first store in Vermilion, along with lumber, oats, some furniture, and ten head of young cattle left Glencairn about August 10th, 1904, bound for Edmonton. On board the car of effects was Fred Miller. The trip to Edmonton took ten days and Mr. H. N. Stephens met the car in Edmonton.

Mr Stephens had already ordered a scow from Jno Walter's mill situated on the Saskatchewan River about where the high level bridge is now. The lumber and supplies were transferred to the scow, and the livestock was put out to winter on a farm a few miles north of Edmonton.

Larry Garneau was engaged as pilot of the scow and Mr. Miller was the crew. Mr. Stephens had purchased a team of cayuses, Sal and Sue, and drove overland to Vermilion area to engage freighters and meet the scow at the mouth of the Vermilion river, at a spot about where the Lea Park ferry is now located.

It took ten days to make the run down the river to the destination. Garneau was a careful pilot and the scow met no serious holdups. There were plenty of scows on the river that year. One column just in front of the Stephens' had seven scows and was freighting oats to the Barr Colony at Lloydminster. The mouth of the Vermilion river was reached on Sept. 6th, 1904. Mr. H. N. Stephens was there on time to meet the scow, with seven freight teams. Some of the freighters were Bill Hill and his son, Bill Steele now living in Vermilion, Dan McLaren, Norman Tucker, Danny McMillan and Jack Hazlitt.

After landing, Larry Garneau was rowed back across the Saskatchewan and started back on foot to Edmonton after receiving his agreed compensation of $85.00.

The scow was taken apart and the material used in the building of Stephens' first store, located about one-quarter mile south of the present agricultural college. The building was 24 x 28 feet, one storey frame with a sod roofed lean-to behind for a kitchen.

In addition to regular merchandise bread was baked and sold. Considerable fur was bought the first winter. Rats were 6c each, coyotes $1.25 and fox whatever you could get them for. Most of the furs came from old Tatti's band of Saiteaux, located on what was called for years "Tatti's Flats" about where Homer Campbell's Hereford ranch is now.

The railroad grade was under construction that fall and the rails hit Vermilion on Sept. 5, 1905. The store was moved across the railroad grade just before the rails, Bert Woods furnishing the horsepower for the job. The store stood on the road allowance near where Wiebe's mill is now until the town survey was completed. The new store on the present site was built that fall and was moved into after freeze-up. The original store was moved up behind the new one and used as a storehouse.

The original staff was composed of H. N. Stephens and Fred Miller. This was soon increased by Roy West, Roy Jackson and Norman Morrison. The story from there up to the present day was told in The Standard last week.

MANNVILLE & DISTRICT LOCALS

Visiting with her mother Mrs. Torrance and brothers is Mrs. Garrison and children of Red Deer. She accompanied Mr. L. Torrance from Edmonton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chrysler have returned from a six weeks' visit to Ontario. They left Ontario just before the storm struck that city. One of the places they were visiting was in the storm area. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Hughie of Toronto, sister of Mrs. Chrysler.

City visitors over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mercer, Carol and Gail who attended the wedding of Miss Phyllis Cundal to Mr. Jim Graham. Miss Cundal is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cundal.

The sympathy of the district is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Blackford. They were saddened on Monday evening by the news of a fatal car accident near Brandon, Man., in which Mrs. Percy Blackford was killed and Mr. Blackford and baby are in hospital at Brandon. Mr. Percy Blackford worked with Chas. Blackford in the trucking business when he first moved to Mannville and were often visitors here after they settled in Edmonton.

Mrs. Earl Gray and children of Edmonton spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Proudfoot and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Stan McGreevey (nee Merrie Mercer of Edmonton on the birth of a son on Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Major and Mrs. R. Hart spent a few days last week in Edmonton.

Mr. R. Lugg attended the Anglican Laymen's meeting in Wainwright on Monday evening.

Mrs. R. Daniels is a patient in the local hospital. Mrs. L. Colborne has returned home from the hospital after being in several days for treatment.

Mrs. R. Hughes of Edmonton was a visitor in town last week.

Mrs. Bert Barlow from Edmonton spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. R. Lugg.

A number of the United church congregation from Mannville attended the Induction service on Friday evening in the church in Minburn of Rev. Holter.

At the regular meeting of the Happy Hour group at the home of Mrs. M. Mercer on Monday evening, Mrs. George White was presented with a W.A. pin prior to her leaving for Penticton. Mrs. White was a member of the group from the time it was organized and a very faithful member.

The first moisture to fall since October 2nd was experienced Wednesday when 11 of an inch of rain was recorded. Otherwise it has been a very fine week of a good month. In October one year ago 13 inches of snow was recorded at the weather station here.

Former Islay Lady Wins $1,075 In Irish Sweep

Mrs. Joe T Gagne, the former Irene Bristow of Islay, drew a horse in the Irish Free State sweepstake run on Wednesday and thereby won herself $1,075. Mrs. Gagne's horse was scratched before the race so she received the minimum, but nevertheless very acceptable prize.

Mrs. Gagne, who is the mother of five girls ranging in ages from 10 to 18 years, says that she will have no trouble at all using the money to advantage. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gagne are well remembered at Vermilion and Islay.

THE STAGETTES

The Harvest ball was a huge success but the crowd wasn't quite so huge so 16 girls met Tuesday to find ways and means of making the treasury look a little healthier. Lots of ideas were brought out and discussed and it was decided to prove that the girls make just as good cooks as they do Stagettes. That's the idea - a home baking and candy sale. That should be interesting and, we hope, profitable, so watch for the mouth-watering goodies on sale at Hareuther's Food Locker plant on Saturday Nov. 6 from 3 to 6 p.m.

Remember the pretty wee Stagette we raffled last year at the Holly Frolic? She was such a popular little lady that we thought we would give you a chance to win another. Very soon now you'll be able to buy your chance to make one yours for keeps.

Our annual CARE parcel will soon be on its way overseas to let some small orphan children know we think of them at Xmas time.

Marie Miller volunteered (we have the best li'l ol' bunch of volunteers this year -- it's wonderful) to take over the duties of press reporter. Yep, at last you'll have a change of literature and stop grinning so approvingly.

Edna Allen is leaving us for fields afar, and it is with sincere regret that we say farewell to our little blonde lass. If good wishes help any Edna, you'll be most happy and successful in Fairview, and we do hope to see you now and then.

Checking hey how about that? No checking!

Rescue Crew Lands Here In Helicopter

Ross Lennox and his cabin type helicopter and crew, of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Co., landed at the Vermilion airport on Sunday on their way to Flin Flon. This crew and machine has spent the summer in the far north aiding in mining exploration.

It was this machine and the same crew who reached the four men killed when their plane crashed on a peak in the Yukon.

The pilot Ross Lennox is an old and close friend of Vermilion's R. A. Findlay and the latter quite by chance was at the airfield Sunday when the helicopter landed. They hadn't seen each other since demobilizing after the war and neither expected to see the other on

Gives Display Of Aerial Spraying

Pilot Dave Harrington who has gained considerable fame for spraying and dusting fields from his airplane, was a member of the Wetaskiwin Breakfast club which spent several hours in Vermilion Sunday.

Pilot Dave had the plane he uses for such jobs and gave a display at the airport, using lime for dusting. It takes only 45 minutes for spraying or dusting a quarter section. Harrington has worked out an intricate maneuver at the ends of the field whereby he turns very quickly and does not miss a foot of the crop.

He has even seeded barley and wheat fields when they were too wet for implements. He was called east to spray the spruce budworm which threatens whole forests in some areas, and as well as dusting with both dust and liquid has spread fertilizer with his plane. Different processes require different attachments. By the display given at the airport Pilot Harrington would appear to know his business exceedingly well.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
To All Telephone Subscribers
New Telephone Billing System In Effect With Your Next Bill
Growth of the Alberta Government Telephones has necessitated the adoption of a new Billing System in order to assure utmost efficiency in the rendering of telephone bills. It will go into effect with your next bill.
This new system, known as Rotation and Machine Billing, is used by many of the larger telephone, gas, water, power and electric light companies. It is designed to overcome the many difficulties encountered by our accounting and business office staffs in rendring all telphone bills at the beginning of each month. Subscribers will benefit by receiving their telephone bills more promptly.
HOW YOU WILL BE BILLED
Instead of billing from the first of the month as at present, future Vermilion bills will be issued on the 25th of each month.
Exchange service and directory advertising will be billed one month in advance as at present, beginning with the date of the bill.
Long distance calls will be billed for one month ending the day preceding the billing date on the bill.
YOUR NEXT BILL
Your next bill will be a "transition bill" to adjust your account from the old system to the new. A notice will be enclosed with your Transition Bill showing your new Billing Date and other information about your account under the new plan. Please read it carefully and retain it for future reference.

Will We Learn?

The recent disastrous floods in the Ontario Humber River Valley should teach all Canada a lesson, declares The Financial Post.

"In this valley, as in thousands of others throughout the country, we have stripped off the natural cover. We have cut down the trees, drained the marshes and by other means almost completely eliminated what nature intended as a natural sponge to soak up surplus surface water. As a result when heavy rains fall or the winter snow melts swiftly there is only one thing the water can do, run away fast. That means trouble.

"In many of these valleys which cut through urban areas we have acted even more foolishly. We have done our best to block the wide natural runways with all sorts of structures.

"We have built bridges that are far too short and far too low. We have made extensive fills further blocking the valleys. Most thoughtless of all on flats adjacent to waterways, hence in the direct path of any flood, we have developed industrial and residential areas, instead of open parks. We have built thousands of houses and allowed people to risk their lives by living in them.

Pleasant Valley

The meteorologist handling all those isobars and isotherms certainly struck it warm didn't he? At time of writing it's a real warm day for the men to finish up their harvesting operations.

It's like Shelley said, "If winter comes, can spring be far behind"

We thought that you were lost Ken and Marg when we met on that lonely road north of Kitscoty. A long way from home weren't we?

The streets in Vermilion are certainly nice to walk and drive on and it's like going down Jasper with all the lights and neon signs.

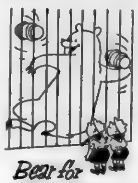
Fall Bull Sales — And The Cattle Improvement Policy

Several small bull sales will be held throughout the province this fall. W. H. T. Mead, Livestock Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture, urges farmers wishing to obtain the assistance offered by the Cattle Improvement Policy of the Department in purchasing a purebred bull to contact their District Agriculturist well in advance of the sale and make their application with him.

Bulls will be purchased at these sales only to fill orders on applications received prior to the sale. Selection of bulls purchased will rest entirely with the member of the Department who is doing the buying.



Bear for Punishment

ALASKA'S GIANT Kodiac bear plays rough. But the people who run the Bronx Zoo have found the perfect toy for him. It's an aluminum beer barrel, which in his playful moments he can bang, bounce and generally mistreat without serious damage. Having seen barrels (filled) being tossed around trucks, we can understand why breweries have turned to these rugged, attractive containers. Another reason, of course, is that aluminum is an excellent protector for food and drink, preserving their purity and flavour indefinitely. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Next Meeting To Take Place In Vermilion

St. Paul United Presbytery Of United Church Meets At Holden

The 6th meeting of the St. Paul United Presbytery was held at Holden recently, with approximately 50 ministers and delegates in attendance from the various charges of Bonnyville, Elk Point, Goodfish Lake, Irma, Lloydminster, Mannville, Paradise Valley, Holden-Ryley-Bruce, St. Paul, Vegreville, Vermilion, Viking, Vilna and Wainwright.

Mr. W. Adam of Elk Point was Chairman and Mr. O. Seward of Bonnyville was secretary.

The theme of the Presbytery was "Christ for all" and the several worship services all stressed this point. These were taken by Rev. D. W. MacPherson of Wainwright, Mr. W. Beckstead of Holden, Rev. I. Holter of Mannville, Rev. D. Davidson of Paradise Valley, and Rev. C. W. MacKay of Vermilion.

In his chairman's address Mr. W. Adams stated the Church had lost its influence on life. The first Christians were in vital touch with the living God. God is calling yet. He gives us power. We must become consecrated ourselves to save others.

Dr S. B. Parsons of Scarboro church Calgary, President of the Alberta Conference was the guest speaker at the public worship service. He gave a very inspiring address on "A Christ Who is Adequate". Jesus is the hope of the world. This our Jesus is adequate for life. His power is so great that nothing is impossible. Through Him mand and God are brought together. This is life eternal to know God and Jesus Christ whom He has sent.

Reflections from the General Council held in Eastern Canada last summer were also given by Dr. Parsons and Mr. Adam and others.

Evangelism and Social Service was introduced by Rev. B. Mather of Vegreville. Dr. Parsons made a great contribution to this. Evangelism is, he said, a hungry man who has found food, telling other hungry men where to find food. Jesus is the greatest evangelist that ever lived. We must catch the spirit of the cross and go out and witness for God. Dr. Parsons gave personal witness of how God has worked in his life and work.

Rev. Morrison of Lloydminster thrilled the congregation by his glowing account of the highlights of the World's Council of Churches at Evanston Ill., which he attended, going by plane. The theme of which was 'Christ the Hope of the World'. He stated it was a marvellous thing to see these delegates, representing 163 different churches and 54 nations, in a Festival of the Faith, all expressing themselves magnificently and clearly. The Christian witness was a stirring thing to see.

This talk was illustrated by colored film of delegates, chief speakers, buildings, settings etc., which greatly enhanced its value.

Rev. Dr. T. Hart, secretary of Home Missions, Edmonton, was present and gave valuable help and suggestions all through the sessions upon any difficult point that came up, in his inimitable way.

Among matters considered were: Home Missions by Rev. H. W. Inglis, Irma; Pastoral Relations by Rev. C. W. MacKay, Vermilion; Missionary and Maintenance Rev R. Taylor; Colleges and Students and St. Stephens College, Rev. D. Davidson, Paradise Valley; Christian Education, Rev O. Seward, Bonnyville; Camp, Rev. C. W. MacKay; Historical Report, Miss Ila Newton, Vilna.

Miss Newton suggested that a historical church pageant be staged some time next year.

The beautiful camp-site at Lake Whitney had had a very successful year. It was suggested a pavilion be built there and a large open-air service be held at Lake Whitney in the spring of 1955 to familiarize the St. Paul Presbytery members with this lovely spot.

The Lay Association of St. Paul Presbytery met in conjunction with the Presbytery.

Mr. E. W. Davies of Lloydminster was chairman and Mrs. M. E. Thorsley was secretary.

The School of Leadership at Naramata, B.C., was freely discussed. The Presbytery Lay Association offers a yearly scholarship to candidates wishing to attend this school for church leadership. Glowing reports were given of the Naramata School group that visited various points in St. Paul Presbytery last year, telling of their work and giving witness.

A motion was made re publications that the Lay Association recommend that the St. Paul Presbytery use United Church Publications in their Sunday schools.

It was suggested that church members be more friendly and heartily welcome newcomers to their midst.

On behalf of Holden, Mr. W. Beckstead heartily welcomed the Presbytery to their church and town. Mrs. Beckstead presided at the organ.

Delegates were billeted in the homes. The W. A. served morning coffee, afternoon tea, dinner and supper in the church dining room making the delegates feel right at home.

The next meeting will be held at Vermilion in February, 1955.

Double Plates For Cars In 1955

Alberta motorists will be issued two license plates for each vehicle next year instead of one as in this year, Hon Gordon E. Taylor, minister of highways, announced on Monday.

The return to two plates is a result of recommendatinons made during Premier Manning's conference on highway safety last May, Mr. Taylor said. Main object of the change is to assist police on highway patrols.

The province last had double plates in the 1953-54 licensing period when the government experimented with 'permanent plates'.

Mr. Taylor said approximately 225,000 pairs of plates have been ordered for cars and about 110,000 for trucks. Delivery is expected in January.

The plates will have gold figures on a black background in recognition of the province's 50th anniversary in September. Mr Taylor said there will be no anniversary slogan on the plates.

New Trespass Regulations Create Wide Interest

Under new amendments to the Game Act which take effect this year for the first time, the owners or occupants of privately-owned land who wish to benefit by the trespass will have to make sure they have signs up and the right kind of signs at that.

b Prominently placed (1) at each corner of the land, (2) at each gate giving access to the land;

c In black lettering on a white background bearing the word, NO SHOOTING.

Those familiar words 'No Hunting, No Trespassing, Keep Off, This Means You', and the like will do NO GOOD if a land owner wants to prosecute under Alberta's Game Act . . . and that is the only legislation he can appeal to as the Criminal Code of Canada states specifically that no actionable trespass takes place in the pursuit of game and fish provided the entrant does not commit Wilful and Malicious Damage.

"Hippodrome of '55" To Appear At Edmonton Concert Gardens

The big show is coming to Edmonton' Hippodrome of 1955, the only show of its kind in the world will present arena entertainment for the entire family at the Edmonton Concert Gardens for one whole week from Nov. 8 through Nov. 13th

One of the most unusual shows ever produced, Hippodrome is actually 3 shows in 1, carries a company of 150, including 7 lavish production numbers, beautiful girls on wheels, hilarious comedy, trapeze artists and a dog act ... a mammoth spectacle of beauty, novelty and splendor never before seen in this country. The choice of the word 'Hippodrome' for a title stems from the old New York City Hippodrome one time showplace of the greatest in theatre spectacles.

Harold Steinman, producer of Hippodrome of 1955, brings us the 13th edition of the internationally famous "Skating Vanities," an integral part of the show featuring a line of famous beautiful girls on roller skates and starring the petite Nancy Lee Parker. Miss Parker is renowned as one of the world's best all-around skaters both on ice and rollers. This charming redhead star joined producer Steinman former touring show of 'Skating Vanities' about three years ago as one of its featured skaters. Last season she was the skating hit of the debut of Hippodrome of 1954.

The beautifully costumed girls are outstanding in the Merry Widow production, one of the many lavish scenes. Fabulous old fashioned, hoop-skirted gowns bring back the nostalgic memories of the old days as the girls whirl and twirl to the strains of the Merry Widow Waltz. This fairy land ballroom scene is not only a masterpiece of elegance in costumes and color but the lovely Ziegfield-type girls and their handsome escorts dance on wheels with marvelous grace and ability.

Featured in Hippodrome of 1955 will be 'Dancing Waters' the magical waters that actually dance to a beautiful musical score, which thrilled local audiences during the Edmonton Exhibition last summer. 'Dancing Waters' has become the rave of Canada and the U.S. and will present entirely new and different routines with new lighting effects and new musical scores. These fantastic waters, operated lik an organ, force thousands of gallons of circulating water through more than 4080 jets to a controlled height of 20 to 30 feet in the air. With glorious multi-colored lighting accompanied by thrilling and exciting music, the 'Dancing Waters' present limitless formations, effects and combinations, from a 'fireworks display' to classical ballet scenes, with the waters actually dancing waltzes, tangos and swirling and swishing in modern intricate musical movements. As well as being a feature attraction of the Hippodrome show 'Dancing Waters' will be presented as a background for the various production numbers in their many moods.

Aside from 'Skating Vanities' and 'Dancing Waters' the show includes big time novelty acts from all parts of the universe. Included in the show are the 'Trio Olympiads', European human-statue artists; Dalton & Bailey, comedy-trapeze performers; The Renos Toy Boys, little mirth-makers who ... perch-stunting, balancing and dancing with uproarious comedy; Al Gordon and his dogs, an animal act that is packed full of dog-buffoonery; The Impressionaires with their delightful imitations of famous people; Tony and Caroline famous acrobatic-adagio skating team. All of this surrounded by the versatile chorus line of beautiful girls on wheels plus lavish scenery, massive properties, gorgeous costumes and 'Dancing Waters'.

The Edmonton Exhibition Association is proud to present Hippodrome of 1955, a 2 and one half hour show literally packed with entertainment to delight every type of audience from the youngest to the oldest. It is a good, clean, laughable show at a price everyone can afford to pay. Remember the date, Nov. 8 to 13, evening performances begin at 8:30 and there will be a matinee at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Less Immigration

A cautious approach to immigration is likely to be adopted in 1955, reports The Financial Post.

Employment forecasts are now being surveyed with the idea of reaching a tentative target. They suggest that the list of occupations for which immigrants will be needed next year will be a relatively limited one. The Immigration Department started out in 1954 with the object of bringing in at least as many immigrants as 1953's 168,000. The unemployment of the winter months led to a review of the target in May. The list of acceptable occupations was then curtailed, and it has been even further curtailed since.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Miss Evelyn Wood who has been employed at Lake Louise is visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood.

Mr. Jack Rogers who is stationed at Trenton, Ont., was in town to say Hello to his old friends and to do some hunting while visiting with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hallett on the birth of a son on Wednesday Oct. 20 in the Lloydminster hospital.

Glad to hear that two of our old timers Dick Smith and Charles Bennett who have been patients in the Lloydminster hospital for some time were able to return recently.

Mr. Hawkes Sr. is visiting with his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hawkes in town.

With the splendid weather of the past two weeks harvesting is nearing completion in the district. Quite a lot of stacking for feed is yet to be done. It is a welcome change from the past month or so when we al gave up hope of ever getting the harvesting done.

We regret to hear that Bob Hallett had to be taken to the Lloydminster hospital on Friday for treatment.

CHICKEN SUPPER

The W.A. of the United church held a special meeting in the church basement on Wednesday evening to make final arrangements for the chicken supper which will be held in the hall on Friday Oct. 29. Due to the fact that the McLaughlin chicken supper is the same date as the November meeting the date has been changed to Tuesday, Nov. 9.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOM

The United church Sunday school teachers wish to thank the mothers who came to the clean up bee held in the new Sunday school room. The place was well scrubbed but the ladies ran out of both energy and daylight before the ceiling was washed. However we have noticed that a kind fairy has been washing the ceiling on the instalment plan. Thanks Mr. Davidson. The building is not ready for winter use yet but it is hoped that the weatherman will co-operate and give us time to complete the job. The primary department of the Sunday school started to use the building last Sunday. The Sunday schools are very grateful to William McLean Sr. who gave us the building and we also wish to thank those who have donated labor and those who will be donating further labor. The organ and bible were given by the Oxville church and are very much appreciated. The bible was one which had been given to the Oxville church at Easter 1911 by Mrs. Wright who was an aunt of Mr. Ira S. McLeod, and also a sister of Mrs. Kenneth Gunn.

We wish to extend our sincere congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fair on their recent marriage which took place in the Gospel hall on Saturday, Oct. 23. The reception was held in the Prince Charles hotel at Lloydminster.

LOCAL MAN IN RESPONSIBLE POSITION

The Edmonton Journal of the 16th carried a photo of Elmer H. Beckett at the CFRN-TV control console. He is a member of the engineering department of the new station. He spent five years from 1946 to 1952 with the R.C.A.F. as a radio operator. Born in Paradise Valley Mr Beckett joined the RCN as Ordinary Seaman during the second great war and at the close of hostilities transferred to the R.C.A.F. His duties will include maintenance as well as operation of the equipment.

Rotary snow plow attachment is said to be capable of shoveling 3 to 4 tons of snow into a truck a minute, reports The Financial Post. The curved chute can be rotated through 180 degrees which makes it possible to load the truck from either side, or from dead ahead. Can be mounted on a four-wheel drive jeep or almost any wheel-type front-end loader.

You're the lady . . . the lucky, modern lady . . . who can touch a control on a modern gas appliance and have instant flame, smoothly and quietly. But if it weren't for the roughneck working on a drilling rig, turning on a gas appliance would be as futile as striking a burned-out match.

Experts at their jobs, the roughnecks probe with their drills beneath the earth's surface. Their work requires skill and strength. Through their efforts, new wells are brought in to assure you of a constant source of natural gas — the world's finest all-purpose fuel.

With the turn of a knob, economical, efficient natural gas is at your command, Lucky Lady. But back of each turn of the knob are the many turns of the roughnecks' drill stems.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather has been grand for harvesting, most of the farmers have finished. By the end of the month most of the work should be completed.

Cpl. Paul Whelan from Primrose Lake spent the week end of the 16th at the Ouimet home with his family Orlene and daughter Paulette. He accompanied David Williamson back on the 17th where David is employed as a carpenter.

Our congratulations to Mrs. R. R. Elliott of Ontario for winning such a high standing in her painting. What a thrilling experience it must have been for her. Back in the good old school days Kathleen was a very efficient teacher at Moreton. Her brother Eddie also attended Moreton that year.

It was a grand day for Queenie Creek Ranch Hereford sale on the 22nd at the Campbell home. It was very interesting for a number of us who had never attended a large stock sale before. The Clandonald W.A. ladies are to be congratulated on their delicious dinner and the lunches. I'm sure they appreciated the kindness and help given by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and daughters.

Mr and Mrs. Norman Walling from the city attended the purebred stock sale and met many of their old friends.

Mr and Mrs. Tommy Greaves and family Brenda and Brian from the city were home over the week end. Since they were last home the family were on holidays, to Great Falls, Montana, Banff and Lake Louise.

Uncle Wilmer and Aunt Maud Hogeboam and the Hicks' twins of Derwent, were also visitors at the Baldocks last Sunday.

There was church in Clandonald on Oct 24th conducted by Rev. McKay and led in prayer by Mr. Schurman. Perhaps after the busy time is over more can attend. Next service will be in two weeks, Nov. 7th at 3 p.m.

Mr. Frank Williamson from the city has been holidaying in town and districts, visiting his family and other relatives.

Our deepest sympathy to the Serink family on the loss of their little daughter Leanna. When we reach the heavenly garden and see her in full bloom, the flower we loved so dearly and thought God plucked too soon; Oh, then we will know the reason, though we know it not today, why in her fragrant beauty, God took our flower away.

Health Unit Notes

WHAT IS MENTAL HEALTH?

Mental health is so closely linked with how we think, feel and do that it would be unwise, if not impossible, to tie it down to a simple definition. There is, however, one quality common to people who enjoy good mental health — emotional security.

Such persons are useful members of society, reasonably happy and well adjusted, who get along with their families, friends, schoolmates and business associates. They have their share of the 'blues', get into quarrels and once in a while lose their tempers, but they have learned to take the ups and downs, the annoyances of everyday living with a minimum of damage to themselves and others. As you'd expect, these people are able to meet life's serious crises successfully.

Fortunately, mental health isn't a case of "either you have it or you haven't". Just as physical health can be improved, or become run down, so to with mental health: that is the encouraging thing about it and the one which seems to be the most misunderstood. A weak or sickly individual can build better physical health and similarly most of us can do something about strengthening our own and our children's mental health.

A WAY OF LIFE

Mental health isn't something that is separate from the rest of us, to be strenghened with a 'set of exercises or a 'course of treatment'. It's interlocked with our physical health, social life, church affiliation, family relationship, work and play and community participation.

In short, good mental health might be described as something we have or can develop from balanced living.

Overwork, not enough recreation, selfish living — these won't necessarily make us mentally ill but they can lower our mental health. Regular, adequate meals, eight hours of sleep, fresh air and exercise is time-tried advice for general health. It applies to mental health, too! Family life, the church and social activities should play their important roles, each in reasonable proportion.

In this way we can keep emotional equilibrium — respect for ourselves and others, self-control, tolerance of the other person's views, ability to give as well as to take, making decisions and accepting responsibilities, facing up to problems and meeting success and failure with equally good grace — ability to 'get along'.

ESPECIALLY FOR OUR CHILDREN

Good mental health has been described as a family matter, flourishing in happy home life. How a child is brought up, the kind of family spirit about him — this is what mainly decides the kind of adult he will become.

The things that are so vital to sound mental health in children are basically simple, love and affection, praise and encouragement, a feeling of security in the home, a chance to really grow without being smothered by too much love and too many 'don'ts.'

Wise parents today realize more and more that children need a healthy emotional background just as much as good food and clothing and education. If you wish more detailed information about this, there are many helpful publications available free through your provincial health departments or local health units.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Pass up that extra potato dumpling and piece of pie if you want to stay awake driving at night. And don't count on coffee to keep you awake because, while it may stimulate you for a short time, your physical return to normal is much quicker than is ordinarily thought.

The best way to stay out of trouble is to avoid driving when you feel sleepy — but if you must drive in spite of a tendency to drowsiness, follow these rules.

2 Go easy on stimulants. Drugs help keep you awake but they also slow reaction time. If you really need a short lift, try a whiff of smelling salts, good for about 15 minutes.

3 Keep the car well ventilated, even at the expense of slight discomfort due to the weather.

4 Adjust the car seat carefully. There is more danger of dozing from fatigue caused by a bad seat than there is of being lulled to slumber by a good one.

6 On a long trip drive 55 minutes, exercise 5 minutes.

7 Don't crowd your endurance. Few trips are so important that you must risk your life, and someone else's.

Saving money... and writing cheques

A bank offers you two types of deposit account, Savings and Current.

If your main purpose is to save, to accumulate funds, it's good to have a Savings account.

If you write cheques frequently, you will like the many advantages of a Current account.

The money you leave in a Savings account earns interest, and your bank book gives you an up-to-date, continuing record of your financial progress. If your funds are active, with frequent deposits and withdrawals, a Current account provides a special service; a monthly statement, together with your cancelled cheques—useful as receipts and a ready reference for budgeting, bookkeeping and other purposes.

Longevity Worthy Goal, Says Montreal Doctor.

The longer period of education and preparation for life merits a long life in which to exercise the fruits of education says Dr Harold N. Segall, F.A.C.P. in the current issue of Health magazine. "For this," he adds, "no healthy life can be too long"

Dr. Segall's article is entitled "The Later Years of Life". The magazine is published by the Health League of Canada the national voluntary association in the preventive medicine field.

Dr Segall takes issue with classical and contemporary philosophers and authorities who class old people as nuisances and longevity as a foolish and greedy aspiration.

"My optimism," says Dr Segall, "causes me to think that during old age not greed but wisdom and goodness will prevail. If the majority of the older people would be allowed the vigor afforded by Plato and Isocrates in ancient times, by Toscanini, Churchill and Einstein in these times, then the wise elders of the population will be both numerous and vigorous and may succeed in leading mankind to realize its hopes for peace and good will."

"In 1885 the average duration of life predictable at birth was about 38. Today it is almost 70. Science has lengthened the average span of life through public health measures by preventing premature death of the very young and the young. Its present task is to extend to the majority of old people health which comes naturally to relatively few in the seventh to the tenth decades of life. The achievements of science in the past five or six decades justifies the view that in a similar space of time in the immediate future the medical, the economic and the social problems of the people who live beyond 70 will be solved to a large degree", Dr Segall said.

Dr Segall adds however that "our present social organization is inadequately prepared to make the later years of a life of 70 or 80 as satisfactory as they might be for the individual and his community."

A turkey will be the chief prize but there are also nine other prizes. The turkey will be a big one suitable for Christmas dinner for the family and all the relatives.

The chicken supper is Nov. 10th beginning at 6 p.m. Hope to see you.

On Sunday Mrs. Olds got a surprise when his sister and husband from Rosetown drove in — needless to say it was a great visit for the one day.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Fenton from Victoria, B.C., arrived by car and house trailer to visit Mrs. Fenton's brother, Harry Young and Mrs. Young and Eddie's brothers, and sister Mrs John Marie.

Mr and Mrs Bothwell had dinner with Misses Gladys and Muriel Stone on Thursday. In the afternoon in came Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Stewart (nee Kathleen Gordon). Mrs Gordon had recently returned from the north, over the Hope highway. We had a lovely visit. Mrs Gordon is now visiting Mr and Mrs Bothwell.

We were pleased to hear Joe Belton's name over 'Neighborly News' on Sunday.

Needing someone to spade your flower garden or your kitchen vegetable garden? Just ask Jackie Trahey, he can turn the ground over just right, surely did a fine piece of work in our little back garden. We missed him last Saturday though, but the reason was he and Jimmie Shaw were helping to bale straw. If a bundle landed and the string was not tied they had to hurry and tie it before it spread. The makings of a couple of good farmers!

Another trio of boys is Jerry and Jimmie Marie, and Donnie Schaeffer. I believe they could manage the farm and John could have a holiday. Eh Boys?

Provincial Liberals To Meet Nov. 9-10

Liberals from all parts of Alberta will meet in convention on Nov. 9 and 10 in Edmonton at the Macdonald hotel.

Chief business during the sessions will be discussion and revision of platform and policy in the provincial field. With this in mind, Liberal Leader J Harper Prowse has been holding regional meetings throughout the province during the past few months at which constituency officials of the party have been presenting their views. Out of these meetings will come some of the resolutions to be presented to the delegates by resolutions committee chairman, Andre Dechene of Edmonton.

Guest speaker at the banquet to be held at the Macdonald on the evening of Nov 9 will be Mr. D. K. MacTavish of Ottawa, president of the National Liberal Federation.

The Hon Geo. Prudham, Alberta's cabinet minister and member of parliament for Edmonton West, will also address the gathering.

W. J Edgar, Innisfail, president of the Alberta Liberal Assoc. expects that there will be around 300 delegates in attendance. 1819

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

Province To Make Seed Survey

EDMONTON — With Alberta farmers taking every advantage of Indian Summer weather of the past few weeks, agriculture officials, feeling the busy farmer would have little time for paper work, estimated the survey of seed and feed grain problems will not be known until about the end of November.

While the warm, sunny days have helped to improve the situation immeasurably compared to the bleak prospect when the survey was launched early this month, it is expected that some areas will require help to fulfill next year's seed needs.

Last week's crop report from the provincial department of agriculture said the yields looked satisfactory in view of the conditions of the crop at the time killing frosts occurred. In some cases, it added, farmers are coming out better than they expected when estimates were made about the middle of September.

WHEAT GRADES

Wheat grades in southern Alberta are expected to average No. 2 and 3 Northern. There is a little No. 3 in the Peace River district, according to the department, but in most other areas wheat is expected to fall into grades 5 and 6. In northern parts of the Peace River district much oats and barley are expected to rate CW grades and in districts east of Lethbridge it will grade above feed. In other areas, the crop report said, oats and barley will be classed as 1 and 2 feed with some 3 feed.

As to harvesting operations, the Peace River and southern districts reported better progress than such areas as Olds, Stettler, Lacombe, Ponoka, Edmonton, Westlock, Bonnyville and Smoky Lake. Many fields of late oats and barley will not be threshed this year, the agriculture department predicted.

QUESTIONNAIRES

The survey, being made by questionnaires prepared by the agriculture department and distributed by municipal districts and district agriculturists is the result of representations to the government.

It has been several years since assistance of the type probably to be given in this case was necessary on such a large scale.

Indications are that the needs will be mostly in the area between Red Deer and Athabasca and those fringe areas of subsistence farming where resources are more meagre. It is expected that the major needs will be for seed oats.

Agricultural officials believe there are plentiful supplies and importation from outside the province is not expected to be necessary.

Once the survey is completed and assessed, further meetings between the government and farm organizations are expected to be held, following which a course of action will be decided. If it is the supplying of seed and feed, it will be a matter of locating stocks, then placing them in the areas of need.

LOANS ON STORED GRAIN

At the time of announcing the survey, Premier Manning also stated the government would support the Alberta Federation of Agriculture in asking the federal government for loans on farm-stored grain and a further payment on grain delivered during the last crop year. A letter of support has been sent to Ottawa from the Alberta government by Agriculture Minister Hahnrast.

Feeling of the federation was that without cash or credit, the farmers would be hard put to meet living and harvesting costs and might turn to selling grain which should be kept for seed or feed and marketing unfinished livestock for little or no profit.

Premier Manning, when he announced plans for the survey, suggested that farmers are facing an 'immediate problem' caused by poor weather conditions but at the same time the province's agricultural economy remains stable and sound.

Who Can Save The Top Soil?

The human race depends for its existence on the few inches of top soil covering only a small portion of the earth's surface.

That top soil is exposed to many destructive forces. Fire destroys it, floods wash it down to sea, winds scatter it over thousands of miles of ocean, bad farming practice turns it into drifting deserts, and short sighted legislators are always ready to authorize its expropriation for almost any purpose other than the prime purpose for which it was [illegible].

It took nature millions of years to create that soil. At the present rate of destruction there will be little of it left in another hundred years.

It can be saved only by a strong body of public opinion with a clear understanding of the importance of the problem and a resolute purpose to put a stop to the destruction.

The right to expropriate agricultural land for other than agricultural purposes should be definitely curtailed.

Selling of farm lands at high cash prices, for industrial purposes, is a shortsighted policy and should be discouraged, and good husbandry should be one of the conditions on which land can be held.

WILDMERE WINKS

The writer wishes to [illegible] an apology to Mrs. Wilson as in the W.W.I. notes we forgot to say the meeting closed with a delicious pot luck lunch which was enjoyed by everyone. We don't know how April got in instead of October, but hope this will clear it up. Don't forget the W.W.I. sale this Saturday Oct. 30 at the Food Lockers.

What a crowd there was in Stephens' store on Saturday and what delicious cake and coffee was served. We are sure those in the receiving line and [illegible] must have been tired when closing time came. It was doubly hard to keep up a brave front when sorrow had just come to the Stephens' family on Friday, losing a loving daughter and sister-in-law [illegible] Harry N. Stephens [illegible]. May [illegible] comfort them in their hour of bereavement. We congratulate the firm of Stephens Ltd. and hope they continue to prosper and make as good progress in the next fifty years as in the past fifty.

Mr. H. N. Stephens must have had great faith in Vermilion when he and his helpers worked so hard to establish a store here. It was nice Dr. Miller was able to spend a short time in the store on Saturday. He too, could tell you a lot of the struggle and hardships of getting that first cargo of goods to Vermilion. Thanks Stephens, for the nice birthday cake and coffee, served with a smile and a kind word.

Mr and Mrs Chas. Moore and Mr. Lumsden of Deer Lake district visited the writer and family on Sunday. A nice visit was enjoyed. They were greatly taken up with the lake. Come again folks, don't wait so long next time.

We forgot to say that a couple of weeks ago the Wallingtons, Laurence and Kenny Graham had a nice afternoon at the George Taylor home in King Edward district. Saw all the laying hens George has and he will be supplying eggs to the hatcheries next year. Good luck in your new venture Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

On Saturday a nice chat with Mrs. Alf Logan was enjoyed and she told us that Mr. and Mrs. Logan Sr. now live in Calgary and had been at the coast last summer. They saw a lot of old friends including Mr and Mrs. Guilfoyle and Mr. and Mrs. Pare.

'Anyone lost a gold earring? The writer has it, picked up near the Brunswick hotel.

V.H.S. Choose Leaders; Year Already Proving One of Action

On Sept. 18 after a great deal of secrecy and excitement the students of the Vermilion High School chose their executive leaders for the 1954-55 year. The results posted were:

President—Bob Hemmingway
Treasurer — Sue Carmichael
Secretary — Dan Leverredge
Points Sec.—Pat Bentley
Social Convener — Karen Acheson
Girls Sports Rep.—Erva Sweet
Boys' Sports Rep.—Ed Frissell
Reporter — Duncan Locke

INITIATION STARTS ACTIVITIES

The first event that V.H.S. undertook in the 1954-55 school term was the initiation of the Grade 10's and all other newcomers to the high school.

The boys wore long underwear, two different shoes, earrings, an old hat, a tie but no shirt, and nail polish. The girls wore men's underwear, an above the knee dress, a flour sack over the dress, men's boots, stockings and garters, no make-up except a large X on one cheek and an O on the other, pin curls in their hair and a stocking for a hat.

The Grade VII initiates joined them in a snake dance which toured the main streets of Vermilion, stopped traffic and visited several stores.

Those who failed to wear their costumes or obey the commands of Grade XI and XII students were brought before the initiation court. The convicted served such sentences as washing windows, doing hula dances, reading Shakespeare on the main street corners etc.

Anglican Club Hears Interesting Talks

Members of St. Saviour's Men's Club have been treated to two very interesting talks at the two supper meetings held to date this fall.

On the first occasion, Mr. R. J. Cash, a member of the Junior high school staff recently arrived from England, told of "Toc-H" clubs. He dealt with the history of this interesting organization, its unique origin, and the activities carried on. The subject matter was entirely new to the majority of his audience, told in a cheery manner the story proved an entrancing one.

The menu for the occasion was beefsteak and kidney pie, the supper committee providing very excellent service.

SECOND MEETING

The second meeting held Monday, Nov. 1st was attended by 31 men of the Parish. They watched the supper committee of Convener Denis Hanlan, Alex Pallin, Mitchell Taylor and Alf Kaiser broil 31 top brand T-bone steaks and make great piles of French fries. The chefs did an excellent job, which was duplicated by the men present. "What a meal" murmured more than one, as he finished off the last of the T-bone, which earlier had covered his entire dinner plate.

Following a short business session a simple explanation of the workings of the new gas turbine, installed by Canadian Utilities in their Vermilion plant, was given by Mr Jack Kneale, superintendent of the plant. This talk was illustrated by blackboard diagrams. The address brought forth a multitude of questions, all ably answered by the speaker. At the conclusion all were invited to the power plant where the new gas turbine was seen in action.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, Dec. 13th. Jim Robson is the supper committee convener.

Military Ball Postponed

The Military Ball announced for Nov. 5 has been postponed owing to circumstances beyond the control of 'A' Coy or the Citizens committee. A further announcement will be made shortly.

To Open Beauty Parlor in Fairview

Miss Edna Allen is leaving Vermilion to move to Fairview where she will conduct her own hair dressing business. She has been a beauty operator in the Beauty Nook since coming to Vermilion some 2 years ago.

Following the morning service at St. Saviour's Anglican church, the choir, of which she has been a member presented Edna with a farewell gift.

Sudden Death Of Arthur C. Matney At Kitscoty

Arthur Calvin Matney, aged 38 years, died suddenly at his home at Kitscoty on Saturday Oct. 30. He had been in his usual normal health and his sudden passing was a great shock to family and friends.

He is survived by his wife, one son Daniel, his mother Mrs. I. Matney, two brothers Everett at Cherry Grove, Alberta and Emery at Mannville. There are three sisters, Mrs. W. Sargent, Mannville; Mrs. H. McMartin, Grand Centre; Mrs. S. O'Connor, Kitscoty.

The deceased lived formerly in Mannville coming to Vermilion where he stayed for three years, working at the garage of Rowe & Sons Ltd. Two years ago he moved to Kitscoty, being employed at the Kitscoty garage.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Nov. 3 at 2:00 o'clock at the Mannville United church, and interment took place in the Mannville cemetery. The Rev. Holter officiated.

Moyers were in charge of the arrangements.

Rev. Douglas Ford Accepts Appointment To Calgary Parish

The Rev. D. A. Ford, Rector of St. Saviour's, Vermilion, for just over two years, has accepted an appointment to the Parish of St. Michael and All Angels in the city of Calgary. The move is effective in January.

While his parishioners of St. Saviour's are very ,very sorry to see him go they do rejoice that his ability and sincerity have been recognized by his appointment to a large city church.

It became apparent during his first year of incumbency in Vermilion that the local parish would not be able to stand the competition and that Mr. Ford was not destined to stay here long. He declined calls to Red Deer, Vernon and Vancouver at various times. Since October 17th he had been offered the parish of St. Paul's, Edmonton; St. Michael and All Angels, Calgary; and St. Matthews, a very large parish in the city of Winnipeg. In announcing his resignation the popular pastor stated that of the three he had chosen the middle road, and would go to Calgary, a city with which he is quite familiar.

Anglicans in particular and townspeople generally, regret the forthcoming departure of Rev. and Mrs. Ford and the three children, but all feel that it was nice to have had them in Vermilion, and offer their congratulations on the move to a larger and more populous parish.

Louis Roy To Open New Bank Branch At Fairview

Louis Roy, for the past three years the popular and efficient assistant manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, has been transferred to Fairview in the Peace River country where he will open and manage a new branch of the Commerce. Not only will it be a new branch but it will be in a new building, as the structure is just reaching completion.

Mr. Roy's successor here will be Mr. S. C. Logan, presently assistant accountant at the Eight Avenue W. Calgary branch of the Commerce. Mr. Logan will commence duties here on Monday.

Anglican Men Attend Diocesan Meeting Held At Waiwright

A newly organized group, the Anglican Laymen's Association of the diocese held their second meeting at Wainwright on Monday evening with 53 men in attendance and 12 parishes represented. This is the only organization of its kind on a diocesan and was formed to further interest the men more deeply in the work of the church. The experiment is proving worthwhile and the meeting was outstandingly successful.

The parishes represented were Wainwright, Vermilion, Edgerton, Tofield, Clandonald, Frog Lake, Irwinville Edmonton, Irma, Heath, Viking and Mannville.

The meeting was privileged and inspired by the presence of Bishop Clarke of Edmonton. During the course of the evening he was appealed to many times for advice and guidance.

Presiding at the meeting was the president of the association, Jas. R. Robson of Vermilion and the secretary E. A. Stockwell of Clandonald.

Possibly the most important portion of the meeting was that devoted to reports of activities of the various parishes. It was most heartening to hear of small parishes with few families doing remarkable work and evincing lasting and growing interest by renovating churches and rectories. This was perhaps most greatly exemplified at Mannville where, even though they are without a resident rector the people show their faith in the church by going to the expense of installing water and sewer facilities in the rectory now that these conveniences are available in the village. The same story was told all over the down parishes, indicating a decided revival of interest in the work of the church and a great desire to see the church flourish and continue in its rightful place in the leadership of the community.

It was truly inspiring to hear representatives of the different parishes rise to their feet and take a keen delight and pride in telling just what each group had accomplished to further the work of God.

Bishop Clarke spoke briefly, and was followed by Canon Teape of Edmonton who told of the plans for the Every Person Canvass. This canvass was a "must" in every parish and he hoped that it would be carried out to the best of everyone's ability. The canvass is not alone an appeal for funds but entails a visitation by churchmen and women to all persons of Anglican persuasion in every parish if carried out as intended.

The Vermilion group of fourteen men were particularly pleased to see and hear Canon Teape once again and to note that their former pastor has not in the least lost any of his eloquence or energy.

Entertaining items on the program included vocal numbers by the Vermilion quartet of Tom Watts, Fred Stewart, Wm. Fooks and Rev. Douglas Ford; a reading by W. Laird of Wainwright; solo by Mr J. C. Ford of Wainwright and a duet by Mr J. C. Ford and Dr Bradley of Wainwright.

Election of officers followed with Mr James Robson being returned as president; Mr Oliver Griffith of Wainwright, vice-president; Mr Eddie A. Stockwell of Clandonald, secretary-treasurer; executive members Mr. Riom, Tofield; Mr J. Robinson, Viking; Mr. Byrt, Kitscoty; Mr Lugg, Mannville; Mr Whitnell, Edgerton.

The next meeting will be held at Viking on Monday, April 18.

The hosts who were the men of the Wainwright parish ... announced refreshments. These proved to be a full course supper served buffet style, and far beyond any expectations of the visitors. Much was accomplished by the acquaintances renewed and made with interchange of experiences and results of activity.

Remembrance Day Activities Planned by Legion

Poppy Day November 6th; Armistice Day November 11th

On Saturday, Nov. 6 people from town and country will have a chance to donate to the Legion Poppy fund. Funds are used for one purpose only to relieve distress among veterans of both the World wars. Please be generous folks.

The annual Armistice service is called for 11 a.m. Nov. 11. The parade at cenotaph will take place just before the service. All citizens as well as returned soldiers are asked to turn out to honor men and women who served their country.

After the service on Nov. 11 all veterans whether they are Legion members or not are invited to an entertainment in the Memorial hall. Veterans' wives and members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion are also invited. There will be entertainment and a buffet luncheon.

The annual dance will be held on Nov. 10. The regular meeting is called for Nov. 8 at 8:30 p.m.

LLOYD. LADY WINS $1000 BOND

For the second successive time the big prize at bingos held in the curling rink have gone to winners in Lloydminster. On Saturday night Mrs. W. Hird won the $1000.00 bond at the Elks bingo. Two weeks previously Mrs Larson had taken home the new Meteor car at the curling club bingo.

The crowd was small at the Bond bingo, just why no one knows. It might have been that it takes a car as the grand prize to attract, although the $1000 bond was mighty acceptable. Being Hallowe'en might have kept the crowd at home, but whatever the reason just a few more than 500 attended and the gross take failed to cover the expenses.

Besides the big prize going to Lloydminster for two times in a row, the other outstanding fact about Saturday's bingo was that three of the 12 prizes were won by members of the same family, games 7, 9 and 11 went to Mrs. Andy Jacula, Mr. Nick Jacula and Pete Jacula.

The complete list of prize winners is as follows: 1. Steam Iron, Jim Miller, Vermilion. 2. Electric Razor, Harry Mazepa, Vermilion. 3. Vacuum Cleaner, Mick Mulgrew, Clandonald. 4. Movie Camera, Wayne McDonnell, Clandonald. 5. Hudson's Bay Blankets, Mrs. Herb Bobroske, Vermilion. 6. Dinner Set, Mrs. Bill Simmonds, Vermilion. 7. 30-06 Rifle, Mrs. Andy Jacula, Vermilion. 8. Suit of Clothes or Coat, value $5?.00, Bill Wynnyrhuk, Vermilion. 9. Binoculars, Nick Jacula, Vermilion. 10. Waffle and Sandwich Toaster, Walter Bezushko, Rusylvia. 11. Clock Chime, Peter Jacula, Vermilion. 12. $1000.00 Bond, Mrs. W. Hird, Lloydminster.

Variety Of Matters Before Town Council

The regular meeting of the town council was held Oct. 18 with Mayor S. C. Heckbert and Crs. M. Hill, D. R. Mitchell, H. J. Payne, G. W. Sutherland, K. G. Urquhart, Geo. C. Webb present.

Correspondence: Vermilion Boy Scouts Group Committee re appeal for funds. Mike Kupin, application for business permit; Carl Smith cancellation of sales agreement.

The following motions carried:

That the Town of Vermilion endorse the application of Mike Kupin to open a retail business.

That Geo. Webb be appointed as Deputy Mayor for Nov. and Dec.

That W. H. Boulton be sold Lot 3, Blk. 12, Plan 5766AY for $500 subject to the usual sales agreement.

That E. M. Callaghan be granted permission to move a private garage on Lot 13, Blk. 15, Plan 6647S.

That Milton Lee be permitted to alter construction on house on Lot 11, Blk. 26; that Nick Klashinsky be permitted to build garage on Lot 4, Blk. 1?; that W. H. Boulton be permitted to build a residence on Lot 3, Blk. 12, 5766AY.

Moved that by-law 751 be read a 1st, 2nd and 3rd time and finally passed appointing Herbert Johnston as Returning Officer for a vote on a money by-law to be held on Nov. 5.

Moved and seconded that Tom Davis be appointed as enumerator to compile the voting list for 1955.

Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction

Truth is stranger than fiction is the claim, and this was borne out recently by a party of Vermilion hunters. The group comprised of Gordon Rose, Carman Lang, E. M. Stewart and Claude Brennan went south to the Veteran country a year ago on a goose hunt. They bagged some birds and among them was a goose with a band on its leg. This year the same party of hunters was in the same spot, bagged another banded goose and this is where the coincidence comes in: the two geese were banded the same day at Two Buttes, Colorado by the same men, Crawford and Nolting. They were shot by the same party of hunters in the same section of the country within a half mile of each other but a year apart. The birds were banded on Jan. 28, 1952. The goose shot in 1953 wore band number 498-73429 and that in 1954, 498-73416.

New Grocery Business Makes Bow To Public

The opening of a new grocery business is being announced in this week's issue of the Standard. It is being operated by Mrs. Mike Kupin and will be known as "Kupin's Grocery". The location is in the Kupin building on Main street right next door to Mike's Shoe Repair. See advertisement in this issue for particulars.

Plebiscite Friday

Poll for the plebiscite on Friday, November 5th will be in the Elks hall between the hours of 10 o'clock in the morning and 7 o'clock that evening.

On the ballot appears a summary of the bylaw, followed by the printed words "For the By-Law" and under that "Against the By-Law."

Voters must all use an X to indicate their choice. Do NOT write Yes or No — just use an X opposite your choice.

Curlers Announce Third Car Bingo

Calling all Bingo fans. The Vermilion Curling club and the Kinsmen Club of Vermilion are holding a joint car bingo in the curling rink on Saturday Nov. 13 starting at 9:15 p.m. sharp. The grand prize will be a 1954 model Ford 4-door Mainline purchased from the local agents Oilfield Motors.

This will probably be the last bingo held in the curling rink this fall as ice-making preparations will be due to start almost at once.

Extra heating facilities will be installed in the rink for this occasion so that no matter what the temperature outside everyone attending will be cosy and warm.

In addition of course to the Ford car there will be 11 other valuable prizes. See the large display advertisement for full particulars.

Fatal Farm Accident At McLaughlin

Evan Eggan, 56 years old, a farmer of the McLaughlin district about 28 miles south-west of Lloydminster died from a fractured skull and hemorrhage after his head was caught in a baler machine on his farm.

He was working on the machine with his son, Ivan, when the accident occurred. Eggan was rushed to Lloydminster hospital but died shortly after being admitted. The R.C.M.P. investigated and report no inquest will be held.

Entire Flocks Of Chickens Fall Prey To Thieves

Entire flocks of chickens are falling prey to thieves who raid the hen houses and make off with the roosters and hens. Steve Krushinsky in the district south-east of Vermilion just a short distance, reports that he lost 50 chickens in recent night raids. Other neighbors have suffered similar losses. The thieves are adept at their nefarious trade and get away without arousing any suspicion from nearby farm houses.

Mrs. J. Gardiner, One of Mannville's Oldest Old Timers, Made Hon. President

MANNVILLE. This year's Mannville Old Timers' Round Up was one of the best held in many years. The banquet wanted so long by many of the old timers was made possible when the ladies of the L.O.B.A. consented to cater for it. Approximately 225 men and women of the Old Timers Association enjoyed the lovely chicken dinner served by the L.O.B.A. About 204 places were set and then when the bus load of more than 20 arrived from Edmonton the ladies had a hot dinner on the table for them as soon as they were ready to sit down.

Mr. A. F. Williams, President of the Association, acted as chairman for the evening. He called upon Mr. W. N. Crooks, Past President, to propose a toast to the Old Timers to which Mr. Geo. Bennett replied. Community singing led by Jim Johnstone with Mrs. R. Lugg at the piano filled in while the Edmonton folks were finishing their dinner.

Mr. W. McInnes proposed a toast to the ladies to which Mrs. Stephenson Sr. replied.

Minutes of the last Round Up were read by the secretary Miss Kay Sutton and regular business attended to. Mr. Crooks then took over for the election of officers for the coming year which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. R. Scott; Vice-Pres., Jack Chrysler; Sec.-Treas., Miss K. Sutton; three new executive members to replace those retiring this year: Miss Roberta Cain, Mr. Ernest Prill, Mr. Garney Mazeau. On a motion by Mr. H. Thomas, Mrs. Jas. Gardiner who made all visitors welcome in the old days just as she still does today was made Honorary President. This office has not been filled for a number of years, not since it was held by the late Mr. A. Boe.

Mr. R. Scott moved a vote of thanks to the Past President and executive for their work during the year. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the ladies of the L.O.B.A. by Mr. Crooks and Mr. Williams for the very lovely and bountiful banquet.

The business part of the meeting was interspersed with entertainment by the following: Duet by Mrs. MacKinnon and Mrs. Rose, violin solo by Mr. Elliott accompanied by Mrs. Elliott, solos by Mr. Jim Johnstone, Mrs. R. Lugg and Mr. Gilpin, a skit 'Mock Wedding' by the Happy Hour group.

After the hall was cleared dancing was enjoyed to the music of Kreller's orchestra. Several novelty dances added to the fun. Jim McLuckie as floor manager kept things rolling smoothly. At midnight a lovely lunch was served by the lunch committee of the Old Timers Association. Mrs. Jack Shaw, President of the 'Merry Mannvillites' of Edmonton, and Mr. L. Colborn also of the Mannville club were called upon for a few words. Both expressed appreciation of the banquet and of meeting all the old timers again. It always seems like 'coming home' when they return to Mannville for these affairs. Both Mrs. Shaw and Mr. Colborn extended a welcome to any wishing to attend the Merry Mannvillites next party which will be held on Saturday Nov. 27 in the Cloverdale hall, Edmonton. They hoped that a bus load from here would attend.

Among the visitors from out of town at the banquet and dance were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams from Fort Assiniboine; Mr. Dunc McNeill from Ontario; Mr. Gilpin from Viking; Mr. and Mrs. J. Christenson of Camrose; Mr. and Mrs. Jans of New Norway; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. L. Colborn, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Symington, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cundal, Mrs. Gilbert Majeau, Mr. and Mrs. A. Barnes, Mrs. J. A. Morgan, Mrs. F. Majeau, Miss L. McEachern, Mr. Chas. Reeves, Mr. A. L. Shank, Mrs. Astrid Bray, Mrs. E. Barlow, Mrs. M. Gilbert, Mrs. Emma Chrysler, Miss R. Symington and friend all from Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Bodard of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Evans of Oyen, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Williams of Vermilion, Mrs. Le Bourdais...

A Dangerous Trick

The most senseless act this Hallowe'en was perpetrated by some thoughtless (if they could think at all) adults who dropped fresh moth balls into the bags of treats carried by some little kiddies. The children naturally thought that their take for the evening was being added to and thanked the generous donors and went on their happy way. Moth balls contain certain ingredients which if not actually poisonous could be very sickening. It just might be that people doing such a mean trick lay themselves open to charges. Fortunately the hoax was discovered before any of the little tots put them into their mouths and before the odor from the moth balls spoiled the whole bags of treats.

WEAR A POPPY —

It is a far cry from the day when our men engaged in bloody battles on the poppy strewn fields of Flanders in gallant and successful efforts to maintain our democratic way of life. But their sacrifice still strong in the memories of many, is typical of the sacrifice that has been made since human life began by those who are called upon to protect their beloved homeland from encroachment.

The process was again repeated in the second world war, and while the tools of war had changed greatly the spirit which motivated the fine young men and women who took up the challenge remained the same, their willingness to sacrifice. Their courage and their fidelity to duty differed not one whit whether they soaked in muddy trenches or fought in highly mobile motorized equipment — whether they flew through the air in the primitive crates of 1914-18, or the streamlined monsters of the later age.

Appropriately however someone chose the red Flanders poppy as the emblem for the sacrifice they made in our behalf, both the sacrifice of [illegible] of [illegible] bodies and damaged lives. As we look backward, the glamour of battle seems to have some tendency to [illegible] its hideous reality and to make it seem much more tolerable than it was. Then, while we do not altogether forget, we are apt to minimize the tremendous price which was paid for our freedom from domination, [illegible]

VOTE FOR THE BY LAW —

The Standard reminds ratepayers of the plebiscite on Friday asking approval for the borrowing of $40,000 for retiring a mortgage on the curling rink and installing an artificial ice plant there. The plan was fully explained in the Standard last week. The rink becomes the property of the town and the annual debenture payments of $2751 are met by the yearly lease for the same amount paid by the curlers. It causes no increase in the rate of taxation as the amount appears on both sides of the ledger, as an expenditure on one side, and as a receipt on the other. This means that the town gets a desirable asset at no cost to anyone except to those who use it.

Ratepayers who do not quite understand the project are referred to the article in last week's Standard wherein the whole plan is explained in detail. The printed word is much more reliable than street corner talk. An informed electorate is an intelligent one and the Standard has no doubt but that the votes registered against this progressive and far-sighted step will be few.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vermilion, Alberta,
November 1st, 1954.

Dear Editor,—

May I through the columns of your paper talk to the older folks around town. I am a high school student who likes to curl. I won't be in high school much longer, so this appeal is really for the boys and girls coming after me.

Curling is a game which is growing in favor among the young people but for the past three winters at least we have been greatly handicapped by soft ice. We are allocated [illegible] days after school and usually Saturday for our curling. For the winters in question about every other time we were due to curl the weather would be too warm, the ice soft and we would miss our turn. This sometimes meant that we would not curl for a week or more at a time and so very little curling would be enjoyed throughout the winter.

Thus it was with some happiness that we heard that the progressive townspeople of good old Vermilion were planning to instal an artificial ice plant. We have studied these plants at school and know how they work. We also think that it is a necessary and desirable step to take. However, we at school have heard much to our surprise that some of the older people are against the plan and intend to vote it down. I doubt if this is true because my grandfather and father want me to curl, want all the young people to curl. They say that the curling rink is a good place to be, and they are voting for the by-law and they think that all older people will think of their sons and daughters, or their grandsons and granddaughters and vote for this progressive step. We are quite sure that no one will ever regret doing so.

A SCHOOL BOY

Vermilion, Alberta, Nov. 2, 1954.
To the Editor
Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

As a taxpayer and property owner in this fair town I would like to express my opinion on the article in last weeks Standard. The Curling Rink Project explained. I don't think you gave us a very true picture of the by-law. As you only quoted facts as given to you by [illegible] who really intend to get this by-law through by any old way, you state that the indebtedness was reduced [illegible] yet it is not [illegible] shares were sold at $25 per share. Which is still outstanding. As I do not think this money was donated.

You also state that if this by-law is passed it will not increase our taxes. As the Curling Club will pay to the town of Vermilion the sum of $2751 per annum yet the by-law definitely says "quote" "and whereas the annual amount of $2,751 to meet the annual debenture payments. And the estimated cost of the maintenance of the project will be provided for in the estimates [illegible] and a rate sufficient therefore will be charged on all rateable property of the Town of Vermilion." End of Quote. This would amount to approximately 2 mills on our municipal tax. Maybe its true that the Curling Club will pay the $2751 to the town but how do we go about collecting the 2 mills back from the town as I am sure that its a long time since any taxpayer have seen taxes refunded. Once they have been levied and collected. Maybe we will get them back. But why take the chance. So all you property owners who are on the fence get out today and vote. If you want to increase your taxes please vote yes. If you don't want a tax increase then by all means vote no. And let the sports pay for their own sport.

Thanking you for your space for this letter

I Remain,
Yours truly,
A Taxpayer

EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer of the above letter has quite apparently been misinformed on everything he says, and as he himself disputes some of the information [illegible] in last week's Standard wherein was contained an article explaining to the best of the Standard's ability the picture in detail, the letter will be answered point by point.

1. Every fact known to the writer was quoted in the article. The figures were not obtained from "people" but from the printed records of the curling club for the past several years, and from the town secretary. It is hoped that Taxpayer gets his information [illegible] only natural. According to the town act the town must make provision for payment of the annual debenture. In preparing the budget the amount of the debenture payment, $2751 appears as an expense on the one side, but the amount received from the yearly lease [illegible] appears as a receipt on the other. Thus in the final computation of the tax rate the payment increases the mill rate by 1¼ mills but the receipt of the money from the curling club reduces it the same amount. The net result is no increase in taxes.

Ratepayers should have a certain amount of faith in the town council. Seven men sit on this body, the majority of whom are very heavy taxpayers owning business properties as well as residences, and they are no more anxious to pay increased taxes than anyone else.

4. Taxpayer is again wrong when he makes the definite statement that the payment of the debenture would amount to two mills on our municipal tax. The assessment of the town of Vermilion for 1954 amounted to $2,2[illegible],705.00. One mill thus raises $22[illegible].00 and 1¼ mills would more than meet the debenture payment. Next spring the assessment will be increased by the amount of new construction during 1954 and one mill will raise more money as a result.

5. As far as the ratepayers getting the money back once it is paid in taxes, the answer would simply be that they can't get back what has not and won't be paid. This is fully explained in point 3.

As for sports paying for their own sport, that is just what the curlers intend to do, as well as providing the town and district with a modern facility which will prove an asset to the community, to the people young and old, men and women.

Ratepayers are cautioned to get their information from the printed word, not from street gossip which has quite apparently misled "Ratepayer."

Wildmere, Alta., Oct. 31, 1954.
Mr Farmer:

Sometime in the near future someone will call on you and ask you to join our Union, the F.U.A., and I hope that he will be well received. Our aim of course is 100%. Now this drive is being sponsored by such men as the Hon. E. C. Manning and Mr Brownlee Q.C., etc., since it is only by our strength which is rated by the percentage of farmers signed up can we hope to attain anything like equality.

Here are some of the reasons you should be a member:

A 30 cent packet of puffed wheat is 1 cent wheat, 49 cent puff; a loaf of bread is 3 cents wheat, 12 cents air. We cannot charge it to labor since there is about one minutes labor only involved. Eggs to the poultryman will average about 20 cents per dozen. What do you pay over the counter? And so it is all down the line.

I am told that the banks are restricting credit to the retailers and certainly restricting it to the farmers, and you and I cannot even sell our produce. Don't you think sell our produce. Don't you think that it is high time we got together and spoke with one voice?

Sincerely,
Fred C. Haines.

Plans Progress For F.U.A. Drive For Membership

Close to 2000 organizers out of 4000 needed have already undertaken to cover the province for the one-day membership drive of the Farmers Union of Alberta, a statement from FUA Recording Director Walle D. [illegible] disclosed this week.

Readers of the weekly press of Alberta will be informed by advertising of the exact date of the drive, it was learned. A blanket coverage in the form of advertisements is scheduled to appear in some 70 odd country publications circulating in the province and in the neighboring B.C. block, so keep an eye on the advertising [illegible] of your Standard for full details. Other means for publicizing the event for members and sympathizers will be by radio and direct mailing.

The expiry date of your subscription appears on the label of your Standard.

It might surprise readers to learn that the cost of the blank paper alone for one Standard for one year is $1.49 F.O.B. Edmonton. This, with the costs of the express, power, ink, oil and postage leaves absolutely no margin for book-work and billing — let alone profit.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

The writer wishes to thank Mrs. Strang for finding our last week's bulletin on the street when it was lost in town and delivering it safely to the Standard office.

Due to the absence of the District Home Economist, the next Busy Bee meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Repp.

Thanks to Mrs. Walker and William the writer was able to go to Edmonton Sunday to visit her husband Mr. Tom Sherwood at the Royal Alexandra hospital. Tom is doing very well and is expected home this week end.

The Knutson family were week end visitors in Saskatchewan. Visitors at the Johnson home Monday were Mr. Freestone, Mrs. Sherwood and Mr. Teasdale.

Was Dr. C. W. Stephens' name omitted from the recent story of Stephens Limited or did the writer overlook it? He too has done a great deal for the people of our town and district and deserves a word of praise also.

The weather up to date has been grand enabling the farmers to get a lot of work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Reid were Edmonton visitors on Saturday.

SEWAGE AND SEPTIC TANKS

Now is a good time after harvest is over to instal a sewage system. Circulars are available from my office explaining exactly what to do in building a sewage line and disposal system.

LEAF RUST LOSSES

It is now reported from Brandon Experimental farm that leaf rust of wheat very likely caused more harm this year than the stem rust. Selkirk is resistant to stem rust, and Lee is resistant to leaf rust. The yields at Brandon were Selkirk 53 bushels per acre, Lee 48 bushels. Then the other varieties which are susceptible to both rusts were Redman 34, [illegible] 32, Marquis 20 and Thatcher 23.

FEEDING DAMAGED GRAIN

Grain which is frosted, rusted, sprouted, heated, burnt, mouldy or musty can be fed to stock with reasonable safety if they will eat it. Anyone should watch the reaction of livestock to the damaged feed and if stock are affected in any way, slow up on the quantity and mix with other feeds. Some kinds of moulds are harmful and can cause loss of livestock.

SWEET CLOVER AND FLAX

Never feed musty sweet clover hay. Hundreds of cattle and sheep have died from poisons in Sweet Clover. Also frozen flax is poisonous but it is reported to be a safe feed if it is cooked.

MONDAY IS FORUM NIGHT

Every Monday, starting Nov. 8 the National Farm Radio Forum will come over CBX Edmonton and CBX Watrous. Everyone can listen to these programs but discussion groups get far more out of the programs. Why not organize a group in your neighborhood to meet every Monday, listen to the broadcast and then discuss it afterwards.

Subjects for November are:

Nov. 8 — Farm Forum in the Community.

Nov. 15 — What is the farmers' share in the community dollar?

Nov. 22 — Farm Insurance.

Nov. 29 — Legal problems for farmers.

Anyone interested in forming a study group can get the plan from this office.

KEEPING UP WITH BIDDY

You won't believe it but modern chicken houses have no roosts, no nest eggs, no dropping boards. The hen house is cleaned out once a year — deep litter they call it. There is only one nest, a community nest. Pretty soon no one will be able to buy whole chickens in the butcher shop, the dressed birds will be cut up for you into wings, legs, breast, neck or what have you.

Honor Pins Presented At Mannville Home, School Meeting

MANNVILLE. — The Mannville and District Home and School Association held their regular monthly meeting on Oct. 28, one week later than usual due to the late harvest. There was a fair attendance.

After the regular business of the evening, Dawn Kreiler in costume, danced the Highland [illegible]

Mr Facey on behalf of the Home and School Association and Mr. R. Whitson on behalf of the Vegreville S.D. presented honor pins to the Honor students in grades 9, 10 and 11. Mr. Facey hoped that these young people would become leaders in the community as they were now leaders in their schools. They would be the "thinkers and do-ers of the future and they should be well equipped for it — with a good degree of intelligence and their good standing of academic achievement." He suggested they apply the 4-Way Test which has been widely used in schools of learning and the business world: 1. Is it the truth?; 2. Will it build good will and better friendship?; 3. Is it fair to all concerned?; 4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned? They will have every chance of a successful life if this test is tried and followed.

Grade 9 — Mary Grech

Grade 10 — Eunice Bury, Trudy Keuchnig, Adele Matney, Peter Stachniak.

Grade 11 — Carole Mercer, Winifred Nelson, Howard Schreyer, Theresa Way

Miss Carol Mercer gave a report on her trip to Banff to attend a United Nations short course. She thanked the W.I.'s and the Students' Union for making the trip possible. She gave a brief resume of the days' activities in class and the entertainment provided for the students attending. Then she followed this with a summary of the lectures, etc. We hope to have a summarized version of her report in the very near future.

Lunch is arranged for by bus routes this year and this meeting was served by the Clovelly group.

Honored At Surprise House-Warming

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wasylik were very pleasantly surprised at their new farm home 15 miles north of Vermilion on Sunday, Oct. 31 by a large group of friends and relatives who called on them and presented them with a chesterfield suite. Mr. and Mrs. Wasylik have just moved into their new home. A very enjoyable time was spent.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ludwig, Mr and Mrs. Peter Steimaschuk, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tovell, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Marion; Mr and Mrs. Mike Jarock, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Yarmuch, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stoyko, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wynnyk, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Kiziak, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bielich, Mr and Mrs. Ronnie Bodurka, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mistal, Mr. and Mrs. John Klutz, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mistal, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Jacula, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Klutz, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jacula, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Jacula, Mr and Mrs. Peter Jacula, Mr. and Mrs. John Jacula, Mr and Mrs. Fred Jacula, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Kurowski, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chernowski, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Zak, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tulik, Mr. and Mrs. John Dutchak.

Pleasant Valley

Not a thing to complain about this week. The weather is grand, harvesting completed and some of the tired men are relaxing and doing a little hunting.

Bill Gillies and family of Edmonton arrived on Sunday to visit the folks and a little hunting is being enjoyed. Can you shoot straight, Bill?

Congratulations to Betty and Lloyd Gould on the birth of a son.

This seems to be the spring and summer season for which we waited in vain. Laurence Gould saw a crocus in bloom a few days ago. The writer planted tulips in the garden and they have inch sprouts on them.

Hi Chatsworth can't you find your pen and paper. No news for a long time now. We miss you.

Mrs Giles and the two girls, the writer and Mrs Gillies journeyed to Kitscoty to the lovely supper and concert. It was really enjoyed by all.

The writer had a chat with Mrs. Vanden Dolder Saturday night. She said that she handed out 85 bags of treats to the kiddies on Hallowe'en night. We wonder if the Druids did this many years ago. A lot of apples were noticed thrown about the streets, wasted, not half eaten. It does seem a pity some children should have so much and not appreciate it and so many nothing at all.

Mr and Mrs McClelland visited the Waterfields home on Sunday. Miss Stone and Miss Anderson visited the writer on Tuesday. Did you ladies say you had tea with Doris? Noticed that the Moore family visited the Wallington home — did you see that 'pet' cow?

Mrs Gillies and Mrs Gould visited Mrs. Potvin and Mrs. Both well last week and the outings were really enjoyed.

The sad part is that Mr and Mrs Bothwell are preparing to move to Vermilion to spend the winter. We miss those lights shining during the winter as they always look so welcome.

Visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs Bert Gould on Monday were Mrs. Moore, Bill, Lee and the two boys. Mrs. Moore was quite brave and we hope that she does it again.

By AMBROSE HILLS

REMARKABLE DOCUMENT

For some years, a part of my work has been to write book reviews but once in a while I get a surprise. That's what happened to me this morning.

I picked out of my mail an unpretentious looking book. The title was, "Watching the Chinese Curtain Fall." The author was W. J. Sheridan, formerly a medical missionary in China in the service of the United Church of Canada. I must confess that I expected some dull reading.

But though I picked up the book this morning, it is still before me. The office lights are on now, and outside my window I see that the street lights have been turned on. I took the book with me to lunch, and I have not yet had dinner. It takes a pretty astounding document to so provoke my jaded tastes in literature.

"Watching the Chinese Curtain Fall" is certainly an astounding document. I cannot imagine any Canadian reading it without becoming excited about it.

But it is only fair to warn you that having read it, you can never again be apathetic about the danger Canada faces today. Dr Sheridan, in some of the finest prose published in Canada for many years, shows that Communist principles can sneak up on us just as easily as they did on the Chinese. Like Canadians the Chinese farmer was an independent, self-respecting, industrious, reliable, cheerful member of society. China did not appear to be the kind of a country in which a revolution could grow and flourish. But it did.

The tragic thing is that it grew in China with many of the same devices that we are now adopting here. The craze to equalize wealth has led to the ridiculous belief that all wealth must first pass into the hands of an equalizing agency — the government.

"Where," asks Dr. Sheridan, "will be found a body of men so pure, so single-minded, that having the wealth and power of the world (or any section of it) in their hands, they will immediately divide it equally among all men — even supposing men could be found who had the wisdom and executive ability for such a task? Moreover, each possessing an equal share of material goods, what motivation will men have for working?"

That question is just as potent here as it should have been in China. Yet every day we complacently turn over more and more power to the government. Every step in this direction makes us, to some degree, tools of the State.

There is no doubting this book. Paragraph after paragraph Dr. Sheridan documents the skill and brutality of the Communists, contrasting their softening up methods before the Iron Curtain fell, and their brutal methods following it. He shows how desperately easy it is for a nation to fall under the spell of Communism. We prepare the way for it every time we yield up a freedom. We ask for it every time we try to share, by the trickeries of law, a neighbor's wealth. We invite it every time we encourage our government to play fairy godmother.

Dr. W. J. Sheridan has done a great service to Canada, and to the United Church of Canada in whose service he was a medical missionary. It has sometimes been said that it is among church groups that much of the fuzzy thinking about Communism takes place. Dr. Sheridan's book gives the lie to this. There is certainly nothing funny about "Watching the Chinese Curtain Fall".

MILK VENDING MACHINE

In Canada the idea of milk vending machines is slowly gaining in poularity. Recently a machine was installed at Victoria Composite high school in Edmonton. This machine is reported to be unique in its field and is adaptable to any size container. It sells two products at two different prices and gives the change for odd-cent prices. In the first school day operation the machine sold more than 100 half-pints.

Will Hold Apple Day

MANNVILLE. — Apple Day was again a huge success, thanks to the co-operation of teachers, pupils and people around town. A total of $60.50 was collected. Of this sum, $44.70 was clear, and will be sent to the Crippled Children's hospital in Calgary. Mrs. Lugg and pupils of Grade IV would like to thank all those who bought apples and in this way helped in their fall Jr. Red Cross enterprise.

THE STAGETTES

The Stagette baking sale is this Saturday, so get out your mixing bowls and beat the batter girls! Come up with something real elegant.

Our annual Stagette Doll will be on display in one of the local stores very soon. In the meantime tickets are available from any Stagette member.

Don't forget the chicken supper on the 10th. Oh ... food that we didn't cook. That sounds mighty fine.

We've lost two of our most co-operative members, Edna Allen and Faye McLennan. These two lassies have answered the call of the north and we will certainly miss them in all our club activities.

By the way, Ivy has volunteered (did I say volunteered?) to check at the Holly Frolic.

Our new style of hats will be here shortly before the Armistic parade we hope.

Noreen has recovered from the mumps and Marie has been overtaken by them. We hope to see her back with us soon.

Checking ... Berna and Gertie for the 6th, Nan and Ernie for the 13th; — you lucky girls! Whew that's done, thank goodness.

To Form Bantam Hockey League

A movement is underway by Walter Robertson to find out how many boys between the ages of 6 and 8 years would be interested in playing in a bantam hockey league this winter. If enough show their desire the town will flood the outdoor rink in the west end of town, have it lighted and turn that forgotten spot over to the little fellows.

Walter states he has three excellent coaches on the line to teach the boys and that as they are on shift work, practice and games would be between 4.30 and 6 p.m.

This will all be good news for the boys who at that age are keen to play hockey and have so far had little opportunity to do so.

Home League Notes

At the weekly meeting of the Salvation Army Home League, the delegates to the Institute in Edmonton brought reports of the meetings and demonstrations were given. Mrs. K. Isley and Mrs. R. Watkin demonstrated Xmas table centres and favors, Mrs. Maier and Major Battrick showed how to make economical sale items and Mrs. J. Dow and Sr. Captain Hill brought back ideas about candy and cookie making.

Further plans were made for the Christmas sale. The name of Mrs. Parkin was inadvertently omitted from the list of duties in our last report. She will assist at the embroidery and novelty table, also in serving lunch.

Wedding Bells

WELLS - ISLEY

In the afternoon of October 27th the marriage of Dorothy Barbara Isley, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Isley of the Woodvale district, to William Nelson Wells, son of Mrs. Wells of Victoria, B.C., took place in the United church, Vermilion with Rev. C. W. McKay officiating.

The bride who wore a powder blue dress suit with rhinestone decorations and a small white hat, was assisted by Isobel Sherwood while Lesley Sherwood was the best man.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's parents for a reception with mostly relatives as guests. Among them were the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Isley and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ross and two of the groom's sisters, Mrs. James and Mrs. Towns from Edmonton. A lovely wedding cake topped by a bridal couple centred the decorated table.

The young couple left by car for a short honeymoon to Silver Heights and other points in Saskatchewan. They will make their home on the J. S. Cross ranch north of Vermilion.

Many Showers For October Bride

In honor of her approaching wedding Miss Audrey Watts was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts at four showers recently. The first of these was held on Tuesday, Oct. 12, at the home of Mrs. Billie Pilkie in Edmonton, where many friends gathered to offer their good wishes, gifts were presented on a tea wagon, decorated in the Royal Alexandra Nursing school colors, of purple and gold. after opening these the bride-to-be thanked all present, particularly her hostess for a grand evening.

On Wednesday evening Oct. 20, Mrs. H. J. Clarke and Mrs. Ken Rowe joined to surprise the bride-elect at Mrs. Clarke's home, a novel idea was used to present the gifts. Audrey, a recently graduated nurse was summoned by "buzzers" to a patient in ward one, and on investigating she returned with a basket full of gifts. three wards called for visits, and the result was a load of beautiful and very useful articles from each. Assisting in the serving of a lovely lunch were Mrs. Maxine Rowe and Mrs. Ruth Rowe.

Friday evening, Oct. 22 at the home of Mrs. Gerald Stephens, other friends gathered to offer their good wishes, when, after games were played, Miss Watts received a goodly number of fine presents, to which she graciously responded by thanking one and all for their thoughtfulness and kindness.

Saturday evening the Nurses Association of Vermilion held a special meeting at the residence of Mrs. Nellie McFadden, to find cause and reason for Miss Watts branching out into the field of matrimony when after compiling her life history in a novel manner even to later married life she passed the examination, and her gifts were presented with all their best wishes by the hostess, afterwards a very delightful lunch was served.

The ladies of the Greenlawn Goodwill club met at the home of Mrs. Mac Maddox for their October meeting, with nine members present. In the absence of the president, vice-president Mrs. W. Jones took the chair. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, a letter of thanks was read from the grateful recipient of the donated wool blanket.

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Archie Woods. Come and bring along your Christmas concert ideas. Roll call was answered by proverbs.

Meeting adjourned after which the hostess served a delicious lunch.

Ask your neighbor this one:

Why are huricanes given names of women instead of men?

The answer — Because they are 'her'-icanes not 'him'-icanes!

Master Farm Family Awards Are Announced by Dept. of Agriculture

Winners of the 1954 Master Farm Family awards have been recently announced by Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture. This is the sixth year of the Master Farm Family Award program.

This year's Master Farm Families are: Martin Arndt Family of Barrhead; Harlie H. Conrad Family, Clairmont; Adam Buyer Family, Carbon; [illegible] Family, Garden Plains; Ansley King Family, High River.

Each family receives an award of $1000, an engraved plaque, and a name plate for the farmstead entrance.

The Master Farm Family program's main objective is to honor Alberta farmers who have achieved outstanding success in farming and in family and community life. The program emphasizes the advantage of the farming vocation and the spiritual and material satisfaction of farm life. Through the program farm youth become acquainted with the opportunities which agriculture offers and with the ideals to which professional farmers aspire.

"Good Farming, Right Living and Clear Thinking is the slogan of the Master Farm Family Program," Mr. Halmrast said. "In these three phases are summarized the priciples which should guide all those who make the cultivation of Alberta's soil their vocation."

"These principles have been followed by the five families whom we honor this year. I feel that their achievements in agriculture, homemaking and good citizenship deserve public recognition and respect."

Increased interest in the program was evident this year with 32 families receiving nominations for the awards; last year 22 were nominated. All candidates must be Canadian citizens who have operated a farm either as owner or leasee for 20 consecutive years. Three neighbors must make the nomination and the nominated family must agree to acept the honor.

Winners are selected on a regional basis and confirmed by a provincial committee. Each regional committee is composed of a working farmer, a technical agriculturist, a home economist, housewife and a representative from the Dominion Experimental Farms. Each region corresponds roughly to one of the five Alberta soil zones.

A total of 87 factors related to the farm operation, farm life, community work and business management are evaluated in each case and points given for each factor. Candidates are rated in comparison with a maximum possible score for each point.

The Minister of Agriculture extends the congratulations of the Alberta government to the five families whose high achievements have gained them the awards. He also congratulates the other candidates, emphasizing that nomination is a great honor in itself and proof of the community's admiration and respect. Mr. Halmrast commended the painstaking work of the selection committees, whose assistance in the program is invaluable.

Can't Put Them Off

Fying back from Britain, writes Napier Moore in The Financial Post, we find most of our fellow passengers were kept awake for hours by a couple of noisy inebriates. They were feeling no pain when they boarded the aircraft. They descended to the lounge bar the moment it opened. They stayed there well through the night shouting, braying and cackling under the illusion that they were really very funny men.

The purser did his best to stop the noise. So did the captain. But the officers of an airliner 16,000 feet above the Atlantic Ocean are under a disadvantage. They can't put an unruly passenger off!

Legion Poppy Day Set For Nov. 6th

Once again we come around to poppy day. This year it will be Saturday, Nov. 6.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion will take posts on every corner with their trays of poppies. Also business firms will be canvassed by Legion members for sale of wreaths for their windows.

The president of the Legion Vic Tillett and his poppy day committee which is headed by L. R. Webb ask that citizens be generous in contributions for wreaths and when they buy poppies on Saturday.

The Legion officers wish it to be known that all donations to the poppy fund are used locally for assistance to needy veterans. During the past year $584.04 was assigned from the Vermilion Branch poppy fund for help to local veterans. When a veteran's house burns down he needs help and the Veterans' Poppy fund is for this kind of help.

Everyone could not fight in Canada's wars but everyone can help veterans when misfortune falls on them. The Legion asks that people give liberally on Nov. 6, so that in the hour of need there will be funds to help the needy. 18-19

WHAT WE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS

50,000 Canadians have tuberculosis and 250 die every month.

HOW IT IS CAUSED

It is caused by the tuberculosis germ entering the body in the air breathed or in food eaten. If one member of the family has active tuberculosis and is careless it can quickly spread to other members.

WHEN DOES IT STRIKE?

A person is most likely to catch tuberculosis when the resistance of the body is low. Going without meals, not getting enough sleep, or enough exercise in the fresh air, and getting overtired, will all lower the body's resistance to disease.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE IT

In the early stages tuberculosis sometimes gives no warning, so the only way to be certain it is not present is to have a regular chest X-ray.

As the disease advances the person may begin to notice symptoms: a cough that does not clear up, loss of weight, fever at night, feeling tired all the time, blood streaks in the phlegm. All these may be signs of tuberculosis and should be investigated by a doctor.

HOW TO AVOID IT

Keep the body's resistance high by attention to general health: regular well-balanced meals; adequate sleep in a well ventilated room, plenty of exercise in fresh air.

Consult the doctor if you have any symptoms mentioned or if you are worried about your health. Get a chest X-ray whenever the mobile unit is in your area or when the service is offered by the local hospital.

Always remember that the sooner treatment is started the quicker the cure will be. Literature is available through your Health Unit.

Provincial Liberals To Meet Nov. 9-10

Liberals from all parts of Alberta will meet in convention on Nov. 9 and 10 in Edmonton at the Macdonald hotel.

Chief business during the sessions will be discussion and revision of platform and policy in the provincial field. With this in mind, Liberal Leader J. Harper Prowse has been holding regional meetings throughout the province during the past few months at which constituency officials of the party have been presenting their views. Out of these meetings will come some of the resolutions to be presented to the delegates by resolutions committee chairman, Andre Dechene of Edmonton.

Guest speaker at the banquet to be held at the Macdonald on the evening of Nov. 9 will be Mr. D. K. MacTavish of Ottawa, president of the National Liberal Federation.

The Hon. Geo. Prudham, Alberta's cabinet minister and member of parliament for Edmonton West will also address the gathering.

W. J. Edgar, Innisfail, president of the Alberta Liberal Assoc. expects that there will be around 300 delegates in attendance. 1819

High Voltage

ALUMINUM CABLE from Canada was used in a Peruvian high-voltage power line, installed at altitudes of from 13,000 to 15,000 feet—the world's highest. Canada supplied not only the cable but also the technical assistance required on this record job. We imagine that aluminum's light weight was particularly appreciated by the llamas or whatever other beasts of burden were used to get the cable to the top.

In the rugged mountain country of British Columbia where Alcan's own huge Kitimat development is going on, the aluminum transmission lines used represent another record. they are the largest-diameter overhead power lines in the world. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

MANNVILLE & DISTRICT LOCALS

Folks in Mannville and district were very pleasantly surprised on Sunday evening to hear the story of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burch, old timers of this district, on the "Trails of the Pioneers". The voices of Mr and Mrs. Burch which had been recorded earlier sounded quite familiar to those listening [illegible].

Miss Marlene Olsonberg was a week end visitors with Miss Adele Matney.

Mr and Mrs. Robt. Fouracre and daughter from Brenner called in town in Saturday on their way way through to visit at Dewberry.

Word has been received of the death of Ralph Brown of Viking in a cave-in while working on a water and sewer project there. The district extends deep sympathy to Mrs. A. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Les Brown, mother and brother of the late [illegible] Brown.

The Ladies of the Altar Society of St. Joseph's Catholic church report a very [illegible] Bingo held last week and they wish to thank all those who attended and those who helped in any way to make the evening the success it was.

Mr Leslie Torrance attended a refresher course for druggists in Vegreville on Friday last. Dr. Huston, Director, Pharmacy Dept. of the University of Alberta gave several interesting lectures.

The Mannville Municipal hospital has had a new paint job on the exterior of the building and it provides a cheery sight for those travelling to and from the south as well as the staff and patients of the hospital. Mr. Peter Stich was in charge of the redecorating.

Hallowe'en was fairly quiet on Saturday evening except for the usual pranks and these pranksters may not be quite so eager to topple over the 'little houses' next year. The boys and girls responsible were given the job on Monday morning of putting the 'houses' back up. A number of cars sitting on the streets were filled with straw and there is still quite a bit of it scattered here and there. Mr. Jim Allen is to be complimented on policing the town so well Saturday night.

Mr. Geo. Pemberton is a patient in the local hospital with a touch of pleurisy. In the hospital also for treatment, Mrs. Matney Sr. is reported progressing favorably.

Atomic Power —

The part which atomic generation of electricity will play in the future was described recently in Bristol by Lord Citrine, Chairman of the British Electriciyt Authority. He said, "If the experimental station at Calder proceeds satisfactorily, we might find ourselves able to build atomic power stations that by 1970 will generate enough electricity to make up for the deficit of 20 million tons of coal expected each year by that time."

Of Many Things . . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

EXPRESS YOURSELF

I picked up a neighbor's son in my car the other day and drove him downtown to his first job. I could tell he was quite nervous, and since we had a good deal of time I took him into a restaurant for a cup of coffee and a chat. He has no father of his own, and I knew that he needed a word or two of reassurance. I knew absolutely nothing about being an architect, while he knew plenty. He had a degree to prove it. But there was something that I could tell him.

When I was a young fellow graduating from school (I never did get to college) a large proportion of the population was self-employed. Today things are different. Most young fellows today will be employees. I remembered some information on the art of being an employee that I had picked up a couple of years ago in a Fortune Magazine article. The article said that the most important ability of an employee of any importance was to learn to express ideas in writing and in speaking. Perhaps a soda jerker doesn't need much skill in expressing himself, but the moment you move up the ladder to where you are required to work through other people — your effectiveness depends on your ability to speak or to write.

"Gee, I'm glad to know that," the young man said. "But how am I going to learn how to do these things?"

This question wasn't quite so easy to answer. In fact, I couldn't give him an answer just out of my hat. I promised him that I'd think about it [illegible] then [illegible] him some instructions. This is what I wrote.

"Dear Bill I am attaching three items. The first is a political speech. The second is a small bible. The third is a country weekly newspaper. Please read the front page of the weekly newspaper and underline all the nouns. You will find a lot of them. Then read the bible, particularly the Sermon on the Mount. Again, underline all the nouns. Again, too, you will find a lot of them. Now read the political speech. Underline the nouns if you can find any! They are pretty scattered. This fellow did not get elected. I know him well. He lived in my constituency. He was opposed on the hustings, by a man with about half as much education as you have. The uneducated fellow licked him to a frazzle. You will notice that the defeated candidate, whose speech you have before you, didn't use very many nouns. He didn't talk about real things. He was full of windiness, [illegible] on facts. His opponent talked about the price of wheat, [illegible], cream, and stated clearly what [illegible] thought about them. Our windy [illegible] talked a lot of fancy theories [illegible] weren't tied down to facts.

"Now, Bill, doing these three things will not make you a fancy speaker or writer. But it will make you effective and [illegible] keep you from being gassy and mysterious! Good luck!"

WOODVALE NOTES

[illegible] come to a successful [illegible] though many farmers are [illegible] and quite a few stacking greenfeed as yet. With storm, sleet and snow only four weeks ago and all the grain still in the field, no one quite believed that we would be all done by the end of October. Something to be truly thankful for indeed.

BRIDE OF MONTH SHOWERED

Monday evening Oct. 25, friends and relatives of Woodvale, Tolland, Hindville and Koknee gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Isley for a surprise shower for [illegible] daughter Dorothy whose marriage to Bill Wells took [illegible] on the 27th. After some [illegible] visiting and a [illegible] brain-wracking contests, Dorothy, assisted by her friend [illegible] Thomson, opened the gaily wrapped parcels, piled high on the table and expressed her sincere thanks quite nicely afterwards. Everyone was ready after that for a delightful lunch and on leaving expressed their good wishes to Dorothy for a long and happy married life.

BAD ARM BREAK

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sweeney were very much missed the evening of the shower. Mrs. Sweeney tripped over a pail in the yard around 6:00 p.m. and broke her arm. Mr. Harry Turner took her and her 6 weeks old baby to Vermilion but by Friday it was found necessary to send her to Edmonton to have the break set as the break was too straight to heal with traction or cast. We all hope she will soon be well and home again where a young friend is at present helping out.

We are glad to report that Mr. Cecil King is well on the road to [illegible] and hopes to be out of the hospital soon. [illegible] daughter Joy flew [illegible] London, Eng. and arrived in Edmonton Sunday evening [illegible].

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Preston who are the proud parents of baby boys.

While her mother was in the hospital Elaine Thompson stayed with her little friend Marilyn Watt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Watt and the girls spent Sunday with Mrs. Watt's mother in Lamont.

The children enjoyed a Hallowe'en party at the school on Friday. Annette McLean brought her guitar and everyone joined in singing with her. All kinds of games were thoroughly enjoyed and we heard [illegible] mentioned that there were a lot of really nice things to eat. Special [illegible] were the five year [illegible] in the district who in that way [illegible] get to know the pleasures to be enjoyed in school!

Mr and Mrs. Bill Wells, driving happily to Wainwright after their wedding had a little scare on the road when the connecting rod on their steering broke and they drove into the ditch. They had to wait in Wainwright until repairs were brought from Vermilion by Johnny Isley the next day.

New Rat Policy Announced by Government

The Alberta Department of Agriculture has announced the commencement of a new rat policy for Alberta. As most of us are aware, the rat poses a real problem in this province. There is a movement of rats in a generally west ward direction due to overpopulation in areas where the control measures are not practised. Alberta is the last frontier for the rat — an area this pest has never been able to conquer. Under the new policy several M.D.'s and Improvement Districts are appointing full time pest officers to assist and direct farmers in rat prevention and control.

The whole program is designed to prevent the westward movement of rats by a thorough clean-up program and by the use of poisons, mainly warfarin. The areas which are involved include the M.D.'s of Vermilion River, Wainwright, Provost and Acadia Valley, the area designated as the Special Areas, and Improvement Districts 1, 11 and 21. This takes in an area along our eastern border from the United States boundary to the North Saskatchewan river north of Lloydminster.

According to Arthur M Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, the Department of Agriculture will co-operate with municipalities by providing all poison materials, provide [illegible] and pay part of the cost of employing the pest officers who have the responsibility of carrying the campaign to the individual farms.

Farmers will be urged to rat proof buildings by proper construction and maintenance, thereby protecting feed supplies and destroying rat harborages. About 6000 farms are included in the areas involved. Farmers and all residents in the border area are asked to cooperate in this program.

Mr Wilson stressed the fact that if these people fail to play their part there can be no hope in keeping rat populations from becoming a serious menace in all parts of Alberta.

COMPLETELY RE-STYLED CHEVROLET FEATURES V8 ENGINE

The futuristically designed 1955 Chevrolet, offering for the first time, a high output 162 horsepower V8 engine as well as a more powerful six cylinder "Blue Flame" economy-leader, was announced across Canada today. Greatly increased comfort and driving qualities stemming from re-engineered frame and suspension are enhanced by the first "dream car" styling in the low price field. The Bel Air Sports Coupe (above) illustrates the broad, low grille and hood treatment, greatly increased vision through the new sweep-sight windshield, and the "fleet" look imparted to all 14 body styles by the longer, lower lines of the new models.

Amateur Night At Mannville Well Attended

MANNVILLE.—Even though it is still a busy time with fine weather continuing there was an exceptionally good crowd at the Amateur night sponsored by the Happy Hour group on Friday last. The quality of the entertainment was excellent. There were not quite so many entries as usual but with 55-in numbers and a skit by the Happy Hour group the evening's entertainment was well rounded out.

Everyone enjoys watching the youngsters and there was a good variety of acts, singing, dancing reciting piano solos. The following are among the prize winners:

Preschool — 1 Leslie Kreller, 2. Heather Morrison and Elaine Rudd, 3. Corinne Ewing.

6 to 8 years — Dawn Kreller, Donna Majeau, Bonnie Proudfoot; 9 to 12 years — Adeline Smart, Brian Scoggins, Lynne Kreller.

13 to 15 years — Lily Waswylik of Vermilion, Jim Croft, Connie Gerhart and Norma McLuckie.

Adults group— Miss Ruth Gamble.

Those assisting with the entertainment between groups of amateurs were Mrs Elsie Barlow who recited two numbers, Misses Betty Proudfoot and Adele Matney accompanied by Mrs. Lugg who sang two novelty numbers and Mr James Johnstone who sang Lindy Lou by special request.

While the judges Mr A Rostron, Miss Nelson and Rev. R. C. Clennett were completing their judging the Happy Hour group in outlandish costumes put on the skit, 'Mock Marriage'. It was extremely funny and much enjoyed by the audience.

Mr. Bert Williams was as always an excellent M.C. A dance with music supplied by Kreller's orchestra completed the evening.

Canadian Army Benevolent Fund Offers Help To Dependents

CALGARY.—Lt. Col. W. K. Jull, Q.C., Provincial Chairman of the Army Benevolent fund, announces that arrangements have now been made under which the dependents of personnel of the Canadian Army Regular Force can receive assistance for medical or other unexpected problems which are creating financial distress.

Application to the Army Benevolent Fund is made in the first instance by the serviceman through his unit and a dependent who is faced with financial difficulties should ask the serviceman to take up the matter with his C.O. In cases of extreme emergency, the dependent can apply direct to a representative of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

The provision of assistance to dependents is just one phase of the Army Benevolent Fund program which makes financial assistance available to Second World War veterans of the Canadian Army and to servicemen of the Regular force and their dependents. The funds are provided from the profits of canteens and messes of the Canadian Army.

Since its inception in 1948 to the end of September 1954 the fund has rendered total financial assistance of $3,226,149 on behalf of veterans and servicemen in Canada and overseas. Last year alone the assistance in Alberta was $64,443 and again this year grants and other services in this province are running at $5,400 a month.

Col. Jull, a veteran of both wars and a former commanding officer of the King's Own Calgary Regiment (Tank) is now retired from the army and lives in Calgary where he holds appointment as sheriff and clerk of the court. He has served in a voluntary capacity with the Alberta Committee since its inception in 1948.

Bowtell Bulletin

Deepest sympathy is extended to the Strang family in their great and sudden sorrow.

Mrs N Ronaghan was a visitor Thursday at the Walker home.

Congratulations, even if they are a little late, to Gordon Scott on the high standing he achieved in the air cadet flying.

It was nice to see the Rev. D. A. Ford on Friday, who was out on one of his friendly visits.

The writer and husband enjoyed lunch Saturday with Mr. J. Dixon, who is enjoying good health.

Friends from north of Edmonton visited at the Walker home over the week end. It is nice to have Mrs. Gagnon back in our midst again. The writer was sorry to learn that Mrs. Coulter and Mrs. G. Coombe are patients in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gow spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Fisk at Lashburn recently.

Mr and Mrs. F. Robinson and family, Robert, Isabel and Jimmy, enjoyed a turkey supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Repp on Sunday. The occasion was the birthdays of both Jim and Frank.

Thanks, neighbors, for all your kind offers of help while Mr. Sherwood is in the Royal Alex hospital in Edmonton.

Plans Progress For Celebration Of Alberta's Fiftieth Birthday

Plans for the celebration of Alberta's 50th birthday in 1955 have been announced following a meeting of the Jubilee Committee executive.

Mr. Parker, director of the Alberta Golden Jubilee, said the program of events approved by the executive is designed to include all communities and areas of the province. The program has been approved in principle and details will be announced as individual projects are undertaken.

Recognition for senior citizens and old timers will be an important feature of community celebration. Pioneer citizens will be presented scrolls by the Jubilee committee. Two caravans displaying pictures, museum pieces and items on the Jubilee theme will tour the province visiting all communities as a contribution to local festivities.

PROGRAMS FOR SCHOOLS

A special program is being arranged for schools on June 9 by the Deprtment of Education while trees, supplied by the Alberta Department of Agriculture, will be planted on June 9 in dedication ceremonies at schools throughout Alberta. It is hoped that trees will be available also to communities.

Points of local and historical interest will be identified and landscaped to serve as roadside parks and picnic grounds in a co-operative program of communities and the Jubilee committee. Communities will be invited to select any spots of interest which can be identified in this manner. The committee will provide identification plaques and stone fireplaces while the communities will be encouraged to landscape and maintain the park areas.

STREET DECORATIONS AVAILABLE

Special street decorations will be provided communities by the Jubilee committee on celebration days and all Alberta Government buildings will be decorated and lighted during the celebration period. Government lawns and flower beds also will be decorated in Jubilee pattern.

WELCOME ARCHES

Rustic welcome arches, similar in pattern to the arch over the Great Divide in the Canadian Rockies will be placed at all entrances to the Province and on the main tourist roads. "Welcome Houses" where visitors will be greeted and supplied with programs of Jubilee events and other material will be placed near the arches by the Travel Bureau.

FILMS AVAILABLE

The Alberta Government's Film and Photographic branch will produce an hour-long color movie of jubilee activities and copies of the Jubilee Anthology a book being produced will be distributed to Canadian and Commonwealth libraries as well as all Alberta school rooms.

FILMS AND JUBILEE ANTHOLOGY

PROVINCIAL PARK

Dedication of the Drumheller Badlands as a provincial park will be carried out during Jubilee year and a committee formed to assess the value of this area as a tourist attraction.

ALBERTA SONGS

An Alberta music aranger and composer will be commissioned to assemble a collection of Alberta songs which will be made available for use in community Jubilee programs, while the University of Alberta Mixed Chorus will be invited to present a special program of Jubilee songs throughout the Peace River district, as well as at other Alberta towns and villages.

STARTS JUNE 5

Mr. Parker said June 5 will mark the start of Jubilee activities, with the program ending with Jubilee week, Sept. 5-10. All dedication ceremonies and other official acts will take place during this week. Sept. 4 has been declared a Provincial Day of Prayer and it is hoped that a special Jubilee program together with a message from Premier E. C. Manning, will be carried over a provincial radio network on the Day of Prayer.

The committee and the Jubilee director are touring Alberta meeting with interested groups who are planning Jubilee celebrations in their own communities.

British Railways Are Safest In the World

British railways during 1953 showed an average of only one passenger fatality in 71 million passengers' journeys, according to the report presented by Lt.-Col. G. Wilson, Chief Inspection Officer of Railways.

The World of Wheat

By W. O. MALAHER, Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Co. Ltd.

Income: Quantity Times Price

A good deal of emphasis has been laid recently upon the fact that Canada is still maintaining her share of the export market in wheat. This is all to the good. It must be evident, however, that the Canadian farmer cannot live on a percentage of wheat sold. He can only exist and thrive upon quantity of wheat sold multiplied by the price received, related, in turn, to the cost of goods and services that he must buy.

The Western Canadian Wheat grower is competing just as much with the wheat producer in the importing countries as he is with the wheat producer in the exporting countries. It is a grave error surely, to compare our sales only as a percentage of our overseas competitors. We might still sell the same percentage of overseas wheat year by year and cut our volume of sales in half. This would be living in a fool's paradise. It is the total bushels sold that matters, not the percentage.

The real basis of comparison should be Canadian sales as a total percentage of wheat consumed. Such a percentage means something to us, particularly if coupled with the amount of our carry-over each year.

Paradise Valley

Mr. Hugh Cleland of Penticton, B.C., is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart and getting in some hunting. Mr. Cleland is a nephew of Mrs. Stewart.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Church of God will be holding a sale of articles and home cooking in the church basement on Nov. 18 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mr. Frank Ball has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Belsheim at Lea Park for the past week.

One by one links with the earlier days of Paradise Valley are being broken. The most recent is the death of Fred Schule, who passed away at Camrose during the first of the week. Mr. Schule came to the district in company with Mrs. Hainsby and her son Fernely. They homesteaded where the town of Paradise Valley is now located. The deceased farmed here for many years until failing health compelled him to retire. He lived in Edmonton for several years then went to Camrose where he passed away. The funeral was held at Camrose. Mr. Schule was a native of Germany and a watchmaker by trade.

Mr. N. A. Brown who has been a patient in the Wainwright hospital for several days has returned home. A cut on his finger caused blood poisoning and the arm was badly affected.

Young Jimmie Baxter met with a painful accident recently while riding on a load of bundles. A low telephone wire caught him and he was thrown to the hard road. He was taken to the Lloydminster hospital where he is still a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nickle were recent visitors to Edmonton where they attended the marriage of Mrs. Nickle's niece which took place on Saturday Oct. 30.

The W.A. of the United Church held their annual chicken supper on Friday night in the hall. As usual a good crowd took advantage of a chance to have a grand supper for which the P.V. ladies are famous. Many thanks to all who helped in any way.

Nancy Lee Parker, Skating Star of "Hippodrome of '55"

"Hippodrome of 1955", the lavish spectacle coming to the Edmonton Concert Gardens on November 8th through 13th fairly teems with beautiful girls, but the petite, graceful and charming redhead star of the 'Skating Vanities' feature, Nancy Lee Parker, has been acclaimed by critics over the continent as not only one of the most beautiful girls on skates, but the world's finest and most talented all-around skater.

Nancy had been the 3-time undefeated figure-skating champion befor she turned professional and entered show business 3 years ago. Since getting her start as feature skater on the touring show 'Skating Vanities' Nancy went on to become the hit of the debut of 'Hippodrome of 1954', and is considered the outstanding peer of all figure skaters.

She has achieved stardom through hard work, determination and a real zest for anything she attempts. These assets, combined with her piquant beauty enable her to stay on top as the skating star of 'Hippodrome'.

The magazine of show business, Variety' writes of Nancy: "She is a trim skater who can perform on wheels with the ease of an ice skater. She's a youthful operator who invests her routines with a deal of imagination and comes out with an appreciative mitt."

But Nancy Lee Parker and 'Skating Vanities' are just one part of the Big show. Other features in this 3 great shows in 1 will be the fabulous and amazing 'Dancing Waters' the magical waters that awed audiences at the Edmonton Exhibition last summer — combined with an array of novelty acts never before seen in this country. There are thrills, comedy, beauty and spectacle and 150 people in "Hippodrome of 1955".

As James Paul, Director of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, says, "The answer to the public's constant demand for something new, unusual and different in entertainment has been achieved in "Hippodrome". We are proud to present this mammoth spectacle to the people of this area because we know they will spend a thoroughly delightful 2½ hours of the best in entertainment. "Hippodrome" was previewed by Maurice Hartnett, Managing Director of the Calgary Exhibition Stampede Association, who strongly recommended it as a truly wonderful production."

BRITAIN HEAVY SUPPLIER OF DRUGS

Britain is supplying Canada and the rest of the world with increasing quantities of drugs. The output of the British drug industry had risen from about $28 million in 1938 to $322 million in 1953. In recent years Canada's imports of British manufactured drugs has increased steadily. In 1952 Canadian imports amounted to $1,750,000; last year's figure was $1,800,000; for the first 8 months of this year it was 1½ million, 30% higher than in the same period in 1953.

VERMILION OLD TIMERS GATHER AT ANNUAL ROUND-UP

George C. Webb will again guide the affairs of the Vermilion Old Timers' Association as he and his officers for the past year were unanimously moved back into office at the annual Round-up and banquet held in the Legion hall on Thursday evening of last week. The banquet which had as its caterers the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion, all charming and young matrons, was among the most successful and enjoyable functions ever held by the Associations. The catering drew tributes of praise from several speakers who extended congratulations upon the excellence of the viands provided and superb service given at the tables.

The gathering was welcomed by the President Mr. Webb, and subsequently by His Worship Mayor Heckbert who paid tribute to the work of the association in banding together the men and women who despite many difficulties had laid over the past 50 years the stable structure of our prosperous and happy communities of today.

A minute of silence was observed in memory of the members who had passed on during the year. These were Bob Beckett, at Chilliwack, B.C., W. R. Wiebe, James Cavil, Mrs. J. H. Bell, Mrs. George Carruthers, Mrs. Don Taylor, Mr. Shortell of Kitscoty and Ed Long.

The President welcomed the following visitors as new members: Mr. Meikle of Hoadley, Alberta; Mr. R. Garvan, Wainwright; Mr and Mrs Veitch, Wainwright; William McCauley, Mannville and Mr. and Mrs. Allan of Kokanee.

Those sitting at the head table besides the President and Mrs. Webb were Mayor and Mrs. Heckbert, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hodgins, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fisk, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wallington, Mrs. Annie Cameron, J. W. G. Morrison and C. W. Robinson, Edmonton.

Short addresses were made by Mr Robinson and Mr Morrison. Mr Robinson in his remarks paid tribute to the mercantile establishments of Stephens and Craigs who had been catering to the needs and requirements of the people of the district for 50 years. He congratulated the Town of Vermilion on its progress and expansion. Mayor Heckbert, he said, had established a monument to his career in the fine paved streets as Mayor Morrison had in the standpipe in the public park.

Mr. Morrison pointed out the part the old timer should play in his immediate community in impressing particularly on the new Canadian the privileges extended to them when made citizens of Canada.

Mrs Hilda Cross as secretary read the report of the treasurer which showed the financial standing of the association to be very substantial.

Messrs William Steele, C. W. Robinson and J. W. G. Morrison are honorary presidents of the Association, which has an enrollment of over 160 members.

The banquet closed with the National Anthem.

Prior to the opening of the dance program, Mr. Veitch led in a half hour of community singing and Mrs. Nora Ronaghan was at the piano. Johnnie Webb sang very acceptably Danny Boy and other selections. Mr and Mrs. Funnell of the Union district entertained with several musical numbers, which evoked much applause.

Dancing was under the Kreller orchestra of Manville and the light fantastic was tripped to near the bewitching hour of 12.

It was a very successful and enjoyable occasion and one which old and young timers will have cause to remember until the next round-up rolls along in 1955.

DEATH OF ROBT. FAIR, M.P.

Robert Fair, member of Parliament representing this constituency since 1935, died at the Vermilion hospital this Thursday evening, November 11th, after an illness of several months. The sad news was received by The Standard just at press time.

'Copter Fleet Lands At Vermilion Airport

A fleet of four U.S. Army helicopters landed at Vermilion airport on Monday morning of this week for refueling. The rather ungainly looking birds of the air were on their way from Edmonton to Saskatoon. Accompanying them was a 'mother' ship, a big twin-engined R.C.A.F. Dakota. All five machines spent about two hours here during which time some of the crew members came into town.

The helicopters are on a survey job for the United States and Canadian governments.

Travelling speed of the 'copters is 70 miles an hour but on Monday they were battling a 20 mile-an-hour headwind so the actual progress through the air was only 50 miles an hour.

Civil Servants To Meet Nov. 18th

The Civil Servants Association Branch No 3 will hold a short business meeting at the Court House on Thursday evening Nov 18. ## Gay Dance First Social Function Of The V. H. S.

V.H.S.'s first social function of the year was in the form of a 'Harvest Ball' with Hazel Barr as M.C. Inman's orchestra, and a gay program of square dances, novelty dances and just plain dances providing the evening's entertainment.

On Friday, Oct. 29 everything went backwards as V.H.S. celebrated that yearly occasion, Sadie Hawkins with the girls doing the honors of course. The day was suitably ended with a Sadie Hawkins dance at the armories with Hazel Barr as M.C. and Inmans' again providing the music. With the guests V.S.A. V.H.S. set off to a gay round of dancing. By College rules the party came to a close, all boys looking forward to next year's Sadie Hawkins (girls too?).

The Shakespearean play 'Romeo and Juliet' will be presented at the V.S.A. on Nov. 13 under the sponsorship of V.H.S., V.S.A. and Jr. High. This should be of interest to all high school students and parents.

These will sell at $1 each and it is hoped that every family will take at least one or both of these items. The proceeds from this venture will go towards improvement of the Kinsmen paddling pool and the setting up of playground equipment.

This is a very worthwhile venture and it is hoped that the general public will support the Kinsmen generously — as well as helping the club each household can avail themselves of delicious Planters peanuts and peanut butter. Buy two and send some to friends for Xmas.

So be ready on Friday evening Nov. 26 any time after 7 p.m. when a Kinsmen 'Peanut Man' will be calling on you. 20-1x

Ed. Wilson Dies At Victoria

Brought To Justice After Year's Lapse

FINGER PRINTS WERE ONLY EVIDENCE

The Vermilion detachment of the R.C.M.P. concluded a case in the Supreme Court at Vegreville on Nov. 1 1954 in which they brought the culprit to justice after a crime which he committed in Vermilion on Aug 19 1953 more than a year before.

It will be recalled that early on the morning of Aug 19 the Texaco Service station was broken in to, entrance being gained by breaking a window. The culprit was apparently surprised to find an attendant sleeping in the garage. A scuffle ensued during which the intruder choked the attendant and made good his escape with nothing to show for his pains.

Cpl. Serby of the Vermilion detachment of the R.C.M.P. immediately went to work on the case. There was absolutely no evidence with the exception of the broken window glass found outside the service station. Working with the identification branches of the R.C.M.P. at both Edmonton and Ottawa it was found that the owner of fingerprints on the glass had a record. They identified the man as Michael John Perepelkin whose abode was in Vancouver. A search was started at the coast, lead after lead was followed during the ensuing year [illegible] the wanted man was found right in Edmonton.

At the [illegible] on Nov. 1 [illegible] for the first time in this officer's experience consisted solely of finger prints. There was no doubt of their ownership and Mr. Michael John Perepelkin was found guilty and sentenced to two years and one day at the Prince Albert penitentiary.

Ratepayers of Vermilion on Friday of last week rejected a by-law for borrowing $40,000 at a low rate of interest from the Provincial government. The count was 228 votes against the by-law with 209 in favor. There were six spoiled ballots making 443 ballots cast out of a total on the list of 642.

The purpose of the $40,000 was to retire the present mortgage of $7,100 on the new curling rink, and to instal an artificial ice plant at a cost of $30,000.

The plan called for annual debenture payments of $2,751. The payments were to have been met by the curling club paying an annual rink lease of the same amount, to the town.

Famed Play "Romeo and Juliet" At V. S. A. Saturday, Nov. 13th

At 8:15 p.m. on Nov. 13 at the Vermilion school of agriculture the Shakespearean play "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented by the Lancaster Theatre Co. under the joint sponsorship of the Senior and Junior high schools and V.S.A.

The Lancaster Theatre Company, [illegible] professional [illegible] will give one performance only on Saturday night. At present the group is on tour playing the cities and many of the larger towns in Alberta. The players with this company are all experienced actors and actresses who have graduated from accredited colleges of drama and who have built an excellent reputation based on past performances.

The sponsoring schools do not consider this a money making venture. The prices $1 for adults and 50 cents for students are set much below the regular admission charge for the purpose of giving every student and citizen of Vermilion an opportunity to see a Shakespearean drama capably handled by a professional group.

Advance tickets will be on sale this week by students of the Junior High school.

Tragic love brought to an end the bitter enmity between the two time honored houses of Capulet and Montague. The century old struggle between them could be resolved only by love's great sacrifice in death. Such is the nature of the theme in the tragedy "Romeo and Juliet".

There can be no doubt that this play is one of the greatest love stories ever written by human hand. It is filled with heroic, tender love, and great deeds are performed in hatred's terrible name. The sweet but immature love of Juliet for Romeo came to a violent end only to serve a higher love — the more spiritual and moderate love of the human family one for the other. This bond of youth's passionate love uniting two very fine young people ends forever the deathly struggle between the houses of Montague and Capulet.

Your heart thrills as you follow the great moral problem of this play, namely love conquers hatred but love must be prepared to make tremendous awful sacrifices. Our sympathy pours out to Romeo and Juliet, even though early in the play we know that their love must be sacrificed on the altar of death so that peace might abide in the hearts of the Capulets and Montagues. We are made aware, in a very real way, of an old but profound dictum: that the sins of the parents often befall their children.

Both young and old will enjoy this play and will be thrilled to the very heart as unfolds the story of "a pair of star-crossed lovers take their lives,

Whose misadventured piteous overthrows
Do with their death bury their parents' strife."

ELKS CARNIVAL TO BE HELD

Statements by men in public office and supposedly well versed in provincial and world affairs, berating the present system of large divisions in Alberta always cause this writer a certain amount of amazement. Surely such men as the president of the Provincial Liberal Association must realize that had not the large division for school administration been introduced into Alberta in the late 1930's a complete breakdown of education in the one-room rural schools would have resulted during the war of 1939-45. This would have been the result of a severe teacher shortage, and due to the fact that farmers, themselves working short-handed and long, long hours just could not have spent the time necessary in seeking teachers and maintaining the school plant. Even in larger Alberta towns such as Vermilion, which are much less likely to feel teacher shortages, officials spent days at a time hovering around University summer school sessions in attempting to maintain teaching staffs. For the past 12 years teachers could pick and choose at will and are not in the least inclined to select the one-room rural school. Teacher shortages became even more marked following the war when there was a general exodus of teachers to other vocations where remuneration was more inviting, as teachers' salaries were the last to reach parity after being frozen during the war period.

Based on experience gleaned from having taught in rural schools and from serving 11 years on the local school board and five years on the school division board, the writer is prepared to say had not the enlarged school division been introduced that centralized administration of rural schools would have become a forced issue the same as centralized schools have become. Even with the greatest percentage of one room rural schools closed throughout the province there are still not enough teachers to fill all the positions.

Sound Investment

If you must buy seed grain this year, or if it has been 4 to 5 years since you have sown registered seed don't overlook the many advantages of pedigreed seed. It will cost only a small amount more per bushel. Yet registered or certified seed is pure to variety of high percentage germination and is free from noxious weed seeds. Certainly for the small extra cost the wise operator will not pass up the advantages of pedigreed seed for nondescript grain that may cost a few cents less but all too frequently contains a large number of other crop and weed seeds to the pound.

Before buying ungraded seed check percentage germination and weed seed content urges Robert L. Pharis, Supervisor of Crop Improvement Alberta Department of Agriculture. He points out that if such grain is now in germinaion the rate of seeding will have to be increased, thereby increasing the seed cost per acre possibly above that of pedigreed seed.

The benefits of a uniform stand, evener ripening and freedom from objectionable weed seeds makes the use of registered or certified seed a far more profitable venture. Remember there is no such thing as cheap seed!

PUREBRED CATTLE SALE

On Saturday the Vermilion Agricultural Society will hold their annual sale of purebred stock. The pigs will be sold at 10 a.m. and the cattle at 1 p.m. Even if you don't expect to buy a bull, a boar or a calf, come around anyway. There is always something for a stock man to learn around a sale. Also if you see any bargains you will want to take them home.

CULLING THE LAYING FLOCK

Laying flocks should be culled regularly at this time of the year. A circular available from this office explains how you can tell if a hen layed yesterday, today or will lay tomorrow. Why not cull your flock and use the axe where the pullets are just 'boarders'.

PUREBRED SIRE AREA

Last week Bert Hmack and your D.A. visited a number of farms where grade bulls were used this year. At only three farms were grade bulls found. Two of these farmers said they would sell them on the market and the other man was away. This is a purebred sire area and the law is to be enforced so if anyone has a 'scrub' bull why wait until you are summoned by the magistrate?

MASTITIS IN CATTLE

Mastitis or garget is a disease of the cow's udder. It is a bacteria disease. The milk comes in flakes or it is bloody. In the early stages penicillin and sulfa drugs are very effective. After the disease has been active for a few weeks the tissues of the udder are destroyed and the cow had best be sold for beef as she will never be a good milker again. Get a circular from this office on Mastitis.

CALF CLUB MEETINGS

On Friday, Nov 12 at 7:30 p.m. a meeting of the Mannville Calf club will be held in the municipal office at Mannville. On Saturday at 7.30 a meeting of the Vermilion Calf club is called to meet at the D.A. office. The Paradise Valley Calf club will be held the following week; the date is not set as yet. Now every boy and girl in these districts between the ages of 12 and 20 is invited to join one of these calf clubs. Come to one of the meetings or see me about calf club work. Parents are asked to think it over. Here is a program that will benefit your children.

STUBBLE BURNING

More reports are coming in about farmers burning stubble. It is poor business to burn stubble and besides it is against the law. Don't say I didn't warn you if the police officer brings out a summons to appear before the magistrate.

Dies at Beaverlodge

WHAT DOES PUBLIC WELFARE DO IN ALBERTA

The following is a summary of what may be regarded as pension plans for certain categories of Alberta citizens:

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

Under an agreement with the Government of Canada the Province has since 1st January, 1952, been paying assistance up to $40.00 a month under a means test to persons in the 65-69 age group who have resided in Canada for twenty years or its equivalent.

Fifty percent of the assistance paid may be recovered from the Federal Government.

BLIND PERSONS' ALLOWANCES

Pensions to the blind had for several years been paid under the former Old Age Pension Act. On 1st January 1952 a special Blind Persons' Allowances Act came into effect and, under an Agreement with the Government of Canada, the Province continued to pay an allowance up to $40.00 a month under a means test to blind persons who had attained the age of twenty-one years and had resided in Canada for ten years or its equivalent.

Seventy-five percent of the allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS

Since 1st April 1952 the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to widows of the 60-64 age group who had resided in the Province for the greater portion of the three years prior to the date of application and had resided in Canada for a period of fifteen years or its equivalent prior to the date the age of sixty years was attained.

DISABLED PERSONS' PENSIONS

Since June 1st, 1953 the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to disabled persons who have attained the age of twenty-one years and who have resided in Alberta for the ten years immediately preceding the date of the application.

Supplementary Allowance

An allowance up to $15.00 a month is payable under a means test to Alberta residents in receipt of Old Age Security, Old Age Assistance and Blind Persons' Allowances.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES

These allowances have been paid in Alberta since 1919 to any needy widow with dependent children according to the schedules in effect which vary from $50.00 a month to $145.00 a month. A special allowance up to $10.00 a month may, in addition, be paid in cases where the need is apparent.

The municipality in which the widow has acquired residence assumes twenty percent of the cost of the regular allowance, the Province paying the balance in addition to the special allowance. This allowance is payable until the child reaches the age of sixteen years or of eighteen years if attending school and making satisfactory progress.

HOSPITALIZATION AND TREATMENT SERVICES

The Province at its own expense provides certain hospitalization and treatment services to Alberta residents who are in receipt of Old Age Assistance, Mother's Allowance, Widow's Pension or Supplementary Allowance. This is also available to recipients of Old Age Security under a means test.

The Province pays the entire cost of the administration of the foregoing services.

OLD AGE SECURITY

To persons who have attained the age of seventy years and have resided in Canada for a period of twenty years or its equivalent the Federal Government pays a pension of $40.00 a month without a means test.

READ and USE THE [illegible]

This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

Vermilion, Alberta,
Nov. 10, 1954.

The Editor,
The Standard.
Dear Sir:

It has come to the attention of a good many members of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion that this organization is being credited with having taken an active part in connection with the recent By-law plebiscite in an endeavor to defeat the By-law.

It is desired to point out to the public that the local Branch of the Legion took absolutely no part whatsoever in connection with the vote, although some members of the organization doubtless exerted effort towards the defeat of the By-law. There were other members of the Canadian Legion however, who supported the By-law and it should be made clear to the public that individual attitudes of members have nothing whatever to do with the policy of the local Branch.

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion purchased shares in the new curling rink to the value of $100 and for several years past have made their hall available to the curlers during bonspiels for the use of visiting and local curlers and have also been more than pleased to welcome the curling banquet which bears such an enviable reputation among the curling fraternity.

The Vermilion Curling club has on numerous occasions made their rink available for Legion bonspiels at no cost whatever and the spirit of co-operation between the two organizations has always been of the finest character.

The Canadian Legion most assuredly wishes the curling club every success in their efforts to provide good sport during the winter months and has at no time taken any action which would work to the disadvantage of the curling club.

The use of your valued space to make clear the fact that the Canadian Legion took no part whatever, pro or con, in the recent plebiscite, is greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
Vermilion Branch, Canadian Legion. B.E.S.L.

Mr Ashley Cooper,
Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alberta.
Dear Sir:

We have an inquiry from Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Wilson, of Auckland, New Zealand, for information as to the whereabouts of her brother, Thomas John O'Neill, who went to the Vermilion district from Ireland about 30 years ago.

Mr. O'Neill first worked for an employer by the name of Ross or Rosa and Mrs. Wilson recalls her brother used to write home about the great number of steers on his employer's place.

In addition to Thomas John, there were his wife Matilda, a son named after the father, and a daughter Mary Jane.

Mrs. Wilson has been in New Zealand since 19[illegible], and she is anxious to communicate again with her brother and his family.

If any readers of the Standard can help in this matter, The Irish Society of Edmonton will appreciate receipt of the information, for transmission to Mrs. Wilson.

Thanking you,
Yours truly,
H. D. Carrigan,
President.

Vermilion, Alberta.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am again suggesting that you check over your Victory Bonds purchased during the last war and ascertain if it would not be profitable to exchange them for the current Canada Savings bond that has the guaranteed principal return when you ned it and interest at 3¼%.

To meet modern requirements the 9th Canada Savings Bonds have a floor price of $50 and a ceiling price of $5000. Denominations any multiple of $50. Telephoning the undersigned at 169 will be doubly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
H. P. Long

Audrey Dorothy Watts Is Bride At Church Wedding

St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion, was the setting for a beautiful wedding on Wednesday October 27 at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon when Dorothy Audrey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs Thomas Watts, became the bride of Mr Marvin A. Willmer, son of Mrs. Edna Willmer and the late Mr. A. Willmer of Derwent, Alberta. The Rev. Douglas A. Ford performed the ceremony. St. Saviour's choir sang "O Perfect Love" and assisted throughout the service.

The church was tastefully decorated with mauve and gold spray chrysanthemums on the altar while large baskets of bronze and gold chrysanthemums graced the major part of the church. Pink bows marked the guest pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a strapless gown of white nylon net over bridal satin, topped by a redingote of nylon lace, fashioned with a small stand-up collar and lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of filmy net edged with lace was softly gathered to a headdress of matching lace with pearl trim. A white gold necklace, with brilliant setting and earrings to match, gift of the groom, was her only jewelry. She carried a cascade bouquet of cream talisman roses.

The bridal attendants, Miss Greta McPherson, maid of honor, and Miss Marian Pilkie bridesmaid, wore similarly styled floor-length gowns of nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with bouffant skirts and strapless bodices, modified with little cape stoles. Petite poke-shaped headdresses and matching mittens completed their ensemble.

Miss McPherson chose nile green and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Pilkie's choice was a toast shade and her bouquet was of yellow chrysanthemums.

The little flower girls Gail and Wendy Hadley nieces of the groom were daintily dressed in ruffled yellow organdy with head bands of organdy and flowers and wore little white gloves. They carried small bouquets of bronze baby mums.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr Clifford Willmer as best man and Mr Donald Goldsmith. The ushers were Mr Jim Miller and Mr Douglas Willmer.

The wedding music was played by Mrs M. Simonsen. During the signing of the register Mr Watts, father of the bride sang "A Wedding Benediction".

Immediately following the wedding a reception to 160 guests was held in St. Saviour's parish hall. The hall was attractively decorated with baskets of bronze and gold mums.

For receiving the guests the bride's mother wore a dress of dusty rose nylon lace over taffeta complemented by a powder blue feather hat and matching gloves. Her corsage was of pale yellow talisman roses.

Mrs Willmer, mother of the groom who assisted in receiving, chose a dress of Copenhagen blue nylon net with navy blue accessories and corsage of pink talisman roses.

The bride's table was laid with a cloth of heavy brocaded damask, a wedding gift to the parents of the bride 24 years ago. A tiered wedding cake on a crystal plate embedded in pink tulle and topped with pink sweetheart roses centred the table. It was flanked by pink tapers in silver candlesticks and crystal vases with pastel colored spray 'mums. A silver cake knife, a family heirloom, was used to cut the cake.

During the reception Mrs. J. Walline of Edmonton played appropriate music and Miss Greta McPherson of Lethbridge who graduated with the bride from the Royal Alexandra hospital this spring sang "Bless This House" and "I Saw You Go By".

Mr Gerald Stephens proposed the toast to the bride in a very interesting manner stating that he had known the bride through all her life and paid tribute to both families. The groom replied most fittingly.

Little Miss Joan Stephens was in charge of the guest book.

Mr T. B. Shuttleworth of Deal, Kent, England, great uncle of the bride was present at the wedding.

For going away the bride changed to a lime green knitted suit complemented with brown accessories. A corsage of yellow mums was pinned at the shoulder of her mustard yellow and brown tweed coat. She wore a hat of similar shade with green and red pheasant feathers.

The honeymoon trip will be by car to Eastern Canada, the U.S. and the West coast.

The groom is a well known young farmer of the Derwent district while the bride is a recent graduate of the Royal Alexandra hospital class '54.

On their return the happy couple will live on the groom's farm at Derwent.

Gas Turned On At Mannville; Realize Long Ambition

MANNVILLE. -- Mannville residents have realized one of their greatest ambitions, gas for the village of Mannville. As Mr. Hay, Mayor of the village, pointed out on Wednesday evening as he introduced Mr. Wright of the [illegible] western Utilities, the Board of Trade and the [illegible] have [illegible] for years [illegible] the installation of gas here. Several years ago a well just east of town proved valueless which was a great disappointment to all, not only from the money invested in it by the townspeople but hopes were high at that time that gas would soon be a reality. However, at approximately 9:45 p.m. on Wednesday Nov. 3, gas did become a reality when Mr. Hay opened the valve to signify the "gas turn-on at Mannville."

About fifteen officials of Northwestern Utilities were present at the general [illegible] held in the Legion hall Wednesday evening. They brought greetings and a welcome from the company and gave instructions on the use of gas as well as information concerning the billing and where and how to make payments on accounts.

Mr. Stewart gave a short history of the Company's operations from its beginning in 1923 to the present time. Gas is a fuel of "a million uses" [illegible] only for household use but for industry as well. Mr. Prasura then spoke on how the bills were calculated, on a rate accepted by the town and the Commission, and that arrangements had been made with the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the payment of accounts there.

Mr. Dale advised that gas piping must be installed according to certain standards and gas used with common sense and care. Gas should burn with a blue flame and if appliances are adjusted properly gas is absolutely clean. Mr. Throup will be staying in [illegible] for a few [illegible] and will be on hand to make any adjustments necessary. Mr. Dale also mentioned that furnaces and ranges could be converted but that the consumption would be higher although where it is not possible to have a furnace the converted [illegible] will [illegible]. He spoke of the various types of [illegible] equipment as well as refrigerators, water heaters, etc. Gas is odorized as a warning agent for safety.

Services rendered to home owners by the company were dealt with by Brigadier James Jefferson. A cooking demonstration early next month will be given by Miss F[illegible]erley. She will give recipes, advice on the utilization of gas in the kitchen, laundry, etc. [illegible]tion of appliances will also be given.

Mr. Fred Pardee gave a resume of the series of events which must be gone through before a meter is installed. The service line to the house and the house line must both be completed before a meter can be connected. Gas fitting should be done by a licensed fitter. Then application for a meter is made at the Bank of Commerce; for up to a five room house it is $5 and over that $10. This is for domestic dwellings only. The [illegible] rate is higher. Mr. Throup will be at the hotel and can be contacted there at phone No. 9 in the evening and through the day he will keep in touch with the town office. On week ends for any trouble that may arise the Midland hardware will contact Mr. J. Kirk, Vermilion.

A short question period after the meeting afforded time for those with questions to have them cleared up. The types of chimney and the linings of same were dealt with among other things. For those still in doubt, Mr. Throup or Mr. Kirk will be here to advise them on any difficulties that may occur.

After the flare was turned on and burning the officials of the Gas company, the Town council and a number of the business men returned to the Legion hall for refreshments and a social get-together.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By DR. F. J. GREANEY, Director, Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Sponsored by the following companies: Federal, Alberta Pacific, Reliance, Canadian Consolidated, Paterson, McCabe, Parrish & Heimbecker, Inter - Ocean, Independent Elevators, Milling and Quaker Oats.

ON STORING DAMP GRAIN

Owing to the late, wet harvesting season, the problem of storing "tough" and "damp" grain will be the cause of much concern to many farmers this winter. As announced earlier by the Board of Grain Commissioners, farmers who thresh "tough" and "damp" grain will have to store it themselves as space is not available in country and terminal elevators.

"Tough" Grain. With proper precautions it should not be too difficult to store "tough" grain safely on the farm, especially if the moisture content is under 16%. Here are a few important points: (1) As low moisture content is the key factor in safe grain storage, aim to store your grain as dry as possible. (2) Store "tough" grain in your smallest granary, where you can get at it for frequent examination, and for turning, if necessary. (3) Cool and clean your "tough" grain during cold weather. Remember, the drier, the cleaner, and the cooler you can get your "tough" grain the longer it will store safely.

"Damp" Grain. The safe storage of "damp" grain presents a more serious problem, especially if the moisture content is over 18%. If your grain is "damp", you will have to dry it on the farm before Spring. In the meantime, get the moisture content down as low as possible, keep the temperature down, and clean the grain. Cleaning is a "must" for "damp" grain. The simplest method of drying grain is to mix "damp" grain with dry grain of the same grade, of course, if this is available. If you need a drier, however, use a recommended "batch" drier, but be sure and keep the temperature of the hot air down to 135°F. to avoid grain damage. Furthermore, don't attempt to dry seed-grain, or barley for malting. Seek advice on the best grain-drying methods from your Agricultural Representative, and contact your elevator Agent for help in having samples of dried grain tested at the laboratory of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

Forestall Alcoholism

Incipient alcoholism can be recognized and forestalled long before a drinker reaches the 'problem' stage, according to the Alcoholism Committee of the Health League of Canada. However, the committee points out, the only way alcoholism can be tackled from a preventive point of view is through intensive campaigns of public education such as are carried on by the League.

The message of the Alcoholism committee is presented in the current Health Conservation page, a regular feature in Health Magazine. Not only alcoholics, but incipient alcoholics as well as non-drinkers who might find themselves in a position where they can be helpful, need to be educated in the facts of alcoholism, before Canada can make any marked headway in the prevention of this disease. Well meaning but ill-informed efforts to help often can do more harm than good, the committee pointed out.

A large number of alcoholics do not seek treatment until after they have reached the 'gutter' stage, and by this time they have not only the problem of breaking from alcohol but the almost impossible job of picking up the broken pieces of their lives. An alcoholic who has reached this stage is likely to have lost his family, his friends, his job, and his money.

However it is unnecessary for a drinker to reach the 'gutter stage' to convince himself that he is one of those who cannot drink. There are a number of clear warning signals in the early stages of alcoholism, when a drinker is still a responsible job-holder, family man and social individual, which indicate that any further continuation of drinking can only lead, more or less rapidly, to the 'gutter stage' of chronic alcoholism.

These signals include frequent 'blackouts' without marked intoxication, a tendency to gulp the first two drinks, a dislike for social affairs where alcoholic beverages are not served, a tendency to sneak extra drinks at parties where liquor is flowing too slowly or to fortify oneself with two or three stiff shots before going to such a party. These signs, when they all appear together with enough frequency to make up a regular pattern, indicate the need for a break with alcohol. This break is not difficult at this stage, but it becomes increasingly more difficult in the following stages.

The Alcoholism committee of the Health League points out that it is in need of voluntary contributions in order to finance its educational service to the people of Canada. With sufficient funds, the committee estimates, it can turn the tide of alcoholism in Canada which is at present increasing in prevalence from year to year.

During 1953 Canada recorded 1,657 business failures, up 10% from 1952. Not all employers make money.

Weather Instrument Travels Long Way

A weather instrument known as a "radiosonde" attached to a balloon and sent up by the United States Weather Bureau, travelled all the way to Art Majury's farm just south of Vermilion before it landed. The instrument operated as a radio transmitter of the temperature, pressure and moisture of the air through which it travelled. The balloon bursts at a height of 16 miles and the radiosonde then floats down on an attached parachute. Its return is requested to the U.S. weather bureau. The instrument must have landed some time during Thursday night on the Majury farm as the men were summerfallowing there during the day and it was found Friday morning on the same field by Sheldon May. It is a compactly packed and intricate device. The parachute is made of a weatherized oiled paper, making a very tough material.

Teletype Installed At The C.N.R.

A teletype has been installed at the Canadian National depot this week with direct connection to Edmonton. This means that telegrams from that centre are automatically printed as they come off the teletype in Vermilion, and the same applies to messages sent to Edmonton from here over the teletype.

An operator may now be busy receiving or sending on the key while telegrams from Edmonton can come in over the teletype at the same time.

If you get a telegram with the message printed on narrow strips and pasted to the telegram form, it means that it has been received by teletype.

4H CLUBS RALLY AT MANNVILLE

MANNVILLE — On Saturday Nov 6 the Mannville 4-H clubs - the Clothing club, Barley Calf and Turkey clubs held their second annual rally in the Orange hall. A buffet luncheon served by the Girls club was enjoyed by all the members after which Mrs Jackson leader of the Girls club led the groups in the 4-H pledge.

Mr Gamble chairman for the evening called upon Mr Buckingham to introduce Mr Black the Supervisor of 4-H clubs in Alberta. Mr Black gave a very interesting talk on the value of 4-H clubs.

Awards were presented to the following members of last year's calf club by Mr Buckingham, D. A. as follows:

Shirley McDonald for the best Aberdeen calf, the best showmanship and the efficiency award. Josie McDonald for the highest number of points for first year members. Joan Clennett won the award donated by Mr James Bennett for the best kept records for first year members. Several other awards were also presented.

Mr Braithwaite Alberta Wheat Pool field man spoke on the value of Club work.

A solo "Happy Wanderer" by Ruth Gamble accompanied by Mrs Joan Lugg completed the first part of the evening.

The meeting was open to the public and Mr Cornish M.L.A. introduced the guest speaker of the evening Mr Halmrast. He spoke on Agriculture past and present and the opportunities that the young people have today if they have the ambition to use them. Clubs achievement days, etc.

Norma McLarkie and Doreen Gerhart accompanied by Connie Gerhart sang a few selections which were followed by community singing. Then the floor was cleared for a dance sponsored by the Girls club and to which the other clubs were invited. Coffee and doughnuts were served to close a very enjoyable evening. There was an attendance of over 100 which included a large percentage of the members and their parents. All went home talking about the enjoyment derived from their annual get-together.

Dewberry Ladies Plan Chicken Supper

The Dewberry Ladies' Aid held their November meeting at the home of Mrs J Porter. There were ten members present and two visitors. Mrs. G. Hodgson vice-president presided.

The meeting opened with a hymn followed by the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. S Websdale read the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. Ewen the Upper Room, leaving the members with this thought, "What can I do today for the church I love?"

The treasurer gave her report. Sunshine lady reported sending one card, this was to Mrs. J. Anderson who was congratulated on the birth of a daughter. Completion of plans for the annual chicken supper and bazaar were made. This is on Nov. 17 and everyone is invited. Mr Berg and Mr Pinsent from Marwayne kindly offered to show their new slides after the chicken supper. Mr Berg has colored films on their trip through the southern States which sound most interesting and enjoyable.

Mrs S. Websdale moved that tea money from this meeting be sent to the Toronto Flood Relief. This was seconded by Mrs. J Porter and carried.

The meeting gave a vote of thanks to the Porter ladies for the party they put on for Mrs. Wes Hodgson. Mrs. Hodgson has been an active member of the Aid for twenty years or more. She is now living in Red Deer and is greatly missed by the ladies here.

Happy Birthday was sung to our November birthday member, this was Mrs J Porter.

December meeting is at Mrs. V. Denault's. The meeting closed with the Benediction and following this the hostess assisted by Mrs. Milo Hodgson, served a delicious lunch.

C.W.L. Plan Activities

The Catholic Women's League of Vermilion held their regular monthly meeting in the parish hall on Thursday Nov 4th at 8 p.m.

Final plans were made for the catering to be done for the Knights of Columbus initiation banquet to be held in Holy Name parish hall Sunday Nov 7. Mrs Gordon Ross and Mrs. Toner Sr agreed to convene the dinner.

President Mrs Vivian Dyck again reminded members and all lady parishioners to turn in 3 articles for the bazaar. Final preparations were drawn up for the bazaar to be held in the Legion hall Nov 27. There will be a fancy work table, rummage table, bake sale, raffle, and Xmas card sale and tea tables.

The bedding to be raffled at the bazaar will be on display in the window of Vivian's Style shop. Tickets on sale from members of the C.W.L. All stubs should be handed in not later than Nov 13.

Dr. Paysment entertained with a few home movie reels. One reel taken by Father Landrigan was especially interesting as many of the actresses were present at the meeting. Other reels were also very good and made us long for the good old summertime again.

Mrs Dowling and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin were the charming hostesses for the evening.

New Secretary For Alta. Hereford Club

The Northern Alberta Hereford Club takes great pleasure in announcing the appointment of Maury Jacobs as the new Club secretary-treasurer, to take over official duties commencing Jan. 1st, 1955. Maury is a member of the firm of Don Ball and Associates and is well qualified to fill his new position. The Club executive feels that through his work he should be of great service to the Club with his connections in the livestock industry.

Effective with the New Year, the Club offices will be moved to 10940 99th Street, Edmonton.

Due to the pressure of business, the retiring secretary-treasurer, Mr. Harold Paul of R.R. 4, Edmonton, has felt it necessary to relinquish the post he has held for the past four years since the formation of the Club. However, he has accepted the appointment as Assistant Secretary and will work hand in hand with the new secretary and assist him in every way possible. This arrangement should provide ample personnel to carry on the expanding duties and facilities of Club activities.

F.U.A. Roundup Day Monday, Nov. 22

EDMONTON. — Monday Week, Nov. 22 is F.U.A. Round-Up day. This date was announced to the public at the beginning of the month and is being supplemented by advertisements appearing in 77 weekly newspapers blanketing the province and the B.C. [illegible]

A volunteer force of 400 Foremen assisted by 2400 riders (canvassers) with about 2000 co-riders (assistant canvassers) who are working wherever possible in pairs, have already been organized, according to an announcement from Farmers' Union of Alberta headquarters this week.

The final three weeks of preparation for the one-day drive is expected to increase the canvassing crews by at least 200 foremen and 1200 canvassing teams. They will represent an overall total of 8000 farm men and women in approximately 4000 cars or trucks to comb the Round-up area.

In a statement to the weekly press Round-up director Waldo Summers said that only adverse weather on Round-up day could offset a record enrollment of rural dwellers within the grassroots farm body. "I am convinced that realization of the F. U. A. objective lies within our grasp," he said. "All that is needed is fair weather and a faithful turn out of Foremen and their Crews. Given those two basic requirements we should make farm organization history in Alberta next Monday week."

The campaign is winding up with a rash of meetings it would appear from reports reaching the press. Speakers selected from a group of 23 FUA and FWUA district officials are holding almost 100 meetings within the next two weeks. It is expected that a further series of meetings will be held the week preceding the drive and that a prominent speaker representing the Interprovincial Farm Union Council will address a few mass meetings in the closing stages of the campaign, the F.U.A. release revealed.

Amazing Film Depicts Ancient Cities

You can pay a visit to the old walled city of Jerusalem, Petra, ancient Babylon or Tyre through a new Moody Institute of Science film, "The Stones Cry Out", which will be shown at Alliance chapel, Vermilion on Monday, Nov 15 at 8 p.m.

Moody Institute of Science, a branch of Chicago's Moody Bible Institute, is famous for its Sermons from Science films. However, "The Stones Cry Out", is not like the science films. To make this picture, Dr Irwin Moon, director of MIS took up his camera and headed for the Near East with an archaeological gleam in his eye. He wanted to record on film what archaeologists have found out about the ancient cities whose ruin was predicted in the Bible.

The result is an eye-filling historical study in gorgeous color. Dr William Culbertson, president of Moody Bible Institute, who accompanied Dr Moon to the Near East, is the film's commentator.

The MIS camera pokes its curious lense into the ruins of some of the most fabulous cities of all time — Babylon, where King Belshazzar saw the handwriting on the wall, and site of the hanging gardens; the rose red city of Petra, whose magnificent temples were carved out of the cliffs and mountains of the Arabian desert; the once-thriving seaport and commercial center Tyre. The camera also takes a peek at Jerusalem, home of shrines of both the Christian and Moslem faiths.

The film points up the fact that as these cities became great, they forgo moral and spiritual values and their power and wealth dried up. See this amazing film at the Alliance chapel next Monday. An offering will be received.

We're More Law-Abiding

Serious crime is increasing sharply in the United States, up 8% already over the same period a year ago. Daily average for 1954 to date has been: murders 35; assaults 252, rapes 48; cars stolen 6??, robberies 197.

Experts disagree on the reason for this trend. It is contrary to normal and it is described by the FBI as 'alarming'.

Health Unit Notes

CHILD TRAINING
DESTRUCTIVENESS

Because it's wasteful, unnecessary and often costly, destructiveness in children arouses despair in the hearts of many parents. Children who destroy things may be roughly divided into two main groups:

1. Those who do it innocently or unintentionally.

2. Those who do it deliberately with malice.

Fortunately the former is much more common and parents who realize the distinction between the two groups, and seek out the underlying causes are usually able to redirect their children's activities and help forestall the more serious problem of malicious destructiveness.

INNOCENT TYPES

There is the bouncing baby who has no respect for anything around the house. For him the desire to taste, feel and examine is all important and a slap on the hand or loud 'No's' have little effect. Fill the needs of this child with toys that come apart and mud in which to dabble. Make sure that the valuables are well out of reach as well as anything with which he might hurt himself.

CURIOUS TYPES

Usually older and more orderly in his destructiveness, this child will dismantle a watch, unscrew the door knobs and tear papers into tiny shreds then more than likely try to reassemble the bits and pieces.

A 4 or 5-year-old who destroys things not his own should be helped to fix up what has been damaged, but without scolding. Giving him proper play materials will help satisfy his inquisitive nature, old watches, broken dolls, odds and ends for his fix-it box, reading material that explains how things are made, what makes them 'tick' and so on.

CLUMSY TYPE

There is the clumsy child. He touches an article and it breaks; he bumps into things, knocks them over and demolishes them without seeming regard. Help is what he needs, not scolding. The doctor will advise about his co-ordination, sight and hearing. Often it's just a slowness in development calling for patience and understanding in helping the child develop the knack of handling things.

STRONG TYPE

He doesn't know his own strength! Whether he is two or twelve, this child needs special handling. Broken couch springs, trampled garden flowers, flattened pen nibs bear witness to his muscular vigor. Such children should be protected against themselves. Enforce rules consistently. No wrestling in the living room or bouncing on the beds.

Constant reminders may be necessary and what is more important plenty of alternatives. For the under six, supply a mat in the basement, heavy blocks, boxes, boards, climbing apparatus and swings for "muscle play" and a desk of his own. The older child should have opportunities for rough and tumble sports. With such outlets for their abundant energies, super-activities in the house can be more readily curbed.

TELEVISION ANTENNAS

The installation of television antenna supporting structures adjacent to overhead power lines constitutes a serious accident and fire hazard. If the structure contacts the power line either when it is being erected or later under storm conditions, the full voltage of the power line will be impressed on the structure and antenna. Fatal accidents and fires have been caused by such contacts.

Persons erecting television antennas should wherever possible maintain sufficient clearance from the power lines to ensure that no contact will be made if the antenna structure falls. It is recommended that the distance from the power line be six feet greater than the total height of the structure. Where such clearance cannot be obtained the structure must be securely guyed away from the power line. The company owning the power line should be notified when the installation is being made so they may have a representative present to temporarily disconnect the line, if necessary.

Details of safe construction standards for Domestic antennas exceeding fifteen feet in height have been compiled by the Canadian Standards Association under Specification C22.4 No. 112. These Specifications are available from the Canadian Standards Association, National Research Building, Ottawa, at a cost of 75c per copy.

The minimum requirements for the installation of television antennas and lead in cables, together with the protective grounding required are contained in Section 54 of the Canadian Electrical Code Part 1, Sixth Edition, which has been adopted under the Electrical Protection Act of Alberta.

We Want YOUR Trade-In!

WHEN is the most economical time to trade cars? Spring? Fall? When your present car is one year old? Two years old? Three, four or five years old? When new models are first introduced? Or at the close of a model year? No one answer is correct ... in fact there are as many answers as there are different sets of driving conditions.

[illegible] per year and normally retains a car just 3 to 5 years, we can offer a strong argument for trading at the close of a model year. He will obtain a brand new car or truck for a considerably smaller cash difference than he would have to pay on the latest model. The unit that he buys will have been proven by the experience of thousands of other drivers, and when it is eventually offered for trade four or five years from now it will bring very near as much as a car one year newer. (For example note the small spread in prices between a '47 and '48 or a '48 and '49.) In addition to this, by trading now you eliminate the possibility of repair bills, cost of purchase of winter tires, etc., and gain peace of mind which comes from driving a brand new car.

TO THOSE OWNERS of cars or trucks ... 1952 or older ... we say that now is the most economical time to trade, and we will offer you a deal that will prove it.

The World of Wheat

By W. O. MALAHER, Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Co. Ltd.

A TIME TO EXAMINE STOCKS

Because much of the crop was seeded late, and the quality in many areas has since been affected by excessive moisture, rust and frost, it will be more important than ever this year to make an early test of grain to be seeded in 1955.

Whilst many farmers find it desirable to have an official germination test made at their nearest Plant Products Division laboratory — and this is a necessary step if the grain is to be sold as seed — a simple and fairly accurate germination test of seed for one's own use can be made on the farm.

A useful leaflet describing four methods that may be followed can be obtained either from the nearest Searle Elevator agent, or by writing direct to the Research Department, Searle Grain Co. Ltd.

It is suggested that a home test, following one of the methods outlined, made early will give a good indication of how well and how strongly the seed will germinate. Seed that is on the borderline or about which there is any doubt, can then be discarded or perhaps forwarded for an official test under controlled conditions.

Ex-Newspaperman Gets High CNR Post

G. H. LASH

W. R. WRIGHT

The promotion of G. Herbert Lash, director of public relations, Canadian National Railways, to assistant to president, was announced in Montreal recently by Donald Gordon, chairman and president. A former newspaperman, Mr Lash brings to his new post a wide and intimate knowledge of Canadian affairs. He will be succeeded as director of public relations by W. R. Wright, heretofore special assistant in the president's office.

FIFTH IN USE OF MILK

Last year, Canadians were the fifth heaviest consumers of milk and milk products in the world, only to be outdone by Ireland, New Zealand, Sweden and Australia. Ireland's per capita use of milk for all purposes was 1262 pounds, New Zealand 1349, Sweden 1234, Australia 1056 and Canada 1033, according to Dairy Farmers of Canada. The United States was the 13th on the list with a total milk use of 882 pounds per capita, and the Netherlands, another dairy country, had a per capita consumption of only 580 pounds. In fluid milk consumption Sweden ranked first with 513 pounds and was followed by Norway with 486 pounds, New Zealand with 482 pounds, Switzerland 478, Canada 408, Denmark 389, Ireland 388, U.S. 380, United Kingdom 344, Australia 308.

There are now more than 50 different household electrical appliances in use in Canada today, compared to only 19 in 1930.

WILDMERE WINGS

Here are a couple of items we have overlooked. An old landmark that has been here since 1917 was moved away not long ago. It was the late Jim Kennedy house. It stood on a hill and could be seen for miles, making that spot look very vacant now. Mr. Hicks bought it and had it moved up near Vermilion.

We also forgot to mention the Gay 90's dance, first one of the season, held on Oct. 27. It was an enjoyable affair and a nice crowd attended. "They are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lechak as it was their 11th wedding anniversary. We were sorry to lose Fay McLennan as secretary of the Gay 90's, but are happy to have Lena Millar take her place. Tommy Thompson was re-elected as president.

Little Beverly Westman has been staying with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. Batke of Basswood while her little brother is recovering from an operation caused by swallowing a pin curl clip. He is coming along very nicely now.

We are sure everyone is pleased to know Miss Keith is back at the hospital feeling very well after her serious illness in the summer.

All are very sorry to hear that Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. I. Gordon and Mr. Geo. Webb are all patients in the local hospital and wish them a speedy recovery to health.

While not quite so many attended the Old Timers' banquet and dance as last year, a good time was enjoyed by all. The supper was delicious and the ladies who catered are to be heartily congratulated for their fine work. A short program followed with Jack Veitch leading in a sing-song. Mr. and Mrs. Funnell, Johnny Webb and Jack Veitch sang songs intermingled with speeches from Chas. Robinson, Mr. Steele and Mr. McCauley. You'll want to keep that bill of groceries Mr. McCauley, you will never get a bargain like that again! Minutes of las meeting were read by Mrs. Crost, President George Webb was in the chair. The same slate of officers was re-elected and the committee is to interest some new ones to take over next year. A dance followed with the Kreller orchestra and J. Wallington as M.C. It really was nice meeting so many old timers. Mrs. Cavil was the oldest member and is still very alert and active. Mr. Chas. Robinson came from Edmonton to be present and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Veitch of Battleview joined the Old Timers. We'll all be looking forward to the annual round up next year folks.

The Girls Club dance held in the Basswood school was a decided success Friday evening last. A big crowd turned out. Music was by Horpstads. Howard Lumley was M.C.

Peggy Graham of the Royal Alex hospital spent the week end at her home in Wildmere. Peggy will soon have completed two years of her training.

A speedy recovery is wished Mr. Tom Sherwood whoh as been in an Edmonton hospital. He is now home we are happy to say.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wells, nee Dorothy Isley, for a long, happy married life.

When Jimmie was showing his family road work on Sunday that had been done this fall we noticed Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coburn and family were visiting Mrs. Coburn's parents Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Nelson of Kolnee. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will have a lovely home when it's completed.

Not often at this time of the year farmers are able to work on the land. Every day so far they are working getting caught up on some of their work unable to be done when it was so wet. The long open fall has really been a blessing to all.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bauman and family were visitors to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cruthers on Thursday evening of last week.

3 MEN
who are working for Your Wife

Right this minute, these men are working for your wife. And there are hundreds more like them — members of the natural gas industry team that puts this all-purpose fuel at her finger-tips.

The fellow at the left? He's a driller who helps bring in the new wells for a constant source of natural gas.

The one in th middle? He's a pipeliner. He and his buddies turn their skill to providing the high-pressure lines that lead from the gas fields to your community.

The third man is responsible for maintaining the miles of gas mains under your streets ... for providing dependable natural gas service for you and your neighbors.

These three men are part of your gas company organization that keeps the gas coming when you want it and in the quantities you want. Constant maintenance by your gas company goes on in all kinds of weather.

"Actually natural gas is one of my biggest bargains. It's worth every cent I pay for it ... and then some!"

REMEMBER THE GOOD TIMES . . .

A lot of talk is going the rounds these days about the "bad times", "hard times", "dirty 30's" etc. . . . we remember the "good times" most . . . Those times a week when we were kids, we had people in to sing around the piano . . . Our house was always full of "the gang" and the rug got rolled up while somebody played the piano . . . We never sat around a cafe, roamed the streets, or saw three or four shows a week when we were young, because we had more fun AT HOME . . . Before you get too upset about the young people not behaving — (we have over 70 of them coming to our accordion school and they are ladies and gentlemen, every one) . . . before you wonder why they don't stay home more, ask yourself this question . . . "What have they to do with themselves and their friends at home?" Will you let them sing and dance? They soon get tired of listening to records, soap operas, horse operas, etc. Let's get [illegible] to the "Good ol' times" . . . quit worrying about the "bad times" and remember this, in the "good ol' times" a piano in the living room was the first on the list of "we must haves".

And driving a nice little car of English make is Don Hannon. Ah, there is the car that takes you miles and miles for 'verra, verra little money'. Think of going from Islay to Edmonton and return for a couple of dollars! Tut, tut, do I hear? Well, ask Mr. Hallington.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

School Trustees In Annual Convention

EDMONTON — Two hundred delegates, members of Alberta's local school boards which this year will be responsible for spending nearly $50 million, met in Edmonton last week to talk over mutual problems and debate methods of operation.

RIGHTS OF TEACHERS

Teachers, their rights and training, stirred the delegates to some of the most lively discussion as various groups clashed on whether teachers should have the right to strike and how much training they should have to attain permanent certification.

Education Minister Anders O. Aalborg, addressing the convention on the opening day, gave the merest hint that the next session of the legislature would find itself considering education matters. He said the government is aware of the growing burden the cost of education is placing on taxpayers and is studying the best way to reduce it.

Which means, at least to most observers, that the government is attempting to arrive at the proper basis for putting more cash into the funds of local school boards without making it look too much like a straight gift.

This year school grants total $18 million, including grants for construction purposes.

ASK FEDERAL AID

In connection with money, the trustees passed a resolution asking the federal government to make direct grants to the provinces to assist in meeting the costs of elementary and secondary education. Also dealing with money, another resolution suggests that school trustees' remuneration should be raised from $3 to $5 per board meeting.

The question of whether teachers should have the right to strike sparked sharp controversy during the convention's second day. It was touched off by a resolution requesting that disputes between the school boards and teachers be taken out of the Labor Act.

NEWELL COUNTY & THE STRIKE

The resolution was sponsored by the school committee of Newell County. The Newell delegate, Ben Plummer, felt it was "deplorable that teachers can stop our education system by going on strike . . . part of a teacher's duty should be to maintain continuous service."

Newell County, where teachers went on strike last summer for higher wages, also sponsored resolutions designed to restrict the power of the Alberta Teachers' Association. Both were defeated. They asked the government to remove regulations which require teachers to belong to the A.T.A. before being allowed to teach and also to eliminate compulsory check-off of A.T.A. dues.

These suggestions met with strong opposition with trustees from the Crowsnest Pass area, where many of the men who sit on the school boards hiring teachers also are members of the United Mine Workers of America. Thus, no matter how they felt as board members about the power of well-organized teachers, they were bound to defend the right of workers, including teachers, to organize and to strike.

Said Steve Penhy, of the Coleman S.D.: "I believe in collective bargaining. A man has a right to give his labor or withhold it."

To some extent the matter was straightened out by Rudolph Hennig, of Fort Saskatchewan, who was elected to his 8th term as ASTA president. He suggested that everyone believes in collective bargaining but it was felt the bargaining rights of teachers should be placed under the School Act rather than the Labor Act. The resolution was re-worded to make this point clear and was passed.

A resolution calling for a minimum of two years' training for permanent certification of teachers was defeated by the convention as rural [illegible] teachers out of the classrooms and into the university to better their qualifications, aggravating the teacher shortage.

Many and Varied Activities Take Place at Dewberry Hi

The atmosphere of Dewberry Hi is again bursting with that old familiar spirit of enthusiasm. Lessons are in full swing, play is not forgotten, and social events have their place. The students this term are eager to explore wholeheartedly the adventures offered to each not only in the educational but also in the social field.

OUR STAFF

The high school staff has been increased by the addition of a third teacher. Miss Clark, Lloydminster, and Mr. Buchinski, Colonsay, are newcomers, but we have again welcomed Mr. Smith of Mannville as principal. They are respectively the home room teachers of the grade nines and the grade ten girls; the grade elevens and the grade ten boys; and the grade 12 class. The warmest welcome is extended to all three teachers from all 75 students.

THE INITIATION

After the usual bustle of outlining courses, buying books and other paltry details, initiation was again attempted. With initiation there came a new atmosphere, that of a hospital. Doctor Buchinski with his doctor's coat, satchel and all the other modern equipment, took care of the infirmary. Matron Clark, provided with equally modern equipment, was put in charge of the nursery. Male patients were dressed as babies, complete with rattles, short pants and girls' blouses (maybe the make-up made them feel big!). Probably no adjective could vividly describe the girls — especially Leona Mathison. If you can feature a girl with a short skirt, sweater, doll, nipple, braided hair and straw hat you must have seen one of our initiates. Upon request from a senior, a junior was forced to open doors, carry books, or even blow bubbles (Just ask Marion Wilson or Leona Kuzlu). Dr. Buchinski and Matron Clark had castor oil on hand as a quick remedy for anyone who complained of rheumatism, neuralgia, or sciatica. Some of the young lads complained just to have the pleasure of holding hands with Matron Clark! — but not Larry Grant, he didn't want the pleasure nor the castor oil!

TABLES TURNED AT DANCE

To wind up initiation ceremonies, a dance was held in the Greenlawn hall on September 17. Records, as well as part of the boys' band, provided enjoyable music. The initiates, still dressed as ordered, were brought before Judge Garnier at Frosh Court during intermission. The crimes were minor, but Oh, the punishments! Almost every freshman could be seen rolling peanuts across the floor, sweeping, or gathering vital statistics.

Then, suddenly the tables were turned! The seniors were seen with the straw hats, rattles, dolls, nipples, brooms and peanuts. Yes, the juniors got wise and decided to 'get even' somehow. Just who gave them the idea is hard to say. Thus 2:00 o'clock brought the dance as well as all initiation ceremonies to an end.

OFFICERS ELECTED

President Gary Garnier
Vice-Pres Meredith Whiteside
Secretary Ardis Mathison
Lunch Con Leona Mathison
Social Con Donna Fleming
Social Con Mae Tulloch
Boys' Sports Con Jimmy Jones
Girls' Sports Con Mae Tulloch
Grade 9 Rep Wayne Jones
Grade 10 Rep. Larry Grant
Grade 11 Rep Elaine Mathison
Grade 12 Rep Donna Thomson

In order to build up school funds the Students' Union will attempt to sell magazine subscriptions under an arrangement with Curtis Distributing Co., Philadelphia. Jimmy Jones has been elected as general manager. The pupils have been divided into three teams, the red, yellow and blue with Donna Thompson, Gary Garnier and Ardis Mathison being respective captains. The objective set is $225. Whether we reach our goal will be largely dependent upon the effort exerted by the students and the co-operation of the community.

HALLOWE'EN MASQUERADE

Hallowe'en as you all know is a time of goblins, witches and everything weird. To mark this occasion the Dewberry Students Union put on a masquerade dance on Friday, Oct. 29. In the line of costume there was everything from a cat to a monkey. The parents, the teachers, plus one guest per student were invited to this dance. Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time including Mr. Smith, who because of his knee, wasn't masked. He spent the night running from one queer looking something to another. The prizes were as follows: Comical couple, Mr. and Mrs. B. Hyatt as organ grinder and monkey; Best dressed couple, Betty Timanson and Una McMullen as a Dutch couple; Best dressed boy, Dean McMullen as a Chinaman; Best dressed girl, Joyce Parker as an angel; Comic man, Bruce McFadyen as a clown; Comic lady, Laurie Durnin in a red dress.

BASEBALL ORGANIZED

Early in September one of the high school boys got the idea of forming a baseball league within the school, which would consist of any boys from grade 7 to 12 who were interested. The objective of this league was to give the younger boys a chance to play baseball, therefore the games were played at noon hours. The organization meeting was held and the teams were chosen. There were enough boys to make six teams which were all named after the National League clubs, Giants, Senators, Braves, Indians, Yankees and Dodgers. A round robin schedule was drawn up and the teams got off to a flying start. But as the schedule was rounding the last lap with the Senators leading, the Dodgers in second place and the Braves 3rd, disaster struck. Due to cool damp weather and sore arms the schedule was not completed.

Fine weather continues, no change folks. We are certainly enjoying it too. A lot of visiting is being done after the very rushed season.

Last week the writer enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Torrance, Patsy, and Jean Axley from Islay. We enjoyed very much the story of the old gent who stayed away. It was a good laugh. Jean and Keith and the two boys arrived that day also. Keith and Donny went out to look for ducks.

On Thursday Betty came home from the hospital with her sweet little bundle. Mr. and Mrs. Collins arrived in time to see him.

Mrs Sherwood, Mrs. Jones and Mr Jones motored to Edmonton on Sunday to bring Tom home from hospital. A speedy recovery to health is wished him.

Hello Daisy, we hear that you have moved into Vermilion. You will miss your lovely big flower garden we are sure.

How many noticed the story telling of the lady in Winnipeg whose Amaryllis lily is 60 years old and still blooming. It has never been repotted. Can anyone beat this?

The writer really enjoyed her visit on Sunday Mrs Moore but did not get the chickens. Your relish was grand. The old Epitaphs really give one a good laugh. Those who read them in the Family Herald last week are far from sad. Here is one writen in 1831. "I have been kicked by a bull and a ram, now let me lay contented as I am."

Of Many Things . . .

By [illegible]

FREE PEARLS

On my bedside table I keep a copy of the New Testament, and I read it often, but I am afraid I have not been understanding it properly.

Sunday morning I went for a waterfront stroll. Ahead of me on the old, cobblestoned street, I saw a ragged group of men gathered on the lawn beside an ancient church. I quickened my step, and watched what went on. The side door of the church opened and a minister came out on the lawn with an arm full of old clothing. One of the men selected an old pair of shoes; another took a coat; some of them took sweaters, and pretty soon the whole lot of them were looked after. Another minister appeared with a tray of sandwiches. The tray was soon emptied, and the men filed off toward an old warehouse by the river. I said to the clergy, "Does this happen every day?" I thought the day of breadlines was over".

"They're used to coming here," he said.

"Can't they find jobs?"

The minister shook his head. "If I could only get them to experiment'" he said. "Once in a long while I will persuade a fellow to do that, and it works miracles."

"How do you mean?"

The minister waved his hand toward the shuffling group of men. "They'll take food, and clothes, and everything but what they really need. They don't realize it, but they are full of hate. They think the world is against them. When I offer them the secret that would save all their problems, they wink at each other and turn away."

"What is this secret you offer them?"

The minister smiled. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy self."

"But is that much comfort when you're cold and hungry?, I asked.

"Yes. The man who has physical strength enough to find his way to this door, day after day, in all sorts of weather, could achieve almost anything if he would accept those rules. If he would do them for a single week as an experiment, his misery would end. If I could catch just one of those fellows by the lapels, and persuade him for one single week to stand as straight as he could, talk as well as he could, take whatever job was offered to him, do more than was asked of him, rid himself of all envy, greed and hatred, his troubles would be over. It is that simple. But did you see how they grabbed for the old sweaters, the threadbare coats, and the few sandwiches we can afford to give them? They would have those things, instead of the real pearls of priceless value!"

That night when I picked up my copy of the New Testament and began to read it, it meant much more to me. The old admonitions stuck out from the page as if printed in bold face; turn the other cheek; give your cloak with your coat; go the second mile; bless them that curse you, pray for them that despitefully use you.

These are the divine paradoxes! Perhaps all of us could solve our problems by experimenting with them. Perhaps we all seek too many handouts of the wrong kind. We want to be served, instead of serving. Loved instead of loving. Sheltered instead of sheltering. For all these things we reach out eagerly - but we turn aside from the pearls which are so precious.

Mixed Chorus Concert and Guests Artists

Rare Musical Treat Sunday Evening

Harlan Green of Dewberry, who will be the guest artiste in Sunday's concert given by the Vermilion Mixed Chorus, is to be accompanied by a future concert pianist from Edmonton.

She is Miss Patsy Shandro, 13-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Shandro of Edmonton. When only eleven, Patsy appeared with the Edmonton Symphony orchestra when she performed Haydn's Piano Concerto. She is presently studying Grade X music at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Edmonton under the care of Madame Le [illegible].

Patsy has four brothers and one sister, of whom three are also studying music. She attends Garneau school in grade eight, and regularly gains top marks in her grade for both music and academic studies. She also takes an active part in sport and other extra-curicular activities.

Dr. and Mrs. Shandro, who at one time lived in Vegreville where the Doctor practised for six years, may also be present at the concert with their daughter.

In addition to the numbers by the guest artists, the Mixed Chorus will present a very fine and varied program of choruses, quartets, duets, and solos, by both ladies and gentlemen.

The concert will commence at 9:00 o'clock this Sunday evening at the Columbia theatre. Advance tickets may now be obtained from any member of the chorus.

3,750 Copies of The Standard Circulated This Issue

By arrangement with the Vermilion Board of Trade 1500 additional copies of the Standard of this issue have been printed and circulated. These extra Standards were addressed to families living on the fringe of the Vermilion shopping area.

Former Reeve Passes Away

For many years a prominent figure in the Vermilion River municipal district, Jack Leighton of Kitscoty passed away on Sunday morning Nov. 14th at the hospital in Lloydminster.

Mr. Leighton was well known as a former member and reeve of the Vermilion River M.D. council, and prior to that served on the Vermilion school division board.

Photos This Issue By Vermilion Photocraft

The Vermilion Board of Trade and the Standard are much indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Georg Conrad of the Vermilion Photocraft Studio for the co-operation and help with the photos in this issue. All the pictures were taken by Vermilion Photocraft, many of them at very short notice, and developed in a minimum of time. Excellent results were obtained as can be seen.

Story of Remembrance Day Services Held Over

The Standard regrets that a considerable number of news stories were crowded out this week, chief among them an account of the very impressive and well conducted Remembrance Day services under auspices of Canadian Legion. Due to the fact that numerous special articles appear in this issue, there was a shortage of space for current material, a shortage of time for writing and a shortage of time for typesetting.

WELCOME TO VERMILION

The Vermilion Board of Trade is, through this special issue of the Standard, extending a cordial welcome to the people of the district to come more and more often to Vermilion, and on behalf of the Council of the Town and the citizens generally I am pleased to echo this welcome.

In the past few years the Council has been endeavoring to make our Town of greater and greater value to our friends in the agricultural community and in the towns surrounding Vermilion; considerable effort has been expended in instituting satisfactory parking space, our streets have been brought up to city specifications, library facilities have been made available to district people, recreational facilities have been extended, notably by the addition of the fine park area in the river valley and we now feel that we have much to offer our friends in addition to splendid business and professional services of all kinds.

The people of the Town of Vermilion fully realize the value of friendly relations with those of the surrounding area and value very highly the regard of all who make Vermilion their shopping and recreational centre.

I am sure that I am expressing the wish of all of our citizens when I join with the Board of Trade in urging all readers of this paper to make more and more use of the facilities which we have available. As the winter season approaches we are able to offer fine curling and skating opportunities and, in addition, would point out that various organizations would welcome the addition of those from the surrounding area.

Doubtless those who reside outside of Vermilion will from time to time see opportunities by means of which what we have to offer might be improved and I can assure you that we are glad to receive suggestions at any time which might result in closer relations with those whom it is our desire to know better and serve better.

Vermilion has always been known as the Friendly Town, and you may rest assured that it is our aim, always, to live up to this reputation. It will be our hope that you may find much that is acceptable in the Town of Vermilion and you may be sure that at all times there will be a genuine Western welcome awaiting you in Vermilion.

Yours faithfully
S. CARL HECKBERT,
MAYOR, Town of Vermilion.

Brings Buyer and Seller Together

Successful Stock Sale Is Held By Vermilion Agricultural Society

The annual fall sale sponsored by the Vermilion Agricultural Society, was held on Saturday last and proved to be more successful than had been hoped in view of conditions this fall.

The sale of hogs proved to be unusually gratifying and is said by many to have been the best such sale in Northern Alberta this year. Some 42 head were sold to farmers and ranchers over a wide area and drew an average price of $72.45, the quality of the animals offered showed considerable improvement over that of previous years and this was doubtless responsible for the substantial level at which sales were made. The fair grounds was crowded with sellers and buyers all Saturday morning and Don E Ball of Edmonton acted in the capacity of auctioneer.

Changing the locale of the sale to the arena in the afternoon some 62 head of purebred cattle went under the hammer for average prices which compared most favorably with sales held in other centres. Few animals were withdrawn under the provision which permits the seller one bid on each animal. Breeders offering cattle for sale at Vermilion have stayed by the original intention of letting the animals go at the highest bid and it is seldom indeed that the right of bid is retained by the seller.

Taking into consideration the fact that many young animals were entered for sale the average prices received were satisfactory. In the Hereford classes the average price was $187.50, while Shorthorns drew an average of $167 and Angus just slightly less. W. R. Cornish, M.L.A. topped the Shorthorn sale with a young bull going at $250; Homer Campbell of Clandonald led in the Herefords with a handsome young bull, born in January, 1954 which brought the very satisfactory price of $350. W. E. Cross of Vermilion and Kennedy Bros. of Islay divided the honors in Aberdeen Angus, each receiving $200 for a fine 1954 calf.

The fall sale held by the Society has been found to serve a most useful purpose in bringing seller and buyer together. The aim of the Society, naturally, is to have distributed in the Vermilion district particulaly high quality sires and dams with an eye to the future betterment of the livestock of this area. Since the sale was begun several years ago hundreds of fine animals have been released for breeding purposes through the medium of the sale and it is a matter for considerable satisfaction that the Vermilion area is populated with fine livestock which serves to bridge the gap in farm revenues. Were the Vermilion district a strictly grain-growing area conditions could be very much worse than they are at the present time.

Mr Don E. Ball, the well known auctioneer who works out of Edmonton and conducts many of the outstanding sales in Alberta, expressed himself as pleased with the sale at Vermilion this year; while he pointed out that the general price structure was lower than in past years this was to be expected owing to the general drop in livestock prices. Average prices received at the Vermilion Agricultural Society sale compare quite favorably with those received at other similar sales and topped the average Edmonton sale prices by a substantial margin.

Sale day was mild and the facilities available at the exhibition grounds for selling hogs and those at the arena for efficient handling of cattle made for a fine sale. Members of the Women's Missionary Society of the United church prepared and sold light lunches at the arena and this service was much appreciated by all.

The Vermilion Agricultural Society is most appreciative of the co-operation of the town of Vermilion in granting the use of the arena and of the assistance that was received from a number of persons interested in the promotion of better livestock for Alberta. It is fully expected that the sale will continue in future years and breeders likely to have offerings in 1955 are urged to begin without delay in making their plans to offer only good quality animals which will serve a useful purpose in the general improvement of livestock.

Fish & Game Bring Jim Bond To Vermilion; Will Show Wildlife Films

One of the greatest outdoor men of today will be in Vermilion on Wednesday, Nov. 24 at the Agricultural college auditorium, to present three of his finest colored films. For Jim Bond of Portland, Oregon, this marks his first visit to Vermilion.

Hunter, outdoor man, fisherman, sportsman and wildlife photographer Jim Bond has been brought to Alberta by the Alberta Fish & Game Association and its affiliate clubs. Locally Bond will be sponsored by the Vermilion Fish & Game Association.

After attending the University of California School of Forestry Jim Bond proceeded to delve into the outdoors to find a rich and full living in doing the things he always wanted to do. With his marvellous gift of photography, he was able to capture on film the intrigue and wonderment of wild life in its natural habitat. His magnificent camera work has not gone unnoticed. Over the past ten years Jim Bond has become known to the hunting scene as one of America's foremost hunters and wildlife photographers. 44,000 feet of his Kodachrome wildlife motion pictures are being prepared into a television serial.

Such will be the films on show in the Agricultural college gymnasium on Nov. 24, beginning at 8 p.m. Three technicolor film productions of exciting things in exciting places. From live action shots of 120,000 pound whales to the beautiful, almost melodic scenes of dancing Silver Salmon. These and many more breathtaking shots will be on view for the people of Vermilion.

In order to gather material for his books, he has written four, and scenes for his films, Jim Bond travels over the entire continent. He has recently taken fishing films in Nova Scotia and in the Queen Charlotte Islands area. Next month he will be off to India for four months; and next summer he will gather gun, rod and reel and tramp far into northern Manitoba.

He will have a number of his books at the show and will autograph copies for those who wish them.

Doors open at 7:00 p.m. and the show starts at 8. Tickets are now on sale and will also be available at the door.

Alexandra Social Crediters Hold Annual Convention At Kitscoty

The annual convention of the [illegible] Constituency Social Credit Association met at the Kitscoty Legion hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 10. Delegates and visitors from Heinsburg Dewberry Marwayne Kitscoty Blackfoot, Paradise Valley McLaughlin, Wildwood, Early and Rivercourse were in attendance. Association President Merlin Moncrieff of McLaughlin occupied the chair and Secretary Treasurer Jim Smith of Kitscoty recorded the proceedings which were marked by much lively discussion and a spirit of keen enthusiasm.

The meeting selected delegates to attend the 1954 Provincial convention of the Alberta Social Credit League to be held at the Macdonald hotel in Edmonton on Tuesday and Wednesday Nov 23 and 24. Resolutions to the Provincial convention were considered and the business of the meeting concluded with a report on provincial affairs by the M.L.A. for the constituency and Minister of Education Anders O. Aalborg.

Delegates chosen to represent Alexandra at the Provincial convention are as follows: Mr. H. Whitcher of Borradaile, Messrs. Allan Weeks and Ira MacLeod of McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. A. Oretrecher of Blackfoot, Mr. Walter Sawak of Heinsburg, Mr. H. Stokes of Kitscoty, Mr. A. B. Hancock of Marwayne, Mr. L. G. Moffat of Rivercourse and Messrs. A. Clarke, Wm Davidson, J. Guy and J. Rayson, all of Paradise Valley.

Resolutions which will be submitted to the Provincial Government commend the government for its plans in connection with the observance of Alberta's Golden Jubilee in 1955, and also commend Premier Ernest C Manning and Highways Minister Gordon E Taylor for the measures which have been taken during the past year to promote greater safety on our highways. Another resolution requests the Provincial government to investigate the price of drugs and medicines.

In his report to the convention A. O. Aalborg expressed his deep appreciation to all delegates for their support, assistance and encouragement, and pledged himself to continue to exert his best efforts to promote the interests of Social Credit and welfare of the people of the constituency. He outlined the progress and expansion of the Social Credit movement across Canada and emphasized the importance of maintaining a strong and active organization in the Alexandra constituency.

L. E. McFadden Receives Gold Watch

Ten-year-old Mary Ann Grant a pupil at Rye school which is located some 12 miles north-east of Clandonald, has won a $100 prize for herself, another $100 in cash for her school, and $25 for Long's Drug store in Vermilion.

Mary Ann, who is a daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jack Grant, is a bright grade 6 student and won the prizes by entering a contest sponsored by the Waterman Fountain Pen Co., entitled "Back to School" contest. Neatness of writing was ranked high in deciding the winners.

Basketball League Standing, High School

At the beginning of the school term the grade tens and other new students at V.H.S. were alloted to one of the houses Carman Service or Laurier. Each house then elected its leaders for this school term. The results were:

Carman Stewart Cooper and Connie Harle.
Laurier Gerry Marshall and Anne Stewart.
Service Ed Frissell and Rhea [illegible].

The first house league sport of the year was basketball which began the first part of October. The results so far are much the same as last year, with Carman on top but competition is keen. [illegible] and Laurier and Service haven't given up yet. The standings up to date are as follows:

| House | P | W | L | T | Pts |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Carman | 10 | 8 | 2 | 0 | 16 |
| Service | 10 | 6 | 4 | 0 | |
| Laurier | 10 | 1 | 9 | 0 | |

TO PLAY AT WAINWRIGHT

The basketball tournament which V.H.S. planned to hold Nov. 20th has been postponed because the heating facilities have not been installed in the armories as yet. Instead Wainwright is setting the tournament ahead to Nov. 26 and 27 and there the V.H.S. teams will defend the trophies they won at Vermilion and Wainwright last year.

Long Time Municipal Secretary Retires At Mannville

MANNVILLE — R. T. Dorward, secretary-treasurer of the Municipal District of Minburn has retired from that position after many years of service in the municipal field. Mr. and Mrs. Dorward farmed near Ranfurly for 25 years, both coming out from Scotland in the early days. From 1920 to 1929 Mr. Dorward was on the council for Birch Lake M.D. before succeeding Mr Waite as secretary treasurer and moving to Innisfree.

With the coming of enlarged municipal districts in 1942 Mr. Dorward was appointed as secretary treasurer of the new municipal district of Minburn with the office located at Mannville.

Mr and Mrs. Dorward have both taken their places in the activities of the community. Mr Dorward in the board of trade and curling club while Mrs. Dorward has been a faithful member of the United church choir and is immediate past Matron of the Eastern Star Lodge.

A presentation from the M.D. of Minburn will be made to them this week when both councillors and Mr Dorward will attend the annual municipal convention in Edmonton.

Planes Here Sunday

Scholarships To Dewberry Students

It was nice to see so many people out to the November meeting of the Home and School.

After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the previous meetings the scholarships were awarded. The receivers of the awards were Marjorie Redman with the highest average in her grade XII and Jimmie Jones with the highest grade IX standing. Congratulations to both these young people for their good work.

Following the presentation Ernie [illegible], the delegate to the Jr Red Cross Leadership Training school at Lake Edith Jasper gave a report on their activities. Thanks Ernie. It sounded as if you had fun as well as learned a number of things.

Also [illegible] outlined the course at the Banff Workshop which she attended as our delegate. She brought a number of new ideas back to us along with some jokes.

To close the meeting Mr Smith presented John McCrea's immortal poem "In Flander's Field"

Legion President Thanks Organizations

The President of the Vermilion Branch Canadian Legion, Vic Tillett wishes to thank all the organizations that took part in the parade to the cenotaph on Nov. 11th. Mr Tillett also said that he was gratified with the large attendance at the service of remembrance.

Special thanks are due to the army, the cadets and the Boy Scouts and also to the pipers and Salvation Army bands.

Vermilion - Your Shopping Centre

With this issue the Standard is presenting the claims of Vermilion to the right of being shopping headquarters for a large and populous district. In addition to the regular press run of 2250 copies, 1360 extra Standards were printed and addressed directly to homes in a wide shopping area.

Along with the messages conveyed in the advertisements of each individual business, numerous articles appear telling of the many features of the town in other than the business field. These articles were written by local citizens who were most conversant with the subject or who had worked long and conscientiously to bring about culminations of the various projects.

There was however, insufficient room in the paper, and no time for an additional section which must consist of four pages, to publish all of the pictures and articles desired. These will appear in following issues of the Standard.

Setting of the advertisements, casting of the numerous illustration in the ads, setting up the extra features as well as the current news of the week, along with extra press work, folding, handling and labelling is a mammoth job and entailed many hours of overtime work. It is hoped that under the circumstances the Standard staff will be forgiven for being one day late. We feel that this issue is well worth a day's wait.

By Your District Agriculturist

"GREEN ACRES"

DOUBLE TALK AT STOCK SALE

At the recent Vermilion Stock sale one farmer exclaimed, "My what beautiful legs!" "Where, where?" said the other one. "Yes" said the first farmer, "All four of them."

REPORTS ON 2,4-D

Tests at the Lacombe Experimental farm this year show that 2,4-D and MCP both reduce the stand of Tartary buckwheat but will not kill it out completely. Low volatile esters of 2,4-D are a little more effective but not enough to justify paying the extra price for MCP products.

SELKIRK WHEAT

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner for Alberta suggests that farmers should figure it out carefully before rushing in to buying expensive Selkirk wheat at this time. Selkirk wheat does not yield as much as Thatcher. It is not a recommended variety and they never be in Alberta. Furthermore it is unlikely that another rust outbreak like in 1954 will occur for a long time in this district.

EISENHOWER STEW

President Eisenhower has his own famous recipe for stew. If any fall time cooks would like to experiment, call or write in to this office for a copy. There is no charge for "stew recipes"

BULLETINS AVAILABLE

In my office I have bulletins on every agricultural subject for free distribution to farmers. Call in or write in for what you want. Now that evenings are drawing in, it is a good time to lay in a stock of reading material.

GRADE "C" HOGS

It is granted that we cannot raise grade "A" hogs from poor breeding stock. But also a lot of good bacon type hogs are graded down by poor feeding or over feeding. When hogs are forced along too fast for market they are too fat for bacon grades. This is the chief reason why well bred pigs go down to "C" grade when the carcass is hung up before the inspector at the packing plant.

BLACK AND BLUE

When I was in one of the packing plants in Edmonton recently I saw the employees cutting away large chunks of both beef and pork on account of bruises. The housewife will not buy meat showing discolored bruises. Now somebody pays for this meat thrown away and I have an idea that it comes back to the farmers in lower prices. Everybody including the truckers should use care in handling market livestock.

Alliance Church Sunday School Contest

The Western Canadian District (Fort William to Victoria) contest in which our local Alliance church Sunday school participated, is over.

Attendance at our Sunday school on Nov. 14 was 224 which broke all previous records. Literally 3 real records were broken by two of the youngest members wielding determined hammers.

We have been able to defeat Cranbrook in our "side" contest and as a result win the prize for so doing. Cranbrook Sunday school gets a consolation prize from us and must fly a "Vermilion" pennant in their school for the balance of the year.

Many thanks to all those whose work and attendance made this effort of our Sunday school a success.

Subscribers are urgently asked to check their subscription dates as shown on their Standard labels.

A THREE MAN JOB

ECONOMIC AFFAIRS IN ALBERTA

Nine years ago the Department of Economic Affairs was founded "to further and encourage orderly economic, cultural and social development for the betterment of the people of the Province in accordance with the principles and requirements of a democracy, and to assist in and advance the proper rehabilitation of men and women returning to the Province from the armed services of Canada and from war industries."

Since that time the Department has made every effort to fulfill its dual responsibility. The rehabilitation of members of the armed forces and war industries has been accomplished. Now the betterment of the people of the Province is of paramount importance and shall continue to be for a long time to come.

To provide greater security, more contentment, better living and cultural and social development for the people of Alberta is the work of the Department of Economic Affairs.

There are nine branches in the Department which execute these aims:

ALBERTA HOUSE, LONDON

Alberta House in London, England represents the Province in Britain and promotes interest in immigration, industrial opportunities and general information about Alberta among the British people.

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

Man does not live by bread alone and to foster the needs of mind and spirit the Cultural Activities Branch coordinates participation in libraries, music, drama, art and handicraft;

FILMS and PHOTOGRAPHS

Alberta's manifold activities and attractions are depicted by motion pictures, slides and photographs by the Film And Photographic Branch;

INDUSTRY

Industries mean greater prosperity, and so the Industrial Development Branch promotes interest among industrial and business leaders, as well as assisting them with many problems;

IMMIGRATION

The thousands of immigrants who wish to settle in Alberta are screened and assisted in the establishment of their homes in the Province by the Immigration Branch;

PUBLICITY BUREAU

News releases, articles, booklets, posters and advertisements about the Province are prepared and sent by the Publicity Bureau;

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Public Relations Office serves as liaison between the Government of Alberta and delegations, conventions and individuals visiting the Province;

The duties of the various Branches of the Department in the Southern part of Alberta are carried out by the Southern Area Office in Calgary;

TRAVEL BUREAU

Economic and social betterment are greatly aided by the tourist industry, and the Travel Bureau promotes this valuable trade by advertising and distribution of road maps and travel literature to thousands of inquirers.

RUSH OF EVENTS AT ISLAY

Tuesday, and Islay with two meetings being held, both in connection with Agriculture. The 4-H club meeting in the school and the F.U.A. in the hall. Can't say that Islay is a dull spot.

Monday evening witnessed the wedding dance of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Barnett at which a very pleasant time was spent dancing, and with a delicious supper time lunch, and very abundant too. Many years of happiness is wished the young couple.

Wednesday will see the organization of a Gay 90's club; Thursday is the Home and School Association meeting; Friday night is the Islay Hospital Nurses' dance.

Last Sunday, Nov.14 the church was filled when the service conducted by Rev. E. N. Morrison included colored slides of the "World Council of Churches". This was most interesting as among the dignitaries shown was Bishop Dibelius who is the one in whose name, alternate, we send our food parcel to a German pastor in the Russian-occupied zone. Now isn't that a busy week?

To get out of the rush of events Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bothwell have taken up residence in Vermilion for the winter months.

On Sunday last Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gould.

CHICKEN SUPPER A GREAT SUCCESS

The chicken supper on Wednesday of last week was a great success. There was a very large crowd, about 350 persons. Thanks to our helpers for bringing food of which there was ample, and to the waitresses, the dish washers, and all the many others. It is the working together that makes for success. The help of everyone was appreciated. Quite a number of the very young also assisted.

W.A. BAZAAR DEC. 11

The W. A. bazaar is the next event being planned for Dec. 11, a Saturday. Maybe we can find more time and space to visit with friends then. Come along Sybil and bring a full car.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McInnes were noticed at the supper greeting old friends, among them Mrs. Winnie Torrance.

Mrs. Jean Whelin and two children who have spent four months with her home folks Mr. and Mrs. Neil McLennan are leaving Friday for their new home at Kitimat, B.C., and with them goes Faye McLennan. Everyone is sorry to lose them from our midst. No week end home-coming now.

Mr. Ulva McFadyen is having to spend a while in the hospital. He is much improved and will soon be home again now.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman McInnes and Mrs. Neil McLennan had dinner Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sophus Olsen (nee Betty Rutherford, a niece of Mrs. McLennan's).

Gladys and Muriel Stone were pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hagen call on them on Monday.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the relatives of Mrs. Mabel Coolidge whom all knew so well as Mabel Nelson some years ago with many fond memories, when she lived in Islay.

Death of Harvey A. Wilson At Mount Elgin, Ont.

They farmed and ranched here until three years ago when they sold out and moved to Mount Elgin, Ont. where he bought a large farm which he operated until the time of his death.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, two sons, Harold homesteading at Valleyview, Alta. Philip a missionary to the Indians at Fort Nelson, B.C., and two daughters Mrs. Fred Roth (Cora) a missionary in India and Mrs. Arthur Tiesen (Clara) of North Battleford. There are seven grandchildren. Three brothers and three sisters survive, Bruce at Fairview, Clark and Harold at Vermilion, Mrs. Bert Ray, Millington, Mich., Mrs. John Reid, Ione, Wash. Mrs. L. R. L. # Agricultural Society Organizes 'Royal' Tour — Seventeen in Party

The first tour to be arranged by the local Agricultural Society to enable district people to attend the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto at greatly reduced cost has proven to be an exceptionally successful venture and on Friday evening last seventeen district people left on board the Canadian National Railway train for the eastern metropolis. The car bearing the tourists was spotted in the railway yards at Wainwright on Friday evening and six cars left Vermilion at 9:00 o'clock for the purpose of transporting the travellers on the first leg of the trip.

The railway car complete with its own porter awaited the arrival of the Vermilionites and reservations worked out smoothly under the direction of Chas. Goodridge, travelling passenger agent of the C.N.R. who was on hand to welcome the party.

Leaving Wainwright at 1:30 a.m. on Saturday the group arrived on schedule in Toronto at 7:00 a.m. and here again the service of the C.N.R. was demonstrated as a representative of the railway met the party and arranged for the several local trips which are part of the 'package' tour.

At a cost of slightly less than $130 each the members of the group are entitled to round trip transportation, berth both ways, two meals each day each way and five days and four nights hotel in Toronto. In addition to this accommodation they receive without added cost one entry each day to the Royal Winter Fair and a trip through the new Toronto subway as well as jaunts to the Massey Harris Ferguson and Canada Packers plants. The return trip may be made at any time within 30 days of date of departure and doubtless many of those who went east on the tour will visit relatives and friends before returning.

The party journeying east included William Barr, W. L. Robinson, George Whyte, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Payne, Mrs. E. T. Wannop of Mannville, Geo. Scarboro, Geo. C. Webb, D. C. McGrath, W. F. Cooper, Morris Cooper, Ian Pallister, A. C. Majury, C. E. Thompson and Roy Walker. It is hoped to arrange for an even larger group in 1955.

Total membership of all labor unions in Canada is only one-fifth of the Dominion's labor force.

Death of Robert Fair Widely Mourned

Robert Fair who had represented this constituency in the House of Commons, Ottawa, for the past 19 years died in hospital at Vermilion on Thursday evening, November 11, following an illness which commenced one year ago. He was 63 years of age.

Shortly after the 1953 fall session of the Commons commenced Mr Fair's customary robust health began to fail. He continued to attend the sittings until early spring but his condition steadily declined, despite medical care. He went from Ottawa to Rochester where his ailment was diagnosed as cancer. Leaving there he came to the University hospital in Edmonton, one of the few places equipped to administer the new Cobalt bomb treatment for cancer. Following treatments he came to his home where he has remained since, except for a short visit to the coast. He entered the local hospital on Tuesday evening Nov. 9.

A native of Keelogs, County Mayo, Ireland, Mr. Fair came to Canada in 1914 and settled in the Paradise Valley district, some 45 miles south-east of Vermilion.

It was in the fall of 1935, the year in which the Social Credit movement swept Alberta in the hope that the great depression of that era could be halted with new economic and monetary theories, that Bob Fair was first elected to the Canadian Parliament. Ever on the alert to help his fellow men, especially those in poorer circumstances than himself, he studied the theories of Social Credit and became intensely interested in the possibilities therein. He did not seek the Federal seat, but a group approached him and asked that he allow his name to be placed before the nominating convention. Result was that he won the Social Credit nomination for Battle River federal riding and in the election in November won the seat with a large majority.

Robert Fair never lost an election, being re-elected in 1940, 1945, 1949 and 1953.

When the new and much larger constituency of BattleRiver-Camrose was formed prior to the 1953 election, Mr. Fair won the nomination and the seat.

He lived on his farm at Paradise Valley until sessions of parliament at Ottawa lengthened to such an extent that he was away for nine and ten months a year. As a result he sold his farm and some 8 years ago moved into Vermilion where he and Mrs. Fair have since resided.

"Hansard", official record of proceedings of the House of Commons reveals that Robert Fair took a very active part in debates. He was particularly prominent in promoting and supporting acts which would aid western agriculture, the returned men of both wars, and any of the less fortunate peoples in Canada.

"Smiling Bob" Fair was a man of great vision, broad minded, kind hearted and considerate. He had a great love for Canada, with a fervent desire to see everyone in the country well treated, prosperous, happy and contented.

All who knew Bob Fair well and intimately had deep respect for his knowledge, intellect and his sincerity; admired his kindliness and consideration, and loved him for what he wanted to achieve for mankind.

Following his death, as the sad news was flashed across Canada, Mrs. Fair received telegrams of sympathy from Premier St. Laurent, from the speaker of the House of Commons, and many of the Cabinet Ministers at Ottawa. From leaders of the Social Credit movement in Alberta came messages of condolence to the family and tributes to the departed.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday Nov. 16 at the Alliance chapel, Vermilion, with interment following in the family plot at the Oxville cemetery in the Paradise Valley district, close to where the deceased had spent so many years of his life.

The Rev. W. T. McNair, pastor of the Chapel, conducted the services, assisted by the Rev. C. W. MacKay, minister of the United church, and the Rev. Mr. Hansell of Vulcan, member of parliament and colleague of Mr. Fair. Rev. Hansell in a short address, paid glowing tribute to the part taken by the deceased in the debates on the floor of the House of Commons, emphasizing the fact that Bob Fair was ever mindful of the needs of those people in Canada in less fortunate circumstances.

The pall bearers were Mrs. A. O. Aalborg, S. Fisher, Jas. A. Smith, Victor Quelch, M.P., Wm. Allen and Wm. McLean.

Honorary pall bearers were Premier E. C. Manning, W. R. Cornish, M.L.A., Wm. Masson, M.L.A., L. S. Murray, H. H. Hodgins and Ashley H. Cooper.

Surviving members of the immediate family are his widow and two sons, Robert at Lloydminster and Lester of Three Hills. There are eight grandchildren.

Moyers Funeral Home was in charge of the last rites.

Bingo Car Goes To Vegreville

Mrs. Ruth Johnson of Vegreville drove home from Vermilion in a new Ford car which cost her only $3 last Saturday night. She was the big winner at the jointly sponsored car bingo by the Curling club and Kinsmen. Mrs. Johnson had a very lucky card and won in a walk, hers being the lone bingo.

The final bingo of the fall was a successful event with gross receipts being $3840. Expenses when all accounts are in will possibly be some $1100 to $1200 less than that, not a bad evening's work.

Trouble with the loud speaker system was experienced but caller Marshall Jackson persevered until all was remedied and going fine.

Winners of the games in the order in which they were played were 1. John Uland, Streamstown; 2. Miss Barbara Campbell, Clandonald; 3. Mrs. Iris Hodgins, Dewberry; 4. Mrs. Wilf Clifford, Vermilion; 5. Mrs. Logan Gow, Borradaile; 6. Steve Warmuch, Derwent; 7. Mrs. Al Locke, Vermilion; 8. Henry Olds, Islay; 9. Mrs. Pearl Hanson, Ranfurly; 10. Mrs. Ruth Johnston, Vegreville; 11. Bernard Ploefle, Vegreville; 12. Mrs. Hazel Mather, Calgary.

F.U.A. Membership Drive Monday, Nov. 22

An avalanche of names of several hundred foremen and over 2000 crewmen additional to those previously reported is causing congestion at F.U.A. headquarters, Mrs. P. Molen, Provincial secretary of the Farmers' Union revealed in Edmonton.

The size of the army of canvassers being organized for the first one-day membership drive in Alberta farm movement history has already exceeded the most optimistic forecasts, Provincial campaign director, Waldo Summers reports. The number of cars and trucks on the highways and by-ways may well exceed Saskatchewan's 5300 mark last fall, it is stated.

The drive has been featured by the holding concurrently of several series of public meetings in north, south, east and west portions of the province. An average of ten meetings nightly in a period of slightly over two weeks has added to mounting enthusiasm.

Monday, Nov. 22 has been chosen for the date. In the event that day is too stormy or roads are blocked, the drive will be set underway as soon as weather and road conditions are better. F.U.A. campaign headquarters advised its foremen and crews.

Program To Be Preceded by Members' Dinner

JIM BOND SHOW HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22nd

The Vermilion Fish and Game Association held their annual meeting on Wednesday Nov. 3 and the meeting was the best held by this Association for many a year as over fifty percent of the members turned out and heard Mr. Hicks, sales manager, Ammunition Division of C.I.L. give a talk on shotguns and shotgun shells. At this meeting the officers from last year were again voted upon and wound up with the same slate as last year. A vote of thanks was given to the president and secretary for their active work in the Association.

The Jim Bond show will be on the 24th of November and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance. Over 4000 feet of film will be shown and lectured on by the great Jim Bond in person. It is one of the events that should not be missed this season. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The wild game banquet will be held on the 24th in the Legion hall at 5:45 and all members and their wives are urged to attend and have a good time before going to the films in the college auditorium. Tickets for the banquet and the Jim Bond show are on sale at the Vermilion Stationery store, pick up yours soon. To those who are supplying the ducks have them into Harvuther's meat market before the 22nd, the sooner the better, so that it will be known just how many short there are so that we can get them out of our own lockers if necessary.

For those interested in the North Eastern Prairies Division Association convention it will be held on Saturday, Nov. 27 at Camrose. Those wishing to attend this convention please get in touch with your secretary so that transportation may be arranged.

Home and School Association Gains In Popularity

The October meeting of the Vermilion Home and School Association was held in the auditorium of the Junior high school on Oct. 26. After the opening exercises Mr. Clendenning extended a hearty welcome to the visitors, especially those from the Buffalo Coulee district, who are presently organizing their own Home and School association.

Rev. D. A. Ford, representing the school board introduced the principals of the four schools who in turn introduced their staff members.

The film of the evening "Shy Guy" depicted the problems involved when a 'teen age youth of a shy nature tries to 'fit in' with others of his age group. As the film outlined, sometimes hints and suggestions by his parents, plus some point of common interest will succeed in banishing shyness.

Following the film the assembly proceeded to form their discussion groups. The secretaries of the various groups reported after the general session re-convened.

Mrs. Wilson, in reporting for the primary group stated that a shy child should be shown some extra interest by parents. Parents were also notified of the pee-wee hockey group for boys aged 6 to 9 years.

Mr. Stewart, for the elementary group, reported that a shy child should not be forced too much. That gentle hints were perhaps more effective. They should also have a hobby of a type that can be shared by others. Mr. Stewart gave the group a very comprehensive report on the health program in our schools. He also explained that the school doors would be opened earlier in cold weather.

Miss Bohnke, for the Junior high school group thought that it was better for a child to tread carefully in making new friends, that too much popularity is not to be desired. If help is indicated for any student of an overly shy nature, his parents should ask for the help of his teacher.

Mr. Felk for the high school group felt that the film had a direct bearing on children of that age group, also that parents should take the initiative in making children's visitors welcome. It was suggested that regular attendance at Sunday school might help.

Mr. Clendenning then explained the presentation of a shield to the school showing the highest parent representation at the meeting. Attendance was counted with the shield going to Miss Tyloski for the primary school.

The meeting of about 130 members and visitors closed with "The Queen". Lunch was then served.

The next meeting will be held in the Junior high school on Nov. 30. A large attendance is again expected.

THE STAGETTES

As busy as bees! Yes, the girls are really bussin' making a large wardrobe for that lovely walking doll you see in the window of Vivian's Style shop. This doll, in her Stagette outfit (thanks to Ernie ... for her sewing ability) will be raffled at the annual Holly frolic. Buy your tickets now and make some little girl extremely happy with this lovely Christmas present.

The home of Jean Hildreth was the meeting place of the Stagettes last Tuesday evening, when they enjoyed a very interesting talk by Mrs. Acheson about her experiences in British Guiana. Adding a fitting finishing touch to the evening, a tasty lunch was served.

Taking a glance at our 'Checking list' we notice that Betty Grey and Rita Wright will be on hand to check coats at the dance next Saturday night.

Be sure to watch for posters which will tell you about the wonderful Holly frolic coming soon!

KITSCOTY

Square dance open house will be held in the Kitscoty town hall on Monday Nov. 22 at 8:30 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited. Admission 50c. Herman Wilson is the caller. 21x

Peanut Day To Aid Kinsmen Efforts

The Kinsmen Peanut Day this year will be held on Friday Nov. 19. This will be in the form of a house to house canvass of the whole town by the members of the Kinsmen club.

The Kinsmen will have for sale one pound cans of Planters peanuts and large tins of peanut butter. These will sell at $1 each and it is hoped that every family will take at least one or both of these items. The proceeds from this venture will go towards improvement of the Kinsmen paddling pool and the setting up of playground equipment.

This is a very worthwhile venture and it is hoped that the general public will support the Kinsmen generously — as well as helping the club each household can avail themselves of delicious Planters peanuts and peanut butter. Buy two and send some to friends for Xmas.

So, be ready on Friday evening Nov. 19 any time after 7 p.m. when a Kinsmen 'Peanut Man' will be calling on you.

Discovering Canada

There is much more news of Canada in the American press, according to the Canadian Embassy at Washington. For one two-week period recently, it found that 10 leading papers scattered well across the country devoted from 135 to 275 column inches each to current happenings in Canada. This increased interest in Canada and in things Canadian, remarks 'The Financial Post,' is very much to the good. The more Americans and Canadians know about each other, the better their formal relations and their respect. Most disagreements between either individual persons or nations are based on misunderstandings.

Canadian highways measured 512,785 miles at the end of 1952.

One-two-three —HUP!

Even give a "leg up" to a knight in full armour? In a recent film about Joan of Arc the movie makers got over this weighty problem by dressing the actress who played the title part in a suit of armour made of aluminum. Result: shooting, including scenes showing Joan mounting her horse, proceeded on schedule.

Canadian manufacturers use a lot of weight-saving aluminum not only because it makes things lighter to handle and cheaper to ship but because it makes up into more products per pound. Helps them market their products for less. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

VERMILION KEEPS PACE WITH THE TIMES

The Town of Vermilion has not in any way lagged in keeping abreast of the times and now boasts almost every modern facility available to any community. A town-wide water and sewer system was installed some seven years ago, but the rapidly growing centre found itself restricted as to this service in areas newly opened up to provide space for the increasing number of homes and business buildings. Arrangements were made to borrow some $80,000 in 1952 and a major extension was made to the system so that all homes and other buildings now have an adequate and up-to-date water and sewer system. Due to the lower levels of certain areas it was necessary to provide a lift station which was installed at a cost of almost $15,000.

Being fully appreciative of the urgency of having stand-by water supply and stand-by pumping equipment the Council of the town has only recently had necessary equipment installed and now has a guarantee of a limitless supply of excellent water for fire fighting and domestic purposes. This ample supply of water should be an inducement to industry to locate in Vermilion where every available facility is at hand.

Having in mind the growing values of buildings and the need for adequate fire fighting equipment the Council in 1953 purchased the most modern fire fighting unit available adding a rugged Bickle-Seagrave pumper to existing equipment. The fine volunteer fire brigade has been fully trained in the use of the new equipment and is ready at all times to do battle with the flames should fires occur.

Three years ago Mr. George W. Whitnell, a former citizen of Vermilion and now resident in the United States, generously donated the sum of $10,000 for the purpose of financing the construction of a public library building; the Council of the Town of Vermilion, realizing the desirability of worthwhile library facilities added sufficient funds to provide for the erection of an unusually attractive library building. The I.O.D.E. gave freely of their time and energy in establishing library service and later donated several thousand books to the library which was taken over by, and is now operated by, the Town. The library service is in major demand from people of both town and country and is filling a notable place in the life of the community.

A street program of major importance was adopted by the Town Council four years ago when the business streets were treated with an asphaltic base oil as a dust preventive. After three years of this treatment it was realized that while the oil stood up exceedingly well on residential streets, not subject to heavy traffic, it was not adequate for main arteries which were called upon to bear much heavier traffic. Again taking advantage of funds at a low rate of interest the Council embarked upon a plan of hard surfacing the business area. A contract was let, in due course, to the T. J. Pounder Co. of Winnipeg and in the month of October favored with unusually mild weather the Vermilion business streets received a coat of hard surface which redounds to the credit of all concerned.

Vermilion is perhaps the first town in Western Canada to enjoy the benefits of hard surfaced streets except in cases where the Provincial Government has joined with towns to put highways through the municipal area and on every hand the hard surfacing program is being received with interest and appreciation. Twelve blocks of hard surface were laid at a cost of some $60,000. Repayment of the relevant loan is to be made largely by the property owners on whose property the pavement faces while the town at large will bear a reasonable portion of the cost. The spring of 1955 will see a seal coat and a coat of chips applied following which lines will be painted for the proper direction of traffic.

The Town of Vermilion enjoys police protection furnished by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, with a Corporal and 3 constables on duty. With the growth of the town and the constantly increasing population it has been felt that a completely adequate police service was essential and the Mounties have been responsible for the maintainance of law and order. The fact that Vermilion is practically free from crime is an indication of the fine type of service received at reasonable cost from the world-famous force.

During 1953 an up-to-date garbage collection vehicle was purchased by the town and is giving good service. Other major equipment purchased includes an asphalt mixing and distributing machine by the use of which several blocks of permanent sidewalks have already been laid; the year 1955 will see the completion of a sidewalk plan which will provide excellent walks for every block in the town.

In view of the increasing demand for fine residential lots and for the extension of the business area the Council recently purchased land for two new subdivisions, one area being former provincial government land and the other being a portion of the farm of Albert A. Moses. Surveys have been completed and already demand is being felt for lots in the new areas and construction has already been undertaken in several cases. The Town of Vermilion has no reason to complain of the magnificent support received from her citizens in the forward march initiated and maintained by the Council and while boom conditions have at no time prevailed sound and substantial growth is increasingly manifest and continues to keep Vermilion well to the forefront among the progressive towns of Western Canada.

To boost buying power and investment in home industry German taxes have been reduced so the top tax payable is 55%. In Canada income tax runs up to 83%.

Work Progresses on Roomy, Well-Equipped Hospital

The Vermilion Municipal hospital, which has for many years served this area, under the Matron Miss A. Keith, is at the present time undergoing a very extensive change. A new wing is being built and the older part of the hospital is to be renovated at a cost of $275,000. When this is completed the people will be served by a modern, roomy, well-equipped hospital which will be second to none in the province. There will be improved service for every phase of the hospital including additional operating room and case room facilities and X ray and laboratory space. Also a major and important innovation will be the installation of an elevator which has been sorely needed for many years. Another change will be increased and improved kitchen and dining facilities for both the patients and the staff. More information about this project will be given in the columns of the Standard when the new wing is completed in the spring.

WOODVALE NOTES

Several road signs have been put up on the main road south of Berradaile and now one can easily find the way to Hindville and Tolland and see how far one has to go to reach Vermilion. Quite an improvement. The Haines family has moved into their new home and in the Kokanee district a lovely house has been completed for Joe Thompson. Brooks Lysons in the Thorncliffe district is adding a part to his home.

A Red Cross quilting bee and meeting was held at the home of Mrs. K. Selte on Nov. 3 with 9 members present. All were very pleased to have Mrs. S. Oldenburg from Vermilion with them that day. At the next meeting on Dec 1st at the home of Mrs. H. Portsmith a quilt will be tied, so members please bring a darning needle. It will also be the general meeting therefore it is hoped everyone will be able to attend and hear the various reports. Ladies interested in Red Cross work are always welcome even if they feel unable to come regularly. It was decided to make 2 quilt blocks, 16 inches square for the January meeting. Members please note. A contribution to the Ontario flood relief fund of $15 is to be made. Lunch after an afternoon of work is always very much enjoyed and the ladies can relax and chat. The meeting on Dec. 1 will start at 1:00 o'clock as there will be a lot of business to attend to.

The Students Union of the Woodvale Consolidated school held a very successful dance in Ganton community centre on Nov. 12 to raise funds for Xmas treats. A big crowd enjoyed themselves very much. The quilt was won by Mr. Garth Roberts. Music was supplied by Horpestad and Funnell and the lucky number drawn by Mary Isley.

Mrs. Mabel Webber and Mr. E. Webber were recent visitors in Edmonton where they met Mrs. Webber's daughter-in-law Mrs. Fred Webber from the east who had been to the funeral of her nephew, an innocent victim of a car accident the week before.

Congratulations to Mr. C. E. Neis of the Hillside Service station, who got third prize for best service of Esso dealers in Northern Alberta.

To the family of Mr M. G. Brimacombe and to the wife and family of Mr Robert Fair sincere sympathy is extended on their recent bereavements.

Mr. Brimacombe's son Marwood taught for several years in the Woodvale district and Mr Fair as our federal M.P. also had many friends in our community.

The Tolland F.U.A. held a meeting on the 9th to plan for the membership drive. There will be another meeting on the 23rd where a delegate to the annual convention will be chosen.

John King is in the Vermilion hospital with a wrenched back.

Mrs. Fred Clark is a patient at present in the Vermilion hospital.

Bob Middlemis was taken with a bad heart condition to the Col. Mewburn hospital in Edmonton. Here is wishing all those sick folks a quick recovery to health and home.

Mrs. M. Watson went to Kinsella for the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Marx Treeman. Although the couple left the district many years ago, Mr Marx Treeman was one of the first homesteaders in the area, and one of the first trustees of Watson school. Later he traded his farm and the late Mr. Joe Thompson came to live on it.

The Woodvale Community Association still spoken of by their old name the Glee Club held a meeting at the Community centre Monday Nov 22nd their regular card parties will be started again. Mr. J. Hobol made the suggestion to put on a play this coming winter and this matter will be later taken up again.

Four Boer War Vets Attend Smoker Nov. 11

MANNVILLE The annual Memorial service was held in McQueen's Memorial church with a good number of the Canadian Legion parading from the Legion hall. Two minutes' silence paid solemn tribute to the fallen of two world wars. The United church and Anglican choirs joined for the service and Rev I Holter, in charge of the service, preached a very appropriate sermon, pointing out to the congregation the benefits and freedoms that are enjoyed by all citizens in the Western World.

In the afternoon a Smoker was held in the Legion hall with A. Millburn, Alex Hay, W A Jackson and Ralph Ensland of Mannville, all veterans of the Boer War swapping stories with veterans of the two world wars.

An Armistice dance in the Orange hall in the evening rounded out the day's events for Nov. 11, 1954.

Service Clubs Play Major Role

The town and district is well served by several service clubs which carry on many and varied projects for the good and pleasure of the people of the whole area.

The B.P.O. Elks have long been established in Vermilion and are a credit to the community. They have only within the past two years completely renovated and enlarged their hall at considerable expense and it is now one of the finest in this part of the province. It forms the avenue for many of the dances and other social functions that are put on by all organizations in the town. Several years ago the Elks financed the building of the new Scout hall and it stands as a monument to their good work for their "little brothers" of the area.

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion has always formed an integral part of the life of this community and is continuing in this work. Several years ago they completed a new hall which was opened by the Governor General of Canada, at that time Viscount Alexander. Since that time they have changed and enlarged the facilities and now have a place that all can be proud to call the home of the Legion.

The Kinsmen Club of Vermilion was formed only five years ago but the work and the energy of the members has already been seen to a great extent by the community. This year they started the Kiddies' playground and paddling pool and will continue to improve and enlarge it as time goes on. The many annual events arranged by the members are a source of pleasure for the entire district.

The Stagettes are a group of hard working young women who have done much for the town. Their many dances and other functions are the means by which they raise the money to carry out service and charity work.

Clandonald And District Many Activities Make News

The exceptionally fine weather which prevailed with scarcely a break throughout the entire month of October enabled farmers here to complete all phases of harvesting and even do field work in some cases. A rather unusual sight recently for November was to see a district resident with a team and mower. He said he got several loads of fairly good feed despite the lateness of the season.

In most cases not much headway was made with field work owing to the extreme wet and frost on the north slopes and hollows.

M.D. ERECTING GARAGE

Work on the new municipal garage has been making good progress lately. This structure will house Ed Barclay's big motor grader and should be a big help for getting it started when the mercury starts plunging out of sight as it undoubtedly will before the robins and gophers again appear.

Bert Shaw has taken himself a nice holiday trip having left by bus on an excursion trip to the coast one day last week.

A wedding of considerable interest to many old friends took place in Edmonton on Saturday Oct. 30 when Margaret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rowntree became the bride of Mr. Ray Phillips of Edmonton. A number of friends from this district were in attendance at the ceremony and also at the breakfast at the King Edward. Following this Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, parents of the bridegroom held open house at their residence and many more friends called to pay their respects during the course of the afternoon. Following a short honeymoon trip to Calgary the young couple are making their home in Edmonton. Sometime previously a shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mick Convey in honor of the bride-to-be when Margaret received many beautiful and useful gifts from friends around Clandonald. Best wishes for many years of happiness to the newlyweds.

Miss Ann Hagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hagen, was an Edmonton visitor during the past week returning to Vermilion by bus Sunday evening.

ILL LUCK BESETS FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cunningham have undoubtedly been having a bit more than their share of ill luck lately. About a week ago their son narrowly escaped very serious injuries when a shot gun was accidently discharged. The same day three cows over indulged themselves in the chop bin with fatal results and then their truck suffered a fairly serious break down. Latest reports of Glen's progress are that he is out of hospital as is also Johnny Masyk who also received a few pellets in the same shooting accident.

Mrs. M. Brant was a district visitor last Sunday. Mrs. Brant has sold her property in Edmonton and has been staying with her daughter Mrs. Sam Sobian in Vermilion for the past several weeks. She plans to visit another daughter in Winnipeg and may take up permanent residence in that city eventually.

It was with extreme regret that we learned of the passing of Mrs. Mabel Coolidge recently. Mabel was a familiar figure here about 25 years ago and deepest sympathy is extended to the brothers and sisters in their sad bereavement.

Monday Nov. 22 is the big day for the Farmers Union when an all-out effort is being made to secure a 51 percent or better membership sign-up. Plans for canvassing every farm home in this district are completed and it is hoped that fine roads and weather will favor the endeavor. It would appear that never was a real strong organization so badly needed as at the present time with prices for products of the farm falling and costs mounting every day. Members of the Clandonald-Landonville local please note that our next meeting which will be election of officers will be in the Rye school on Thursday Dec. 9 and that in future all meetings will be held on the same night of the week, namely the second Thursday of the month.

The series of National Film Board shows has again started and it is hoped to see a good turn out at the next one which will be on Wednesday evning Dec. 1st in the Orange hall.

The P.F.A. inspectors are busy throughout the entire district and it would appear as if substantial areas will be eligible for payments this year. Local residents on the job are Tom Stockwell, Tom Foy and Gordon Malonek.

An opportunity to learn to play the trumpet is being given to any one interested in the town and district as Mr Jas B Bell is commencing a class providing enough desire to play this instrument. See the advertisement in this issue for particulars.

The Vermilion Public Library

The Vermilion Public library was officially opened in March, 1953 at which Dr. Andrew Stewart, President of the University of Alberta delivered the opening address.

J. W. G. Morrison Q.C. gave the dedicatory address in which he said the library was dedicated to "the use and enjoyment of the cultural attainment of the peoples of today and the future generations".

Deputy Mayor K. G. Urquhart, in the absence of Mayor Heckbert, accepted the keys to the building on behalf of the Town of Vermilion.

Mayor Heckbert, J. W. G. Morrison and A. M. Watt comprised the committee that had charge of the erection and completion of the building, the design of which was prepared by Owen Burns.

The library building was made possible through the generosity of Mr. George W. Whitnell of Lake Forest, Illinois, for many years a summer resident of Vermilion, as an expression of his appreciation of the many many kindnesses shown him and the late Mrs. Whitnell during their periods of residence here.

At the opening ceremonies Mrs. E. B. Norton as Regent of the Frog Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. reviewed the activities of the Chapter in founding and developing the library yet without a permanent home until now when this was made available by the thoughtfulness of Mr. Whitnell whose name would be always associated, with the establishment of the library in a home of its own.

Mr. A. O. Ballantine, assistant co-ordinator of Cultural Activities of the Provincial Government, congratulated the people of Vermilion upon the library building referring to its excellent appointments which would tend to make it more attractive and more of a cultural centre for the people of Vermilion.

The library originated with the Frog Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. as a component part of its activities with about 40 books. These 40 books were quickly added to by purchases and donations from the people of the town and district. It was organized about 1926 at the instance of Mrs. Agnes Newlove who became its first librarian and who continued in that office until her retirement about 1932. Then followed Mrs. W. B. Elford for several years and was succeeded by Mrs. Sarah Carroll who was librarian when the town took over in the new building. It was first placed in the town hall then shifted to the then Memorial hall and again back to the basement of the town hall where it was located at the time of the completion of the new building. Through the years the library has increased from the small beginning of 40 books to over 3500 with a monthly circulation of over 700. Mrs. H. F. Long became librarian under a library committee following the incorporation of the library as a body corporate upon the move to the new building.

"It has been said that democracy is the worst form of government except all those other forms that have been tried from time to time." —Sir Winston Churchill.

The number of graduate Canadian nurses emigrating to the U.S. has increased more than four-fold since the end of the Second World War. In 1953, 1,042 nurses moved to the United States.

A record 147,304,093 barrels of oil flowed through Canadian pipelines in 1953.

While most children's destructive acts fall into the categories listed in last week Health Unit Notes, there are less emotional dissatisfactions which are met with, and which require more serious consideration because they are the source of deliberate destruction.

GANG MISDEEDS

Breaking windows, raiding a house under construction, destructive pranks on Hallowe'en by neighborhood 'gang' are only too well known. Destruction is usually not the main purpose, however, high spirits nothing better to do and the deep desire of every child at a certain age to be part of a gang usually lie behind the devastation. Most parents of children from 10 to 15 years of age get a taste of this group destruction.

This reasons for this behavior are not hard to find. The child doesn't want to be considered a sissy, he wants to be accepted by the others to be joins with them in activities he would never dream of doing on his own. Lessons in property value the rights of other people, sharing the cost of the damages will help cut down on this kind of destructiveness.

While there is an undue amount of such trouble in the neighborhood, parents would do well to examine the situation regarding their children's spare time.

If the gang activity is only a minor issue however some good antidotes to group destruction lie in trips to factories to tie in with training in the value of money and property, even trips to the police station to bring out the problem of community protection. If possible take some of the gang along with your child

THE 'LONE WOLF'

Finally there is the child who destroys for the sake of destroying deliberate and calculating The kind that sets fire to curtains, floods the bathroom or smashes some valuable object with malicious intent. And also include here the child who gets pleasure out of destroying the play of some children.

Something has gone wrong in the child's growing up and unless he is handled with skill and deep understanding, his attitude can evolve into a persistent dishonest and disgruntlement.

Parents often need professional help in finding the reason for the destructiveness itself is but a symptom. Taking matches away from the child who starts fires is but a temporary precaution; the underlying motives should be learned and dealt with. It is usually rather difficult. If not impossible, for the parent to determine the reason behind such behavior — that's why outside expert help is advisable in most of these cases.

AND FINALLY . . .

Since it's easier to be destructive than constructive, easier to be messy, careless and clumsy, rather than neat, careful and controlled, it's no wonder that children slip into the habits of destructiveness. But it helps to take heart in knowing that they also learn and unlearn quickly and readily, particularly when their stage of development is taken into consideration. With the knowledge of what can and can't be done at certain ages, parents can usually help the child's natural development toward improvement — and that includes winning out over the various types of destructiveness.

Farm Industry Strong

It takes more than one swallow to make a summer and much more than one damaged wheat crop or a hurricane in the Annapolis fruit valley to put Canada's agriculture out of the picture. remarks The Financial Post.

Canadian agriculture is too big, too diversified to be vulnerable to a single blow or several. One simply cannot imagine a drought, or a frost or even a price crash that could be general in all fields and over the whole country. Certainly there are problems and some serious ones There are weak spots and there have been setbacks. But there is enormous basic strength and health

In sharp contrast to other periods when nature has been unkind and especially to the 30's the Canadian farmer has in years passed prosperity behind him. He has money in the bank. He has new farm equipment, he has tremendous reserves of livestock and livestock feed, and most important of all in the vast areas of room he has room for expansion of output.

THE CRITIC

A little seed lay in the ground
And soon began to sprout.
"Now which of all the flowers around"
It mused, "Shall I come out?"
The lily's face is fair and proud
And just a trifle cold;
The rose I think is rather loud,
And then its fashion's old.
The violet is all very well . .
But not the flower I'd choose
Nor yet the Canterbury bell —
I never cared for blues."
And so it criticized each flower
This supercilious seed. . .
Until it woke one summer hour,
And found itself — a weed!

November 22nd is Roundup Day!

The co-operation of Alberta Farmers will determine the success of this very important Farmers' Union membership drive. The issue is squarely up to the farmers to take this opportunity to build a strong Farmers' Union.

U.F.A. Co-op, organized by farmers to serve farmers in the farm supply field, is keenly interested in the development of a strong Farmers' organization. To get a fair deal for agriculture it is essential to have a farm organization with a membership representing the majority of the Farmers of Alberta.

U.F.A. Co-op strongly urges all its members to play a part in Roundup Day. Join the Farmers' Union of Alberta. Get your neighbors to join.

Vermilion Provincial Park Fills Need Of Long Standing

A pleasant and attractive lake resort has been provided within the past two years by the Vermilion Provincial Park. This project was developed by co-ordinating the resources and efforts of the Provincial Government, Canadian Utilities Ltd., Ducks Unlimited, Town of Vermilion and the Vermilion Board of Trade. The Minister and Vermilion River M.D.'s also helped by providing road building equipment to cut the roads in the area.

The original idea for a park was born as far back as 1938 and in the early 1937's Mr. B. E. Barry was commissioned to make a survey of the area and report on the feasability of such a project. The plan at the time was to provide work for the unemployed, however due to lack of money in the Provincial coffers, the project was shelved.

Since that time various committees of the Vermilion Board of Trade have worked on the problem without result until the Canadian Utilities entered the picture with their new power plant in the valley. They were interested in a large body of water for cooling purposes in their plant and were willing to go to some expense to obtain this necessity. The Vermilion Board of Trade committee succeeded in arranging a meeting between Hon. N. E. Tanner of the Provincial government and Mr. Bruce Hill of Canadian Utilities and from this conference the basic agreement for the project was reached.

The resort has not reached the present state without considerable community effort. The Hon. N. E. Tanner was particularly interested in the quantity of community support that could be provided and stipulated that the committee obtain pledges in writing from the majority of organized groups with regard to their willingness to help. The net result of considerable negotiation and planning was that the Provincial government purchased the land, Canadian Utilities with some assistance from Ducks Unlimited, built the dam, Department of Highways built the concrete bridge over the spillway and the community effort arranged for and erected the various buildings and other resort facilities from the materials provided by the Provincial government.

The following have been provided up to the present:

Swimming: An 'H' pier has been erected and during the past summer fully qualified instructors have held classes for all age groups when the weather co-operated. It is expected the instruction will be continued next summer provided the demand is prevalent

Boating: A boat pier has also been constructed for convenience of boating enthusiasts. It is anticipated that boats for rental will be available next season for those who do not have their own.

Fishing: Through the co-operation of the Provincial Fish & Game Branch, the Vermilion Fish and Game organization and the Vermilion Parks committee, the lake has been stocked with perch and jackfish. It is expected to continue this effort to provide the best fishing in the area.

Picnicking: Stoves, cooking shelters and lunch tables have been provided to facilitate family and organizational picnics and the space is available for almost any size group to enjoy an outing together.

Playgrounds: Swings, teeters maypoles, sand and a paddle pool (the inside portion of the 'H' pier) are available for the enjoyment of the smaller children.

Skiing: On the rolling slopes by the lake, numerous areas are available for various types of skiing. This aspect of the park has not been developed as yet, however as the type of terrain is ideal, skiing has been enjoyed for many years past, and at one time a very energetic ski club flourished.

The Vermilion Provincial park has been set out for the use and enjoyment of all citizens of all ages and the extent to which it may develop will depend on the demand It is planned to extend the sand beach area, to have cottage sites surveyed, to provide adequate parking space, etc. This will all take place when demand shows that it is desirable. The location is ideal for the building of summer cottages and a place to leave the family for an extended holiday due to the fact that they would be within a few minutes' walk of all the facilities of a fully modern town.

A hearty invitation is hereby extended to one and all to make full use of all facilities provided in the Vermilion Provincial park.

Canadian Utilities Plant Generates Power For All North-Eastern Alberta

The Canadian Utilities plant at Vermilion was first started under construction in April 1948 and by November was in production with a capacity of 2400 k.w. In 1949 the capacity was increased to 7200 k.w. In 1953 the company built a dam and spillway across the Vermilion River thus forming a lake for the Provincial park — the cost of this undertaking was $80,000. The total cost of the plant up to this time was $1,000,000. Earlier this year the company purchased a new gas turbine from a Swiss company and it has just recently been installed and put into production. This was done at a cost of $750,000 and makes the Vermilion plant the first in Canada to have such a type of turbine for the production of electricity. The capacity of output has been increased almost 75 per cent by this new addition to the plant. At the present time the production of electricity by the steam turbines and the new gas turbine requires the use of 3,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

An area of about 9800 square miles is now served by the Utilities plant at Vermilion. This extends from Hillard on the west to some rural areas of Saskatchewan on the east; and from Vermilion on the south to Cold Lake to the north.

At the present time the working conditions of the plant and plant offices are being improved by the installation of an internal ventilating system. The grounds outside the building are being built up and grass plots and roadways laid out so that the entire project is a credit to the Company and makes an impressive sight at the base of the dam.

Thirty men are on staff at all times and the managing engineer is Mr Jack Kneale.
